On Saturday the house passed its ways and means committee's resolution to adjourn on the 31st of this month, and no sooner was it passed than some of the democratic members began to labor against it, and finally succeeded in having a caucus called, which, in the evening, voted to reconsider the action of the morning. Now the problem is, will the democrats who voted for such adjournment vote contrary to their own judgment and wishes because the caucus so dictates? Some of the southern democrats desire to enter upon general legislation, and especially with reference to the tariff questions; while it is understood that the friends of the presidential candidates on both sides are anxious for adjournment as soon as possible, in order to avoid any possible snags that might beset legislation after the opening of the political campaign in June. Indeed, General Garfield in his speech favoring the adjournment resolution plainly said that nobody desired to run the risk of disagreeable possibilities at the hands of congress during the heated presidential campaign.

The democrats themselves have settled the fate of Hill's resolution to unseat Senator Kellogg. Wade Hampton has been congratulated on all hands for his speech against it, and his severe exposure of Ben Hill's pretentious superiority to his southern brethren who oppose him. Senator Pendleton, however, made the argument which claimed most attention. While he admitted that the senate had a right to revise any action, even the seating of a member, however deliberately, it could not be done properly without the presentation of new and important facts, and he denied that this condition existed in this case. Gordon and several other democrats are ready with speeches against the resolution should it be pressed, but it is said now that Hill will nurse his wrath, and let the measure go by default. KNOX.

The Fishery Treaty.

On Tuesday, the 18th inst., Congressman Loring of Massachusetts introduced in the house a bill which contemplates an utter ignoring of the Washington treaty so far as it relates to fisheries. The preamble recites all the grievances of which our fishermen have complained, and states, as the reason for practically annulling the treaty, that though this country has paid its $5,500,000 for the privileges of inshore fisheries in the British provinces, our fishermen have been driven by violence from the fishing grounds, and laws in limitation of their rights have been passed by local legislatures which have been supported by the British government. The act affirming the treaty is therefore repealed, and the old duty on fish is restored. Moreover, $125,000 of duties are reserved to pay damages to victims of the Fortune bay outrage. An attempt will be made to pass this bill under a suspension of the rules, but it is said that even should that effort succeed in the house, the bill will probably fail of consideration in the senate.

Compound Stealing.

On the evening of the 15th inst., James Morgan and Thomas Platt, seamen on the schooner Morning Star, stole a horse and buggy at Nantasket beach and drove to Boston. While absent from the team a few minutes, at the north end, some boys stole the team from them and drove down on Atlantic avenue, where the buggy was accidentally broken down. The frightened youngsters ran away, and the team was taken to station one and the horse put in a stable. On Tuesday, the 18th inst., Morgan went to the station and demanded the team. He was questioned by the officer in charge how he came in possession of the team, and said that he had won it at a raffle in St. John. He was locked up on the charge of stealing the team. Soon after being locked up, Morgan said that the team was stolen by Platt, who was soon after arrested on North street. Platt claims that the team was stolen by Morgan.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his ability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took him earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.—Harrisburg Patriot.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley, Malt and Fresh Hop, and warranted free from Stimulating, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, muscular (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, loss of appetite, nervous stomach and liver, bronchitis and deep-seated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, constipation, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irascible in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It restores the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS; Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Daily Chronicle.

New Publications.

Harper's Magazine for June is probably the most beautiful number ever issued of that periodical. The opening article— charming description of a Devonshire moorland village—is illustrated with nineteen remarkable pictures by Abbey; William H. Gibson contributes a paper on "Spring-time," which he illustrates with sixteen beautiful drawings, exquisitely engraved. Mr. Rideing's paper, "The Working-Women in New York;" James H. Morse's little poem, "The Errand;" the second paper in the series of "Old Dutch Masters," devoted to Albert Cuyp; and a paper on the Thuringian valley, and its associations with Luther, are all finely illustrated. A timely article—apropos of the monument to Andre—is devoted to a biographic sketch of Nathan Hale, with seven illustrations. Nor is the humorous element wanting in this brilliant collection of illustrated articles. Sherwood Bonner contributes a comical story entitled "Hieronymus Pop and the Baby," which is illustrated with nine characteristic pictures. Apart from the illustrated papers, the number contains some very notable contributions, especially George Ticknor Curtis' article, "The Strong Government," which shows that the rich certainly have no reason to complain of the weakness of our government; "Ingratitude of the Republic"—a pointed arraignment of congress for its neglect of the general officers of the army; and an article, "Beef and Bullocks," treating the subject of our exports of beef to Great Britain, and considering the best breeds of cattle to be cultivated for the foreign market.

Political.

At the recent municipal election in Indianapolis, Ind., the first vote ever polled by a Chinaman in Indiana was cast. He was conducted to the ballot box by a colored man, and voted the straight republican ticket. That settles it; the Chinese must go.

A correspondent of the Providence Journal saw Tilden at the New York dog show, and says that he is a mere wreck of his former self. Wreck or no wreck, he has decided to give himself the democratic nomination for the presidency again, and will do it.

In the California workingmen's convention there was a lively fight over the question of entrusting the management of affairs to Kearney as hectofore, or to a state central committee. Kearney triumphed by a vote of eighty-one to twenty-four. Thurman was endorsed for president.

The Minnesota republicans held their state convention on the 19th inst., and instructed the delegates to Chicago to vote for Windom. It is understood that their second choice is Blaine.

The republican convention of Illinois met May 19th, and after a rather stormy time the Grant men showed a majority of a hundred on a test vote.

Massacre C. Butler made a strong speech in the senate, May 19th, against unseating Senator Kellogg of Louisiana.

Gen. Gorden has resigned his seat as United States senator from Georgia, and his resignation has been accepted by the governor of that state. Ex-Gov. Joseph E. Brown of Georgia has been appointed to fill the vacancy, and has accepted.

An Old Doctor's Advice.

It was this: "Trust in God and keep your bowels open." For this purpose many an old doctor has advised the habitually costive to take Kidney-Wort—for no other remedy so effectually overcomes this condition, and that without the distress and griping which other medicines cause. It is a radical cure for piles. Don't fail to use it.

—A London gentleman named Jervis left $30,000 to the owner of a hand-organ who had ground out music for his delectation. This important item should be communicated to all the organ-grinders in this country. There are a great many rich gentlemen still living in London, and the fare to Europe is low.—Norristown Herald.

Kidney-Wort is nature's remedy for kidney and liver diseases, piles and constipation.

—The holes in fortifications were made for big guns. That is why they hold the fort.

Delicate females find Malt Bitters nourishing, strengthening and purifying.

—Blossoms produce apples give us cider, and cider produces blossoms. Thus one of nature's most beautiful compensations.—Boston Transcript.

New Lungs cannot be made by medicines, or the skill of physicians, but the old ones can be strengthened and preserved by the use of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price, 35 and 75 cts.

FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1880.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The Rockingham County Sunday School Associaton held its fifth annual session at the 1st Congregational church, Exeter, on Wednesday, May 19th. Benj. R. Jewell, Esq., the president, was in the chair. Devotional exercises were conducted by him at 9:45.

At 10:00 the topic for discussion, "The prominent difficulties: how met?" was opened by Rev. J. A. Lowell of Danville. Among the difficulties he presented were:

1st. A too general non-attendance on Sabbath school instruction.

2nd. Our youths leave too early for insufficient reasons,—ought to join for life.

3rd. Time enough is not allowed for preparation of the lesson.

The late Thomas H. Benton was at one time very deeply interested in the construction of a Pacific railroad; he said, "I am red hot on the subject;" so, the speaker said, we should think of and study the lesson until we become red hot. Pastors ought to take the golden text of the lesson for the subject of their sermon, and the same topic should be discussed at prayer meeting.

Geo. D. Dodge, Esq., Hampton Falls, spoke of the difficulty occasioned by the apathy of church members; said success depends much upon the character of teachers. He would say to those who grow weary in the Sunday school work, as Sumner said to Stanton, "Stick."

Rev. J. W. Kingsbury of Rye said the great remedy for our difficulties was "teachers' meetings."

Rev. E. Owen, of Portsmouth, spoke of the directors of a bank who said they wanted for cashier a man "who would carry the bank to bed with him." We want at the head of our schools men who will carry the interests of the Sabbath school to bed with them; who will carry their work to God in—prayer enthusiastic men. We must realize that souls may be saved or lost by our influence.

Prayer by Rev. Noah Hooper of Exeter.

Report of Secretary F. R. Drake, of North Hampton, showed that our county has 101 schools, with a membership of 10,566; last year it was only 9677. The interest in Sunday school work in every denomination is increasing.

At 11:00, sermon by Rev. Wm. A. McGinley of Portsmouth. He said that the gospel was expressed in this: "God so loved the world that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." We must teach our Sabbath school scholars that our God is a live God, one who thinks, wills, and sees. Be sure to make God big enough. Tell them he is a father, and that he wants his children to become like him. He wants us to become strong. We are not to stand aside from the great battle of life, and let others fight for us; we are to have a practical religion, do every duty, strive to break down Satan's kingdom and build up Christ's kingdom; there is power in the gospel to do this. We must preach and teach the same gospel Paul and Luther presented—old but ever new. Must bear in mind as Sabbath school teachers, above all, that our success depends upon our co-operation with God.

Mr. McGinley held the close attention of the audience, and that his sermon was filled with valuable thoughts may be inferred from the fact that the convention voted to print 500 copies for circulation among the Sunday school workers of the county.

The topic "Teachers who do not teach" was presented by Rev. T. V. Haines, of North Hampton. He said they were those who lacked enthusiasm and earnestness, those who are indifferent, fail to sufficiently study the lesson and the characters of their scholars; those who take the position from the idea that they may become more popular by so doing.

B. R. Jewell followed, and said teachers did not teach when they failed to realize the responsibility of their position; when they do not secure attention of the scholar; we must choose those who are naturally fitted for the work. They do not teach who do not expect great results from Sunday school work. We must teach Christ—must not neglect prayer.

A most bountiful collation was then served in the vestry of the church; it was provided by the people of Exeter, (and here let me say that they showed every possible attention to the members of the convention.)

The church and the tables in the vestry were decorated with choice and beautiful flowers. Over three hundred were present from outside of Exeter; their wants were provided for, not only at noon, but lunch was served after the afternoon session.

At 1:30 was a praise service, led by a select choir of Exeter singers.

After business, Rev. Charles Packard of Windham gave an essay, "Home influence and training essential to the best results of Sunday school instruction." He spoke of the great importance of parents co-operating with the teacher. The soil of the child's heart may be so cultivated at home as to become peculiarly fruitful when brought under the influence of the Sunday school. Parents must use their authority, not harshly but in love, to keep their children in the school; they must set a good example, by attending themselves. Parents—keep striving, keep praying, keep in remembrance that it is a joint work.

At 3:00 was the children's service (a new feature of our county conventions;) it was in charge of Joseph W. Merrill, Esq., of Exeter, and consisted of singing by a large choir of Sunday school children of Exeter; recitations; an exercise by Prof. Pennell's class of six Chinese youth on Elijah; also, Miss Brown, superintendent of the Exeter Methodist Sunday school, illustrated the method adopted by that school in taking collections for ministers. Rev. C. B. Pitblado, of Portsmouth, followed with remarks of interest to both old and young. Mr. Pitblado's style of speaking is very attractive, and quite impressive. His subject was, the moral young man who came to Christ, spoken of in our Sunday school lesson of May 9th. The speaker said, "Christ don't care for your money—he wants yourself;" he spoke of the worthlessness of mere outside respectability. Morality is good, but it don't go far enough; we must grasp the rope of salvation held for us by Christ. Mr. Pitblado told several interesting incidents that well illustrated his topic.

At 4:00 "The Christ-Life the true aim of all Sunday school instruction" was presented by Rev. James Thurston of Epping. His thoughts were good and valuable.

Pres. Jewell then made some closing remarks as to the importance of our carrying home to our schools, and practicing, the good suggestions made by the speakers during the day.

The convention was certainly a profitable gathering, and must help Sunday school superintendents and teachers in their noble work.

The next convention is to be held at Hampstead on the 3d Tuesday in May, 1881.

News and Notes.

The detailed report of the Hanlan-Courtney boat-race shows that it was no race at all. The Canadian led from the start, and was fifteen boat-lengths ahead at the end of the first mile; and from that point to the finish he jogged leisurely along, winning as he pleased. Courtney did not turn the stake-boat at all, stopping three-eighths of a mile from the stake, turning and rowing back. Over 100,000 spectators were fooled.

Henry S. Foote, ex-senator of the United States from Mississippi and ex-governor of that state, died at his home near Nashville, Tenn., May 19th, at the age of eighty years. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the mint at New Orleans.

An abandoned mine in Hyde Park, Pa., caved in on the night of the 18th inst. Three fine stories and many private dwellings were badly shaken. There are huge gaps in the streets, and the rails on the Lackawanna & Bloomsburg railroad are sinking. Gardens are spoiled and wells destroyed. The people are removing from the district as quickly as possible. More alarming results are apprehended.

Mrs. McGregor of Paterson, N. J., on the 18th inst. found in her house a package of gunpowder weighing over a pound, and supposing it was black sand threw it into a coal hod. In the evening she emptied the contents of the hod into the range in the kitchen. An explosion at once followed. The range was blown to pieces, and the glass was broken in the windows. Mrs. McGregor was badly burned about the head and arms, but her injuries are not fatal.

President Hayes on the 19th inst. sent to the senate the following nominations: Horace Maynard of Tennessee, to be postmaster general; Gen. James Longstreet of Georgia, to be minister to Turkey; David M. Key, to be United States district judge for the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee.

William C. Brown, teller of the Rutland County national bank at Rutland, Vt., has absconded, having stolen $4000 of the bank's money.

"Spirit Slate-Writing."

The following, which will be found interesting not only to the believers in spiritual manifestations, so-called, but to many others, we take from a late number of the Worcester, Mass., Gazette, one of the most cautious and reliable papers published:

Mr. Watkins, whose mystification of Rev. Joseph Cook with his "slate-writing" was recently recorded in these columns, was in this city a few days ago, and interested various parties in his singular manifestations. One gentleman of our acquaintance, who takes much interest in the so-called "spiritual manifestations," but who is not a believer, describes his experiences with Mr. Watkins as follows:

I made an engagement for him to come to my sitting room one forenoon, and bought two small slates at a book-store. These I screwed together with two screws. When he came he said he usually furnished his own slates, and did not like to have them screwed together, for clamps were sufficient; but he was willing to try what he could do.

There was no one present but Mr. Watkins, my wife, and myself. After some tests of reading and answering questions which we wrote and rolled up in paper pellets, he unscrewed the slates, broke off a small fragment of slate pencil and placed it between the slates, and screwed them together again. The room was full of bright sunlight and we watched him closely, and know that he did nothing else to the slates. My wife and I then sat at the table, each holding the slates in our hands by the ends, while Mr. Watkins took hold of them at one side. He was apparently convulsed for a minute or so, "controlled," the Spiritists call it, when we plainly heard the bit of pencil scratching on the slate. He then let go and crossed the room, we holding the slates meanwhile, and hearing the pencil still at work. We could hear it cross the t's and dot the i's, and underscore some of the words. After a time he said the work was done, and I unscrewed the slates, and found a long message to my wife signed by her mother's name, and one to myself, written in a different hand, and signed by the name of a remote ancestor. The names were correct, but the message conveyed no definite or valuable information.

Another gentleman who also tested Mr. Watkins while he was here, had visited in Boston a year or more ago, carrying his own slate with him. He obtained a message from a deceased friend, signed with a peculiar signature, which was her own. He had kept this slate, with the message on it, in his safe, and on the occasion of the recent test he laid it with two other prepared slates on the table unknown to Watkins, but no pencil with it. While the slates were thus on the table, all three were written upon, and this Boston slate, on which was the message above described, and which had no pencil with it, had on it a second message from the same party as the first, and signed with the same peculiar signature.

Both of these tests were by gentlemen of intelligence and entire veracity, and their narrations of what occurred can not be doubted. Mr. Watkins certainly possesses a singular power, and one not easily explained. He is described as a man of uncertain moods, unreliable in keeping engagements, somewhat irregular in his habits, and apparently broken-minded; but his performances are attracting the attention of some of the wisest and most thoughtful students of mental science in the country.

Pandora's Box

brought a multitude of ills upon humanity, so saith the ancients; out a bottle of SOZODONT is a well-spring of joy in the family. It refreshes the invalid by cleansing his mouth, and gets the belle for the parlor.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

AROUND HOME.

Among the officers recently detached from the U. S. S. Enterprise and placed on waiting orders, is Lieut. Lyman G. Spalding of this city.

The Memorial day committee on procession, route, and ceremonies at the cemetery, are requested to meet in the common council room this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A new feature in church music, for this city at least, will be introduced in the Unitarian church next Sunday, when Mr. Ralph L. Reinewald will assist in divine worship with his cornet.

A disease affecting the eyes is quite prevalent in our city. The worst case we have heard of is that of Mr. William Ward, who has been confined to his house and kept in a darkened room for nearly three weeks, but is now improving.

At the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of New Hampshire, held in Concord on the 19th inst., John Pender of this city was appointed district deputy grand master for the 1st district, and William O. Junkins, of Greenland, district lecturer.

The schooner Cumberland on the 20th inst. hauled over from the navy yard, where she had discharged a cargo of coal, to the Concord railroad wharf, to load ice. The schooner City of Green Bay, for Dover, was towed from the lower harbor to Portsmouth bridge in the forenoon of the same day, by the tug Ann.

We had a call on Thursday last from Mr. Benjamin Thompson of Ypsilanti, Michigan. Mr. Thompson is a hale old gentleman of seventy-five, who emigrated from York, Me., to his present home, in 1830. He has been a reader of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE from childhood, and on his present visit paid in advance for another year.

A large amount of fire wood has been cut in Stratham during the past two years. Charles Gear, Bailey Smith, Greenleaf Brown and James Odell have cut from 100 to 150 cords each, and many others have cut good amounts. Years ago, when Piscataqua-river-built ships were famous everywhere, before iron steamships had ruined wooden-ship building all over the world, large quantities of excellent ship timber—New Hampshire pasture oak—were cut in Stratham, on the grounds from which pine cord wood is now being taken.

We are informed that the murderous "frog," which causes so many shocking accidents on the various railroads, came very near causing a death in this city on Tuesday afternoon of this week. As the story reaches us, Messrs. Walter Hoyt and Joseph Pinder were walking on the track west of the Eastern railroad station as the three o'clock train from the westward was coming in, when Pinder caught his foot in the frog and was unable to extricate himself. The engineer saw the occurrence and applied the brakes, but could not have stopped the train in time to save the trapped man; but Mr. Hoyt, waiving all ceremony, gave his companion's pedal a vigorous kick, which fortunately released him, just in time. It was a narrow escape.

Mrs. Mary Watson, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George W. Lord, in this city on the 4th inst., was the widow of Asa Watson, who was a member of Capt. Vincent Meserve's company of New Hampshire militia, stationed at the forts in this harbor during the war of 1812. Mr. Watson subsequently served in the 1st Regt., U. S. Artillery. He was a native of Lee; at one time he kept the "Pound Tavern," (one of the wayside inns so common in this city in olden times, and which was situated opposite the town pound at the junction of Middle and South roads,) and subsequently resided at Salmon Falls. Mrs. Watson had nine children, but one of whom survived at the time of her death. She was inscribed on the pension list only a few months before her death. She was a native of Newcastle.

Harper's for June is now ready for delivery by Moses Bros. and Willis G. Myers.

Coal freights from Baltimore to this port are quoted at $1.70 per ton, and the same to Newburyport; to Boston and Portland, $1.50 per ton.

The schooner Witch Hazel, of New Bedford, of 251.49 tons register, which sailed from this port for Bath on the 19th inst., discharged at Dover the largest cargo of coal ever delivered there—reported by the Democrat at four hundred and sixteen tons—and this big load she carried up on a draught of eight feet and six inches. For navigating the shoal waters of the Cocheco river she beats the three specially-built vessels of the Dover Navigation Co., all hollow.

THE "ROYAL MIDDY"

On Thursday evening next, at Music hall, the "musical event of the season," Augustin Daly's "Royal Middy," will be produced with the same appointments and cast that secured for it a run of nearly a hundred nights at Daly's theatre in New York, including the grand chorus of forty voices. The advertisement will appear to-morrow.

FISHERY NOTES.

The schooner Christie Campbell, of this port, and the Marion, Aberdeen, Geo. S. Boutwell and Commonwealth, of Gloucester, were at Port Mulgrave, N. S., on the 13th inst., seeking bait.

Randall & Caswell, the extensive dealers in fresh fish, have now on hand nearly 10,000 lobsters. The firm receive large quantities of lobsters from the eastward, brought in a smack especially fitted for their transportation.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Fifteen hundred dollars in six per cent bonds of the city of Biddeford were sold in Boston on the 19th inst., at 105 1-2.

Sea-Side Lodge, at Pocahontas point, has been handsomely painted, and presents a very pretty appearance, set off by the beautiful sloping greensward in front.

Mrs. Bartel, a bright old lady of over eighty years, who lives with her son in South Berwick, is not the oldest of the family, as her mother resides in Alfred, and though a hundred years old last month, still receives and entertains visitors, and enjoys their company.

The grading of the Old Orchard Beach railroad is finished, and the laying of sleepers and rails has commenced. The road is to be of the ordinary gauge; the cars, already purchased in Philadelphia, are of the open or "observation" pattern; and the engines will be similar to those on the Boston & Maine road, only much lighter.

A number of men from Boston, said to be members of the Tremont shooting club of that city, came down on the ten o'clock train, Thursday forenoon of this week, and proceeded to Kittery, where they had a pigeon-shooting match in a field about a mile from the depot, belonging to a man named Remick. Such exhibitions we believe are prohibited by law in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

George B. Wheeler of Kennebunkport, who has been editor and proprietor of the Merrimack Journal, at Franklin Falls, N. H., for the past four years, has sold that paper to H. P. Eaton of Newton, Mass., formerly of the Maine Farmer and the New England Farmer. Mr. Wheeler has purchased the Leader (daily and weekly) of Bloomington, Ill., and will take charge of his new establishment in a short time.

A house at Nason's Mills, Limington, belonging to Loring F. Kelly, was burned on Friday night, May 14th. The house was occupied by a Mr. Dunn, who moved from Biddeford the previous week. His family retired about eight o'clock, and were awakened by the noise of the roof burning over their heads; they barely had time to escape with their lives, taking but a few things. The fire is thought so have taken from a defect in the chimney. The house was worth about $200; insured $150. Mr. Dunn lost about all his furniture. He estimated his loss at $400; insured $300.

The May term of the supreme judicial court of Maine, for York county, opened in Alfred on the 18th inst. In the list of grand jurors are the names of Charles E. Hayes of Kittery, John E. Norwood of York, Isaac P. Fall of South Berwick, Orrin C. Grant of Berwick, and Joseph D. Eaton of Wells. Among the traverse jurors are James R. Philbrick of Kittery, Charles F. Hanscom of Eliot, Joseph L. Grant of York, Lewis B. Hanson of South Berwick, Andrew J. Herson of Berwick, and John D. Chase, 2d, of North Berwick. John B. Trefethen of Kittery, and Oliver West, 2d, of Wells, are in the list of supernumeraries. The grand jury reported on the 18th inst., and were discharged, having found nine indictments.

PIRATICAL INTERLOPERS.

One of our lady readers, vexed and indignant over the annoyance inflicted on some of her feathered pets by piratical English sparrows, "goes for" the pugnacious and impudent foreigners as follows:

Messrs. Editors: I want to tell my story and make my complaint about the terrible English sparrows. I believe every word that has been said against them. I think they ought to be shot, or poisoned, or gotten rid of in some way at almost any cost. More than fifty years ago boxes were put up on our house for the convenience of the martins, (then very common,) and there has never been a year since, when they did not return. About the middle of April a shout would be given by the children, "The martins have come!" and there was much joy at their arrival. They would sweep and circle through the sky for a day or two before they would settle down at housekeeping, and all the proceedings were watched with much curiosity and affection by the family. A few years ago we thought the houses were rather old and dilapidated, and we had new ones put up; but the atmosphere, or the newness, did not seem to suit them, with the exception of two pairs of evident veterans, who seemed to have concluded on the whole that a new house was not so objectionable, and as the one at the corner commanded a broad outlook, went in, settled down, and "reared a numerous offspring, lovely like themselves." About the twentieth of April, this year, they returned as usual, and were quite prosperously established, feeling perfectly secure, having never been meddled with, —when a terrible battle took place with invading English sparrows. The martins were defeated, and those hideous sparrows took possession, and now sit upon the rail of the little piazza, prinking, coquetting and flirting just as if they were at their own home. The martins circle around and gaze at their wonted nest, but the impudence and pertinacity of the sparrows is too much for them. What can be done? If the martins can't take care of themselves, ought they not to be protected? and if so, how? ***

We are firm in our faith that the English sparrow is a nuisance, and ought to be suppressed; we are by no means clear as to how the suppressing can be done. This sparrow has lived so long in England, with Englishmen, that he has become in many points just like them; or perhaps it is the other way, and it is the Englishman who has absorbed the traits of the sparrow. Anyway, their likeness as to pugnacity, persistent pluck, inability to tell when they are whipped, and shocking obtuseness in distinguishing the rights of others, is remarkable. Look at the Englishman's course in New Zealand, Zululand, India and other places, and judge if an army of English sparrows would have acted any worse. This reckless aggressiveness of the Englishman and his pet bird upon the rights of others must be largely due to their insulation for centuries; for after the English people hae lived away from the island for many generations, they greatly improve in this respect. For instance, we are an English-speaking nation; yet compare our conduct toward Mexico, or to the colored race and the Indian tribes, with what Englishmen would have done, and how glorious the contrast! Verily, we have cause to give thanks that we are not like our transatlantic brother and his sparrow; both are hard cases, and the rascally little bird, at least, deserves to be driven out of this happy country back to his native land of fog,—but he is just as obstinate as John Bull himself, and we fear he will never go.

Size of our Great Lakes.

The latest measurements of our fresh-water seas are as follows:

The greatest length of lake Superior is 355 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth, 688 feet; elevation, 627 feet; area, 81,000 square miles.

The greatest length of lake Michigan is 300 miles; its greatest breadth 108 miles; mean depth 690 feet; elevation, 500 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The greatest length of lake Huron is 100 miles; its greatest breadth is 169 miles; mean depth, 600 feet; elevation, 274 feet; area, 20,000 square miles.

The greatest length of lake Erie is 250 miles; its greatest breadth is 80 miles; mean depth, 84 feet; elevation, 555 feet; 6,000 area square miles.

The greatest length of lake Ontario is 180 miles; its greatest breadth, 65 miles; its mean depth is 500 feet; elevation, 261 feet; area, 6,000 square miles.

The length of all five is 1,265 miles, covering an area upward of 136,000 square miles.

—The Hartford Courant gives a list of parties who have been reported as killed by lightning this season, and adds as a noticeable thing about the list, that none of the accidents occurred in cities or in the presence of telegraph wires and accumulations of metal. These seem to act as safeguards.

A Moving Palace.

This is truly an age of wonders, and among them are, talking by lightning, walking on air, riding on the wings of the wind, and transfering, as it were, a whole orchestra over hundreds of miles of wire. These are no greater than the rapidity of travel on the railways, however, as the hurrying trains every day show. There are always new conveniences and improvements in the manner of travel which add greatly to the comfort of those who are journeying. One of the latest, though it has been in use some time, is the Pullman hotel car, where one is always "at home," and can eat, walk, talk, or sleep, as he chooses. Go down to the Chicago & North-Western depot any evening, or any morning, and you will see the moving palace. The Pullman hotel cars were put on the Chicago & North-Western railway about the first of July, last year, and they have proven to be an unquestioned and decided success. The cars are beauties, and a person can get aboard at Chicago in the morning and ride through to Council Bluffs without leaving the car, and still have all the conveniences of any of the most elegant hotels. They are on the European plan. "You pay only for what you get." If you have never seen them, it will pay you to go down to the depot some evening and go through the train.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Daily Republican.

In these hotel cars the meals are a la carte—you pay for what you get, and nothing more; and this at very reasonable rates.

The managers of the company have determined to omit nothing which will add to the convenience, safety, and comfort of the traveling public who favor them with their patronage; and further, that they will not be eclipsed in this direction by any other railroad in the world. Hence these cars, constructed by the Pullman palace car company especially for the Pioneer Line, are the finest ever built.

It is not exaggeration to say that ol road in the world can produce the equa to these magnificent cars, and as the average traveler wants the best of everything that can be had, he must of necessity use this line in his trans-continental trip.

The charges for berths in these hotel cars are the same (and no higher) as are made in the more common sleeping car, so that the traveler using one of these palatial hotels is given much more worth for his money than he can get on any other line.

Remember! Pullman hotel cars are now running regularly between Chicago and Council Bluffs, on the Denver and California express trains of the Chicago & North-Western railway. West-bound, they leave Chicago daily, except Sunday, (and on every third Sunday,) from the Wells street depot, at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Council Bluffs next morning. East-bound, they leave Council Bluffs at 3:30 P. M., daily, except Saturday, (and on every third Saturday,) and reach Chicago the next afternoon.

Bear in mind! No other road runs Pullman hotel cars, Pullman dining cars, or any other form of hotel, dining, or restaurant cars through between Chicago and the Missouri river. On no other road can you get all the meals you require between Chicago and Omaha without leaving the car you start in. This is the only line that has through eating cars of any sort.

If the mother is feeble, it is impossible that her children should be strong. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

—The German government has recently re-christened no less than 680 places in Alsace-Loraine, giving them German names in the place of French. The official journal explains that the names were originally German, the same as now assigned, and that under French rule they were simply translated.

A STANDING INVITATION.—If this meets the eye of any man, woman or child suffering from any disease of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs, they will consider this a standing invitation to buy Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. This splendid medicine (endorsed by leading physicians) is a sure cure for the worst forms of Kidney Disease. All druggists sell Hunt's Remedy, and no chemist or physician ever prescribed a better. Trial size 75 cents.

—There is a vigilance and judgment about trifles, which men only get by living in a crowd; and those are the trifles of detail, on which the success of execution depends.—Horner.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—The last argument against the new parasols is that they will be of no use to to scare away cows, but as a rule a woman is always sufficiently scared for herself and the cow too.

Pure, wholesome, nutritious and stimulating without intoxicating are Malt Bitters.

—A teacher defined conscience "as something within you that tells when you have done wrong." "I had it once," spoke up a young gentleman, "but they had to send for the doctor."

Speer's Sambuci Wine for Ladies.

Mr. Speer, an enthusiastic grape-grower from New Jersey, has a very excellent wine from the Sambucus. The best judges pronounce it superb. It has been adopted by the New York hospital, and by physicians generally as a very superior wine; and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. We touch it to our lips somewhat unwillingly but are agreeably disappointed in finding one of the most delicious wines we have ever tasted. Our leading physicians have tested the virtues of this wine, and recommend it as a superior wine for invalids, debilitated persons and especially for females.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

HUNT'S REMEDY

THE GREATEST

KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE

EVER KNOWN.

HUNT'S REMEDY has saved from lingering disease and death hundreds who have been given up by physicians to die.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures all Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, and Incontinence and Retention of Urine.

HUNT'S REMEDY encourages sleep, creates an appetite, braces up the system, and renewed health is the result.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures Pain in the Side, Back, or Loins, General Debility, Female Diseases, Disturbed Sleep, Loss of Appetite, Bright's Disease, and all Complaints of the Urino-Genital Organs.

HUNT'S REMEDY quickly induces the Liver to healthy action, removing the causes that produce Bilious Headache, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Piles, &c.

By the use of HUNT'S REMEDY the Stomach and Bowels will speedily regain their strength, and the Blood will be perfectly purified.

HUNT'S REMEDY is purely vegetable, and may be used with the most perfect safety by the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it.

HUNT'S REMEDY is prepared expressly for the above diseases, and has never been known to fail.

One trial will convince you. For Sale by all Druggists. Send for Pamphlet to WM. E. CLARKE, Providence, R. I.

Prices, 75 cents, and $1.25 (large size).

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and one package will make six quarts of Medicine. If of your Druggist, he will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, premature and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and Dyspeptic Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more nourishing, invigorating, Vivifying and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "Bitters" and "nostrums."

MALT BITTERS build up new life nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For dyspepsia, dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, nervousness, stomach and liver, bronchial and deep-seated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, nervousness, weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvelous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.

Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the Delicious.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Daily Chronicle.

Why the Doctors Disagreed.

Ed. Chronicle: That "Templeton," the Boston correspondent of the Hartford Courant, whose article you give under the head "Disagreement of the Doctors" in your issue of May 20th, does not sympathize with Dr. Miner, is evident; but when he charges him with an attack on Dr. Peabody "almost brutal in its nature" he has strayed as far away from correct statement as he does in attributing to Dr. Miner the presidency of Tufts college, a position which the doctor has not occupied for years. The following from the Christian Leader, a well known Boston paper, gives the item which gave rise to the article in your issue of the 20th inst.:

The appearance of Dr. A. P. Peabody in the Advertiser, flatly and indignantly denying the truth of a statement made by Dr. Miner, is an unlooked for sensation. The spirit and phrase of the denial are wholly unlike what we should have looked for as coming from that eminent and accomplished man. He is indignant, and he rises to the language of passion. Dr. Miner's statement is to the effect that good Dr. Peabody tells the young freshmen, that to drink stimulants moderately is "better than not to drink at all. This, he avers, he never told the freshmen. In the Advertiser of Tuesday (the 4th), Dr. Miner confronts him with these words taken from his lecture to the freshmen: "Temperance is better than abstinence," and with some half-dozen other citations logically to the same purport. Dr. Peabody used scholastic terms. Dr. Miner translated him into the language of the people. That the translation is literal and exact is so plain that he who runs may read. What miserable business this drinking curse is, when it drives such a man as Dr. Peabody into a verbal quibble.

"So "Moral Philosophy" by the Professor of Ethics in Harvard University, 1875, "Temperance is better than abstinence."

Truly "a miserable business," that the doctors must disagree; and if, as Templeton states, "the temperance agitators in Boston have dwindled down into a smaller body than were the Garrison abolitionists of old, with less hope of rising out of their feebleness," God may yet give the same strength to the "forlorn hope" that it be led to as glorious triumph as crowned the cause advocated by the sainted Garrison. S. S.

A succession of terrific thunder storms passed over Bristol and its vicinity last Thursday night, accompanied by a very high wind. A barn belonging to Wm. C. Kelly was blown over and completely demolished, burying in the ruins a horse and hog. A house in Bridgewater, owned by John Marston, was struck by lightning and very badly damaged. Two persons in rooms where the fluid entered were not injured.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some neglected chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood-purifying, and catharactic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicines are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

—A loaded revolver was discharged in a trunk which was being handled by a reckless "baggage smasher" in Council Bluffs, Iowa, the other day. The bullet whizzed by his ear. He lifted the next trunk very tenderly.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.—Providence Advertiser.

—It is a question how a man can be murdered in the second degree. If he is killed he must be killed middling dead; and if there is any degree of death we would like to be informed.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tjel

—There are mean men in this world, and in that class may be reckoned the resident of a country town, who, hearing that two of his friends have gone fishing, hies him to the market and buys every trout to be had.

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1880.

News and Notes.

Disgusted with the Hanlan-Courtney fizzle, some of the citizens of Washington raised a purse of $2000 for a race between Hanlan and James Riley of Saratoga, N. Y., to come off May 26th, over the same course that Courtney didn't pull over, and under the same conditions as ruled the Hanlan-Courtney race.

The New York Spirit of the Times consoles Courtney for his inglorious defeat, in the following savage fashion: "Courtney has proved himself the champion failure of the world; a man in appearance; a baby in action; with the physique of a Hercules; the heart of a sheep; a cold-blooded coward, without a prototype. He must either be a coward or a thief, and, in either case, the aquatic world will cheerfully endure his prompt and permanent retirement." Blaikie, the referee in the grand race which was no race at all, says that Courtney was really ill and unable to row.

The London Sportsman says Messrs. Wentworth and Rett of Australia have placed £50 in its hands in behalf of Trickett of Australia, to row a race in the second week in November, on the river Thames, against Hanlan of Toronto. A cable despatch has been sent to Toronto and an answer is expected soon.

This week there was one of the greatest runs of menhaden ever known inside of Long island. The steamer Seaconnet took 1100 barrels at a single haul off Fall River, and the steamer Jemima Boomer made such a haul that she was obliged to cut the net and let part of the fish go. The fish factory at Tiverton, R. I., is running day and night, but had 9000 barrels of fish ahead on Thursday.

The inquest into the cause of the death of George J. Watson, whose half burned body was found in the ruins of his home in Coventry, R. I., a few days ago, was finished May 19th. The jury rendered a verdict of death by the violence of some person unknown.

A despatch from Tucson, Arizona, by way of San Francisco, May 19th, says: A courier from Old Camp Grant, sixty miles north of Tucson, states that Eskeimisen, chief of the old San Carlos Indians, who are now at peace, has warned the whites in San Pedro to leave for safety, as there is a large band of hostile Indians in the neigborhood who left San Carlos on the war-path. Nine prospectors are known to have been killed, and five more are reported killed. Settlers and prospectors have left the district and are coming to Tucson. George Stone o the Flag mine, near San Pedro, has returned. He met seventeen wagons of settlers fleeing from San Pedro to Tucson, who confirmed the reports of the Indians being in that vicinity and of the prospectors being killed. There are about 1,000 available troops in the territory, and most of these are near the line of New Mexico, fighting the hostiles there.

Henry J. Gunn, who murdered his father, Justin L. Gunn, at Bridgewater, Mass., was on the 20th inst. sentenced to confinement for life in the state prison, the jury having rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree.

The senate has passed a bill providing for placing non-commissioned officers of the United States army on the retired list, after a specified term of honorable service. One of the provisions of the bill makes enlisted men who have served fifteen years, the last five as non-commissioned officers, eligible for promotion to a second lieutenancy.

Miss Alice Crapo, aged eighty-three years, living alone at Rochester, Mass., was found dead in her house on the 17th inst., and probably died of old age. She lived alone.

N. B. Warren of Belfast, Me., a rigger about forty years of age, was instantly killed May 20th by the fall of a mast on the schooner Henry, which was being repaired. He leaves a family.

At Fitchburg, Mass., the Calvinistic Congregational church has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Dr. S. L. Blake, recently of Cleveland, Ohio, and formerly of Concord, N. H., to become their pastor.

About eighty carpenters left Lowell, Mass., on the 17th inst., for New York, where, it is said, they are to receive $2.-50 per day, and work guaranteed for six months. A large portion of them were French Canadians.

The military companies of Portland, Me., are now ready to be mustered in and placed on the roll of the regular state militia.

Widow Bateman shot Widow Singer dead one morning recently, for cutting grass on her premises, at the village of California, near Cincinnati. Women threaten the lynching of Widow Bateman. Thus do women encroach more and more on man's domain.

A carriage was overturned in Hyde Park, Mass., on the 19th inst., and seriously injured the occupants, four ladies and two children. Mrs. Vose had her arm broken; Mrs. Francis was severely injured in her limbs; her daughter, Mrs. Hall, fainted, and received a shock that may prove fatal; Mrs. Fielding of Halifax, and her two children, were badly cut and bruised.

On Wednesday night, May 19th, as Miss Christiana Bean, who lives at the house of Henry Weltch, Cambridge, Mass., was carrying a kerosene lamp across the room, she fell, as is supposed in an epileptic fit, and the lamp was broken, the oil caught fire and scattered around the room, and over her body, burning her very badly, and setting the room on fire. Mr. Weltch, assisted by the neighbors, extinguished the fire and called a physician, who found the poor woman suffering from injuries which will probably prove fatal.

A petition extensively signed by prominent gentlemen of Massachusetts, in favor of appointing a woman on the board of health, lunacy and charity, is about to be sent to the governor and council. New York state has two women on a similar board, the second having just been appointed on account of the evident usefulness of the first lady in the position.

A Portland, Me., man recently found a niece whom he had lost seventeen years ago. She was his sister's child, and at her death she asked her brother to care for her, but her husband took his child to Charlestown, Mass., where he married again. At his death the child's stepmother disappeared, and the uncle has been looking for her ever since. He finally discovered that she had been adopted by a Baptist minister living in Middleborough, and found her there, the wife of a leading citizen.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his inability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.—Harrisburg Patriot.

On the night of the 19th inst. a house on Hill street, Biddeford, owned by Luther Bryant, was destroyed by an incendiary fire; loss $1000; insured. A few hours later the house of John G. Woodman of Saco was burned, the fire catching from a defective chimney.

Clergymen, lawyers and authors find Malt Bitters a pure and safe invigorant.

The great amount of newspaper talk over George Eliot's marriage was all wasted, for it turns out that she has not been married after all. The London Echo says it is the other (and legal) Mrs. Lewes who has become Mrs. Cross.

Important.

Pandora's Box

brought a multitude of ills upon humanity, so saith the ancients; out a bottle of SOZODONT is a well-spring of joy in the family. It refreshes the invalid by cleansing his mouth, and fits the belle for the parlor.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

Political.

The republican convention of Nebraska elected a full delegation for Blaine.

The charges against Mayor Kalloch of San Francisco are definite and positive, to the effect that he sold appointments in the sheriff's and receiver's offices for money, and that he blackmailed the street-car lines. The workingmen's convention in San Francisco voted to stand by Kalloch, and he will probably have a fair trial.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles A. Hall of Strafford was instantly killed on the 19th inst. by a rock falling upon him, while he was at work sinking it into the ground.

Frank L. Chapin of Keene was ordained as missionary to north China on Thursday evening last, at the Second Congregational church in that town. A sermon was delivered by Rev. N. G. Clark of Boston; the charge by Rev. M. B. Riddle, D. D., of Hartford; the right hand of fellowship by Rev. W. R. Locke, missionary to Turkey.

A severe rain and hail storm, accompanied by a heavy wind, passed over Lebanon last Thursday. There was considerable damage done, buildings being unroofed, trees uprooted, etc. The lightning struck in several places.

Rising followed in northern portion by falling barometer, southeast to southwest winds, stationary or lower temperature, increasing cloudness and occasional rain.

AROUND HOME.

Eighty men, including seventeen fresco painters, are employed on the improvements at the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, which will be completed by June 1st.

Mr. Will Twombly, of Christian shore, through his endeavors to catch the "varmint" that killed so many of his hens, now counts the little graves of twenty big rats that he has trapped.

Persons of doubtful age should bear in mind that the census enumerators will commence their calls on the first day of June, and they should be ready with the exact figures by that time.

The annual meeting of the Concord & Nashua railroad occurs May 25th, and of the Northern railroad on the day following; Manchester & Lawrence, May 28th; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, Monday, June 7th.

A petition to the board of mayor and aldermen, which is being circulated for signatures, prays the board to turn on the drink at the public fountains which now exist, and to establish others where they are needed.

The New Hampshire Press Association will make a summer trip to Old Orchard beach, Portland, and the White Mountains, starting from this city, probably the last of June. The excursion will consume a week.

Work at Jobes' brewery is going on night and day. Two thousand five hundred barrels of ale is the weekly production at present, and even with this enormous quantity Mr. Jones is a thousand barrels behind his orders.

A select entertainment is to be given in the hall of the Sea View house at Rye beach on the evening of Wednesday, June 2nd; the programme will include readings and recitals, and vocal and instrumental music, by professionals, and the affair will conclude with a hop to the music of Harlow's full orchestra. The proceeds will be devoted to the plank walk near the Sea View.

The Boston Transcript of last Thursday evening says: "So far as the 'balcony scene' could go, Miss Norah Bartlett's Juliet at the Boston theatre, yesterday afternoon, was beaming-sweet, and in manner and speech was as joyfully, and yet doubtfully expectant as any flesh-and-blood young, ardent maiden would be with her first real lover—a conception, in this scene, much better to enjoy than a Juliet overburdened with sighing lovesickness from first to last. A rich voice, under good control, is one of Miss Bartlett's prime gifts."

The Newburyport Herald says: "Travellers over the line of the Eastern railroad are loud in their praises of the improved facilities gradually of late put at their disposal by the new management. Fast trains, and plenty of them, cars finely equipped and kept in apple-pie order, courteous officials, and stations enlarged and remodelled, are some of the desirable changes made, and many more are in prospect. The road was never in so good condition for the transaction of its rapidly increasing business."

The question is often asked, "What is bock beer?" The custom originated with the Germans to brew a beer a grade between lager and ale, as an introduction to the spring opening of lager. It is made in small quantities, and there is used in its manufacture three and a half bushels of malt and one pound of hops to a barrel, and it requires about two months for its preparation. It is considered a pleasant and healthy drink, and the demand for it is so great that only a few barrels are allowed to each customer; it is sold immediately, as it has not the keeping qualities of ale. The Eldredge Brewing Company have been very successful in producing a fine quality of bock, and orders for it are so numerous that it will all be disposed of in a few days.

Any owner of a fast sailboat, wanting to get up a little race, can find food for reflection in the "challenge" in our advertising columns.

Mr. Herbert W. Nowell, late clerk at the Commercial house in this city, has secured a similar position in one of the hotels at Haverhill, Mass., and has commenced duties there.

Mr. John Simpson of this city, employed as a ship-carpenter on the navy yard, fell from a gun-deck beam of the Lancaster to the deck below, Friday at about noon, and broke one of his thighs. He was brought home in the yard ambulance. Mr. Simpson has been singularly unfortunate. Some years ago he went to the Boston navy yard to work, and by the fall of a staging had a leg broken; and when the Lancaster was being hauled out on the ways at this yard, he met with a painful accident to one of his hands, which laid him up for some time.

REFEREE HEARINGS.

A referee term commences at the court house in this city, before Judge Charles E. Batchelder, on Monday.

W. C. Harriman holds a referee court on the 3d of June; Judge Page will begin June 9th; J. S. H. Frink June 21st; Wm. H. Rollins June 28th; Charles G. Connor, of Exeter, July 30th; J. F. Wiggin, July 26th; S. C. Eastman, referee in cases of Pickering and Nutter against DeRochemont, is to begin the hearing in this city Aug. 16th.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANK.

A special meeting of the corporation of the Portsmouth Savings bank is to be held on Saturday of next week, at three o'clock P. M. At this meeting doubtless a successor of the late president will be chosen. The bank was incorporated in 1823. Its first president was Nathaniel A. Haven, who served from 1823 to 1831, followed by Henry Ladd from 1831 to 1839, James Rundlett from 1839 to 1840, Robert Rice from 1840 to 1844, William M. Shackford from 1844 to 1869, William Simes from 1869 to May, 1880. The bank for a period of fifty-seven years has had but three treasurers,—Samuel Lord from 1823 to 1869; James F. Shores, Jr., from 1869 to the date of his death; and Joseph Hiller Foster, the present incumbent. The present amount of deposits is nearly two and a half millions of dollars, due to over seven thousand depositors. The combined deposits and withdrawals amount to over half a million dollars annually, and the responsibility of this large sum is assumed by the president, eighteen trustees and a treasurer. By the charter the president and members of the corporation can receive no compensation for their services in the bank, nor derive any emoluments therefrom, except that the treasurer and secretary may be paid. The bank of course has largely outgrown that restriction, and to properly discharge the duties of president no little time is required of that official.

THE "ROYAL MIDDY"

Of Miss Catherine Lewis, who takes the leading part in the "Royal Middy," which is to be performed at Music hall next week, the Manchester Mirror says: "We have seen Miss Lewis, and regard her as one of the brightest, most fascinating and pleasing actresses on the American stage, and her first appearance in Manchester calls for a cordial greeting from our play-goers. She is immensely popular in New York. The play is sure of none other than a brilliant interpretation from so fine a company as Mr. Daly's and theatre-goers should be on hand early to secure desirable sittings." Tickets for this play can be procured at Preston's on Monday.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The following are the officers for Memorial day:

Chief marshal, James R. May; chief of staff, Andrew P. Preston; aids, Wm. Russell Foster, H. T. Wright, Willis G. Myers, Edward C. Stimpson, Samuel Peyser, Herman Manson.

Marshal of 1st Division, Thomas Neil; aids, Herman W. Oxford, Edward H. Hall, Joseph Peach, Merrill Spalding.

Marshall of 2nd Division, Thomas E. O. Marvin; aids, Z. T. Brown, Howe Call, George A. Blaisdell.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Pullman train which passed through this city Friday morning on its way to Boston from Bangor met with an accident at Somerville, Mass. The train was near the station, and going slowly, when a journal of the forward truck gave way and the engine left the rails, ploughing up the ground for a short distance and then tumbling into the ditch; the engineer and fireman jumped off, and were unhurt. Two express cars, and the baggage and mail car, also went off, and were considerably broken up. All the passenger cars remained on the iron, and no persons were injured.

The engineer of the wrecked train lives at Somerville, his house being near the track and close to where the engine capsized; his run is from Boston to Portland one day, and back with the Pullman train next morning; and his wife has been accustomed to watch for his train each morning when he was due, and salute him as he passed. Friday morning she was out watching as usual, and had just exchanged greetings with her mate when smash went the whole concern right before her eyes, and the poor woman fainted dead away. The engineer climbed out of the wreck, ran to his wife, and picked her up and carried her into the house, as was proper.

Bursting Meteors.

Mr. Charles P. Birge has written an interesting letter to the Keokuk (Iowa) Gate City, in which he gives an account of a meteor explosion which took place May 10th, 1879, near Estherville, Emmet county, Iowa. He says: "The explosion and detonations were heard for more than a hundred miles. There was promptly recovered what is known as the Perry meteor, now in my possession, and which I have contracted to the British museum, London, weighing 437 pounds; the mass now in the university at Minneapolis, weighing 170 pounds, and latterly the mass known as the Hartes meteor, in my possession, 92 1-2 pounds. In addition to the above I know of minor fragments aggregating fifty pounds, making a total of 750 pounds. At the time of the fall some boys herding cattle near a lake some five or six miles southwesterly from where these larger masses fell, reported as a part of their experience that quickly after the passage of the great body over their heads they saw and heard a shower as of hailstones falling upon the water near by, and now comes the latest of the phenomenon: About three weeks ago people began to pick up, near the borders of that lake, small pieces of meteor, from the size of a pea to a weight of a pound. These soon found ready buyers at twenty-five cents per ounce by local traders. People left their farms—men, women and children—and went out to the meteor ground, now freshly burned over, and when I reached Estherville, May 3d, thousands had visited the locality, the belt being a strip of country commencing at or near Four Mile lake, in the western part of Emmet county, and running southwesterly about eight miles, the width being, say one-half to one mile. Upon this belt many thousands of small pieces were found. They are most generally metallic, very little stony matter about them, though some of the larger ones are of the same general appearance, and contain chrysolite in about the same relative proportion as in the larger masses. They are also as a rule very black, well crusted, and apparently perfect and independent bolides, not fractured particles from a large piece. The metal, cold, under a hammer flattens readily, is remarkable tenacious, and readily polishes, giving a peculiar steel-white or silver-gray." Mr. Birge thinks that the total weight of the amount recovered will reach seventy-five pounds.

Assaulting the Pension Bureau.

We have received a paper from Washington, called the National Tribune, with a request to notice. It is published in the interest of a class of claim agents that have fattened from the prosecution of soldiers' claims for pensions, bounties, etc. The practices of many of these agents have been so shameless and their charges so outrageous that they are no longer recognized at the department of the interior. They have robbed soldiers and their heirs of thousands. In many instances they are guilty of forgery, of manufacturing affidavits, and of other crimes by which the government may be cheated. At the present time they are devoting their energies and their organ to the defamation of Commissioner Bently, who is at the head of the pension bureau. Commissioner Bently's offending is that he is a faithful officer who is doing his utmost to protect the government against fraud and to secure the honest and deserving pensioner in his rights. The commissioner favors a law for the examination of all pensioners and all present applicants by a board of officers convened in the vicinity of such pensioners and claimants. Such a measure would put an end to the occupation of these extortioners. They are hostile to such measure for the same reason that any man cannot look with favor upon a project calculated to deprive him of the means of gain. We advise pensioners and claimants who feel that they have good claims to have nothing to do with those this paper represents. They make great professions of regard for the pensioner. They are wolves in sheep's clothing. There are local agents in every county and in most of the towns in the north who can be trusted, and who can secure a better hearing at Washington than can those baffled and doubtful agents who publish a paper to assail the pension bureau because it has cast them out as unworthy of confidence.—Boston Journal.

How the Oceans Were Made.

It has been commonly assumed that the water of the ocean was originally fresh, and that it became gradually salter as the rivers carried down to it the salts held in solution. Mr. H. Moselly in a recent lecture before the London Royal Institution thinks that even the primitive sea must have been highly charged with saline matters of all kinds. When the earth was still intensely heated, the whole of the water now on its surface must have been present as gas in its atmosphere, at first, no doubt, dissociated, but afterward an aqueous vapor. Since if the sea-bottom and continents were smoothed down to a uniform level, the sea would still suffice to cover the entire earth to a depth of over 1,000 fathoms, aqueous vapor equal to a layer of water of that thickness must have existed in the atmosphere and have produced a pressure of more than a ton on the square inch at the earth's surface. To this pressure must have been added that produced by all other vapors with which the primitive atmosphere must have been filled.

As the earth cooled the water condensed on the coolest spots from time to time, boiled, and rose as vapor again. Mr. Mallet conjectures that the first water formed on the earth's surface may have been as hot as molten cast iron. At last permanent seas were established. The waters of these, heated to an intensely high temperature under great pressure, must have dissolved salts in abundance from the freshly consolidated earth's crust, and being constantly in a state of ebullition as the pressure diminished at the surface with the growth of the seas, or the temperature of the earth's surface varied in different places, must have taken up vast quantities of rock matter in suspension and become thickly charged with volcanic mud. Intensely hot rain must have fallen on the land and have washed down more salts and mud into the sea. The whole ocean must have consisted of a vast of seething mud. It required a protracted period for the ocean to become clear, and for its deposit, which was perhaps somewhat like the present deep-sea mud, to settle, and possibly the deeper water long remained uninhabitable, being overcharged with various gases and salts and suspended mud.

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such mild of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a early cure.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros' Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Wasson Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES.

LAXATIVE & CATHARTIC FOR CONSTIPATION & BILIOUSNESS.

This Fruit preparation is as pleasant to the taste as prunes prepared for the table, and embraces the best medicinal agents known for the relief and cure of Constipation, Piles, and such Bilious disorders as often follow those who are costive. They exert effective action of the bowels without any griping and sense of constriction without the painful effects produced by cathartic pills, mineral waters, salts, senna, the harsh and other drastic purgatives. The medicine is entirely vegetable and healthful.

PRICE 50 Cts. PER JAR.

Recommended by leading Physicians who say "they should be always kept in the house."

All Druggists sell them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley Malt and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, muscular (bone) and sanguiferous system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and deep-seated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvelous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy or the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the boast of the Shakers that it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its poisonous properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 15th, asking my opinion of Cobbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

An Ohio Romance.

Miss Jennie Horn was just going to "run across the way," and so stepped out bare-headed and with apron on. But instead of going across the way Miss Horn slipped around to the Moravian church, which she entered by the back door. Her lover, William Collier, and Rev. Mr. Clewell, were there before her. The knot was soon tied. Mrs. Jennie flew back home, and with a blush chasing its shadow among her dimples, baked the bread for dinner. This was in the town of Churchsville, Ohio, where on the afternoon of the same day, Henry Horn, the bride's brother, chased both bridegroom and preacher down the main street with a shot-gun. Mr. and Mrs. Collier left that afternoon on a bridal trip, Mrs. Collier still being bareheaded.

An Old Doctor's Advice.

It was this: "Trust in God and keep your bowels open." For this purpose many an old doctor has advised the habitually costive to take Kidney-Wort—for no other remedy so effectually overcomes this condition, and that without the distress and griping which other medicines cause. It is a radical cure for piles. Don't fail to use it.

—A young pastor who has recently had a son born to him notified a brother pastor as follows: "Unto us a child is born; unto us a son is given—Is. 9, 6." It was written on a postal card. The receiver showed the message to a sister in his church. "Ah, yes," said the woman, after reading it, "it weighed nine pounds, six ounces."

New Lungs cannot be made by medicines, or the skill of physicians, but the old ones can be strengthened and preserved by the use of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price, 35 and 75 cts.

—A flower has been found in northern Mexico that has a perfume like that of whiskey, and when a lot of prospectors from California got into a field where it grew, they were just wild with excitement until they found where the odor came from.

If the mother is feeble, it is impossible that her children should be strong. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

—They were playing a game called euchre. She held both bowers and the king and two aces of other suits, but she was a novice at the game. A young man who was teaching her looked at her cards and warmly exclaimed, "What a lovely hand!" She looked him straight in the eyes and murmured, "You may have it if you want it." All the rest of the evening he wondered if he was the victim of a leap year proposal.

Kidney-Wort is nature's remedy for kidney and liver diseases, piles and constipation.

—A fugitive from justice got himself up as a book agent and easily worked his way out of the country without anybody's trying to question him, or, in fact, go near him.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tjed

— A white crane was recently caught at Hickory Grove, Iowa, and on its bill there was a young turtle firmly fastened. The bird was a huge specimen, measuring seven feet from tip to tip, but it was almost starved to death. While stalking around on the prairie it had stuck its bill completely through a small turtle, but could not get the turtle off again, and in this condition had remained for days. When discovered it was fed, but it died within two days.

A STANDING INVITATION.—If this meets the eye of any man, woman or child suffering from any disease of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs, they will consider this a standing invitation to buy Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. This splendid medicine (endorsed by leading physicians) is a sure cure for the worst forms of Kidney Disease. All druggists sell Hunt's Remedy, and no chemist or physician ever prescribed a better. Trial size 75 cents.

—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "It will be seen that the rapprochement between the beau monde of this country and the elite of Europe amounts to an entente cordiale." Would $7 per week induce the writer of that to come this way?

Feeble digestion, sick headache, dizziness and faintness cured by Malt Bitters.

Speer's Sambucl Wine for Ladies.

Mr. Speer, an enthusiastic grape-grower from New Jersey, has a very excellent wine from the Sambucus. The best judges pronounce it superb. It has been adopted by the New York hospital, and by physicians generally as a very superior wine; and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. We touch it to our lips somewhat unwillingly but are agreeably disappointed in finding one of the most delicious wines we have ever tasted. Our leading physicians have tested the virtues of this wine, and recommend it as a superior wine for invalids, debilitated persons and especially for females.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

A Great Failure.

The Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Co. suspended payment on Friday, and the Philadelphia & Reading railroad did the same, the two concerns being so closely connected that one could not go down without carrying the other. The stock of the road, which opened at twenty-three in the morning, went down to about twelve in the afternoon. The floating debt of the Coal and Iron Co. is between five and six millions, and the obligations came in faster than they could be met.

A Murderer Attempts Suicide.

Gunn, the convicted parricide, attempted to kill himself in his cell in the house of correction at Plymouth, Mass., early Saturday morning. He was to have been taken to the Massachusetts state prison at Concord that morning, and the hack had just driven up to the prison and the officer was going up the walk, when Gunn, who probably heard the carriage drive up and knew its purport, cut his throat in a terrible manner with a razor obtained from another convict. He made a determined effort, inflicting six wounds on each side of his neck, and one gash entirely across. In his haste, however, he missed the vital points. Neither the jugular vein nor the wind-pipe was cut, although only missed by a very little distance. The surgeons were at once summoned, and arrived in time to prevent fatal consequences. The wounds have been dressed, and a watch will be placed upon him day and night to prevent future attempts.

News and Notes.

The cartoonist of the Harvard Lampoon makes it appear that Rev. Drs. Peabody and Miner now turn the backs of their rocking chairs toward each other, and underneath this harrowing spectacle is the sententious explanation, "Rum done it."

This is anniversary week in Boston, and the good ministers will greet their brethren with a smile, and ask them to go round and see the new Boston saint, St. Botolph, and admire the pictures.

John Connors and wife, who committed numerous larcenies and did sneak thieving through Worcester, Mass., last fall, have been arrested in Providence, R. I., and taken to Worcester for arraignment.

The remains of Mrs. Pamelia Toothaker, who disappeared in October last, were found in Eastern river, Dresden, Me., Friday. She was deranged, and probably committed suicide.

A man near Otsego, N. Y., was thrown from his wagon. After the accident he was seen running across a field, but when search began for him he could not be discovered. Finally he was found twenty-five miles distant, lying senseless. It is supposed his fall affected his brain, and he ran until he was overcome by exhaustion. He died next day.

Six hundred new Springfield muskets, from the United States arsenal, have arrived for the Maine militia. They are breech loaders, forty-five calibre, similar to those in use in the regular army. The old muskets of the Maine militia were of the fifty calibre, but these are lighter and of a neater pattern.

At Wheeling, W. Va., on the 19th inst., Warren Robinson, while beating his wife, was shot dead by her in self-defense.

At Canton, Me., on the night of the 20th inst., the houses of John Cooledge and Frank W. Hacker were struck by lightning and burned, and Dana Bradford's house was struck and badly shattered. Many other places were struck by lightning. A terrific thunder storm prevailed all over Oxford county.

Senator Gordon, in his letter to the governor of Georgia resigning his position as United States senator, assigns as his principal reasons, weariness of public life after twenty years' service, and a desire to attend to his private affairs.

The Kennebec river, that formerly abounded in salmon, shad, alewives, etc., has been opened to the restoration of its fisheries by the completion of a fishway at the Augusta, Me., dam. This fishway is one of great importance.

The report is current in Athol, Mass., that Maj. H. M. Burleigh, who mysteriously disappeared nearly eight years ago, is in London, and that his friends have recently heard from him.

Carlton Rowell of Centre Mottville, Me., himself in a barn on the 12th inst., by tying a rope to his neck, attaching it to a beam and then sliding off the hay mow. He has for some time had symptoms of insanity, professing to hold communications with spirits; and on this occasion said they commanded him to hang himself. He was over eighty years of age. At the time, nobody was about the premises but his wife.

The dwelling owned and occupied by Z. Ethan Shute, at Sandy Point, Me., was burned on the night of the 21st inst., with all its contents; loss $2000; insurance $1100. On discovering the fire, Mr. Shute fell dead.

A few weeks ago President Hayes and wife went to Mount Vernon, and passed the night there, sleeping in the bed formerly used by George and Martha Washington. A good deal of fun was had when the fact got out, but the custodian of the property at Mount Vernon says that it is the usual thing for Presidents to do. Lincoln, Grant, Johnson, Buchanan, Pierce, Fillmore and Taylor, he says, have all slept in Washington's bed, and he supposes that other Presidents have, but that is as far as his memory runs. Some of the Presidents named occupied the bed several nights during their term of office, and President Pierce was in the habit of going to Mount Vernon to pass the night very often during the summer.

A cotton manufactory started at Shanghai, China, some months since by the Chinese, has been abandoned, and it is not thought probable that the enterprise will be resumed.

James Hazelett was found dead in a field a short distance from his home at Whitehead, Kings county, N. S., last Thursday. A double-barrelled gun, with one barrel empty, was found a short distance away, with the muzzle pointed at the dead man's face. Whether death was the result of accident or suicide is not known.

Political.

Senator Gordon resigns becase he cannot support his family and educate his children at five thousand dollars annual salary. And yet there are plenty of men in New Hampshire who will be ready at the next senatorial vacancy to wrestle with this experiment.

George W. Clark, the "counted-in" commissioner of Franklin county, Me., appeals to the full court from the decision of Judge Symonds, declaring F. W. Patterson elected to that office. The grounds of the appeal are that the act under which the case was determined was passed by an illegal legislature, and is unconstitutional, retroactive, and robs the executive department of the power vested in it by the constitution to determine the results of elections; that Geo. W. Clark was elected by fifty majority; that he was constitutionally declared elected by the executive; and that the court has no power to revise the decision of the executive. The case will be heard on appeal before the full court next month.

The democrats of Georgia are furious over the appointment of Ex-Gov. Brown as United States senator.

Bayard's "marshals bill" was passed by the senate on Friday.

The republican state convention of Illinois was run by the Grant men in a way to suit themselves. Under the leadership of Senator Logan, the convention assumed to elect Grant delegates from eight congressional districts that had already elected Blaine delegates.

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. Last night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless night have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

AROUND HOME.

Rev. Edward A. Rand has written a new book, entitled "The cabin of the bark Kearsarge." It is published by a Boston publishing house, we believe.

A petition signed by most of the prominent men of Newmarket, irrespective of religious affiliations, has been sent to Bishop Healey, asking that his order respecting the removal of the Catholic priest of that town, Rev. J. T. McDonnell, to Biddeford, Me., be rescinded.

A special town-meeting in Newmarket is called for Saturday, June 5th, to see if the town will vote to exempt from taxation, for a period not exceeding ten years, any new establishment or manufacturing capital which may be erected or invested by the Newmarket manufacturing company.

James W. Teague, formerly of this city but now of Massachusetts, was induced to purchase ten shares in the Boston, Windham & Point Shirley railroad, of Samuel G. Irving, for a thousand dollars. Teague says he was induced to take them through false representations of Irving, and he had a suit against Irving in the superior court at Boston. The trial occupied two days, and resulted in a verdict of $1138.50 for Mr. Teague.

Any of our readers who may be in Boston on Wednesday will do well to improve the opportunity to visit the Park theatre in the afternoon, when W. W. Tillotson, the business manager, has a complimentary benefit. The programme will comprise portions of "Camille," "the Long Strike," His Last Legs," and recitations and other attractions. The size of the theatre suggests an early selection of seats, as there will be no spare room.

The house and outbuildings belonging to William Wallace Webster, on Ocean road, were burned on Friday last about noon, with nearly all the contents, the fire catching from a defective chimney. Loss about $1000; insurance on house, $250 in Exeter mutual; $400 insurance on furniture and outbuildings. The house was formerly owned and occupied by Mr. Israel Marden. Mr. Webster is a section-hand on the Eastern railroad.

On Thursday night of last week George W. Emery, who was wanted in Dover for the larceny of a bank-book belonging to Andrew J. Burnham on April 14th, was arrested in Boston. Emery boarded in the same house with Burnham at Dover, and after stealing the bank-book forged Burham's name and drew from the Strafford bank the deposit, which amounted to $180. The thief was returned to Dover on Friday. He is but seventeen years old, and it is said spent the proceeds of his double crime in drunkenness and debauchery in Boston.

The schooner Duroc, Wentworth master, which went on Sunken rock off Rye beach on the night of the 9th inst., and was afterward towed to this city, waterlogged, sailed for her home port, Bangor, on Thursday last, having effected the needed temporary repairs alongside of Union wharf. It was supposed, when she was towed in, that there was a big hole in her bottom, which turned out not to be the case; she was pretty thoroughly strained, and on her port side, abreast of the mainmast, her bottom planks were considerably chafed, which was the extent of the damage. The only repairs needed to enable her to make the passage to Bangor consisted in the putting in of a few graving pieces, and recalking.

A steamboat to be named "Lottie" is being built at Exeter for W. W. Carman. She is thirty-six and a half feet long, and of seven feet beam and four feet depth of hold, and is expected to draw about three feet of water. She is to be fitted with a vertical engine with a 6x6 cylinder, to work up to ten horse-power; her boiler will be an upright tubular one, of steel; and her screw will be thirty-four inches in diameter. Her cabin will seat about thirty persons, and she will be employed in taking excursion parties on the river and to the Shoals, as well as in towing sailing vessels from Portsmouth to Exeter. The Exeter Coal Co.'s schooners will use her regularly in their trips, should she prove efficient. The "Lottie" is the second steamer built at Exeter, the first one having been a little thing with an engine of about one colt-power, constructed ten or a dozen years ago.

Any discharged soldier of the United States who has not made application for pension on account of wounds or disability received while in the service, must do so before July 1st, 1880. After that time pensions will date only from the time of application. The same is true regarding applications for additional bounty yet claimed by many soldiers.

COUNTY TREASURER'S REPORT.

The report of the county treasurer for the year ending May 1, 1880, shows a reduction of the county debt of $20,221.25. The following is a resume of the receipts and expenditures: Total receipts, $105,815.92; total expenditures, $76,842.71, divided as follows:

A WINGED EVIL.

Messrs. Editors: I wish to suggest to your correspondent who has been so annoyed by the English sparrows, that a garden hose can be used to drive them from the premises. If the martins have not before this given up the case, I should certainly asssist them in this way. Even a long pole might rout the sparrows. Of course the martins cannot protect themselves, delicate birds as they are, against the quarrelsome and sharp-beaked sparrows, which generally conquer in their battles with all kinds of birds. I entirely agree with your correspondent and yourselves that something ought to be done in time to prevent the increase of this nuisance of sparrows; but I do not agree with you that the English like the birds, only they have got used to them. Lord Abercrombie, in his recent travels in America, congratulates himself in having "got out of Sparrowdom;" but adds with ironical wonder, that in their cities, Americans have "with malice prepense" introduced these pugnacious and unattractive birds.

To some obtuse natures "a bird is a bird," and they would as willingly hear around their houses the monotonous cry of sparrows, as the merry song of the robin or bluebird; but to more sensitive ears their cry is a positive distress when long continued, and in case of sickness often a real injury.

It is no way to get rid of a nuisance to say that the means of suppressing it are not clear; such means must be sought for; and it is foolish not to remonstrate at least, before it is too late. Nothing can be done in summer of course, when other birds are about; but in winter, why cannot sparrows be suppressed?

We certainly are bound to protect our own beautiful native birds, and we have a right to defend onrselves against all foreign marauders, winged or otherwise.

Yours truly, xx.

THE "ROYAL MIDDY."

The "Royal Middy," which we are to have at Music hall on Thursday evening next, May 27th, is the production of New York's young and accomplished dramatist, Mr. Augustin Daly. The music is superior, the costumes and appointments elaborate and costly, and the company in all respects such as can scarce fail to delight our people, critical as they are. The rich wit and humor of the dialogue, the ludicrous situations and climaxes, and the excellent performance, make it a charming and most enjoyable entertainment. The spectacular features of the opera are far above the ordinary, the costuming of the characters being in itself a work of great elaboration.

The entertainment is a choice once, and should be seen by all lovers of true fun. The Queen's game of chess, introduced in the second act, makes a beautiful stage picture, but it is only one of the many scattered lavishly through the opera.

The work may be pronounced bright and clever; the libretto contains much neat farcical work, and is pleasing. Musically, Genee's work shows originality; there is much to admire in the compositions, both in melody and treatment.

The sale of tickets commences this morning at Preston's.

Lieut. John Guest, 8th U. S. Cavalry, has been detailed as member of a general court-marshal at Fort Duncan, Texas.

DANIEL WEBSTER IN THE TRENCHES.

A Reminiscence of 1812.

Sixty-seven years ago, in May, 1813, much alarm existed among the people of Portsmouth from apprehension that the British cruisers hovering upon the coast would land men at this point, and attack the town. In April of that year, Gov. Plumer ordered a detailment of militia for the defence of the harbor. This was a company denominated the Sea Fencibles, commanded by Captain William Marshall. It was stationed at Little Harbor, and composed of men from Newcastle and Rye. The company was in service six months.

But the cruisers still occasionally appeared upon the coast, and on the 28th day of May of town meeting was held in Portsmouth, and it was voted, after considerable discussion, to instruct the representatives from Portsmouth to lay before the legislature the "exposed situation of the town and harbor, and endeavor to obtain such assistance from the legislature as they in their wisdom might think expedient." At this meeting, or at one of its adjournments, Daniel Webster made a speech. He said that he "had listened to the discussion with interest, but talk was not what the crisis demanded. The forts in the harbor near the town want repairs,—want men to defend them when repaired. The government of the United States and the state government have been applied to for men to repair and defend these forts; but we know not," continued Mr. Webster, "that either will attend our application; but one thing we do know, the crisis demands labor, and we can labor, we can repair the forts, and then we know another thing—we can defend them. Now, I propose that every man who wants these forts repaired, wants these forts—aye, the town of Portsmouth—defended, appear upon the parade to-morrow morning with pick-axe, spade and shovel, and that they go to the islands and repair the forts."

The meeting adjourned with a hurrah for the pickaxe, spade and shovel. The next morning hundreds of the patriotic men of Portsmouth gathered upon the parade, and with Mr. Webster (duly armed with his shovel) proceeded to the forts, commenced their work, and in less than three days the forts were put in a state of repair.

The warrant for this meeting had an article as follows:

To take into consideration the exposed situation of the town, subject to the assault of the enemy, and to adopt such measures as may be deemed necessary for the safety and defence of the town.

Clement Storer was moderator, and among other acts it was voted "that the citizens of this town be recommended to form themselves into patrols and guards for the better security of the town against the enemy at night."

At an adjourned meeting, on the 15th of July, it appeared that "for the more effectual defence of the town and harbor of Portsmouth and the sea coast in this vicinity it is deemed expedient that the citizens should be regularly organized and equipped, places of rendezvous appointed as alarm posts, patrols established, and such other precautionary measures adopted as the public safety may require." It was therefore voted "that William Gardner, John F. Parrott, Daniel Austin, William Rice, William Ladd, William Flagg, Edward J. Long, Samuel Larkin, William Ham, Jr., John S. Davis and Robert Neil, Jr., be a committee to take this subject into consideration and carry it as far as may be into effect, and to report at a future meeting."

A week later, on the 22d of July, the committee made a long report recommending that Fort Constitution and Fort McClary be manned more completely; that a platform be built at Fort Washington, and the cannons from the state arsenal mounted there; that the exempts be armed, and that other measures of a defensive character enumerated in the report be adopted.

Fort Constitution had but one hundred and twenty men within its walls. Fort McClary was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. Several gun-boats from the navy yard, with seventy-two seamen, acted as a guard for the yard.

The circumstances of our condition were brought to the attention of the legislature early in the session, and a committee appointed to consider the subject reported that there was no adequate defence of our maritime frontier. The governor was authorized, in case of an invasion, to call for the troops necessary to repel it. An attack was apprehended in August, and ammunition was secured; but the town escaped invasion, and the last of the survivors of the men who did military duty at Portsmouth harbor in 1813 and 1810 are rapidly passing away.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Work has been commenced upon the bridge at Kittery point, which is to undergo extensive repairs—not before they were needed.

Miss Hannah Dorman, recently deceased in Kennebunk, whose will was entered for probate at the last term of the court in Biddeford, left public bequests as follows; Second Congregational parish, Kennebunk, $250; American Bible society, $500; Maine Missionary society, American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and American Tract society of Boston, $250 each.

Nineteen men employed by the American Union telegraph company have arrived at Kennebunk to set poles for the new wires which will connect Boston and Portland. Two new instruments will be placed in the Eastern railroad office at Kennebunk, for railroad and commercial work.

A committee of republicans, consisting of one from each town in the county, met at Biddeford last Friday to decide whether a name from York county should be presented to the republican district convention, to contest with Hon. Thomas B. Reed for nomination to Congress from the first district of Maine. Among the prominent republicans present were Col. M. F. Wentworth, Col. James M. Stone, Hon. Jere. Mason, Senator George H. Wakefield, Hon. Charles H. Moses and B. F. Hamilton, Esq. It was voted, fourteen to twelve, to present a candidate from York county.

About a year ago an ecclesiastical council met at Kennebunk to consider the advisability of installing Rev. George A. Lockwood as pastor of the Congregational church there, and after examining Mr. Lockwood on the articles of faith, advised a postponement of the installation on account of the uncertainty of his views on one point of doctrine. On Thursday of last week the council met again, and after due deliberation and consultation voted, sixteen to seven, to install him, notwithstanding Mr. Lockwood expressed no change of sentiment in regard to the doctrine of "conditional immortality." He was installed.

Clara Griffin, daughter of David Griffin of Raymond, committed suicide by hanging on the afternoon of the 19th inst. She disappeared soon after dinner, and search being made, her lifeless body was found hanging in her father's barn. She was twenty-two years old, bore an excellent character, was well educated, and had taught school in the town several terms. She had been somewhat deranged for several months, and had made one or two attempts to drown herself.

Thomas G. Worthy, a prominent and highly respected citizen of Bedford, died May 21st, of heart disease. He represented his town in the legislature, and occupied many local positions of trust.

Wm. Mars, aged forty-two years, a pressman in Plumer & Holton's clothing establishment in Manchester, dropped dead Friday morning of heart disease. He leaves a widow and five children.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

Annexation of Great Britain.

A memorial is floating about Washington, signed by one Francis Vincent, which contemplates the annexation of Great Britain to the United States. The memorialist's theory is that all English-speaking nations should be gathered under one government, and he proposes to make England one state, its executive being hereditary and its legislature consisting of one hereditary chamber and the other elected by the people. Ireland and Scotland are to be separate states, choosing their own executives and legislatures, and all three states are to send representatives to the American congress.

—The Graphic says, "A man's slippers are made for comfort, and a woman's to show her colored stockings." The whirligig of time brings many changes. When we were a boy a woman's slippers were not made to show her colored stockings. They were made to—but the subject is too painful.

—"My learned brother," says the court, kindly but significantly, to a young lawyer who is about to sum up his first case, "my learned brother will observe that it is near dinner time, and that brevity is the soul of summing up." "May it please your honor, I will not long detain you. I am right; my learned friend opposite is wrong; you are a good judge." Judgment in his client's favor, with costs.

—An old gentleman who had provoked the hostility of a fashionable lady, whom he had known in boyhood, was asked by his wife what he had done to incur the lady's displeasure. "Nothing at all," replied the innocent old man; "on the contrary, I was cordial to her, and spoke of the time when I used to draw her to school on a go-cart, nearly half a century ago!" His wife threw up her hands and murmured, "How stupid men are!"

—An attache of a Hartford theatre was stricken with rheumatism, and his associates, believing they could care for him at the theatre better than would be possible at his boarding house, carried him to the property room. Among the properties was a large shoe, ten or twelve feet in length, made of wicker work and covered with canvas, which had been used in a fairy pantomime. In this shoe the sick man's couch was made, and there he lies to-day, surrounded by friends, who do everything possible to allay his sufferings.

—The supreme court of Indiana has decided that selling cigars at a hotel stand on Sunday is a "work of necessity," and hence that the seller can not be indicted under the statute. The court says that smoking a cigar is as much a necessity to those who have acquired the habit as drinking tea or coffee is; that there is as much necessity for continuing this habit on Sunday as on any day of the week, and that whatever is necessary and proper to do on Sunday to supply this constant daily need is a work of necessity within the meaning of the law.

—In the backwoods of Presque Isle county, Wisconsin, is a town that has just elected its first justice of the peace. Like the rest of the residents, he is a rough lumberman. The first case brought before him was that of an assault committed by a notorious brawler. The justice had no difficulty in pronouncing him guilty, but how to punish him was a harder question, for he had no money with him to pay a fine with, and there was no jail in which to imprison him. After mature thought the magistrate said: "The complainant's got to pay me two dollars costs. I sentence the prisoner to be whipped, and, as a peace officer, I'm going to do the punishing myself." Then he rolled up his sleeves and thrashed the culprit.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLE it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FARCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGLADON, of Colchester, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY? BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood fever sit, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with an skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent, spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became sore to inflammation, and gradually, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any improvement, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper's Ferry Collections.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published, the 300th edition of the medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley, Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more invigorating, nourishing, vitalizing and purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Tissue Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or tonic. Guaranteed free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up manly vigor, restore the nervous, muscular and osseous systems, cure feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, kidney complaints and liver, bronchitis and consumptive coughs, nervous prostration, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, uncertain weakness of females, exhausted nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 26, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say It is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

An Amusing Duel.

In an interesting article which appeared in one of the magazines a short time back, giving a brief account of the life of Fighting Fitzgerald, the celebrated Irish beau, gambler, horseman and duelist, the following anecdote was omitted:—After his return from Ireland an old gentleman declared his intention of trying to cure Fitzgerald of his love of dueling, and one day provoked him to a duel. His friends tried in vain to persuade him not to "go out." "Leave me alone," he said, "I'll settle him. I have got the choice of arms. Each of us shall be mounted, each shall choose his own weapon, a space shall be marked out, and whoever first crosses the boundary shall be declared vanquished." Fitzgerald being informed of these strange proposals, did not like to refuse, and, confident in his admirable horsemanship and skill with all weapons, accepted. He appeared on the ground superbly mounted on a fiery steed, and armed with pistols. To the surprise and mirth all, the old gentleman trotted up on a donkey, carrying a bladder with dried peas inside, and a scarlet cloak in his hand. Waving the cloak and shaking his rattle, rode into the space; off started the fiery courser, and before Fitzgerald knew where he was, he had crossed the boundary and lost the duel. The ridicule was too much for him, and he never "went out" again.

Blaine as a Teacher of the Blind.

Of Mr. Blaine as a teacher of the blind in Philadelphia years ago, an old pupil says that he was vigorous, enthusiastic and high-spirited. One of his chief characteristics was promptitude, and another was the humor that helped greatly to enlighten the lives of the sightless beings about him. He never let anything stand in his way. Once in his geometry class he wanted a raised diagram which he did not have. Out came his pen-knife, and, saying "Everything must give way to knowledge," he carved a diagram for his blind pupils on one of the settees. He was fond of reading to them out of school hours, and read "splendidly," his favorite authors being Irving and Prescott.

—Simultaneously, in the Audubon (Iowa) county clerk's office, one man applied for a copy of a decree of divorce from his former wife, and another man for a license to marry her. The former wished the latter joy, but sarcasm was detected in his tone.

—A Bohemian of the first water was recently turned out of his lodgings and installed in a miserable little room absolutely without furniture. He met a friend and said to him, "Lend me a chair?" "What for?" was the answer. "My dear sir, I should be so ashamed if burglars should come into my room!"

—Martin Burr of Bloomfield, Mass., found the other day an old inhabitant on his farm who had not been seen for eleven years. It was a box turtle and it is known to be over one hundred years old; as Mr. Burr's father marked it in 1780, and it has been found several times since. The present Mr. Burr, who is over seventy years old, marked the creature in 1847.

—King Mtesa sent six black envoys to London with his majesty's compliments to Queen Victoria, for the purpose of asking her to define the status of missionaries sent to his African kingdom. They also have orders to request a supply of rum and rifles, and, as an inducement to their request being granted, to announce their master's wish to embrace the Christian religion, provided he is permitted to retain the worship of his idols—the great snake, the lord lion and the strong elephant.

—The remuneration for work in Italy appears to be very small, according to an investigation just made by M. Nathan. The working day in the manufactories of Capriglia, an industrial district, is from fourteen to seventeen hours a day, the wages for men being for those above sixteen years of age about sixty centimes (twelve cents) a day. The average for women was forty centimes. Workers by the day were paid fifteen sous (cents) for sixteen hours' work. Even these poor wages were not paid in cash, but in part with bread, detestable wine, onions or fruits.

—Mrs. Livermore contends that if mothers would train their girls as housekeepers, at the youthful period when girls would be delighted to learn, they would take as naturally to housekeeping as ducks take to fresh water. She does not recommend, however, that instruction should be confined mainly to domestic duties, or that marriage should be considered the principal aim of the fair sex, but advocates a system of broad and liberal industrial tuition, which will fit women for any of the probable contingencies of life, render them self-dependent, and fully develop their varied faculties.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his ability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.—Harrisburg Patriot.

—These English sparrows, when they see a bug, go into committee of the whole and argue for an hour or two as to the best manner of despatching him. When they have come to an agreement the bug has moved out of range. They remind us of something, but what that something is we can't for the life of us think.—Boston Transcript.

The Republican Nominee.

The indications are that Grant has the pole for the Chicago contest. The great mass of the republican party will be abundantly satisfied with either Grant or Blaine as a standard bearer, or even with the possible third man, if he is a life republican and fully in accord with the principles of the party. Whoever is nominated at Chicago is to be chosen president. The country has watched the democratic managers in their brief estate of control of the legislative department of the government. The sum total of this result has been to fill a few offices, and to withhold appropriations for carrying on the business of the government.

For a while the business men of the country waited to see what congress was likely to do; whether questions of tariff, and other measures affecting the industries of the country, were to be discussed and acted upon; but the impatient activity of the country could not wait. The men whose hands were upon the levers that let on the motive power which could start business determined that the economy of the country should not be delayed merely because the noble army of confederate brigadiers did not know how to legislate, and did not desire to do so had they possessed the power of comprehending the wants of the land. Then business began to move its wheels, and congress was forgotten amid the more urgent demands of busy times.

Is any man insane enough to believe that a party which has made for itself such a miserable record since it first elected its speaker of the house of representatives after the republican incumbent laid down the gavel, is to have a majority of the votes of the country for its candidate in November? No. Whoever the republicans place in nomination will be chosen—and of this there are probably none of the democracy better convinced than the honest fellows who, seeing no chance for the enjoyment of patronage after next March, are willing to kill the goose of Gramercy park that they may for a while enjoy the golden eggs, for the production of which certain democratic friends so disinterestedly await.

Another Dime-Novel Hero.

The body of Walter Smith, of Somerville, Mass., was found in the park at that place on Saturday evening, with a bullet hole through the head, he having evidently been murdered. Young Smith lived with his mother, who is dependent on her labor for her living, and whom he was just beginning to help. He attended the Forster school in Somerville, and had the reputation of being a well-behaved lad. His father is a sailor, and is at present away on a voyage.

On Sunday the officers arrested the suspected murderer, Charles Williams, eighteen years old, a son of J. P. Williams, a former member of the Somerville school committee. It is reported that his mind has been depraved by a course of "Boys of New York" and other similar trashy literature, and that for some time he has been lugging about a revolver and bowie knife, unknown to his parents. He is reported to have recently said that he had been a good boy long enough, and that it didn't pay; he was going to do something wicked. He and Walter Smith left the house together on Saturday evening.

This affair will afford soft-headed women and men in Massachusetts another opportunity to whine about a "poor boy" who "couldn't help it," a la the mawkish Pomeroy performance. And then Williams will be a great hero, the same as Pomeroy is now.

News and Notes.

It is reported that Rev. Edward Everett Hale has withdrawn his name from the list of members of the St. Botolph club, giving as a reason that he cannot approve of the liquor features of its regulations.

Between Friday and Saturday mornings of last week, in the vicinity of Columbus, Ga., nearly ten inches of rain fell, and the amount in other parts of the state was enormous; eight and a half inches fell in ten hours. All the railroads were broken, many bridges carried away, and crops much damaged. At Macon the river rose fifteen feet in two hours. A train on the Southwestern railroad, consisting of an engine and eleven cars, was wrecked by running into a creek, and the engineer, fireman and two wood passers were killed.

Cornelius Fine, of Paterson, N. J., who has served a term in state prison for horse-stealing, is under arrest for incendiarism. He stole a livery team at Paterson, Friday night, and drove to a point near Hawthorne, Passaic county, where he set fire to two farm houses and a church, all of which were destroyed. He then abandoned the stolen team on the highway.

The officers of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company continue reticent in regard to their failure, but it is learned that the directors have decided to place the affairs of the corporation in the hands of three trustees. No plan of action is decided on yet, as far as can be ascertained. A number of failures are reported consequent upon the suspension of the railroad company.

Peter Zimmer, of Port Washington, Wis., was arrested at Buffalo, N. Y., last week, while on his way to New York to meet his intended wife, who is coming from Germany to meet him. Zimmer is eighty years old, and is accused of murdering his son.

At Edenburg, Pa., Saturday night, an incendiary fire destroyed seventy buildings, including the post-office, a bank building and two hotels; loss $150,000, with small insurance.

Johanna Briemann, wife of a German baker in New York, was found murdered in her room on Sunday, having been dead two days. On a table was a letter written by her husband, stating that he had killed her for marital infidelity; but the real reason for the crime was probably that the wife, who had been recently married, refused to give her husband $600 which she had in the bank. The murderer has disappeared with the money.

The New York Herald has a report that an action took place in Cuba last week, in which General Carrillo and Col. Sanchez overcame the Spanish and made prisoners of four Spanish officers, besides taking other prisoners and material of war. The prisoners were treated with the greatest of kindness. The fighting was near Santi Spiritus.

E. W. Humphrey of Jericho, Vt., was struck by lightning and killed on Thursday.

Joseph McFarland, Jr., of Hartford, Conn., committed suicide, Saturday. Financial troubles were the cause.

The body of Jimmie Christopher, aged seven years, son of John Christopher of Gardiner, Me., who has been missing since the 10th inst., was found in the water near the shore of the river, on Sunday. He was probably accidentally drowned.

Christopher Hall of West Springfield, Mass., a Boston & Albany brakeman, fell between the cars of his train on Friday morning, and was run over and killed. He leaves a wife and two young children.

The house and barn of Joseph Nutter at Newfield, Me., were struck by lightning last Thursday night, severely injuring Mr. and Mrs. Nutter, and killing a pair of valuable horses in the barn.

The dead body of Wm. B. Eaton, of Roxbury, Mass., was picked up on the shore at Fall River on Saturday. He had been missing for several weeks, and the body was badly decomposed.

Bill Pussley and his brother Budel, half-breed Indians, fought a duel at McAllister, Indian territory, on the 22d inst. Bill was instantly killed. The duel was the result of an old grudge.

Paddy Ryan of Troy, N. Y., and Joe Goss, had a prize fight near Red Leary's hotel at Fort Hamilton, Long island, Monday, for $2000 and the "championship of America." Ryan won, Goss being shockingly pounded. There is no hope that either of the brutal ruffians will die from the effects of the fight.

After an exhaustive examination of the allegations of adultery against Rev. Dr Peltz, of Jamestown, N. Y., the principal testimony being sworn affidavits, his innocence was thoroughly established. The committee of investigation and the church were unanimous in judgment, however, that he should abstain from preaching until recovered from the effects of the rumors.

The Auburn (N. Y.) Advertiser contains an interview with Henry C. Carr of Union Springs, N. Y., Courtney's attendant at Washington, in which he says that Courtney's sickness was a barefaced sham throughout. Carr accompanied Courtney, totally ignorant of any job, but, in the light of subsequent developments, he says that he is now firmly convinced that the race was sold months before it was rowed.

The senate has passed a bill to complete the survey of the Gettysburg battlefield, and to provide for the compilation and perservation of data showing the various positions and movements of troops at that battle, illustrated by diagrams. It appropriates $50,000 for purchasing records, compiling the data, etc.

Iowa walnut logs are now being shipped to England. The timber is bought in the tree by a Liverpool agent, and is cut down and hewn square. The ends are then painted to prevent cracking from exposure to the weather. The logs are shipped to Liverpool to supply the cabinet-makers of Great Britain.

M. Charuay, who heads the Lorillard exploring expedition to Yucatan, proposes, besides photographing ruins, and taking moulds of inscriptions, to dredge the sacred lakes into which offerings were cast, in the hope of reclaiming valuable materials for investigation.

Americans naturally sympathize with the efforts of the Cubans to free their beloved island, yet the latest expedition must be regarded as a forlorn hope like the others. It will refuse new life and strength into the rebellion for a while, but finally meet with defeat. Spain is much the stronger, and withal has no idea of giving up her rich colony while her treasury is so sadly in need of revenue. All the Cubans can do is to harass the Spanish troops by guerilla warfare as they have been doing for several years, in the hope of tiring them out. Spain has no intention of loosening her grip on the island, and the effect of General Garcia's pronunciamento will only be to make her tighten it.

Terrible Railroad Accident.

On Monday a local train on the South Pacific Coast railroad, while on the way from Santa Cruz, Cal., to Big Trees, with a large party bound to a picnic, ran off the track, two observation cars being smashed. Thirteen dead persons were taken out of the ruins at once, and forty others were seriously wounded, some of them fatally.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, May 19.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 4440; sheep and lambs 3292; swine 11,470; number western cattle 4186; eastern cattle 114; milch cows and northern cattle 180.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $5 37½ and $5 62½; first quality $5 05 and $5 25; second quality $4 50 and $4 87½; third quality $4 00 and $4 37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 12½ and $3 87½.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb; Brighton Tallow $5 00 per 100 lbs; country hides 7½ and 8c per lb; country tallow 4 and 4½c per lb. Calf skins 12½c and 13c per lb. Sheep and lamb skins $3 and $3 each. Sheared sheep skins 25 and 35c each. Lamb skins 50c each.

The trade for Western beef cattle opened active, and the quality in market was of a better grade than those offered in market one week ago. Prices have fallen off 10c per 100 lbs from those obtained for the same grades of beeves one week ago. There were some very extra beef cattle which were bought up for shipment to England, which it was said would cost more than our highest quotations. The trade for shipping cattle has not been so active as it was last week, although there has been a fair demand for them. From Maine there was a fair supply of milch cows brought in, and 200 veal calves, selling at 4½ and 5½ per lb live weight.

Working Oxen—Not much call for them. A few pairs each week is all the market requires at present. We did not notice any sales yesterday. There were none brought into market among the cattle from Maine this week.

Store Cattle—Nothing doing in the store cattle trade. Many of the cows which are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—The trade for common grades has been very quiet. Good cows have been in fair demand. We quote sales of 1 cow at $65; 2 milch cows at $50 each; 3 cows and calves at $60 each; 2 cows and calves at $37 50 the two; 1 springer at $45; 1 do. at $40; 3 cows at $40 each; 1 Jersey cow at $50; 2 do. at $40; 1 cow and calf at $45; 1 do at $55; 1 do. at $30.

Sheep and Lambs—Western Sheep cost from 5¼ and 6c; spring lambs 9c per lb live weight—mostly owned by butchers and taken direct to the Abattoir to be slaughtered.

Swine—Fat hogs—We quote prices at 5¼ and 5½c per lb live weight, all owned by butchers and taken direct from the cars to be slaughtered.

Pandora's Box

brought a multitude of ills upon humanity, so saith the ancients; but a bottle of SOZODONT is a well-spring of joy in the family. It refreshes the invalid by cleansing his mouth, and fits the belle for the parlor.

See a Woman!

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in expelling worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

AROUND HOME.

Simon R. Marston was duly qualified on Saturday, as a census enumerator for one of the subdivisons in this city.

The Harvard cricket club will play a game with the Portsmouth club on the grounds of the latter at the Creek, on Wednesday.

The schooner Governor Goodwin arrived at Doane's wharf last week with 118 barrels of mackerel, and on Saturday night the Daniel Marcy brought in 220 barrels.

Samuel Adams, Esq., and wife, start this morning for Minneapolis, Minn., to pay a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Eva Blanchard, who with her husband and children resides in that city.

A special meeting of the shareholders in the Portsmouth Shoe company is to be held June 7th, to amend the by-laws relative to notice of meetings of the stockholders, and as to the duties of the treasurer.

Mr. N. C. Hopkins, formerly in attendance at the Tremont house and Young's hotel, Boston, has taken the barber's shop at the Rockingham house. Mr. Hopkins is a superior artiste and master of his profession.

Mr. Thomas Sheehan and a party of friends were sailing on the river on Sunday, and when just inside of the narrows a sharp puff of wind carried away the boat's mast. Had there not been experienced hands in the boat, there would probably have been another serious river accident to record.

Mr. Nathan F. Gilson, having opened a grocery store at No. 27 Market street, with a large assortment of general groceries specially selected for the spring and summer trade, invites all in want of anything in his line to give him a call, feeling confident that the quality and prices of his goods will be found satisfactery.

Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler, of Dover, as referee, is holding a session at the court house in this city, to try an action brought by the bond-holders of the Kearsarge house, North Conway, against Thompson & Son, to recover possession of the real estate under a trust mortgage to secure the bonds. Messrs. Frink and Gaffney appear for the plaintiffs; Copeland and Thomas J. Smith represent the defts.

The Dover Cadets, an independent military company, disbanded last Friday evening and the treasury and property were divided up among the members of the company. Each member received two muskets, and $3.06. After the "divvy" one of the members, named Frank Smith, while carelessly handling a musket ran the bayonet through his wrist, cutting an ugly gash. He fainted several times, and lost a large quantity of blood, having cut an artery.

Lieut. Lyman D. Spalding, U. S. N., of this city, arrived home on Saturday evening, having been detached from the Enterprise and placed on waiting orders. The Enterprise went into commission at this yard March 16th, 1877, and sailed from this port for Hampton roads on the 11th of August following. From the latter date to the date of her arrival in Washington, April 9th, 1880, she sailed 38,570 miles, of which over 2000 were sailed on the Amazon river and its tributaries, when she was on surveying duty.

The schooner Evergreen laid all last week at Union wharf, waiting for the tides to get heavy enough to enable her bottom to be examined, to see how much injury she received at the time she went ashore on the rocks at Appledore island on the 10th inst. On Sunday the tide left her far enough for the hole in her bottom to be stopped up, and on Monday she was taken around to S. Adams & Co.'s wharf to discharge the remainder of her cargo of lumber, that firm having purchased her whole load, as well as that of the Duroc, amounting in all to two hundred thousand feet.

The furniture, fittings, stores, etc., of the Kearsarge house, are to be sold by auction to-day on the premises, commencing at ten o'clock.

The band-chariot and ticket-wagon for Leopold & Guppy's Pavilion circus arrived in Dover on Saturday; the Democrat says they are very handsome.

Mr. Reinewald's sermons on the cornet, at the Unitarian church last Sunday, were very satisfactory to the audience, and will be repeated next Sunday.

The first occupant of the new Franklin buildings is Mr. J. E. Bennett, who opens on Saturday with a stock of fruit and confectionery; an eating saloon will be connected with the store.

It is reported that Mr. James W. Goodwin, who is now and for several years has been conducting the Commercial house, is to take charge of the Kearsarge house. Mr. Goodwin retires from the Commercial on the 1st of June, and the proprietor of the building, Mr. Joseph S. Grant, will assume the position of landlord.

Major Urch propelled his marine velocipede up the river almost to Dover on the 23d inst., and the strange-looking, swift-moving craft attracted the wondering attention of hundreds on both banks of the Cocheco. He has rigged an awning for it, which when spread one way protects him from the sun, and when spread another way makes a good sail for using with a fair wind. With smooth water and a light wind, or no wind at all, the velocipede will beat any kind of a boat except a racing shell. Major Urch's aquarium has been greatly improved from last year, and will be opened to the public in a few days, with a large variety of queer fish.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, May 24; Batchelder, J.

Bridget Smith, for malicious mischief, was sent to the county farm for ninety days, and ordered to pay $8.04 costs.

W. H. Eaton, for persistent truancy, was sent to the state reform school for one year.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The beautiful service of decorating the soldiers' graves in this city and vicinity will take place on the 31st inst. The programme for Memorial day will not vary much from previous years. In the forenoon, detachments of Storer Post, G. A. R., will proceed to the North, Union and Catholic cemeteries, and the ones at Gravelly ridge and Newington, and strew the graves of the departed patriots with flowers.

The procession will in the afternoon form on Congress street, and will move at three o'clock, over a somewhat shorter route than has been customary, to Harmony grove cemetery, where the memorial ceremonies will be performed. After returning to Market square there will be a dress parade of all the military in the procession, after which the parade will be dismissed.

The evening exercises, which will be unusually interesting, will be held in Music hall, commencing at eight o'clock, the programme being as follows:

1. Selections—Medley of national and army airs, Harlow's Orchestra.
2. Introductory remarks, by Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Pres't of the ev'g.
3. Song, "They died for you and me," Double Quartette.
4. Prayer, Rev. James DeNormandie, Chaplain.
5. Reading, "The Ballad of New Orleans," Miss Emma F. Johnson.
6. Song, "Our dead not lost," Abt, Miss Emma J. Flanders.
7. Oration, by Col. Henry O. Kent of Lancaster, N. H.
8. Selection, Harlow's Orchestra.
9. Song, "Not forgotten," Double Quartette.
10. Reading, "Memorials," Mr. Edward C. Stimpson.
11. Song, "The Sleeping Hero," Mendelssohn, Miss Emma J. Flanders.
12. March, Grand Army Quartette.
13. Solo and Chorus, "Star Spangled Banner," solo by Miss Emma J. Flanders, chorus by Orchestra and Audience.

The tickets for Memorial evening exercises will be placed on sale at Preston's store on Thursday morning.

In the list of aids who were appointed on the chief marshal's staff for Memorial day, we inadvertently omitted the names of Wallace Hackett and William H. Preston.

The committee on decoration of soldiers' graves will be at the south cemetery on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, and in order that none of the graves of the fallen heroes shall be missed, they will be thankful for any information in relation to their locality.

At the meeting of the general committee held Monday evening, reports of committees on finance and carriages were made.

Dr. James R. May was chosen treasurer. C. M. Gignoux was added to the committee on flowers, and Wallace Hackett to the committee on finance.

The meeting adjourned to Friday evening at eight o'clock.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Owing to sickness at home, Mrs. Hooper was unable to attend the Band of Hope meeting Saturday afternoon.

Notwithstanding the heat, a good company attended the gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening. It was expected that Mrs. Woods would take charge, but she being detained a friend took her place. The theme for the evening was "Excuses." The services were highly enjoyed, especially the relations of their experiences by reformed men, their united testimony being that since signing the pledge their health has been better and their hopes brighter than before—that their homes are better furnished, and their families better clothed and immeasureably happier; instead of spending their money for rum, they now spend it for groceries, clothing, furniture, etc., and many of them have a little laid away for a "rainy day." At the close of the meeting two names were added to the pledge list. Next Saturday evening Mr. James Janvrin is invited to speak on "Woman's work," from a temperance point of view.

Mr. Horace E. Frye conducted the bethel service, Sunday afternoon; subject, the 8th chapter of Romans. There was a good meeting.

The reform club had an interesting social service Sunday evening. "The library" was the subject of remark,—and a good one, too; it is time that people were better posted on the subject of temperance, and we are glad to note that in many places temperance text-books are being introduced in the public schools as a branch of study. A brother suggested that "total abstinence" be substituted for "temperance" in the reform club's name. L.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Samuel Nason, of Sturgeon creek, Eliot, has finished the schoolhouse which he contracted to build in that district. He has built a good house, but it is said his contract was not a profitable one.

A town-meeting was held in Hollis on Thursday last, at which it was resolved to build Hollis' half of the new bridge, to replace one burned some months ago, of iron, to match the Buxton half. An East Berlin, Conn., company has contracted to build the bridge, and to have it done by July 21st; the cost of the whole will be $10,000.

Thursday afternoon of last week an eight-years-old son of Owen Bragdon was drowned in the canal at Kennebunk. The little fellow was last seen near the banks of the canal about five o'clock in the afternoon, and when he could not be found elsewhere it was determined to draw off the water, which was done, and the body recovered about ten o'clock at night.

Naval Gazette.

The Powhatan, on her way down Chesapeake bay one night last week, got aground at the mouth of the Rappahannock river.

The senate has confirmed the following marine corps promotions: Lieutenant-Colonel Thos. Y. Field to be colonel; Major Clement D. Hebb to be lieutenant-colonel; Captain George W. Collier to be major; First Lieutenant George B. Haycock to be captain; Second Lieutenants H. C. Fisher, Wm. F. Zeilin, Wm. Spicer, Paul Saint Clair Murphy, Geo. F. Bates and Jesup Nicholson, to be first lieutenants.

New Hampshire Items.

Dustin Killicutt of Manchester, aged about twenty years, is under arrest for embezzling cash and goods from the jewelry establishment of John N. Baker, where he has been employed about three years. The amount of his pilferings is believed to be from $500 to $1,000. It is said to be the old story of fast women and small wages.

The Northern railroad pays a dividend of three dollars a share June 1st.

The senate on Saturday confirmed Hon. N. G. Ordway of New Hampshire as governor of Dakota.

New Publications.

One of Emile Gaboraü's most interesting novels is "Monsiur Lecoq," published in paper covers by Estes & Lauriat, opposite the Old South in Boston. The usual French detective novel often possesses great interest, because there is so much in the Parision system of police to admire and be surprised at. Gaboraü's novels enlist our attention at the commencement, and new and startling scenes and carefully described details keep up our interest throughout the work. "Mons. Lecoq" is by no means inferior to the other well known novels of this celebrated writer. It makes a book of three hundred pages, full of unabated interest. It is published at fifty cents, and may be found on the counter of Mr. Myers' book store.

Andrews' Bazaar for June is a superior number, fine in illustration, sparkling in literary matter, and excellent as a fashion journal. All ladies are interested in the styles. While the costumes illustrated in Andrews' Bazaar are in the best French and American modes, the aim of the publisher seems to be to avoid extremes, and to give only those styles which are sensible, if we may use the term, so that those who follow the fashions as expounded in his journal will be well, yet not fussily dressed. The children will be much pleased with the story of "The Happy Family." In short, those popular and pleasing things which go to make up a good family paper are well presented in this publication. Ladies should send ten cents for a sample copy to W. R. ANDREWS, publisher, Tribune Building, New York.

A Sketch from Nature.

Baby was lost. The gate had become unfastened and his little chunky legs had carried him off—somewhere. Nobody knew where. There was an alarm of the household, and in every direction the searching party went. "Have you seen a little one?" was the anxious inquiry from every person met. No satisfactory reply from any one, until a small boy suggested that he might have climbed up on the ladder of a house in the process of construction. Up the ladder went the baby's oldest brother, and, balancing himself cautiously on the beams and scaffolding, looked for the missing one; looked for him where he couldn't possibly have come unless by balloon route. Of course he wasn't there. Nor nowhere else, and the exploring expedition went mournfully homeward to make a new start. "Take me down 'tairs," was the first sound that awaited them as they came in the front door. There was baby, rubbing his eyes, and begging to come down amongst folks. He had been taking his nap, forgotten, in his little crib, and had never been lost. How they did hug him.—New Haven Register.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some neglected chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood-purifying, and catharactic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicines are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

—A girl at Enson, Dakota, was very disconsolate over the loss of a lover, but was uncertain whether she really wished to commit suicide. In order to test the question, she let herself down into a stream with a rope, so that she could either let go and drown, or hold fast and save herself. She found that immersion in the water did not make her desire to live, and she discarded the rope. But her suicide was prevented, after all, by boatmen.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.—Providence Advertiser.

—The average equal distribution of success in games of chance is well illustrated by the experience of a gentleman and lady in Hartford, who last week played a 5000-point game of six-card cribbage, in which the former won by only 132 points. The same parties played 200 games of 121 points, each winning 100 games. The gentleman also played 200 games with another lady, and the score was in this case just 100 games each.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—They have a pleasant way of encouraging literature in England. Mr. Huxley found a check for £1000 in one of his letters the other day, from an admirer in Bolton. Charles Gibbon, the novelist, lately received a legacy of £1000 from a Scotch lady who had admired his books, and James Payn, the novelist, has just received for the benefit of his wife and family, a bequest of £9000 from Wrixley, the famous paper maker.

Nervous and general debility overcome by Malt Bitters because nourishing and quieting.

KIDNEY-WORT
PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Torpid Liver and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

KNOW THYSELF.
The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.
Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.
The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

THE
New Hampshire Gazette
Book & Job
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.
TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society. It was first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weakness and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the causes of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 29, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or blue syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

I Call on Olivia.

A TRUE TALE.

Now Olivia had been adopted by some high-toned relations, and taken at once from a one-story hut in the wilderness to a palatial residence on Beacon hill.

Olivia and I had been school-mates; yes, we had wended along the same cowpath with each other and with our dinner baskets, on the way to the little red school-house where our education began and was completed. We had plucked the bonny checkeberry in sweet companionship on our way home, as we drove the brindle cow from pasture. Later on we had attended singing school and candy pulls, as one and inseparable.

When Olivia was summoned to her new home on Beacon hill, and I was left destitute of all that made existence a blessing, I became despondent; my meditations became deep; all the members of my father's family were much concerned for me on account of my gloomy countenance and reckless deportment. I no longer took delight in rural sports, and my business (which was the hen business) was on the verge of ruin from my sore neglect. Now things went on in this way for a long spell; it might be six months, perhaps more. I took no notice of time, since the sun of my life seemed eternally set.

One day I sat on a fallen tree in the woods, where Olivia and I had strolled many times in bygone days. Hours passed away, and I heeded not until the sun gave one parting glance and then slipped from sight behind Big hill. The lively insect hummed on, unmindful of my gloomy presence. I was in the act of heaving a gigantic sigh, when looking up I saw approaching along the woody pathway Olivia's own cousin. Should I slink away and conceal myself, or put on a manly front and give him a cordial welcome? I choose the latter course—since he was too near to choose any other. I advanced, and extending my palm said, "A stranger, just from Boston?"—for he had been there working for some time.

"Yes, just arrived in town. I thought I would take a short cut home though the woods."

My heart gave a convulsive throb as I said, "And how is Olivia?"

"Olivia?" he replied, looking blank for a moment; "O, Olivia. You mean my cousin Olivia?"

"I do, sir," said I with dignity, for I thought perhaps he had heard of my trouble, and was making sport.

"Well, to tell the truth," he went on, "I think you can tell better than I, since you saw her last."

"What!" I cried, "have you not seen her in Boston?"

"Not I," said he, "for I didn't know she was there till lately, and then I didn't think much about calling, though of course I mean to sometime."

We walked on in silence for a spell; then as if struck with a sudden idea he said, "I say, Ben, why don't you go to Boston and finish your trade with me?"

For some moments I was speechless, trying to grasp the idea. "But the hens?" I exclaimed, as soon as I recovered my senses.

"Oh, hang the hens; sell out, come and go back with me."

By this time we had reached his home, and bidding him good night I went on alone, in deep thought, considering his suggestions. I did not sleep much that night, but revolved my new prospects in my mind, and thought of Olivia until the same sun that left me in melancholy reflections the night before, now found me flushed with anticipated joy.

As Olivia's cousin would start early Monday morning, and it was now Saturday, I had to rush 'round pretty smart and dispose of my hens, (which I did at a discount,) and arrange my wardrobe. The latter I concluded would require replenishing, which I could do in Boston before calling on the fair one, beautiful Olivia.

The momentous time arrived—and I arrived too, in the great city, and with much wonder gazed about me. I did not comprehend how Olivia's cousin could find his way about. Every street seemed alike, and it was rattle, rattle everywhere. All the time I was thinking about Olivia, and looking into every female face I passed, or at least as many as I could, for they were very plenty. Olivia's cousin did not know what was in my mind, of course, and so I did not dare to propose a visit to Olivia the first day nor the second, though I had bought me a bran new pair of pantaloons, (and they sat beautifully all 'round,) a pair of white lisle-thread gloves, and some other things, including a bandanna handkerchief and a handsome pin with a green stone. The pin I intended to wear, and then take it out, when I came away, and present it to her with fitting remarks. A week went by, and I had made no progress toward the dearest object of my heart's affections. I was working at my trade, which was that of a carpenter. Each day I resolved that another should not pass before I would accomplish that which I so much desired. But I thought, if her own cousin did not visit her, why should I? Yes, why should I? Then I thought, supposing I should meet her on the street, what would she say because I had not been; and whenever I did go, what should I tell her was the reason I had not been before? Ah, Olivia, dear Olivia, so near, so far! One day I made up my mind, and resolved to act.

I said to Ben, "have you been to see Olivia yet?"

I tried to look unconcerned, and think I succeeded.

"No; I have forgotten her address."

"Oh I have it," I replied, and showed it to him, written on a card.

"Well, saying I go to-night? And come, why can't you go with me?"

As I this was what I had hoped for, and I turned away to conceal the delight that I knew beamed in my face. Before I had time to accept the invitation, he continued with "Let's see: you used to be kind o' sweet on Olivia, didn't you?"

"Oh, I don't know; perhaps I did, a little!"

How I arrayed myself in my new apparel. I think I tied my cravat a dozen times, and then didn't feel suited. The bandanna was in constant use mopping up my forehead and chin. How I turned myself before the big mirror until I had examined all parts with a feverish yet critical eye.

At last we got started, and in course of time found ourselves ascending the steps leading to the handsome residence of Olivia's benefactor. Oh, how my heart thumped while waiting for that bell to be answered; and fearing he would hear it I kept up a rapid conversation, and when words failed I drummed with my boot against the step, or whistled.

"Perhaps they did not hear the bell," said Olivia's cousin, and he rang again.

My heart began to get calm, as it was not till after the third ring that we were answered.

Then a girl opened the door.

"We want to see Miss Olivia Briggs," said her cousin with dignity.

"I will see if she is in," answered the girl, and shutting the door, vanished. We waited, then we whistled, then we stood on one foot and then on the other.

Olivia's cousin took out his immense watch, and turning it up to the street light, gazed mutely at its face; this he did regularly every five minutes until half an hour had passed away, when the door once more swung open and we were asked into the hall.

"Your names?" said the girl staring at us; and when told, she tripped up the stairs and left us to the society of the hat-rack for full twenty minutes by Olivia's cousin's watch. At the end of that time my heart had ceased its painful throbbing, but my corns ached, and I thought some of sitting down on the stair and trimming them with my jack-knife. At this point, however, a door at our side opened, and the self-same girl beckoned us to enter, saying in a clear voice, "Benjamin Uphill and Alexander Thaw." At the further end of the room sat—well, it proved to be Olivia.

With the majesty of a queen she arose to receive us. Silk rustled and jewels glittered to such a degree that I was overwhelmed. I looked in vain for the mass of sunny curls that used to float about her head and shoulders. Towering above her head was a chignon of mysterious dimensions. I felt like a pigmy before a pyramid, and yet there seemed to be too much of me. I tried to speak, but I seemed to have the lock-jaw. I cannot now recall anything more, nor how I escaped from her awful presence or whether or not she asked me to come again. I only know that I never went. I couldn't afford the time. LUCILO.

Concord Railroad Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Concord railroad stockholders was held in Concord Tuesday, when the following were elected directors for the ensuing year: Frederick Smyth, Samuel N. Bell, J. Thomas Vose, Benjamin A. Kimball, Francis B. Hayes, Henry C. Sherburne, James W. Johnson. There was no excitement at the meeting, though Col. Pearson as usual filed protests against pretty much everything he could think of.

News and Notes.

During the great menhaden run last week, Joseph Church & Co.'s steamers, of Tiverton, R. I., took 30,000 barrels in seven days, which was converted into oil and guano in seven and a half days, or at the rate of 4000 barrels per day, making a total yield of 12,000 tons of guano and 20,000 gallons of oil, the value of which is about $18,000. The fishermen are jubilant over the great catch.

Edwin M. Lewis, Franklin B. Gowen and Stephen A. Caldwell were on the 24th inst., appointed receivers for the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company and the Philadelphia & Reading coal and iron company. They are required to give bonds in $500,000 each, and to report as soon as possible the condition of affairs of the companies; also to continue the operations of both corporations.

A shooting affair at Sidney, Wyoming territory, Sunday night, resulted in the mortal wounding of Patsey Watters, bartender, by Detective Smith. The latter was shot in the left hand.

During a fight between roughs at Troy, N. Y., on Monday evening, John Wall, an ex-convict, recently released from prison, killed Supervisor Phillip Casey, who was attempting to quell the disturbance. Wall fled, and was pursued by the mob. During the chase a duel took place between Wall and his pursuers, and Officer Duffy was shot in the head and side, but not fatally. A man named Frowley was also shot and injured slightly, and a child was shot in the hand. The wildest excitement prevailed. Wall, when captured, had a narrow escape from lynching.

Newfoundland advices report the arrival at St. Johns of the British war-ships Druid, Flamingo and Contest, from Bermuda, to protect the fishery interests on the Newfoundland coast.

A Lima letter says the Chilian fleet bombarded Callao on the 23d ult., firing one hundred and forty shot and shell, two men being killed and twenty wounded on shore. The Peruvian fleet was not injured and only two dwellings hit. An attempt by the Chilians with a torpedo launch to cut out a Peruvian vessel was a failure. Up to the 28th of April the Chilian fleet lay at anchor off Callao, making no new demonstrations.

A Fall River, Mass., despatch says there is no doubt that the death of Wm. B. Eaton, whose body was found on the shore near that city, was the result of suicide. Eaton was formerly clerk in a shoe house in Boston, but went to California about a year ago, where he went into business for himself, and lost all of his savings, some $3,000 or $4,000.

In a fight at Stone Creek, Ky., on Saturday night, Albert T. Fish shot Matthew Bishop and Adam Hysington. Fish was arrested.

George Wagner of Lockhaven, Pa., has been arrested, charged with murdering a Mrs. Friedel on Saturday, and burning her, with the house in which she had lived.

The statement that Goss and Ryan, the bruisers, had a prize-fight at Fort Hamilton, L. I., on the 24th inst., is denied by the backers and friends of both parties.

Concerning the Hanlan-Courtney "race" it is reported that Referee Blaikie said on Monday that if Riley, the oarsman, will remove the restrictions upon statements made to him, he (Blaikie) will make public some matters relative to the recent fiasco that will be worth reading. Courtney's physician certifies to the oarsman's being sick in bed with cerebral congestion.

A Constantinople despatch tells of horrible sufferings of the starving people at and near Mossoul. Their sufferings are indescribable. Finding no cereals, some eat corpses and become ill in consequence. Most of them are dying, as they have nothing to eat.

A Mennonite named Job Ennis, of Winnepeg, Man., was killed by lightning in his house Saturday, his wife receiving such a shock that she expired Sunday. The house was burned. The other inmates escaped.

A cow-boy named Garry shot and killed George Wolf, Sunday afternoon, near Julesburg, Colorado. Garry escaped on a horse.

The foreign minister at the Hague has submitted to the chambers the extradition treaty between the United States and Holland, recently signed at Washington.

Sixteen deaths had resulted from the railroad accident near Santa Cruz, Cal., up to Monday evening, and others of the injured passengers were supposed to be dying.

New Hampshire Items.

The hotels and boarding houses among the White mountains are making many improvements, and will open early in June. The outlook is good for a large summer business. Surveys are being made for a new railroad from Plymouth to Bartlett, in the interest of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, which will give them a shorter line to the mountains.

The Bartlett Land & Lumber company, at Bartlett, will manufacture about six million feet of lumber the present season. The Kearsarge Peg company are doing a large business, and make large shipments daily.

Double Sufferers.

If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of Liver and Kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort, a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered Kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.

Eminent physicians indorse Adamson's Botanic Balsam as the safest and most effectual remedy for Coughs and Colds ever discovered. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 35 and 75 cts.

—William Wheeler kindly turned the crank of the ice cream freezer for a festival at Phillips, Me., for nearly two hours. Thinking it didn't freeze as it ought—though it "stiffened a little," he thought—he looked in, and found the ingredients were in the cupboard!

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound revives the drooping spirits; invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions; gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of beauty the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

CANDID TALK. We have something to say, and want to say it plainly and frankly. It is this: We know it to be a fact Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is the only real cure for Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Liver, and Urinary Organs. This is the plain, unvarnished truth. We do not believe as much can be said for any other medicine. You who suffer and doubt, have faith enough to try Hunt's Remedy. It will cure you. It cures everybody. Sold by all Druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—"When I was your age," said old Mr. Trot, "I rose with the lark." "I beat you clear out of sight, then," said Tom, wearily and triumphantly, "I've been up all night with him."

What it Does.

Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, bilious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

Naval Gazette.

The frigate Powhatan, which has been aground at the mouth of the Rappahannock, was hauled off Sunday night. After replacing her guns she proceeds to Yorktown.

The Alliance left the Norfolk navy yard on Saturday, and dropped down to the naval anchorage. She is bound for the banks of Newfoundland, where she will probably remain about two months, and then proceed to Europe. Her engines were tested on the 23d inst., and found in excellent condition.

The house naval committee has voted to recommend an appropriation to complete the four ironclads now on the stocks.

Paymaster D. H. Wight is ordered to Rio Janeiro as naval storekeeper. Paymaster A. W. Bacon is ordered home from Rio Janeiro.

Commander John W. Phillip is ordered from the Tuscarora to duty in the bureau of navigation. The other officers of the Tuscarora are detached, and ordered to proceed home and await orders.

Queer "Protectors."

Thomas Melias, a sailor of the British ship Iron Cross, has been committed by the supreme criminal court at New Orleans on a charge of having, for $250, set fire to that vessel, which was loaded with cotton, April 22d. The accused was remanded in default of $10,000 bonds. Detectives are now working up the case against Melias. The instigators are said to be connected with the harbor protection boats, and it is believed that nine-tenths of the fires on cotton laden vessels in New Orleans have had a similar origin.

Many eminent physicians believe that smoking is injurious to the constitution. They earnestly recommend young men to refrain from the practice, and those who have acquired the habit to abandon it. There can be no doubt that the deleterious effects of tobacco are much modified by the use only of the finer qualities. To such however as are fully determined not to follow the advice of the aforesaid eminent practitioners, we cordially recommend the "Noriega" brand of cigars, as being old-fashioned hand-made, and free from noxious flavorings.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

—W. Harry Rouscoe was sent to put down a carpet in Mr. Houser's house at Fort Wayne. He was a stranger to Mary Houser when he began, but before he got through he was her accepted lover, and that night they eloped and got married.

New Jersey Premium Wine.

Physicians state that the Port Wine that took the premium at the Centennial, produced and offered for sale by Mr. Alfred Speer, of New Jersey, is a wine that can be safely used for medicinal purposes, being pure and free from medication, and is more reliable than other Port Wine. It is especially recommended for weakly females and the aged.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

—At a legal investigation of a liquor seizure the judge asked an unwilling witness, "What was in the barrel that you had?" The reply was, "Well, your honor, it was marked 'whiskey' on one end of the barrel and 'Pat Duffy' on the other end, so that I can't say whether it was whiskey or Pat Duffy that was in the barrel, being as I am on my oath."

A nourishing agent for the weak, emaciated and dropsical,—Malt Bitters.

Hark! hark! 'tis SOZODONT I cry,
Haste youths and maidens, come and buy.
Come and a secret I'll unfold,
At small expense to young and old.
A charm that will on both bestow
A ruby lip, and teeth like snow.

See a Woman!

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless night have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

AROUND HOME.

Mr. John E. Leavitt of Rye offers for sale the desirable property known as the Washington house, situated near the beach in that town, and in first-class order for the reception of company.

There was almost an alarm of fire at about eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon, the North church bell being struck a dozen times or so. The occasion was a blaze at the soap factory near the depot, a small hole having been burned through the roof near the chimney, the fire probably catching from a spark.

The next Rockingham County Temperance meeting will be held in the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church in this city, Thursday morning and afternoon, June 3d. Dinner will be served in the vestry, at noon, and contributions for the tables are solicited. All friends of the cause are invited, wherever resident.

It is reported from Gloucester, Mass., that the three-masted schooner William H. Tenney, Demont master, bound from Philadelphia for this port with coal, capsized on Friday morning of last week off Gay head, and sank. The crew were saved, and arrived at Gloucester on Saturday in the schooner Chas. Danders, of Providence.

Parties in the vicinity of the Eastern railroad station desiring the CHRONICLE will find it at the news stand of Mr. M. J. Leary, in the new restaurant, near the door, where also can be found the Boston papers and leading periodicals. Mr. Leary is agent in this city for the Boston Sunday Globe, and persons desiring to have that paper left at their houses will have their orders attended to on leaving their names and addresses with Mr. Leary.

Two or three weeks a respectable citizen of goodly avoirdupois tumbled overboard into shallow water at Concord railroad wharf, and on getting out was greeted with a perfect tornado of "sympathy" and condolence from the spectators of his mishap. On Saturday last one of the sympathizing crowd, Mr. Tim. Dunphy, himself tumbled overboard in deep water in trying to jump from the wharf to a schooner, and came out puffing and blowing like a porpoise. The sympathy expressed for Mr. Dunphy's misfortune by the stout citizen who fell over before, is an honor to human nature, and very consoling to the last gentleman who took a dive off the wharf.

Quite an exciting scene was witnessed Sunday evening by the dwellers along the Gravelly ridge road. A party from Dover, in two carriages, (a man and woman in one carriage, and three men in the other) had been "doing" Portsmouth during the day, and were returning to Dover in an exalted state of mind. The driver of each team was ambitious to lead the way, and a lively race ensued. The carriage containing the woman was drawn by the most speedy horse, and would no doubt have soon taken the lead had not a tree got in the way just as it was turning out to pass the other team; but when the forward wheel struck the tree the carriage suddenly stopped, the horse keeping right on up the road until caught by the occupants of the other vehicle, and the man and woman sailing gracefully through the air over the dasher, and landing head first on the ground. The other buggy returned and took in the castaways, who though stunned were not seriously hurt, and two of the men volunteered to remain by the wreck and get it home if possible; and with the assistance of Mr. N. D. Miller they finally got the horse harnessed so that he could draw the broken carriage to Dover.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, May 25; Batchelder, J.

Martha Owen, for vagrancy, was ordered to the county farm for sixty days.

OBITUARY.

Nathaniel Kennard Walker died at about half-past five o'clock Tuesday morning, after a brief illness, he having been confined to his house but two days, though he had been failing quite rapidly for a considerable period, consequent on advanced years, he being about seventy-four years old. Mr. Walker served his time as an apprentice at the trade of a hat maker with Dea. Daniel Knight, of the firm of Hale & Knight, who then did a large manufacturing business in a building (afterward burned) on the site of the store now occupied by Messrs. Ayers & Locke on Market street. On attaining his majority he entered into partnership with Joshua Knight, with whom he continued in business for a considerable time, in the building on Congress street in which several generations of his ancestors were born, which was burned many years ago. He retired from active business several years since, having been engaged in it for over fifty years; his youngest son, Arthur W. Walker, still carried the establishment on under the firm name of N. K. Walker & Son, until very recently, when it was sold. The deceased was of a very quiet and retiring disposition, and never sought political preferment; in business, as in all things else, he was conscientious and just; and he was in every respect a worthy man. He leaves three sons and a daughter.

Thomas Jefferson Sheldon, of the firm of Sheldon Bros., furniture dealers, died quite suddenly at an early hour on Tuesday morning, of an acute complaint of the bowels. He was a son of the late Kittredge Sheldon, and always resided in this city; he was in the meat business up to ten or twelve years ago, when he became associated with his brother, Stewart A. Sheldon, in the furniture trade, at which he continued up to the time of his death. In politics he was a democrat until the greenback party arose, since which time he has acted with the latter organization; though never prominent in political affairs, we believe he served several terms in the common council. He was an unassuming man and a good citizen, a pleasant companion in social life, and would have preferred to do any person a good turn rather than an ill one. He leaves a wife, but no children. His age was about forty-six years.

THE "ROYAL MIDDY."

Concerning this opera, which is to be performed at Music hall on Thursday evening, May 27th, an exchange says:

Surely there must be something remarkable about this new comic opera, or musical comedy of "Der See Kadet," to make its right and title to production so great a bone of contention among the theatrical fraternity. Managers who devote themselves to the search after novelties for the amusement of the public must have wonderful philosophy to assist them in bearing the constant worry attendant upon their vocation. After all the labor and expense incident to the selection of such a desirable piece—for it must be understood that probably for every play actually adapted from the French or German, there are fifty translated and thrown aside as unsuitable—after taking all the risk of production, and inventing "business," designing scenes, costumes, tableaux, etc., the enterprising manager who finds his skill and labor appreciated by the public, is likely to lose the fruit of his exertions; for, strange as it may seem, other less energetic men will present imitations, more or less clever, of his adaptation, and even, in some instances, use his title without scruple, and in defiance of the law of copyright. "The Royal Middy" is an instance of this injustice; already have several attempts been made to take from Mr. Daly the property he has purchased so dearly, both in outlay of money and exertion of brains, and although he has succeeded in establishing his rights in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, he is unable to prevent the managers of the California theatre, San Francisco, from using his title of "The Royal Middy" with impunity.

The extraordinary favor with which the opera was received in New York is, of course, the sole reason for these shameless attempts at piracy, and their number and audacity are proof of the merit of the piece. The plot is very amusing, if we may judge from a synopsis which we have read in one of the New York papers; the music is tuneful and novel, the atmosphere of the play bright and joyous—as the critic of the Tribune calls it, "a frolic in a palace"—and the scenes, appointments and costumes are in keeping.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The wires of the American Union telegraph company were stretched as far east as North Berwick, Saturday.

The Biddeford machine works have recently furnished the Nute shoeshop in Dover, N. H., with an eight horse-power engine.

Rev. H. Freeman, for two years past settled over the First Congregational church in Biddeford, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday.

The opposition in York county to the nomination of Hon. Thomas B. Reed as member of congress from the first district of Maine is said not to be such as to seriously endanger his prospects, such representative republicans as Dr. Wentworth and Col. Stone being strongly in his favor, as are most others of the party. Mr. Reed has shown himself an able man in congress—is a keen debater, a good parliamentarian, a worker, and a staunch republican.

Mr. Wm. Noyes, of Saco, advertises to sell one half interest in the York County Independent, published at Saco, together with a half interest in the type, material, etc., in said office.

Valentine Meader, a native of Berwick, died at Lynn, Mass., on Saturday, at the age of sixty-five years. At the time of his death he was secretary and treasurer of the Lynn gas works.

Deputy Sheriff Stuart seized fifteen gallons of whiskey at the Eastern depot in Saco, Sunday morning. It belonged to Biddeford parties, and a person was lying in wait to receive it, but the sheriff was too quick for him.

The schooner Horatio Nichols came off the marine railway at Kittery on Tuesday, the damages she received when employed in damming the Swampscot river having been made good under the superintendence of Mr. Warren Keen; she is a better vessel now than she was at the time she grounded. The steamer Appledore will be hauled out to-day, to have her bottom cleaned and inspected preparatory to the summer work. The fishing schooner Mary E. Caswell will go on the ways next; her garboards will be opened, and she will be fitted with limber chains. After the Mary E. Caswell comes off, the schooner Ada will be taken up; the Ada has gone up to Dover with a load of coal, but will probably get down in time to go on the ways when her turn comes.

Political Matters.

The United States senate on the 24th inst., after a long debate, passed the Morgan resolution providing for a joint rule for counting the electoral vote. Bayard then called up his bill providing that the supervisors of elections shall be appointed by the president by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and that the terms of office shall endure two years, begining in May of each even-numbered year. The republicans thereupon refused to answer to their names, and by thus breaking a quorum forced an adjournment.

The senate committee on elections have agreed to recommend the passage of a bill making it lawful for the legislature of New Hampshire whose constitntional term expires next after the expiration of the term of a senator in congress from this state, to choose a senator to fill the term which will so expire.

The Louisiana republican convention on the 24th inst. began with a row, and a bolt of thirty-six delegates. The delegates to Chicago go uninstructed, but are said to stand seven for Sherman, seven for Grant, one for Blaine, one preference not known.

Too Much Faith.

Traveling on one of our railroads, a little four-years-old lump of boy humanity kept his father and mother in a state of chronic fidgets by continually thrusting his head out of the window to explore the outer world. All remonstrances and threats were unavailing. Finally a bright idea struck the father.

"Fred, Fred," he said, "keep your head in or the wind will take your hat off!" And in order to frighten his hopeful he slyly slipped the hat off the little one's head and concealed it. As soon as this had been done, the child began crying and could not be appeased. Finally "pater familias" told him to look in an opposite direction and he would whistle the hat back again—all of which was very neatly done, and the happy parents settled back in their seats and began to converse very pleasantly, thinking that they had cured little Freddie. But not so, for in a very short time he seemed to brighten up, and away he sent his hat through the car-window, shouting, as it disappeared:

"Papa, whistle again!"

—When the clock raises its little hand, look out; it is going to strike.

—P. S. Gilmore is back from Europe, and has brought with him a musician from Milan who makes wonderful music on a novel and complex brass instrument with two bells, called the ephonium-trombone.

—A Vermont pair put off applying for a divorce one term of court so that they could profit by their tin wedding. And yet they tell us the people of this country are recklessly extravagant and unthrifty.

—When Webster said "there is always room at the top" he was not referring to the advertising page of a daily newspaper.

—A young man boasted that he had a well-stored mind, whereupon a young lady murmured; "What a pity we can't find out where he stored it."

—Mamma—"Look, Cissy, here is the dear doctor coming. What a favorite he is! See, even the little chickens run to meet him!" Cissy—"Yes,, ma, and the little ducks cry, 'Quack, quack!'"

DENTAL NOTICE--REMOVAL.

DR. GOODALL informs his friends and patients that for the present he has removed his Dental Office to his House, No. 36 Islington St., (two doors above Langdon St.) in order to avoid exposure to east winds and storms, being subject to rheumatic attacks. Having recovered his usual strength, therefore, he will after May 7th, receive patients at his House, during all hours of day and evening. Also, relieve patients suffering from pain on Sundays. Patients from the surrounding towns and in the city can now be sure of securing Dr. Goodall's skill in extracting teeth, from 7 o'clock A. M. until 9 P. M. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered with success and entire safety.

All Repairs upon Artificial Dentistry skillfully and promptly executed. Fillings of Gold and Silver, Tin, &c.

Patients will recognize the familiar Sign, which for the past twenty years has located Dr. Goodall's Office on Congress St., now at 36 Islington Street, Portsmouth. my7 —Encouraging news for flute-players—The Earl of Fife has an income of $300,000 a year.

—Instead of losing their money and injuring their reputation by joining clubs for gambling in stocks and mining shares, the ladies of London are turning their energies to the womanlike occupation of hospital nursing, which is reported to be fast becoming a fashionable mania.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—Miss Ida Lewis, the brave Newport lighthouse keeper, was seized with diphtheria last winter while a gale was blowing and there could be no communication with land. She knew that the hideous disease required prompt treatment, and she had read that kerosene was an unfailing remedy. So she administered sharp doses of the oil, and though it made her violently ill it cured her diphtheria.

THE ONLY COMBINATION of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy which prevents malarial fevers, regulates the stomach and bowels, perfects digestion, and insures protection from diseases and ailments incident to travel, is Sanford's Jamaica Ginger. Put a bottle in your traveling bag. Ask for Sanford's.

—The old adage that misfortunes never come singly, is not illustrated by the experience of Capt. Tower of St. John, N. B., who was convicted of scuttling a barque one day, and the next day drew a $10,000 prize in a lottery.

Fainting before eating, pain and distress afterward, prevented by Malt Bitters.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Diseases. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the Skin is dry, the blood impure, the stomach, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodens—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a early cure.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros', Publishers.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been in means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.
DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

THE New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

DISCOVERER OF

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

The Positive Cure

For all Female Complaints.

THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, DIRECTS THE VITAL POWER ARIGHT, STRENGTHENS THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, so that THE CURE is radical and entire. It strengthens the back and pelvic region; it gives tone to the whole nervous system; it restores displaced organs to their natural position. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will, at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory.

No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES.

LAXATIVE & CATHARTIC FOR CONSTIPATION & BILIOUSNESS.

THIS Fruit preparation is as pleasant to the taste as prunes prepared for the table, and embraces the best medicinal qualities for the relief and cure of Constipation, Piles, and such Bilious diseases as affect those who are costive. They cause effective action of the bowels without nausea or griping and are a mild form of medicine that can be used without the restraining effects produced by cathartic pills, mineral waters, salts, senna, rhubarb and other drastic purgatives. The medicine is entirely vegetable and healthful.

PRICE 50 Cts. PER JAR.

Recommended by leading Physicians who say "they should be always kept in the house."

All Druggists sell them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Sleeplessness and Wasting Diseases.

MALT BITTERS without fermentation from Canadian Malt Barley MALT and Fresh Hops, and extracted more Nutritive, Strengthening, Medicinal Properties by Patent Process than any other Malt Liquor. Unfermented Malt Liquors have been the objections urged against Malt Liquors, such as "acids," "yeast" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new nerves, vigorous blood and muscular tissue, cure dyspepsia, feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, liver complaint and fever, bronchitis and lung and throat coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, nervous and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the purity, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weakness and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 15th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Daily Chronicle.

Forgery Unlimited.

Eighteen mongths ago John P. G. Smith, who had been for some time a book-keeper for Alfred Gilman, a lumber dealer and tanner, of Port Jervis, N. Y., went to New York, and entered the Columbia law school. He was graduated at the recent commencement, and immediately returned to Port Jervis. He had expected to apply in a short time for admission to the bar. He is engaged to a young lady of Port Jervis, and it is said that he has lately made her presents of diamonds. He himself dressed expensively, and appeared to have plenty of money. The townspeople talked considerable about him, and wondered where he got his money.

Ten or twelve days ago, in looking over a number of checks, one of Mr. Gilman's clerks discovered one of them to be a forgery. The others were examined carefully, and 260 checks were found which it is claimed had been successfully forged and paid! The checks were all for amounts ranging from $10 to $50, and came in the aggregate to about $4000. They were drawn to the order of different employees of Mr. Gilman, and the payees names appear on the backs. The checks were for small amounts, and were so cleverly executed that they had passed on the New York banks, through the national bank of Port Jervis, on which they were drawn, and through the hands of the firm itself, without attracting attention.

These checks, which are supposed to have paid Smith's way through college, were passed on three New York merchants. Nicoll, a tailor, took $2000 worth of them, and the remainder were divided about equally between Henry Miller, a shoemaker, and Ridley & Co. Smith at first gave the checks in payment for goods, and afterward got them cashed at the various houses. The checks dated as far back as August, 1878.

—About ten cents' worth of damage was done to a fence by a boy with a knife, at Galesburg, Ill. The owner maimed the boy for life by kicking him, and was had to pay $12,000.

—A Connecticut man dreamed of a liniment that was to cure rheumatism at the first application, and he thinks it does it, for when he tried it on a man who hadn't been able to step for three days the patient suddenly developed an ability to jump four feet into the air, swear like a baggage master and then kick the dreamer down three flights of stairs into a barrel of soap in the cellar.

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness, it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat diseases and consumption, are among the common results. Therefore, if you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood, do not hesitate, but employ Golden Medical Discovery, which enriches the blood and radically cures those affections by striking at the root of the evil and removing the cause.

For all bronchial, throat, and lung affections, severe lingering coughs, weak lungs, consumption in its early stages, asthma and kindred affections, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the sovereign remedy, and has outrivaled all its competitors. It is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. Druggists sell it.

—Tell your boy never to drink whisky, never touch it; sooner pour red-hot lead down his throat than to do it. Tell him never to go into a saloon; sooner rush into the jaws of a lion than do it. Tell him never to vote to license a dram shop; sooner strike off the hand that holds the ballot than to license a man to do what he himself would not do, viz.: destroy men's happiness, homes and lives for a living. Whisky is the sum of all villainies, and the sooner your child is taught to believe it the better.—Jerseyville Examiner.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tjes

—A lady visiting at Ann Arbor, Mich., writes in a private letter: "Amid all the beauties of Ann Arbor, and the lavish expenditure of the state for education, there is one fearful drawback wich cannot fail to shock an observing stranger. That is, the great number of saloons. If the state of Michigan cannot guard its children against such temptations, I would rather she should not educate my sons and daughters. But if she has the power to protect them and does not, what a fearful mistake it is!"

"I don't want that Stuff,"

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.—Standard.

—A youngster joyfully assured his mother the other day that he had found out where they made horses; he had seen a man finishing one—"the was just putting on his last foot."

The careworn and overworked find comfort and strength in Malt Bitters.

Hanlon Wins Again.

In the race on the Potomac, Wednesday afternoon, between Hanlon and Riley, which took place at half-past six o'clock, the former won by half a mile.

News and Notes.

The national board of health has asked Congress for an appropriation of $315,000 for the next fiscal year. The board not only expended $475,000 the last year, but it is said has entered into contracts in violation of law, requiring the expenditure of over $180,000 for building permanent quarantine hospitals.

At Stockport, near Hudson, N. Y., May 25th, Charley Jackson, six years old, was stolen from a schoolhouse yard by two men who drove off with him in a wagon.

In the supreme court at Newburyport, Mass., May 25th, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Jennie D. Kennon and Nellie Annis on four counts for assault upon Henrietta Woods, a servant girl in the employ of Mrs. Kennon at Lawrence, was finished, and the jury, after twenty minutes deliberation, found both defendants guilty. This is the case in which a weak-minded pauper girl was so shockingly abused by a boarding-house mistress and her servant.

The steamer Monterey, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's line, went ashore near Fort Ross, on the night of May 24th, and will probably prove a total loss. The crew, passengers and baggage were saved. She was a wooden screw steamer of three hundred and twenty-two tons.

In East Greenwich, R. I., on the morning of May 25th, a tramp entered the farm house of Charles T. Hopkins, and when Mrs. Hopkins returned, after a brief absence, she found him gathering up spoons and other silver. He turned upon her, threw her down, pounded her shockingly and stripped off her clothing, when she told him he could have the money in the house if he would let her get up. Eager for the money he relaxed his hold, when she seized a loaded gun. The tramp tried to wrest it from her, but being unable to do so he sprang from the window, when Mrs. Hopkins fired. He gave a scream and fled to the woods. A doctor who was summoned for the brave woman says she is dangerously hurt.

An extraordinary accident occurred at Lowell, Mass., May 25th, in front of T. H. Curtis' saloon. A bogshead of ale having been sitting in the sun several hours burst while a group of children was playing near it. One was rendered unconscious by the liquid, and was resuscitated with difficulty.

The following story comes from Greenport, L. I.: "Six men in a boat attacked a small fishing party of gentlemen off Plum island a few days ago, but a display of revolvers drove them off. On Monday, May 25th, Capt. Smith and ten men of the yacht Estelle went to Gardner's island, where the pirates had a tent, and drove them off, capturing arms, cooking utensils, and a black flag with skull and cross-bones."

A cyclone in Dakota, May 25th, blew down many buildings in and near the town of Mitchell, killed two men and injured many others.

At Piqua, Ohio, Tuesday evening, May 25th, a barrel of gasoline in the cellar of the residence of D. R. Jones exploded, setting the house on fire, and placing the inmates in the greatest danger. Two boys, aged ten and fourteen years respectively, perished. Miss Kate Newland, a sister of Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Fred Amherst, were severely but not fatally burned. Loss, $10,000.

Mrs. W. F. Bromley, of Russell, Mass., has been held without bail to answer to a charge of murdering her step-son.

The triennial assessment of property in Alleghany county, Pa., has just been completed, and shows the startling decrease since the last assessment of $48,000,000 in the valuation. To show the fraud practiced on assessors, it is said that one large ward in Alleghany City returns no gold watches, barouches, carriages, sleighs, silver or gold plate, or money at interest.

A large number of costumes belonging to Adelaide Neilson, the actress, were sold at auction in New York on the 24th inst. Not one of the dresses used in her principal parts brought one-third what it was worth, or one-sixth of what it originally cost. Fifty-five dollars was the highest price paid for any, that being the price of a white satin court train covered with hand embroidery in gold and silver, and covered with laces. Twenty-eight lots brought only $518. A sale of her jewelry was at an equally great sacrifice, and some of it was withdrawn because so little was offered.

The Army and Navy Journal acknowledges the excellent points in the Springfield rifle, but still thinks that in the field or on the target ground, the Lee magazine rifle is superior. Its position is indorsed by Gen. Miles and by other Indian fighters. The Journal is certainly justified in claiming that the government ought not to require the exclusive use of the Springfield rifle in the army, but it should be tested in the field with the other rifles.

The somewhat celebrated Carvill will case, which has excited the interest of Lewiston, Me., and vicinity, came to a sudden end through the indiscretion of a juror. Notwithstanding the judge had emphatically charged the jury to make no conversation about the case on trial before them, evidence sufficient to convince the court that the charge had been disregarded was presented by the defense, and on their motion the trial was stopped. The plaintiff offered to go on with eleven jurors, to which the defense would not agree, but offered to refer the case to the full bench on evidence. No agreement however, could be reached, and the trial was stopped. The indiscretion of that juryman probably cost the Carvill heirs more than $3,000.

New Hampshire Items.

About 200 workmen are now engaged in the yard of the Amoskeag company at Manchester, laying the foundation of a new mill. The foundation is thirty feet deep in some places, and an engine is in constant use to pump the water out while the stone is being laid.

Heber L. Chase's house and barn, with contents, at Livermore Falls, were destroyed by fire May 24th. Loss $1,000; insured $850 in New Hampshire Co. Cause of fire unknown.

W. Holden & Sons have refined thirty tons of camphor at their works in Lisbon during the past four months.

Mrs. Steele of Windham has entered her 93d year, and does the work for three in the family, and cuts and makes all her dresses, as she has done all her life.

Political Matters.

There was a meeting of prominent democrats at Willard's hotel, Washington, on the evening of May 25th, to start a "Morrison boom." Among those present were Representatives Chalmers of Mississippi, Eppa Hunton and Harris of Virginia, Taylor and Atkins of Tennessee, Phillips, Clardy, Clark and Waddell of Missouri, Thompson, Blackburn, and Knott of Kentucky, Townshend, Springer and Singleton of Illinois. After an informal discussion they agreed to send the following despatch to Senator Vest, who has gone to attend the Missouri state convention: "There was an informal meeting of representative men from the states of Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas, Alabama, Missouri and Illinois to-night for, conference on the presidential question, and after full consultation, concluded that Col. Wm. R. Morrison of Illinois was the best and strongest man for the democratic nomination." It was determined to hold meetings and organize a Morrison club.

The democratic state convention of Delaware met on the 25th inst., and elected Bayard delegates to the Cincinnati convention. The delegates were "instructed" for Bayard.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 186.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

The legislature of 1832 was chosen in March of that year, forty-eight years ago. The senior Samuel Dinsmore, of Keene, was elected governor for the second time. Hon. Ichabod Bartlett of Portsmouth was the candidate supported in opposition to him. Mr. Dinsmore had 24,167 votes, Mr. Bartlett 14,920, and there were 146 scattering.

There were two sessions of the legislature that year, the first of eighteen days, and the winter session forty-six days; total, sixty-four days. The number of representatives was about 226, and there were a very few vacancies.

Richard Russell of Great Falls was a member of the council. He was a physician. Bradbury Bartlett of Nottingham was a senator. He was soon after appointed one of the side judges of the court, when men not of a legal education were thus appointed Daniel P. Drown of Portsmouth was also a senator. James Farrington, of Rochester or Farmington, a physician, and Benning M. Bean of Moultonborough, were senators, both afterwards representatives in congress; also J. W. Williams, afterward representative in congress, and governor.

The representatives of Portsmouth were Gideon Beck, Samuel Coues, C. B. Goodrich, J. N. Sherburne, Isaac Waldron. From Alton was Rev. H. D. Buzzell, at one time previously a member of the senate. From Canterbury, Joseph Clough, later a minister and a member of the council. From Dover, T. E. Sawyer, afterwards I think a councillor; John P. Hale, afterwards representative and senator in congress, and minister from the United States to Spain. From Franklin was G. W. Nesmith, a judge of the court. From Goffstown, C. F. Gove, later a judge, also attorney-general. From Keene, James Wilson, later representative in congress. From New Boston, Rev. John Atwood, afterwards state treasurer and candidate for governor. From Newmarket, David Murray, later register of deeds. From Sutton, Jonathan Harvey, later senator, councillor and representative in congress. From Hillsborough, Franklin Pierce, afterwards representative and senator in congress, and President of the United States.

The president of the senate was Benning M. Bean. Speaker of the house, Franklin Pierce. The clerk of the senate was Charles G. Atherton, afterward representative and senator in congress. Clerk of the house, James Clark.

Ralph Metcalf was secretary of state; he was afterwards governor. Abner B. Kelly was treasurer; he was a native of Warner, son of a minister there, and was a brother of the late Hon. John Kelly of Exeter.

Madagascar Widows.

Upon the death of any man of position or wealth, on the day of the funeral the wife is placed in the house, dressed in all her best clothes, and covered with her silver ornaments, of which the Sihanaka wears a considerable quantity. There she remains until the rest of the family return home. But as soon as they enter the house they begin to revile her with the most abusive language, telling her it is her fault that her winiana of fate has been stronger than that of her husband, and that she is virtually the cause of his death. Then they strip her of her clothes, tearing off with violence the ornaments from her ears and neck and arms; they give her a coarse cloth, a spoon with a broken handle, and a dish with the foot broken off, with which to eat; her hair is dishevelled, and she is covered up with a coarse mat, and under that she remains all day long, and can only leave it at night, and she may not speak to any one who goes into the house. She is not allowed to wash her face or hands, but only the tips of her fingers. She endures all this sometimes for a year, or at least for eight months; and even when that is over, her time of mourning is not ended for a considerable period; for she is not allowed to go home to her own relations until she has been first divorced by her husband's family.

—"Will the action lie?" inquires the anxious client. "Yes," replies the facetious attorney, "the action will lie if the witnesses will."

—It is said that Martin Battles, who, twenty years ago, murdered a man through jealousy in Chautauqua county, N. Y., has lately become insane through remorse, imagining that the ghost of his victim continually follows him. His escape from punishment was curious. He was tried, convicted, and sentenced to death. During the previous year the legislature had passed a law defining the degrees of murder, and declaring that the penalty for murder in the first degree should be imprisonment in a state penitentiary for one year, after which, upon a warrant issued by the governor, the convicted person should be taken out and executed. Under this statute Battles was sentenced and incarcerated at Auburn. During his imprisonment the court of appeals declared the statute under which he was convicted unconstitutional, and he was released.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 4,thSr

AROUND HOME.

Ninety in the shade, Wednesnay afternoon—not bad for the 26th of May.

The sale of goods at the Kearsarge house continues to-day, and the piano, as well as well as some of the best articles of furniture, etc., are to be sold.

Tickets for the Memorial evening exercises at Music hall will be on sale at Preston's this forenoon at ten cents each; the proceeds of the entertainment will go to the charity fund of the Grand Army post.

Rev. A. J. Patterson, D. D., of Boston Highlands, will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday, on exchange with the pastor, Rev. E. M. Grant, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of Dr. Patterson's first sermon from the pulpit which he occupied for many years in this city.

It was the schooner William H. Phinney, Rogers master, that was capsized and sunk off Gay head on the 21st inst., while on the passage from Philadelphia to this port with a cargo of coal, and not the schooner William H. Tenney, Demont master, as at first reported. The crew of the vessel took to their boat, and were picked up by the schooner Charles Dennis.

The Dover Democrat of May 25th says: "On Sunday last a young man and his girl, from this city, went down to Portsmouth to see some friends, and when returning, near Cushing's grove, their team came in collision with another, capsizing the former. The young lady had her collar bone broken, and that was the only damage done; and quite enough, we should say." This no doubt refers to the smash-up on the Gravelly ridge road, previously reported by us.

"ELCHO III" AT THE KENNEL CLUB SHOW.

Portsmouth has long been noted for its fine setter dogs, and has more of them probably than any other city of its size in the United States. They were the first exhibited at bench shows, and have in nearly every instance been prize-winners, the recent Westminster Kennel Club show in New York proving no exception, as a Portsmouth dog took a first prize there, and is to-day without doubt the most favorably known Irish setter in the United States.

Elcho III, the winner, owned by Mr. Adolph Nelson, comes from a long line of premium dogs in England and Ireland, and the strain has been as remarkably successful in this country. Aside from their bench-show qualities they are excellent dogs in the field, and have taken more prizes at field trials than any other Irish breeds. Fanciers say this is a happy combination, for although field qualities are most to be desired, yet a dog combining such qualities with beauty of form denoting purity of blood, becomes a treasure to his owner.

At the late exhibition in New York there were forty-seven dogs competing in the class in which Elcho III took such high honors, making a larger class of Irish dogs than was ever before shown in this country, if, indeed, in any other. In quality they were pronounced superior to any others ever exhibited, as bench shows have had the effect of causing breeders to breed for a higher standard, consequently no amount of money or pains has been spared to bring this about. Fabulous prices have been paid for stock dogs, even exceeding $1,000 in not a few instances.

Elcho III was judged twice, and at first was given second place; but this judgment was so clearly a mistake that many of the most prominent exhibitors joined in a protest asking for re-judgment; not disappointed exhibitors, but prominent breeders and owners of dogs in the same class, who had nothing to hope for personally. This protest was entertained, and the dogs re-judged, this time giving Elcho III the first prize, $80, and also a diploma, very much to the satisfaction of every man acquainted with a good dog.

The comments of the press on this dog, (which are without exception eminently flattering,) are too lengthy to give entire. We quote from the Turf, Field and Farm the following:

The first prize was given to Elcho III., who deserved it from the outset. We can do no better than to give again to our readers what we wrote of this same dog when we saw him last year at the Boston exhibition.

"Personally, we should have given first to Elcho III., by Elcho ex Rose, a dog of only thirteen months old. We consider him the finest specimen of an Irish setter we have seen for years. So much did we fancy him that if we had the means, we should never left Boston until he had become ours. A Mr. Nelson, of Portsmouth, N. H., owns him, and no man ever owned a more typical dog of the strain than this same Elcho III. We shall follow the career of this fellow with interest, for if nothing happens him, he will be heard of in the future.

Our prediction has been verified. At the very first time he is shown after our description of him was written, he wins his way to the front despite the first awards of the judges."

Forest and Stream, though deprecating the fact that the dogs "were re-judged" as establishing a "bad precedent," says:

Byron (Bob-Friend) was a very showy dog, in good condition, fine color, and well proportioned all over. He was not, however, as worthy as Elcho III, (Elcho-Rose,) who was a superb animal and a thoroughly typical dog of his class.

The Chicago Field says:

The class was re-judged and Byron thrown out, and Elcho III given first prize. * * * * How the judges could have given Byron first prize over Elcho III, one of the grandest Irish setters we have ever seen, we can't understand.

We congratulate Mr. Nelson, as he has been very fortunate in his selection of a dog; for though purity of blood and careful breeding are a warranty of fine stock, yet with dogs as with other stock there appears occasionally an exceptionally good animal, and Elcho III appears to be one of that description. Mr. Nelson has a fine litter of two-months-old pups from this dog and his Irish "Maggie," so like their father that there is no doubt of his ability to transmit his good qualities to his progeny. We note also that on Saturday last Mr. John S. Sides' "Ruby" produced nine beauties from the same sire.

CRICKET MATCH.

The match between the eleven of Harvard university and the Portsmouth club was played on Wednesday of this week at the cricket field of the home club, and resulted in a disastrous defeat of "our boys." Poor fielding and batting on the part of the Portsmouth eleven, (the team was picked at the last moment, to which fact much of the bad playing was due,) with some good work by the Harvards, brought about this result. The score is as follows:

THE "ROYAL MIDDY."

This evening, at Music hall, Augustin Daly's New York company will present the "Royal Middy," with the same splendid appointments and cast as at its presentation in New York, including a chorus of forty voices. Everywhere this opera has been performed it has been received with delight. The Philadelphia Times says of it:

Mr. Daly has achieved another success in "The Royal Middy," a musical, spectacular, comical adaptation of Genee's "Sea Cadet." The music is of that bright and sparkling kind which lingers in the popular ear with pleasing effect. The costumes and accessories were of the most gorgeous character, the whole effect being another triumph of Mr. Daly's peculiar good taste.

POLICE COURT.

John McCarthy and Richard Roberts, two drunks, were sent to the county farm as a punishment for not having money enough to pay fines of $3 each, with costs.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The rock-weed along the shore of Gerrish's island swarms with potato bugs, clear down to low-water mark. The pests are covered by the salt water at every tide, but seem to regard it as a mere joke.

The Portland correspondent of the Boston Post says: "The friends of Congressman Reed are predicting a walk-over for their man at the republican congressional convention. The anti-Reed meeting which was held in Biddeford last week was a complete fizzle. There were only twenty-six persons present, and twelve of these were favorable to Reed's renomination. The majority of the fourteen who voted in favor of presenting a candidate to contest the nomination with Reed were Biddeford politicians of little influence, and two of them are self-acknowledged candidates for the place."

Postmaster Joseph Weare, of Cape Neddick, was in this city on Wednesday of this week, on his way to the west, where he intends spending several weeks. Incidentally, he will pay a visit to a son who lives in Chicago; but his principal errand is a political one. It is possible that the Chicago convention may want a "dark horse," and in case anything of the kind is needed Mr. Weare intends to be all ready to step forward; he has no doubt that if he is nominated he will be triumphantly elected, as he has the pipes laid all right, and can carry Cape Neddick with a rush, all his neighbors having promised to vote for him, regardless of political affiliations, age, sex or color.

Dangers to Steamers.

The breaking down of machinery has probably been the cause of more disasters than is generally suspected. It is well-known that the first-class transatlantic steamers, provided with the most powerful engines, have often in very heavy weather as much as they can do to keep their course in safety. It will readily be seen that under-engined cargo steamers must, under similar circumstances, adapt themselves to a safe and practicable course, and can, when steaming full power ahead, only just manage to keep their positions, and may, even in spite of all exertions, drift astern. If in these cases the engines thus heavily strained become temporarily disabled, the vessel will refuse to answer her helm, and she will inevitably fall off into the trough of the sea, and be placed in the greatest danger. The same thing will happen, even if the engines work well, provided anything goes wrong with the steering-gear, which is often of an intricate character.—Nature.

Whitewashed Babies.

A missionary stationed at one of the South Sea islands determined to give his residence a coat of whitewash. To obtain this in absence of lime, coral was reduced to powder by burning. The natives watched the process of burning with interest, believing that the coral was being cooked for them to eat. Next morning they beheld the missionary's cottage glittering in the rising sun white as show. They danced, and they sang, and they screamed with joy. The whole island was in commotion. Whitewash became the rage. Happy was the coquette who could enhance her charms by a daub of the white brush. Contentions arose. One party urged their superior rank; another obtained possession of the brush, and valiantly held it against all comers; a third tried to upset the tub to obtain some of the precious cosmetic. To quiet the hubbub, more whitewash was made, and in a week not a hut, a domestic utensil, a war-club or a garment but was as white as snow; not an inhabitant but had skin painted with grotesque figures; not a pig that was not whitened, and even mothers might be seen in every direction capering joyously, and yelling with delight at the superior beauty of their whitewashed babies.—Chambers' Journal.

A Remedy for Scarlet Fever.

Dr. E. Woodruff, for nineteen years a practicing physician at Grand Rapids, Michigan, furnishes the Springfield (Ill.) Journal the following: "Wash the child from head to foot with a strong sal-soda water, warm, then wipe dry. Then immediately bathe freely with oil from beef marrow, or oil from butter, applied freely. Then give freely catnip tea, or some good sweetening article, pennyroyal, etc. Repeat every half hour, or as often as they get worrisome or wakeful, and in one or two days they will be entirely cured. I have been called to cases where they have been fully broken out, and in this way entirely cured them in twenty-four hours. I had thirty cases on hand at one time, and never lost a case in my life. But now I am old and about to give up my business, and seeing from the papers that your town is infected with the epidemic, I wish to do all that I can. It is so simple. You do not need to call a doctor. A good nurse can attend to them. If by opening the pores of the skin and sweating you can let off the poison, which is an animalcula, or animal in the blood, the cure is complete. The same is equally good in fevers of all kinds, hard colds, and coughs. I take the ground that all diseases are caused by a stoppage of the pores of the skin, retaining poison, or living animals, in the blood, and all you have to do at first is to open the doors of the system and let them out, or drive them out. All people know a warm bath is good. But you apply the oil to the skin, and it keeps the pores open for a long time and gives the enemy a chance to get out. I hope all will try it, and they will soon be convinced."

—The spots on the sun do not begin to create so much disturbance as do the freckles on the daughter.

—A bag of gold coin worth $5,000 weighs twenty pounds. When you tell your wife that she is worth her weight in gold, you value her, therefore, at from $25,000 to $30,000.

—A farmer at Rochester, Mo., told his wife that $800, which they had saved by many years of industry and economy, had been stolen. He was mistaken, for within an hour he found the treasure where he had mislaid it; but the wife had already died of heart disease, in consequence of the shock.

River Thieves.

One who realizes the great water front of New York, with its many miles of slips and wharves, will wonder how the water patrol can be of any service, but the records of the police boat set that matter at rest. The patrol come to know every wharf and slip; every junk and fish-boat; every waterside resort for suspicious characters; every hiding place; in fact, are as familiar with their pursuit as the officer who patrols South street four blocks and returns.

The idea of the harbor police was to prevent and check rascality, but it has captured and sent to prison some of the boldest harbor pirates and most daring wharf thieves ever in the business. Before this force was organized, the river pirates had things all their own way. They had only to pull away from a dock or under it to escape watchmen and patrolmen, and in dozens of instances they boarded vessels at anchor and robbed the crew and carried off whatever plunder they could load in their boats. Such boldness is no longer known. The thief and pirate pulling stealthily along in his boat, knows not when or where the patrol will come upon him, and when once they have sighted him, escape is hopeless.

Everything of an earthly use will fetch a price in New York, and is wanted by somebody. There is therefore a market for whatever a river thief can lay his hands on. If he can steal the yawl floating at the stern of some vessel at anchor it is a prize which will bring a good price. The purchaser will rip out thwarts, put in new ones, patch and alter here and there, put on a fresh coat of paint, and the ship that lost it can never identify it. If calkers and painters have been at work alongside a vessel and left their float, the river-thief cuts the mooring-ropes and makes off with the planks and boards. If a coaster is found at anchor she is certain to be robbed unless the anchor watch is wakeful and vigilant.

—The Trenton (N. J.) Gazette says that President Lincoln and Secretary Stanton tendered B. Rush Plumly, in person, a brigadier-generalship, after he had recruited 700 colored men in sixty hours for the defenses of New Orleans, and that he declined it, the conversation between Mr. Lincoln and the major being: "Plumly," said Lincoln, "Stanton says you don't want the straps." "No, Sir. Mr. President, I know how to recruit men, but not how to command them." "Well," said the President, "there's a good many men that know how to recruit men that don't know how to command 'em, but there's mighty few that know it."

"Women Never Think."

It the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, at a mere nominal expense, he would be forced to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

For Internal and External Use,

Is a SURE CURE for all the Diseases for which it is recommended, and is ALWAYS PERFECTLY SAFE in the hands of even the most inexperienced persons.

It is a sure and quick remedy for COUGHS, SORE THROAT, CHILLS, and similar troubles; affords instant relief to the most malignant forms of DIPHTHERIA, and is the best known remedy for RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA.

THE OLDEST, BEST, AND MOST WIDELY KNOWN FAMILY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

It has been used with such wonderful success in all parts of the world for CHAMPS, CHOLERA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, and all BOWEL COMPLAINTS, that it is considered an unfailing cure for these diseases.

HAS STOOD THE TEST OF 40 YEARS' CONSTANT USE IN ALL COUNTRIES AND CLIMATES.

It is RECOMMENDED by Physicians, Missionaries, Ministers, Managers of Plantations, Work-Shops, and Factories, Nurses in Hospitals—in short, by Everybody everywhere who has ever given it a trial.

IT IS WITHOUT A RIVAL AS A LINIMENT.

It should always be used for Pain in the Back and Side, and brings speedy and permanent relief in all cases of Bruises, Cuts, Sprains, Severe Burns, Scalds, etc.

NO FAMILY CAN SAFELY BE WITHOUT IT. It will annually save many times its cost in doctors' bills, and its price brings it within the reach of all. It is sold at 25c. 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, and can be obtained from all druggists.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH

BITTERS

Fortify the System

And you are armed against disease. The finest tonic for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which renders digestion easy and complete, counteracts biliousness, and keeps the bowels in order, and so genial and beneficent are its effects, that not only is the body invigorated and regulated by its use, but despondency banished from the mind.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. R. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. I. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNTT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET M. D.; E. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. E. HOLCOMB, M. THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richer Value in Bone and Flesh Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the injurious and poisonous alcoholic liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, muscular (bone) and muscular system. For Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Kidney complaint, Dyspepsia, stomach and liver, bronchitis and throat and lung complaints, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, Coughs, nervous and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and consequently are remarkable for the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, dyspeptic, dyspeptic, bilious, dull in appetite, irresolute in mind, and subject to malaria, being as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Gorget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, renews the vital and bodily powers, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of alcoholic weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humor in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 26, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard medicines and as important to keep in stock as any generic or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Daily Chronicle.

—Atmospherical knowledge is not thoroughly distributed in our schools. A boy being asked "What is mist?" vagnely responded, "An umbrella."

—He had been sitting still so long that the mother expected to find him asleep when she looked around and asked, "Well, Harry, what are you thinking of?" "Ma, are we very rich?" he solemnly inquired, by way of reply. "In one way we are," she said; "your father says he values me at three million dollars, you at two million dollars and the baby at one." That closed the conversation on that subject, but the next morning, as Harry was getting on his overcoat, he examined the new patch which had been added, and coolly observed: "Well, I think father had better sell off half of you or the whole of the baby, and get the rest of us some decent clothes to put on."

—A thirty hours' swim was undertaken by a young lady in England, named Beckwith, a fortnight ago. Before entering the water, Miss Beckwith invited several ladies into her dressing-room to see that she had no assistance in the way of concealed floating supports. She swam in the whale tank, which was surrounded by spectators, who frequently applauded occasional displays of ornamental swimming. She continued gliding easily along the forty feet of water in the tank, varying the breast swimming by occasional changes to the side and back and by easy floating. She took coffee and beef-tea from a floating table. During the night she amused herself by singing and reading, the latter process being accomplished by floating on her back, and holding the book in both hands.

Double Sufferers.

If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of Liver and Kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort, a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered Kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.

—It is said that women live on love. Small-salaried young men will be interested to learn that the love referred to is for baked beans, beef, soup, onions and new spring hats.

CANDID TALK. We have something to say, and want to say it plainly and frankly. It is this: We know it to be a fact Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is the only real cure for Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Liver, and Urinary Organs. This is the plain, unvarnished truth. We do not believe as much can be said for any other medicine. You who suffer and doubt, have faith enough to try Hunt's Remedy. It will cure you. It cures everybody. Sold by all Druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—The new gambling law for Arizona requires each house where gambling is carried on to pay a quarterly license of $500, one-half to go to the school fund.

What it Does.

Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, bilious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

—The window in a dentist's office came down and caught a cat by the tail while he was out, and fourteen people who would have waited for his return, on going up stairs and hearing the cat's voice, decided to go home and stand the pain of the toothache.

Col. Robert Ingersoll in some of his lectures has expressed grave doubts whether Noah ever built an ark, or Jonah was ever swallowed by a whale. Be that as it may, there is no doubt that the old-fashioned hand-made Noriega brand of cigars are good enough for Col. Ingersoll, Noah, Jonah, Gen. Grant or any other man.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—There is said to be no foundation for the report that Mr. Sankey's new hymn, "Is your lamp still burning, brother?" is to be dedicated to Mr. Edison.

Vitalizing, nourishing and stimulating, without intoxicating, are Malt Bitters.

—According to the Charlestown, (S. C.) News it was shown by an actual experiment at a recent trial for mail robbery in that city, that the locks now used on mail bags can be easily opened, and without injury to them, by striking them with a pine knot.

New Jersey Premium Wine.

Physicians state that the Port Wine that took the premium at the Centennial, produced and offered for sale by Mr. Alfred Speer, of New Jersey, is a wine that can be safely used for medicinal purposes, being pure and free from medication, and is more reliable than other Port Wine. It is especially recommended for weakly females and the aged.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Eminent physicians indorse Adamson's Botanic Balsam as the safest and most effectual remedy for Coughs and Colds ever discovered. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 35 and 75 cts.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1880.

The Hot Wave.

Daniel S. Norton of Boston, employed on the extension of the New Haven & Northampton railroad, was fatally sunstruck on Monday, May 24th, at Northampton, the mercury standing at ninety-eight in the shade. H. C. Gifford, agent for a Boston firm, was dangerously sunstruck on the 25th while walking from Medford to Medway, Mass.

Wednesday, May 26th, was a torrid day all over this state. At Claremont, Concord, Hanover and Lebanon, the mercury indicated one hundred degrees in the shade; at Manchester, 101; at Contoocook and Newport, ninety-eight. At Claremont, just at night, a violent rain storm set in, accompanied with a heavy wind, blowing down large maple and elm trees, chimneys and fences, and lasting thirty minutes.

At Lowell, Mass., the thermometer was at 102, and at White River Junction, Vt., at 100. Newburyport, Mass., and New York city, each report ninety-four. At Providence, R. I., the heat was intense, and there were several sunstrokes. At Hokendaqua, Pa., two iron workers died of the heat. Several cases of sunstroke occurred in New York.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Jennie D. Kennon, of Lawrence, Mass., for assault on Nellie Woods, was sentenced, May 27th, to three years in the house of correction; and Nellie Annis, accessory in the case, to one year in the same institution.

Reports from Santa Fe, New Mexico, to May 24th, are that Gen. Hatch's command has surprised Victoria's band, killing thirty Indians, while others report that over fifty were killed. The Indians fled in disorder. The bodies of several Navajoes and Comanches were found among the dead, showing that these bands have joined the Apaches. Reports from Socorro county are that all the ranches are abandoned and over seventy herders killed by the Indians. From all points come reports of settlements being abandoned by reason of the recent raids by Victoria and his band. Gen. Pope has asked for the tenth cavalry for service in New Mexico.

In the court at Kingston, S. C., May 26th, a man named Ward was convicted of forgery. As soon as the verdict was announced Ward drew a pistol and fired twice, at two men named Harper and Lane, the principal witnesses against him. Harper was unhurt, but Lane was wounded in both hands. The despatch adds that "Ward was jailed," but does not say whether he was locked up for forgery or the attempted murders. Allowing a man on trial for felony to carry his private arsenal into court with him seems kind of odd.

Extensive naval preparations are making by the Russian government at Cronstadt, in view of the possible outbreak of war with China, and it is expected that a strong fleet will be despatched to the Pacific, including some of the most powerful iron clads now in commission.

Officers from Washington, Wis., are en route to Buffalo, N. Y., where John Conrad is under arrest for throwing a crippled son down stairs, breaking his neck. Conrad was fleeing to Germany.

Thomas Melia, a sailor now in prison at New Orleans, charged with setting fire to the cargo of cotton on ship Iron Cross last month, has made a full confession to the British consul implicating several persons, including another sailor, a longshoreman and some tug-boat men. Their names have not been made public.

The Sibley cotton mill was organized at Augusta, Ga., May 26th, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. The amount subscribed is $600,000. The erection of a factory will proceed at once. This will be one of the largest factories in the south. The cotton mills in Augusta have paid, since the war, from eight to twenty per cent per annum.

Col. C. H. Morton of Quincy, Ill., a brave soldier of the late war, committed suicide May 26th by shooting himself in the right temple, it is supposed while suffering from pain resulting from sunstroke received two years ago.

Moses Hunt, a New York policeman for twenty-five years, and suspected of knowing more than he dared to tell about the Helen Jewett murder, committed in 1832, was found dead in the corner of his lot at Waupaca, Wis., May 22d.

A private cable despatch from Lima, Peru, dated May 13th, by the way of Panama, May 21st, is as follows: "The Peruvians have recaptured Moquegua. The Arequipa forces are marching south. Callao was bombarded on the 10th without effect."

An unusually sad affair occurred at Brookline, Mass., on Tuesday, May 25th, in which a young man, in saving three children from imminent peril, thereby sacrificed his own life. A horse attached to a carriage, in which were seated three young children of Jacob Morlock, ran away, and while dashing past the provision store of Brown Brothers a man in their employ, named James Mackie, sprang into the street and caught the horse by the bridle, but the horse was going at such a furious rate that Mr. Mackie was dragged under him, and the horse finally fell on him in such a manner as to fracture his skull, either with his feet or some part of the gearing. Other persons ran to his assistance, and the children were rescued unharmed. Mr. Mackie was carried to his home and attended by doctors, but he died in about thirty minutes. Mr. Mackie was thirty-seven years old, and leaves a widow and four children.

Martin Mansfield, at work on the Lanesville quarry at Gloucester, Mass., had a small piece of stone from a seam blast enter his eye, and it is believed will lose the sight. He had already lost the sight of the other eye and this leaves him blind. He is a poor man with seven children. His fellow workmen made up a purse of $47 for him.

Charley Jackson, of Stockport, N. Y., was not kidnapped, as reported, but drowned while in swimming. The kidnapping story was told by his brother, less than eight years old, to his parents, and was believed until the missing child's clothing was found next morning.

The hay, grain and early vegetable crops of New Jersey are reported as almost ruined by the dry, hot weather.

The editor of the Bangor, (Me.) Commercial says he has long been acquainted with Parson Kalloch, and vouches for him as a man "of generous and amiable social qualities—with a warm, sympathizing nature, and a physical organization that renders him unusually susceptible to those irresistible charms that are inherent in woman, and envelop her existence in a halo of divinity."

A Fall River, Mass., despatch of May 26th says "the great catch of menhaden still continues. Joseph Church & Co.'s steamboat took 6,000 barrels, and the steamer George W. Humphrey took 1,600 barrels."

New Hampshire Items.

The first annual prize-drill of the Belknap Rifles, of Laconia, was held in their armory Thursday evening, May 20th, in the presence of a large audience. The company presented a fine appearance, and was highly complimented. The prize for the best-drilled man, a solid gold medal, was awarded to Private Fred J. Hutchinson of Lake Village. The corps was congratulated by Adjutant-General Ayling, who acted as one of the judges, upon the remarkably fine drilling observable throughout, an hour and a half drill being necessary to select the most nearly perfect man. A reception and dance was given after the drill.

Thomas Wilkes of Portland, Me., was recently lost for four days in the woods of upper Bartlett. He nearly starved to death.

William P. Garland, city editor of the Flushing (L. I.,) Times for nine years, was found dead in bed at Nashua, May 24th. He was a son of Dr. Jeremiah Garland. His death was probably caused by heart disease.

An epidemic of measles is sweeping over northern New Hampshire. Within a radius of three miles from Plymouth there are probably three hundred cases, whole families in many cases being sick, while all the neighboring towns are badly situated. The disease seems to abate only with the giving out of material.

Political Matters.

Representative Alexander H. Stephens, democrat, of Georgia, is credited with saying, a day or two ago, that the present congress "will go down to posterity as the do-nothing congress—perhaps the most indolent and listless in the history of the government." The present congress is the first one for twenty years in which the democrats have had full control.

Naval Gazette.

The repairs on the Vandalia have been completed, and she has dropped down from the New York navy yard to Ellis island to take in powder. She goes to the banks of Newfoundland and the fishing grounds.

—"Gate hinges to support two people" are advertised in Ohio.

—From a bank in the sand a Newfoundland dog belonging to a Boston man takes pennies and goes to a baker's daily, and buys warm rolls for his breakfast. The neighbors give him pennies, which he buries in a place scooped out under the stoop.

—When a dog wanders into a Cincinnati church the sexton puts him out with a whoop and a hurrah, but if a hog is the intruder the deacon gets up and, with sweetly soothing music, gently induces him to go out. A Cincinnati congregation would never tolerate cruel violence to a hog.

—A romantic case of suicide occurred recently at Melbourne, Australia. A lad of fifteen poisoned himself for the love of a girl of twelve. It seems that the girl, not requiting the boy's attachment, pettishly told him he might kill himself, perhaps after he had threatened it. The lad was employed by a photographer, and destroyed himself with cyanide of potassium, which is used in the photographic business. Having taken sufficient for the purpose, he laid down to die opposite the girl's residence, having previously addressed her a note.

—A wife no more believes in business which takes her husband away from her than a manager believes in the sickness of an actress, or a publisher in that of a writer.

—A Kansas boy earned a nice Bible by committing three hundred verses to memory, but he traded his Bible for a shot gun and accidentally peppered his aunt in the leg.

—The photographers have a new speech with which to gladden the hearts of their victims. They say, "Try and look as if you were sure that your candidate would be elected."

—Among the improvements noticed by a western paper, is the mention that "our friend Shaw has set out two shade trees in front of the house he cheated his mother out of."

—It was a young lady from boarding school, who, on her visit to her home at Cristmas, on being told that there were no gooseberries, asked what had happened to the goose!

—"Young Hunter" asks: "What is the best equipment for fighting tigers?" We have sent to Louisville to investigate, and find the general impression to be that four aces up your sleeve about fills the bill.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. f,th&f

AROUND HOME.

The City Guards have received their new breech-loading guns, and will parade with them on Memorial day.

The thermometer stood at ninety-three in the shade at Jones' brewery, at three o'clock in the afternoon on the 27th inst., in a place where the sun never reaches.

Messrs. Cobb & Call, stone workers, had a granite tablet valued at $25 spoiled a few days ago by a small boy who poured oil on it, by which it was stained so as to be worthless. The oil could not be extracted.

Schooner Elizabeth M. Smith, Raymond master, in making a berth at the Spring market wharf on the 27th inst., ran her jibboom into an old building on Church point, but got clear without any serious damage either to herself or the building.

The obsequies of the late Dr. Benjamin E. Harriman, son of Ex-Gov. Harriman and brother of Walter C. Harriman, Esq., of this city, took place at Concord on Tuesday, May 25th. Rev. James DeNormandie, who officiated at the wedding of Dr. Harriman, conducted the funeral services. Dr. J. C. Stewart, of York, Me., a classmate at Hanover of the deceased, was one of the pall-bearers.

Mr. Stephen Caziare, residing at Gravelly ridge, was found dead in his chair on Wednesday afternoon of this week. A short time previous he was engaged in conversation with members of the family, and neighbors. Mr. Caziare was sixty-eight of age, and leaves a wife, (a daughter of Mr. F. W. de Rochemont,) and two sons, one of whom is a captain in the United States army and stationed at Fortress Monroe.

The committee on commerce of the national house of representatives, in reporting favorably a bill to change the name of schooner Mary E. Caswell, of this port, to Albert Woodbury, state that she "is a pleasure craft of about fourteen tons burden, formerly the property of Laighton Bros., of Gosport, N. H.; that while they were her owners she was wrecked, and so injured as to be of very little value; that they gave the schooner in this impaired condition to the present owner, Levi W. Downs, of Rye, N. H., who subsequently rebuilt her; and that she is now virtually a new vessel."

The little steamer Gypsey, from Philadelphia nine days, arrived at Jones' wharf at about eight o'clock in the evening, May 26th. She is thirty-one feet long, nine feet six inches beam and two feet six inches depth of hold, and will carry about twenty passengers. She was bought by Capt. Albert Rand, as agent for the proprietors of the Wentworth hotel at Newcastle, and to to be used at that hotel during the summer. Her engine is of five horse-power, and her speed about eight knots. Mr. Wm. Gertin, for several seasons past engineer of the steamer Appledore, brought her around, and was accompanied by Mr. W. L. Morton, fireman, and a coast pilot.

The rear windows of our office are within a hundred feet or so of the police station, and on Wednesday night of this week, when the intense heat caused all windows to be thrown open, we were treated to a vocal performance fully equal in beauty to a duet of Thomas cats on a fence. About midnight the police brought to the station a large quantity of liquor with a woman outside of it, and for nearly two hours that woman kept up a continuous delivery of loud words from lungs that seemed made of brass, not all of the words being such as are commonly used in the most refined circles. While this part of the performance lasted we were under the impression that no worse noise could be produced by any human creature; but we were undeceived on this point at about two o'clock, when the woman commenced to sing, and we immediately hurried home.

The Maine delegates to the Chicago convention, and many other politicians from that state, passed through this city at about three o'clock last Thursday afternoon in a special train.

The decision in the Kearsarge house (North Conway) referee case, which action has been heard in this city the present week, is announced, and is in effect that the property shall be surrendered to the bondholders on payment of $25,000, which is fifty per cent of the amount of bonds issued.

Persons having in their possession muskets belonging to the equipment of the Portsmouth City Guards, are requested to return the same to the armory at once. JAMES E. FORD, Captain.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, May 27; Batchelder, J.

John H. Webber, assault on Valentine A. Hett—continued case. Plea, guilty. Fined $8, costs taxed at $12.17; and placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace for three months.

A woman who was anxious to have her name kept out of the papers was before the court for making a disturbance while under the influence of liquor. As she was willing to sign the pledge, and promised to make no more noise, she was allowed to depart on paying the costs of court, amounting to a little over seven dollars.

MARTINS AND SPARROWS.

Messrs. Editors: It was with pleasure that I read the letter of your correspondent of "three stars," regarding the advent of the martins, and the sudden interruption of their sweet morning music by their powerful rivals, the English sparrows. The pleasure was derived not only from the facts so carefully noted, and so graphically told, of the depredations and usurpations of the ugly brown pirates, but from discovery that there was one who deeply sympathizes with me in my long-felt regret at the loss of the sweet tribe of martins that for so many years, in the spring of my life, awakened within me a joy and gave expression to the voiceless up-springing light of my soul. Of a bright spring morning, to see and hear the dear little white-breasted, rainbow-mottled creatures, wheeling and playing in the sunshine, lighting upon the piazzas of their pretty houses and there making love in the most musical twitterings, was a delight to my young heart. It was one of those delights which I would fain have remain, to cheer me, and bring back the memory of those early days to my maturer life. Alas, that the voice of the martins should be added to the list of sweet things that make glad our early life, only to fade and die away as the years pass, for the loss of which no compensation comes to our later days. It may be that some consolation exist in the usefulness of these beggarly usurpers, as scavengers, or the detroyers of the worms which make such sad havoc in our fruit trees. If this be so, then we must be content to sacrifice tastes and pleasures, for the larger benefit. But if they are not really benefactors in some manner, then I would readily join your lady correspondent in obtaining their condemnation and speedy execution, that justice may be done to the weaker, but far more poetical and beautiful martins. OISEAU.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The thermometer stood at ninety-five degrees above zero in the shade on the navy yard, at three o'clock last Thursday afternoon.

Work in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard was suspended, Thursday evening, until Tuesday, June 1st.

A finely-modelled and expensively-finished yacht of about one hundred and twenty tons, built for David Sears of Boston, was launched at Kennebunkport on Monday, May 24th. She is named the Actea.

The steamer James Sampson was inspected by the government board of inspectors on Thursday of this week. In consequence of the inspection the noon trip of the steamer was taken by a big, new, cat-rigged boat sailed by Mr. Wm. Dixon of Kittery, which made good time across the river both ways, and to the entire satisfaction of the passengers, who numbered about twenty.

Among the appointments of census enumerators for towns in York county are the following: Kittery, James H. Rowell and Alexander Dennett; Eliot, George E. Hammond; York, Nathaniel G. Marshall; Wells, Almon Hatch; South Berwick, Chadbourne Warren; Berwick, Henry V. Moore; North Berwick, George H. Wentworth; Kennebunk, Marcus Watson; Kennebunkport, George B. Carll. In Biddeford, Miss Estelle Morris is one of the enumerators, the other six being men; Miss Morris is the only female enumerator appointed in the county.

The Biddeford Times evidently thinks there was a screw loose somewhere when the census enumerators for that city were appointed. After mentioning that Biddeford gave a republican majority of 1100 at the last election, it says: "Of the seven persons appointed as census takers in this city, there is only one republican; the other six are democrats. Perhaps Mr. Richardson is not aware that the first man in his list was clerk for the retiring fusion government at Biddeford, and belonged to the 'steer' team of greenback spouters; another was a prominent member of Garcelon's government at Augusta; still another was recently a democratic candidate for alderman for this city; still another has served as city physician under a past democratic administration, while another returned from North Carolina only last March. It does not look as though he knew who he was appointing. This thing may be all right, but the republicans of this city will view it from a different stand-point. An equal division between the two parties in this city would have been strong enough, but when it leaves the republicans with only one representative on the board it is taking a step that we cannot now understand."

Her Own Fault.

It is time that women should learn to respect themselves more. Within the year several cases have occurred in which the complaints of insults made by ladies to their lovers and husbands have caused scenes that ended in murder. In all these cases the insult was one which simply called for more cautious conduct on the woman's part, and which she should have buried in her own bosom as a warning to her for the future. If a young wife, lingering at a shop window late in the evening, is "spoken to," it is her own fault for standing there, and a look from her of the right sort is sufficient to make the "speaker" ashamed of himself. Yet the woman who brought this offense upon herself caused the death of her husband by making a fuss about it. There are insults which a woman's male protector must resent if life be lost in the act; but, except in these extreme cases, women should be ashamed to set men to fighting about them, and doubly ashamed to publish the fact that they have not sufficient dignity to protect themselves from the sort of insult on which such quarrels are usually based. In fact, women, whether they know it or not, are generally responsible for all the gallant insults they ever receive. Therefore, there are thousands—young, pretty, attractive and in public positions—who have never been "insulted" in their lives, and never will be; while others, fully conscious that looks they should not have given have been the cause, publish everything of the sort that occurs to them as a proof that they are charming to mankind, and often finish by bringing about a disgraceful quarrel which ends in murder.—Mary Kyle Dallas.

Strong Jamie.

The Berwickshire journals, in 1844, gave much information concerning this remarkable man. Though short of stature, he possessed prodigious strength, which earned for him the familiar cognomen of "Jamie Strang," or "Strong Jamie." A writer in the Berwick Advertiser said: "We have heard him state that the greatest weight he ever lifted from the ground was one hundred and five stone, and that he had lifted eighty-five stone with one hand. When the Forfarshire militia were encamped at Eyemouth, he went to see an acquaintance among them. While there, a dancing-master was boasting much of his strength, whereupon one of the soldiers, knowing Stuart, engaged to provide a drummer who would lift more than the boaster could. Stuart, dressed as a drummer, was brought in. A piece of ordnance was lying before them, which the dancing-master raised to the perpendicular, and then allowed to fall. He asked the drummer whether he could do that. Stuart pretended that he was not very sure that he could; but placing his arms round the cannon, he raised it entirely from the ground, and carried it some distance. At another time, when at Velvet hall, near Berwick, some countrymen were laboring to get a cart laden with hay out of a miry hole into which by some accident it had stuck fast. Stuart was appealed to for assistance. He desired them all to stand aside, and, going underneath the cart, removed it with its load to the opposite side of the road." This extraordinary man (it is averred in many quarters) actually went fiddling about the country till near one hundred and fourteen years old. A small sum was then collected for him, toward which the queen and the late Sir Robert Peel contributed. Stuart declared that he "hadna been sae weel off this hunder year." At length his career closed. He died at Tweedmouth on the 11th of April, 1844, and was buried on the 14th, in the presence of a vast concourse of spectators. The Berwick Advertiser, a few days afterward, contained an advertisement relating to statuettes of the veteran. —Chambers' Journal.

—The young women of Onoko, Texas, have taken to a fashion of cutting their hair as short as scissors will do it. They wear little slouched hats on the sides of their smooth heads, and look as rakish as pirates.

—It is painful to consider the amount of unchecked abuse children must have been subjected to before there were societies for the prevention of cruelty to children. The San Francisco society investigated twenty-six cases in the month of April. These included the cases of three girls between the ages of thirteen and sixteen, who had been thrown into prison on false charges preferred by the mothers of two of them, and by an aunt. A Chinese girl, one of two slaves, was rescued from a Chinese woman who imported a species of Oriental cruelty. This is to tie the hands together, palm to palm, and beat against the ends of the fingers with a stick.

—Mr. Eddy gave Miss Hintzleman a fine set of jewelry, at Newbern, N. C., and she wore it for several weeks. Then he brought a suit to recover it, on the ground that he had simply lent it to her. She testified that, by the terms of a mutual agreement, she was to pay for the jewelry by kissing Mr. Eddy every morning for a hundred days. He called and got his kiss, on his way to work, every day for about a month. Then he grew bold, and wanted to take a hug as well as a kiss. There was no provision in the bargain for hugging, and she repulsed him, even restricting his kisses to a mere touch of his lips to her cheek. He thought he was being cheated, and hence his effort to recover.

—Bonanza Flood is to build the finest private residence in America. He will have 1500 acres in his front yard.

—If a man can have everything, it takes a good deal to make him happy. When, on the other hand, a man is so poor that he can't have anything, it takes very little to make him happy.

His Mother's Boy.

In one of the public schools of San Francisco a few days ago a youth bubbling over with high spirits violated a long established rule, and was summoned to the bar of judgment. With many sobs and tears he confessed the soft impeachment. "Have your mother call to-morrow," the teacher remarked, with awful and ominous significance. His maternal ancestor appeared on the following day, and after being duly and publicly informed of the flagrant breach of discipline her son had been guilty of was requested to say if she would punish him herself or have the teacher attend to the matter. She preferred the latter course, and urged that the blows be well laid on. The next day was appointed for the flagellation. At the usual hour for such unpleasant affairs the youth was summoned to the front. He came with hang-dog look and some trepidation. An oration on youthful frivolities having been duly delivered, the boy was ordered to extend his hand beneath an upraised ruler. He refused, and in accordance with the usual custom in such cases was spread across the teacher's knees, and the punishment was administered in another quarter, than the one originally intended. For some unexplainable reason the most energetic blows fell without the desired effect. A consultation of male teachers ensued, and the offender was conducted to a private room and his wardrobe subjected to a rigid examination. On the interior of his bifurcated garment, at a locality of great strategical importance in such an emergency, was a thick flannel baby's frock securely attached. "Who sewed that on?" demanded the principal, in a voice of thunder. "My mother!" answered the boy, with heart-broken sobs. The teachers hurriedly consulted again; instructed the boy never to reveal the circumstance, and sent him to his studies. Somehow the matter leaked out.

Hard on the Company.

A good "drive" was perpetrated upon a Connecticut Western conductor a few days ago. A man boarded the train at a way station and paid his fare to a point a few miles distant. On reaching his destination he concluded to proceed to a further station and finally continued on until he reached Winsted. Each time he paid his fare in cash to the conductor, instead of buying a ticket at the station, although by this means the passage cost him considerably more. At last the conductor spoke to him of this, and suggested that it would be economy for him to buy a ticket, and asked him why he didn't. "Well," said the passenger, "I'll tell you. Some time last summer I got into a little trouble with this company and they used me mighty meanly, so I just said to myself, 'That Connecticut Western company won't never get another cent of my money if I live a hundred years;' and they won't, and that's why I pay my fare to the conductors." The conductor dropped the conversation at that point.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound revives the drooping spirits; invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions; gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of beauty the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

—It is a read-letter day for a man when his wife goes on a piscatorial expedition into his coat pockets and fishes up a note written in a strange feminine hand.

Emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical weakness arrested by Malt Bitters.

—A father told his charming daughter lately that she must not listen to flatterers. "But, papa," she replied, "how can I tell that they flatter me unless I do listen?" And he leaned over the end of the piano and commenced to think.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Constipation it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail prepaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

THE New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items: carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

DISCOVERER OF

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

The Positive Cure

For all Female Complaints.

THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, DIRECTS THE VITAL POWER ARIGHT, STRENGTHENS THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, SO THAT THE CURE IS radical and sure. It strengthens THE BACK AND PELVIC REGION; IT GIVES TONE TO THE WHOLE NERVOUS SYSTEM; IT RESTORES DEPLACED ORGANS TO THEIR NATURAL POSITION. THAT FEELING OF BEARING DOWN, CAUSING PAIN, WEIGHT AND BACKACHE, IS ALWAYS PERMANENTLY CURED BY ITS USE.

It will, at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory.

No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlets. Address as above.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics so much used to relieve Constipation, Piles, and inaction of the Liver. Regulate one or two of these Prunes taken as a mild laxative medicine or taken daily as a food, they will prevent the recurrence of the complaint. No bad effects follow repeated use. Per children half of a prune taken at bedtime acts like a charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and tasteful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption, Fever and Ague Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canada Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Invigorating and Purifying by reason of their Rich Vegetable and Fruit Medicinal Material, than all other forms of liquid medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "wines," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up most the nervous, feeble dyspeptic, sick headache, constipation, liver complaint and fever, bronchitis and throat and lung consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weakness of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debilitating disease, by marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy or the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of all impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of alcerative weakness and debilitating humors. It cures the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

RESULTS OF VIVISECTION.

Interesting Experiments—Prof. Mott shows how People are Taking Poison in their Daily Food—A Prolific Source of Dyspepsia Scientifically Demonstrated.

A series of highly interesting experiments with dogs has been lately made by Prof. Mott, and in the Scientific American of Feb. 7 a detailed account is given. The disclosures are so unpleasant and startling, coming home, as they do, to every one, that we believe they should be given the greatest publicity. The effort Dr. Mott is making to purify our articles of kitchen use should receive the support of every thinking man or woman. There has been too much indifference on this subject—an indifference that has resulted in Americans earning the title of "a race of dyspeptics." Poison, year after year, is introduced into the stomach with a criminal disregard to consequences that is appalling. If every purveyor of domestic supplies will carefully consider the result of Dr Mott's experiments, as detailed in the Scientific American, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of these evils will be corrected.

Dr. Mott says: "The introduction of alum in flour, for various purposes, has been a trick of the baker for the past 100 years. Fortunately for society, its introduction is limited now to a few unscrupulous bakers. In England, France and Germany it is an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment to use alum in any connection with articles of food. It should be so in America."

The Royal Baking Powder Company, of this city, a long-established corporation, celebrated for the absolute purity of their goods, some time ago commenced a vigorous warfare against many of their competitors who were indulging in lurid adulteration. The contest excited great interest in scientific circles, in which Prof. Angell, Dr. Mott, and other leading lights took a very prominent part. The experiments of Dr. Mott are a result of this discussion, and go to prove conclusively that the most dangerous adulteration that a community has to guard against is alum in baking powder. In his paper, the doctor says: "It was with difficulty I found a suitable place to conduct the experiments so that the animals would not disturb the neighborhood; but, through the courtesy of the Commissioners of the Dock Department, I secured a shed on their premises, foot of Sixteenth street and East river. This shed I had completely remodelled into a suitable house, having the dimensions of about 16x14x12 feet. Sixteen stalls were made inside, having the dimensions of 3 1-2x2 2 1-2 feet. The bottom of each compartment was covered with straw, making a pleasant bed for the dogs. I then secured 16 dogs from the pound, which were all carefully examined to see if they were in a perfect state of health. None but the strong, healthy dogs were selected. The breed, age, food, color, and weight of every dog was carefully noted. Each dog was then confined to a stall and securely chained, and they all received a number, from 1 to 16. I commenced my experiments on the 9th of September, and finished Dec. 3. My assistant was with the dogs from morning until night, and never left the premises without first securely bolting and locking the dog-house. No stranger was allowed to enter the house unaccompanied either by myself or my assistant, and the dogs never received a mouthful of food or anything else from any one except from my assistant or myself. I will now detail the result of my experiments:

"Dog No. 1.—Breed of dog, coach. Age, 4 years. Health, perfect. Food, bread and crackers. Color, spotted black and white. Weight, 35 pounds.

"To this dog, on the morning of the 9th of September, was give eight biscuits, at 8:10 o'clock. The biscuit were made by myself as follows: One quart sifted flour, 20 teaspoons alum baking powder, 2 cups water, 1 tablespoon butter, 22 biscuits made, weighing 27 ounces; time of baking, 20 minutes.

"At 11:30, just three and twenty minutes, the dog was taken very sick, vomiting profusely; his vim and brightness of eye had departed, and he trembled considerably in his limbs."

Experiments were then made upon three dogs with biscuits containing only 10 teaspoons of alum baking powder. The result indicated that some animals are more liable to yield to the effects of poisonous substances than others are. When, on the other hand, three other dogs were fed with biscuits made with pure cream of tartar baking powder, no ill effects were experienced. They ate and ate with an evident relish, day after day, and whined for more.

It was next necessary to discover what effect alum has on the solvent power of the gastric juice. In order to obtain some pure gastric juice, a curious device was resorted to. Dr. Mott sent several dogs to Prof. Arnold, Medical Department of the University of New York, who inserted a small metalic tube directly through the skin and into the stomach of each one of them, when the dogs were in a perfectly healthy condition. Prof. Arnold sent to Dr. Mott some gastric juice, which was produced by tickling the lining of the stomach of the dogs with a feather or glass rod, which caused the gastric juice to flow out of the tube into a receptacle placed underneath the dog to receive it.

Dr. Mott, aided by Prof. Schedler, then began some experiments with the four samples of gastric juice, which he had received from Prof. Arnold, to discover the effect of the gastric juice in which alum had been dissolved upon fibrine, a white, very easily digested substance having a basis of coagulated blood. The fibrine was imperfectly digested, and the experiments were very important, as showing that alum can check the digestion of so easily digested a substance as fibrine. They indicate therefore, how dangerous it is to introduce these two salts into our stomachs, if we do not wish to excite indigestion and dyspepsia. Further experiments showed that the digestive power of the gastric juice is entirely destroyed by alum, so far as its power of dissolving the more indigestible substances, like the boiled white of an egg, is concerned.

Dr. Mott then determined to learn whether alumina could be found in the various organs of the body, if a dog was fed with hydrate of alumina. He found a considerable quantity of the stuff in the blood, liver, kidneys, and heart.

The doctor goes on to describe the different symptoms exhibited by these dogs as they passed through almost every phase of animal agony until they were left in a complete state of physical prostration. To those especially interested in the details of this subject the article in the Scientific American supplement will give most complete information, and we will spare the sympathetic reader the account of the sufferings of these dumb brutes.

Dr. Mott's conclusions, after making these experiments, are of vital interest to every one who either makes or eats bread, and therefore concern all.

"These experiments," said he recently while speaking before the American Chemical Society, "clearly demonstrate that the salts left in the biscuit when a cream of tartar baking powder is used are perfectly harmless, but when an alum baking powder is used are very dangerous, for in every case where dogs were fed on biscuits made with such powders the dogs were made very sick, causing them to vomit profusely, lose all energy, and show weakness in their limbs."

It is a clear and triumphant corroboration of the assertions of the Royal Baking Powder Company, and entitles them to the gratitude and support of the community they are endeavoring to protect. As they claim, and Dr. Mott has shown, bread made of alum is totally unfit for human or animal food. 'Tis true, in the bread of domestic consumption there may not be as large a proportion of baking powders as was in the bread used by Dr. Mott, and that accounts for the fact that the symptoms in the reader are not so well defined as they were in the experiments in question. How many there are of our immediate friends suffering from this evil, scientific investigation will alone reveal; but many a lingering and suffering invalid, with no defined idea of his trouble, can easily trace it to its source by stopping the use of alum powders, substituting some brand like the Royal Baking Powder, whose manufacturers have a competent chemist in their executive employ, who rigidly analyzes every ingredient before its incorporation into their powder. The old cry of "honesty being the best policy" may be worn threadbare, but its truth will hold forever, and while adulterations and short weights abound, it is a pleasure to see at least one in the trade strenuously endeavoring to give full weights and pure goods.—N. Y. Tribune.

Big Fire at Rochester.

About half-past one o'clock, Friday morning, the night watchman at Messrs. Wallace's tannery and shoe manufactory, in Rochester, discovered fire over the boilers in the engine room. The alarm was immediately given, but before help could arrive the tannery building was enveloped in flames, which rapidly communicated to the adjoining structures, and in two hours all the buildings were destroyed, with the exception of the brick shoe shop and the currying shop. The buildings burnt, nine in number, with the lumber in the yard, covered an extent of about two acres. The loss will be severely felt by the towns-people, and about four hundred hands are thrown out of employment. The loss is about $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

News and Notes.

Capt. Henry Vatter, owner of the steamer Alice M., of Haverhill, Mass., was arrested May 26th, at the instance of G. Compt of Martinique, who charges that Vatter sold him the steamer in March last, she being then at Jacksonville, Fla., Vatter agreeing to deliver her at Martinique, and the purchaser paying $800 on account, but that instead of delivering the boat at Martinique, Vatter ran off with her and came north. Capt. Vatter says that his conduct was all square and honorable, and that he has no fear of the result of an inquiry in the court.

It is proposed to pay John A. Sutter, the discover of gold in California, $50,000 by act of congress for services rendered and losses sustained by him during the early settlement of that state.

John F. Quarles, a colored lawyer, was admitted to practice in the New York supreme court a few days ago, being the first of his color enjoying this distinction.

The wife of Sheridan Shook, divorced, is to receive $5,000 alimony per annum, and is allowed to marry again.

A farmer living near Watervliet, N. Y., had not been to church in fifteen years. Last Sunday he went and was pleased with the service. When he entered his house a surprise awaited him. Thieves had broken in and stolen his watch and his money. He says it will be thirty years before he goes to church again.

Samuel S. Scattergood was a conservative importer of Mediterranean fruits in Philadelphia, and had amassed about $250,000. A year ago he invested nearly all his money in Leadville mining projects and they all failed. Not only was his own fortune engulfed but friends were led by him into similar loss. He could not bear this adversity, and hanged himself.

The Boston Post says that Dr. A. C. Hamlin and Gen. Charles Hamlin of Bangor, on their way to Chicago, "exhibited at our office specimens of tin ore and a bar of tin, the product of the mine at Winslow, which are abundant evidence that a real bonanza has been found in Maine. Testimonials of the highest character go to the same point, but these appeal directly to the eye. We are confident that nothing but a small capital is needful to develop a new, national industry which will prove of incalculable value to the country."

Three blind girls went out for a walk, in St. Louis. They were familiar with the street, and made their way with ready confidence; but they knew nothing of a deep excavation lately made, and so walked into it. One was killed, and the others badly hurt.

Among the paid bills and other documents received by a St. Louis man from his fifteen-years-old daughter, who was away at school, was a marriage certificate. That was the first news of her nuptials.

A ferocious bulldog broke his chain at Wheeling, Va., and attacked a very old woman. She made all the defense she could, but he threw her down, bit her with savage fury, and finally killed her. Her son chopped the brute to pieces.

Few persons realize the extent of the beef business of the United States. Our people consume on an average one-fourth of an ox a year each, the annual slaughter amounting to near twelve millions of beeves (11,825,000) the meat of which weighs over four billions of pounds, (4,088,300,000) with a total value for food of over six hundred millions ($608,200,000). This is the largest annual product of the country, the dairy product amounting to three hundred and fifty millions, and the corn crop to four hundred and twenty millions.

At Leavenworth, Kansas, Thomas C. Thurston, who killed his business partner, Mr. Emery, on the first of January last, and was acquitted about a month ago, met D. R. Anthony, editor of the Times, on Delaware street on Wednesday afternoon, May 26th, and after passing him turned and fired two shots at him. Neither took effect. One, however, struck John P. Douglas, a young man employed in the Times office, making a severe scalp wound, and the other struck Lucian Baker, a lawyer, who was on the sidewalk about 600 feet away, on the left side, about two inches below the nipple, and passed through his body, inflicting a mortal wound. Baker is a prominent attorney, and defended Thurston, and cleared him, when he was tried for murdering Mr. Emery. The affair created great excitement, and the officers were obliged to secrete Thurston to prevent lynching.

Antoine Brisbois was found murdered in his trapping hut, in Ontario, two years ago. His furs and money were missing, and so was his partner, Patrick Hennessey, upon whom the crime was laid. Hennessey was never discovered. Lately, Felix Raicot and Cyrus Greenover, lumbermen, were crushed by a heavy log. Raicot was told that he would speedily die. He then confessed that he and Greenover murdered both Brisbois and Hennessey, concealing the latter's body. Those who heard this revelation hurried out to fetch a justice, and in their absence Greenover crawled from his couch, though dangerously hurt, and pulled the bandages from the dying Raicot's wounds so as to silence him in death before the official came in to write out his confession.

There were fifty-four cases of sunstroke reported in New York on Thursday, a number of them fatal. There were two deaths from sunstroke in Brooklyn, two in Newberg, and one in Jersey City.

"Lucie Rodey," is the name of the new society novel written by Henry Greville, author of "Dosia," "Saveli's Expiation," and "Sonia," which has been admirably translated into the English, from the French, by Mary Neal Sherwood. Edmond About has just written a novel to prove the existence of domestic virtues in France; but Americans, who, as a rule, know little of France outside of Paris, are apt to deny the possibility of such. Let them, therefore, read "Lucie Rodey," Madame Greville's new romance, in which they will find the wife and mother faithful unto death, though exposed to trials and temptations. "Lucie Rodey" teaches a lesson, which will be felt even by those who read it with interest merely for the sake of the story. It will be issued in a few days by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, in uniform style with "Dosia," "Sonia," and other works by Henry Greville, published by this firm.

New Hampshire Items.

A dwelling house belonging to Henry E. Ring, at Enfield, was burned May 26th, with most of its contents. Cause, defective chimney. Insured $1,200.

The mill and store of Weeks Bros., in Pittsfield, were burned last Thursday night, with their contents. Loss $6000; insurance $5500.

Capt. Sargent Colby died at Dunbarton on the 23d of May, aged eighty years, eleven months and seven days. He was the father of fourteen children, thirteen of whom are now living.

Political Matters.

The house sub-election committee at Washington have submitted their report in the Boynton-Loring case from Massachusetts to the full committee, and they have unanimously adopted it. It declares that Dr. Loring, republican, is entitled to his seat instead of E. Moody Boynton, greenbacker, who contested.

In response to a call for an anti-Grant meeting, Central Music hall at Chicago was crowded on Wednesday night, May 26th, and an overflow meeting was held in Farwell hall. About 5000 were present at both meetings. Speeches were made by several prominent republicans, and strong resolutions were adopted against the nomination of Grant.

Rev. Mayor Kalloch, of San Francisco, won a victory May 27th. The superior court sustained the general demurrer of Kalloch against impeachment proceedings by the board of supervisors, and dismissed the case.

The supreme court of California rendered a decision in the case of Denis Kearney, May 27th, releasing him from the house of correction. The hearing was on a habeas corpus, appealed from the superior court at San Francisco, where the decision of the police court, putting Kearney in the house of correction for using abusive language, was sustained.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, collicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

AROUND HOME.

Among the passengers for Europe by steamers Nevada, which left New York Glasgow May 27th, was Dr. M. C. Lathrop of Dover.

The schooners Anna M. Nash, Cahoon master, and Velocipede, Chase master, which arrived at Doane's wharf on Thursday from mackereling at the south, sailed again on Friday.

Mr. James M. Carr has been superintendent of the Universalist Sunday school for twenty-five years, and Mr. Josiah F. Adams has been sexton of the Universalist church for the same length of time.

The annual class regatta of Brown university took place at Providence, R. I., May 27th, over a three-mile course, and was won by the juniors, the freshmen coming in a good second. One of the crew of the freshmen's boat was Isa H. Leveen of this city.

The trip of the "Blaine boom" from Maine to Chicago was arranged, it is said, by Mr. W. A. Cromwell, formerly of this city but now of Maine, and New England agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan railroad, who accompanied the excursion. Mr. Cromwell is a democrat, and is much spoken of as a delegate from Maine to the Cincinnati convention.

Mr. "Nattie" Yeaton of Durham, who owns a farm in Newcastle, has pulled in a boat from Durham to this city and back about seventy times a year, for the past twenty-five years. As the two places are ten miles apart by the water route Mr. Yeaton has pulled in that time about 35,000 miles. He carries passengers, and executes all sorts of small commissions and errands.

The Weekly for the week ending May 29th says: "The venerable and venerated Dr. David Kimball of this city, after fifty-six years' honorable and successful experience as a druggist, in nearly the same position on Market street, retired from business on the 12th inst., resigning the same to his young partner, Mr. Frank J. Philbrick, who will continue under the old style, David Kimball & Co. It is pretty safe to believe that no tobacco, and no liquors as a beverage, at least not to be drunk on the premises, have been or will be sold at that reliable establishment—in which we wish the new proprietor as long a lease as him whom he succeeds. When has there ever been a man in any business so long continuously in this city?"

Persons having in their possession muskets belonging to the equipment of the Portsmouth City Guards, are requested to return the same to the armory at once.

JAMES E. FORD, Captain.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, May 27th:

There was but a small attendance of members, probably owing to the intense heat, and but little business was done.

A communication from the tenants of the Athenæum and adjoining buildings, relative to a vault nuisance, was referred to the board of health for action.

The subject of water supply at the Haven school was considered, and it was voted that the board visit the schoolhouse to investigate the matter, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

G. A. R. NOTICES.

All members of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., are urgently requested to meet at the hall on Daniel street this (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of tendering a reception to Comrade Henry O. Kent of Lancaster, N. H., and to complete all arrangements for Memorial day. Per order.

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all ex-soldiers and sailors of the late war to join with Storer Post, G. A. R., in observing Monday, May 31st, 1880, as Memorial day. Please appear in dark clothes, black felt hat and white gloves, at old Odd Fellows' hall, Daniel street, at 1:30 P. M., sharp, on that day. Per vote of the Post.

GEORGE E. HODGDON, Commander.

Rev. Mr. Griffin will preach at the Pearl street church.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The highways in Kittery, Eliot and York are being put in thorough repair.

Messrs. Simpson & Marshall have purchased the lumber business of Mr. John Low of York.

The Goodwin house at York harbor has been repainted inside and out, and a new driveway has been laid out up to the house.

Mr. Hartley W. Mason's new cottages at York beach are being pushed to completion by the contractor, Mr. Edwin Blaisdell.

Mr. Samuel Carter, of Kittery, was prostrated by the excessive heat on Wednesday, May 26th, while working in the field for Mr. Alden Gilchrist at Beech ridge, York.

The government steamboat inspectors, on Thursday last, tested the boiler of the James Sampson with one hundred and fifty pounds hydrostatic pressure, and licensed her to carry one hundred pounds of steam.

There are annually raised at Eliot neck not far from one thousand ducks, most of which are brought to this city for a market. Mrs. Annie Dixon supplied the Shoals with all the web-footed poultry used there last season.

P. C. Wiggin of Kennebunk, Dr. M. F. Wentlworth of Kittery, E. H. Jewett of South Berwick, A. W. Hanson of Buxton, and B. C. Jordan of Alfred, were among those reported on the Blaine train which passed through this city toward Boston last Thursday afternoon.

The old light-tower at Whalesback is to be torn down at once, and the stones of which it is built will be dumped on the south side of the new tower. The circular pier on which the old tower stands will be allowed to remain, the "cellar" in it being filled up so as to make a level platform.

In Eliot a few days ago the estate of Wm. Stacy, consisting of timber, wood and tillage land, and a brickyard, were sold at auction. A ten-acre lot of wood and timber was purchased by Oliver Stacy of this city at $18.50 per acre; a fifteen-acre lot of wood and timber by N. F. Mathes & Co. of this city, at $38.50 per acre; twenty-five acres of cleared land, with a brickyard, on the river, was bought by Henry Abbott at $16.50 per acre; and a seven-acre lot on Rocky hill was purchased by Mr. Frost of Eliot at $84 for the lot.

The last court at Alfred was one very lenient to criminals. The boy who stole a pocket-book from a boarder's room in the Biddeford house got six months in jail; while a fellow who had served out two terms in the state prison and committed another burglary, got eleven months in jail. The court adjourned at ten o'clock in the forenoon on May 26th. This has been one of the shortest sessions, with the least jury business, known in the county for many years. There has been only one verdict returned. The second jury did not have a case to sit through. The divorce business was lively.

Cost of the Retired List.

There are probably but few people who know what an expensive thing the retired list of the army or navy is. Having the figures of the army list near me, I find that according to an official statement just prepared, there are four major-generals, eighteen brigadier-generals, fifty-nine colonels, thirty-four lieutenant-colonels, fifty-nine majors, one hundred and forty-three captains, seventy-seven first lieutenants, fifteen second lieutenants, and eight chaplains.

Up to December last the retired list had cost the government in cool money $5,910,378. The majority of those on the retired list receive the largest annual pay, which is: Major-general, $5625; brigadiers, $4125; colonels, $3375; lieutenant-colonels, $3060; majors, $2625; captains, $2100; first lieutenants, $1575.50; second lieutenants, $1470.50, and chaplains, $1890.

Although it looks as if the retired list must be a good thing, it is in reality a damage to officers generally, both in the army and navy, because it prevents them from saving a dollar for the rainy day. They know that they will be provided for in their old age, or when they are retired, and paid then a larger salary than they or the majority of men of the same ability could receive in civil life, and hence have no reason to put away a single cent. As a result, the army or naval officer as a rule spends every cent he gets. Never having earned a dollar in his life, (for the army or navy officer is picked up by the government when he is in youth, and supported and educated out of the public treasury), he has no idea of the value of money, and spends it as freely as he receives it.

Of course there are some exceptions, but they are very few. General Sherman, and several other army officers who could be named, are very rich, though they don't say much about it. The money that General Sherman draws for servants, horses and rations which he does not need or have, more than pays the expenses of carrying on his house. His clothing being furnished also, he has but little need to spend any of the $17,000 and over which he receives clear of everything annually.

The naval retired list is also an expensive institution, and costs annually more money than it takes to pay off the entire number of sailors in actual service in the navy. And while all of this is so, and it is a well known and generally admitted fact that both the army and navy are top, heavy with officers, West Point and the naval academy are about belching out another lot of officers who will have to be supported by the people.

There is now about one officer to each four soldiers or four sailors. Besides this, there are hundreds of officers at salaries much in advance of what first-class men can be secured at in business life, who are unassigned, there being no place to put them. In the face of all this, graduations are allowed to go on at West Point and the naval academy, when it is well known that there no places to assign the graduates to. There are engineer officers enough now on the army roll to do all the engineer work for an army of forty-eight times the number of our army, even if there was actual war going on.—Hartford Post's Washington letter.

—A wife should be like roast lamb, tender and nicely dressed. No sauce required.

—The Chicago Tribune says: "The travelling salesman of a St. Louis grocery-house was violently kicked on the cheek by a mule one day last week in Indianapolis. People who subscribe to the belief that mules never die should take the first train for Idianapolis, and free themselves from the chains of an exploded superstition."

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness, it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat diseases and consumption, are among the common results. Therefore, if you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood, do not hesitate, but employ Golden Medical Discovery, which enriches the blood and radically cures those affections by striking at the root of the evil and removing the cause.

For all bronchial, throat, and lung affections, severe lingering coughs, weak lungs, consumption in its early stages, asthma and kindred affections, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the sovereign remedy, and has outrivaled all its competitors. It is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. Druggists sell it.

—When two dentists are partners they rarely quarrel; they pull together.

—A friend explains how a young lady yields her heart to a rough-looking sailor. He says she is carried by a salt.

"I don't want that Stuff,"

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.—Standard.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood fever-sh, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur b ths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent.—Ulcerous spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a cure.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravat d one e that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros' Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physicl n said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am cured I improvarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.
DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION." Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

DISCOVERER OF
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
The Positive Cure
For all Female Complaints.

THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, DIRECTS THE VITAL POWER ARIGHT, STRENGTHENS THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, SO THAT THE CURE IS radical and entire. It strengthens THE BACK AND PELVIC REGION; IT GIVES TONE TO THE WHOLE NERVOUS SYSTEM; IT RESTORES DISPLACED ORGANS TO THEIR NATURAL POSITION. THAT FEELING OF BEARING DOWN, CAUSING PAIN, WEIGHT AND BACKACHE, IS ALWAYS PERMANENTLY CURED BY ITS USE.

It will, at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory.

No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet, 25 cents, as above.

SMITH'S MEDICATED
PRUNES
LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.
Pleasant to the taste; Effective without Griping.
CURE CONSTIPATION,
BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.
They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to relieve Constipation, and Biliousness of the Liver. Formerly, two or three large doses of cathartic medicines or mineral waters produced the effect of these Prunes. No bad effects but without nausea or griping. Children half a Prune; Adults, one or two. Prunes like a charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and beautiful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS
Malt Bitters Company
A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,
The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases,

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, acid dyspepsia, constipation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, feeble in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy in the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston

SHAKERS'
SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 18th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as a purgoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

A DISTRACTED PARENT.

Five daughters—four of them engaged—
Good heavens! I shall go mad!
For such a sacrificing of love
No parent ever had.
The very atmosphere is charged
With it; no matter where
I go about the house, I trip
Upon some whispering pair.

At evening, when I take my pipe
And seek a quiet nook,
To read the evening paper, or
Some new and tempting book,
I ope, perhaps, the parlor door,
When a familiar sound,
Quite unmistakable, suggests
It is forbidden ground.

So then more cautiously I turn
To our reception room;
But lo! again upon my ear
From its romantic gloom
Comes softly, yet with emphasis,
That warning, when I start
And leave, as Lady Macbeth wished
Her guests would all depart.

My next resort is then the porch,
Where roses trail and bloom;
Ha! is it echo that betrays
The joys of yonder pair?
Ah, no! a startled "change of base"
Reveals the presence there
Of Cupid's votaries, and, alas!
There's still another pair.

"But sure," I think, "my library
Will be a safe retreat."
So then I at once with quickened step
I take my weary feet.
Vain hope—that warning sound again
Breaks on my listening ear;
Thank heaven, my youngest hath not yet
Attained her thirteenth year.

Hark! there she is! and bless my heart
That poetic boy, young Lou,
Is at her side—I do believe
That she, too, has begun.
Oh, ye who love to sit and dream
Of future married joys,
Pray heaven with honest fervor that
Your girls may all be boys.

Double Sufferers.

If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of Liver and Kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort, a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered Kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.

—"Watermixie" color is pure wave green. "Fableaux" is an intense red. "Austrian cackle" is a light orange yellow. "Clary" is a delicate straw color. "Coucher-de-soleil" is an orange red. "Amourette" is a bluish pink. "Eastern yellow" is a marigold hue. "Humberta" is a deep peach. "Heliotrope," which is just now the leading fashionable color, is a mixture of violet and mauve.

Eminent physicians indorse Adamson's Botanic Balsam as the safest and most effectual remedy for Coughs and Colds ever discovered. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 35 and 75 cts.

—Four young men of Iowa City determined to have some sport on Sunday, and so procured a hand-car for a ride over a spur of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, which had not been used for some time. They coursed along at a rapid speed for about half a mile, when they were brought to a halt by striking a barbed-wire fence, which had been strung across the track on a farm through which it passed. Two of the men were seriously harmed.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—A citizen of Visalia, Cal., who was not raised on a farm, is growing a vegetable garden. Recently he planted some beans. The morning after the heavy rain, on examining his garden, he found that they had sprouted and that the beans were being pushed above the ground. He had never seen a bean growing, and not understanding what made them come up, he went around the patch and pushed them all back into the ground with his finger. His wife expresses the opinion that that particular patch of "early six-weeks beans" will prove a failure.

CANDID TALK. We have something to say, and want to say it plainly and frankly. It is this: We know it to be a fact Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is the only real cure for Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Liver, and Urinary Organs. This is the plain, unvarnished truth. We do not believe as much can be said for any other medicine. You who suffer and doubt, have faith enough to try Hunt's Remedy. It will cure you. It cures everybody. Sold by all Druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—A cook complained to her mistress that the page-boy, "George," directly the dishes were removed from the table, picked from them all the "tid-bits." The mistress complained to her husband, and desired him to test the truth of the cook's report. After dinner, the master went down to the pantry and caught "George" with his hand full of "trifles," and thus reproved him: "You naughty, wicked boy, you are not only sinning against me by pilfering, but against One above, to whom I am only a crushed worm. Do you know who that is?" George whispering replied: "Oh, yes, sir! Please sir, that's Missis!"—French Wit.

Richer in bone and fat producing materials than all others are Malt Bitters.

New Jersey Premium Wine.

Physicians state that the Port Wine that took the premium at the Centennial, produced and offered for sale by Mr. Alfred Speer, of New Jersey, is a wine that can be safely used for medicinal purposes, being pure and free from medication, and is more reliable than other Port Wine. It is especially recommended for weakly females and the aged.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, MAY 31, 1880.

Our Red Brethren.

Gen. Sheridan has received a despatch from Gen. Hatch, dated May 25th, confirming the report of a battle in New Mexico with Victoria's band of Indians, and the killing of a large number of the savages. He reports that Major Morrow joined him with four companies, and was arranging for an active campaign, and a later dispatch from him reports more fighting but gives no particulars.

A Fort Montana special says the red skins now at Poplar creek agency have repeatedly sent word to Gen. Hazen, desiring to surrender, and three councils have been held with these hostile Sioux. They are very hungry, but fear treachery and dread being put in irons, preferring even death by starvation. Sitting Bull himself has sent to Gen. Hazen a special envoy, but Gen. Hazen told him the terms of surrender were the same as heretofore expressed.

News and Notes.

The will of Samuel Chase, of Beverly, Mass., gives $6,000 each to the American Baptist Missionary society and the American Baptist Home Mission society.

John King, living on Carson street, Cambridge, was badly burned last Thursday in a singular manner. He put on a pair of overalls which had been worn by his son, who is employed at the kerosene works, and attempting to light a match by drawing it across the surface of them, they took fire, being saturated with oil, and Mr. King received severe and painful injuries.

James Shaw, of Dayton, Ohio, committed suicide at Princeton, N. J., May 26th, by cutting his throat. Shaw was a student at the college, and had been suffering from malarial fever. Just before the fatal act was committed the body of a young student named Ely, who had died from malarial fever, was taken to the railroad depot, escorted by the faculty and students, and this, together with the tolling of the chapel bell, it is thought operated on Shaw's intellect so much that the unfortunate young man determined to commit self-destruction.

A heavy shower, accompanied by hail and lightning, passed over Attleboro', Mass., Friday afternoon, doing much damage. All of the greenhouses in the place lost their glass, and a foundry had 150 lights broken.

The secretary of state has received a telegraphic despatch from the United States consul general at Cairo, Egypt, stating that the big obelisk and pedestal are placed on board the steamer, which will sail in a fortnight for the United States.

A severe squall passed over Suffield and Enfield, Conn., Friday afternoon at about one o'clock. In Suffield about a dozen barns and tobacco sheds were blown down, and many orchard and other trees uprooted. Sykes' grove, a favorite picnic ground, was nearly ruined. In Thompsonville and vicinity the tornado was severe. Many barns were blown down, and one new brick building was nearly demolished. McCrone's greenhouse, the largest in the state, was nearly destroyed, and his orchards damaged. One man is reported severely, if not fatally, injured.

Charles Bolling, colored, was hanged at Hanover Court House, Va., Friday, for outraging a young white girl.

The residence of an old couple, named Strader, at Winchester, Ont., was destroyed by fire, Friday, and both of the occupants were burnt to death.

Enormous schools of small mackerel—so small as to pass through the meshes of an ordinary net—are reported off the coast. One bay fisherman reports that she had them almost constantly in sight while sailing a hundred and fifty miles, the water in some places being literally alive with them.

The fishing schooner Gipsy Girl, of Swampscott, Mass., made a very good trip recently. Off Provincetown the crew picked up a whale which had been killed by a bomb-lance, and towed it into Provincetown harbor. They next sighted an abandoned schooner on Cape Cod, took a hundred barrels of lime out of her, and then succeeded in floating her. They then took fifty-five barrels of mackerel, which they sold in Boston at 3 1-2 cents per fish.

Naval Gazette.

The Alliance sailed from Fortress Monroe for Bermuda, on Friday last.

The Tennessee arrived at Hampton roads May 28th, from Aspinwall May 15th.

The Kearsarge arrived at Key West May 27th, to sail next day for Hampton roads.

The Lackawanna arrived at Acapulco, Mexico, May 27th; bound south; all well.

Pay Inspector Edward May has been granted leave of absence for one month.

Comdr. Francis M. Bunce, commanding the Marion, in a despatch dated April 19th, off Flores island, Uruguay, reports the fever over. The work of breaking up camp was commenced April 6th, and finished next day. Clothing of officers and men had been aired, and under-clothing and linen washed in carbolized water. All articles of clothing, equipment, etc., likely to retain any germs of disease, were condemned and burned. Camp Leigh was occupied forty-two days, having, under charge of Lieut.-Commander Gowan, most satisfactorily accomplished its object. The police and hospital regulations were so well enforced that not a single case of fever is believed to have originated in camp. Capt. Bunce thinks every germ of the disease has been destroyed, and the infection removed; he believes the ship to be as healthy as any, and has no fear of a recurrence in any climate. The coal was thrown overboard.

New Hampshire Items.

Amos Jones, for several years tax collector of the town of Lebanon, committed suicide Friday morning by cutting his throat with a razor, causing immediate death. He was sixty years old. The supposed cause is disappointment at his not receiving an appointment as tax collector for the ensuing year, causing temporary derangement.

—Forced politeness—bowing to necessity.

—Dutchmen are but boys of a lager growth.

—The Leadville Chronicle tells of a man who escaped with his life from the Indians. The man who escaped without his life hasn't yet been reported.

—The amount of dirt found at the bottom of a crock of milk sometimes suggests the probability that the dairyman has been milking the mud's cow.

—Emile Zola remarks:—"When we hear Victor Hugo compared to Shakspeare we smile, for he has created nothing but figures of bronze or alabaster, not of flesh and blood."

—An Irishman who stood for a long time looking at a ship's anchor was ordered away, but refused to go, saying, "Devil a bit will I stir till I see the man that's going to use that pick."

—Twenty years ago the steamer Arabian sank in the Missouri river with 600 barrels of whiskey on board. The current of the river went on changing, and now the place where the steamer sank is dry land, and the long-forgotten wreck is buried forty feet deep in the sand. The other day the man who owns the place put down a pump, and the first liquid he found was whiskey in one of the 600 barrels. For a while after he had tested the vein his pipe had struck, land in the vicinity was held at $474,000 an acre; but by-and-by some one remembered about the wreck, and the price fell. A trustworthy and constant vein of about twenty-years-old whiskey on any Missouri farm has a tendency to increase the demand for it rapidly.

Hark! hark! 'tis SOZODONT I cry,
Haste youths and maidens, come and buy.
Come and a secret I'll unfold,
At small expense to young and old.
A charm that will on both bestow
A ruby lip, and teeth like snow.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. AROUND HOME.

On account of this being Memorial day, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

A three-quarter-acre patch of peas at the Plains, belonging to Mr. Frank G. Sherburne, was in blossom May 27th.

The canker worms have appeared again, but their ravages so far are nothing to what they have done in this city for the last three years.

The semi-annual dividend on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad bonds will be payable on Tuesday; the dividend on shares in the Eastern railroad in New Hamphire will be paid on Tuesday, June 15th.

In the river and harbor appropriation bill, as reported to the United States senate last week, was an amendment appropriating $20,000 for the improvement of the river at Exeter. It is hoped that this will suffice to dig it wide enough to prevent small craft from getting wrecked on both sides of it at once.

A party of twenty or more students from the architectural college at Boston visited this city on Saturday afternoon, on a tour of inspection among the many old houses here. After looking around town for a couple of hours they drove to little harbor in the barge Fanny Fern, to examine the old Gov. Wentworth mansion.

Rev. Charles E. Hurd, who a few years ago left the Charles street Free Baptist church in Dover, of which he was a lay member, and became a preacher of the Advent sect, and pastor of the Advent church in Rye, has lately sought and received re-admission to the Free Baptist connection, and accepted a call to settle as pastor of the latter denomination at Loudon.

The Newmarket Advertiser of last week says: "Thursday, while workmen were sounding in the river for a foundation for the proposed new mill, they struck a spring of fresh water thirty-two feet and ten inches below the bed of the river. The water gushes forth quite powerfully, and is strongly impregnated with iron. We have had a drink of the water, and it was fresh and cold. The location of this mineral spring is near the wooden warehouse in the company's yard."

It will be seen in another column that Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., was on Saturday of last week elected president of the Portsmouth savings bank. Mr. Rollins has for some time past served as the solicitor of the bank, and has been one of the committee upon investments. He is thoroughly familiar with the assets and workings of the bank, and what is of no little consequence in the success and stability of a savings bank, possesses in a liberal degree the confidence of the community whose deposits are in this bank, in his unquestioned integrity.

Appropriate resolutions of respect to the memory of the late president were passed, with entire unanimity.

Mr. Rollins accepts the position and will at once enter upon the discharge of its duties.

The Newcastle breakwater was finished last Saturday, and on Tuesday will be inspected by Gen. Thom and Col. Sise, and afterward handed over to the latter as president of the Portsmouth board of trade. The currents have been somewhat changed by the breakwater; of course there is no set of the tide either way through the passage now blocked with thousands of tons of stone, but when the tide is running rapidly there is still a strong surface current setting toward the north shore from the Newcastle side, and always will be so long as the existing ledge makes out from the point with the profane name. The current through the draw-bridge between Marvin's and Governor's islands we think is much stronger than formerly; whether it will improve the channel leading to little harbor any remains to be seen.

The schooner "Phantom," and one other schooner, with four sloops of the Boston Yacht club, arrived in the lower harbor about six o'clock Saturday evening. They are out on a short cruise along the coast, and put to sea on Sunday morning.

Lieut. Lyman G. Spalding, of this city, recently detached from the U. S. S. Enterprise, has arrived home.

The American Union telegraph company are to open an office in this city immediately, having hired a part of the store in the city building leased and occupied by Mr. Henry H. Ham.

Mr. Samuel Kingsbury died on Saturday last. He was the oldest member of the Mechanics' association, having joined the organization in 1826; in 1847 and '48 he was one of the board of trustees, and in 1857 and '58 was vice president of the association.

At the select entertainment to be given at the Sea View house, at Rye beach, on the evening of June 2d, Mrs. George K. Hooper (nee Adams) will sing several pieces, and her nine-years-old son, who is said to be a remarkable violinist for one so young, will play several selections. A number of persons from this city are going down to enjoy the entertainment, which will wind up with a hop.

The Boston Commandry of Knights Templar, on their excursion to the Isles of Shoals on Thursday, June 24th, will leave Boston by a special train at nine o'clock A. M., with their ladies and invited guests, arriving in this city at eleven. After spending an hour here they will leave by steamer and barge for the Shoals, where they will make their head-quarters at the "Oceanic." A concert will be given by the band from six to eight o'clock P. M., and at nine o'clock a grand reception and hop will be given by the commandry, complimentary to the ladies and invited guests. On Friday morning there will be another concert by the band, after which the Sir Knights will enjoy themselves in fishing, boating, etc., until four o'clock P. M., when they will re-embark for Portsmouth en route for home. The officers of the commandry are—Sir J. Francis Lotts, eminent commander; Sir John L. Stevenson, generalissimo; Sir Edwin Wright, captain general; Sir Eugene H. Richards, senior Warden; Sir James H. Gleason, Junior Warden.

FLOWERS.

Persons having flowers to spare, in large or small quantity, are earnestly requested to send them to the court house this morning at as early an hour as is convenient, to be used in decorating the graves of the nation's dead this afternoon. Many more flowers are desired than have yet been contributed, and the smallest donations will be thankfully accepted.

PER ORDER.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANK.

A special meeting of the corporation of the Portsmouth savings band was held at the banking rooms on Saturday afternoon. The corporators were called to order by Jos. Hiller Foster, the clerk, and William H. Hackett was chosen chairman of the meeting.

Upon motion of John Sise, Esq., a ballot was had for the choice of president, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Wm. Simes. The result was: whole number of ballots cast, twenty-one, and one blank; Charles H. Mendum received one vote, Daniel Marcy one vote, and William H. Rollins nineteen votes,—and Mr. Rollins was declared duly elected president for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Mr. Hackett alluded to the loss sustained by the bank in the recent sudden death of its late president, and said that at this first meeting of the corporation since the death of Mr. Simes he deemed it appropriate that some resolutions should be passed. He submitted the following, which were read and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, by the recent death of Hon. William Simes the Portsmouth Savings bank loses the services of a faithful officer, and the members of this corportion desire to place upon record a suitable tribute of respect to his memory:

Resolved, that in the death of Mr. Simes, who for twenty-five years as trustee and for over ten years as its president has acceptably served this bank, the corporation as well as the community in which his influence was exerted, have sustained a deep loss.

Resolved, that the confidence in his sterling integrity, his firmness of character and undeviating regard for the right was shared in not only by his associates in the management of this bank, but by every depositor therein, and it was a source of strength to the institution throughout the term of his administration of its affairs.

Resolved, that as a citizen, a friend, and a neighbor, no less than an officer of this bank, we regard the death of Mr. Simes as a personal, as well as a public, loss.

Resolved, that we tender our sincere sympathy to the members of his family in their sudden bereavement; and the clerk is requested to transmit to the surviving members of Mr. Simes' family a copy of these resolutions, and likewise furnish a copy for the press.

The meeting then adjourned without day.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, May 29; Batchelder, J.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lang of Rye was before the court, charged by several citizens of Rye with keeping a disorderly house, known by the pleasing title of "the bedbug hotel." She was bound over in the sum of $300 to appear at the October term of the supreme court, and lacking sureties went to jail.

MEMORIAL DAY.

A detachment of eight men from Storer Post, under command of Comrade Knight, officer of the day, will visit the North and Catholic cemeteries this forenoon, and fire a salute over the soldiers' graves at those places.

The procession will form on Market square at 2:30 o'clock P. M., and will move at three o'clock through Pleasant, State, Middle, Islington, Cabot and Middle streets, Richards avenue and South street, to Sagamore road, and will enter the cemetery by the south gate, where memorial exercises will take place. Reforming after the decoration of graves, the procession will proceed through the main avenue of the cemetery to Richards avenue, and through Middle, Court, Pleasant and Congress streets to Middle streets, and then countermarch to Market square, where a battalion dress parade will take place, Major Geo. Butler, U. S. M. C., commanding, with Lieut. Geo. C. Reid, U. S. M. C., adjutant; after which the procession will be dismissed.

The order of the procession will be as follows:

Patti and Nilsson.

A letter to Andrews' American Queen thus describes the appearance of two great prime donne at an evening reception; also an anecdote of Patti, grown virtuous and domestic with the decay of her charms. "Most of those who accepted invitations were either of elevated rank, or distinguished artists and literary women. There were two very pretty girls, and one paragon of maturer beauty, a merchant's wife. Christine Nilsson, who is accustomed to stage perspective and the trying glare of footlights, was much painted and powdered, and consequently appeared to disadvantage. Any one seeing her for the first time yesterday would have been disappointed to find how little of the fresh northern rose of fifteen years ago had survived her scenic triumphs. Her bust and arms are still fine. She 'acts' overmuch with her eyes, the expression of which has greatly changed of late, when she is off the stage. Actresses in private should never give a thought to the play of any of their features. To make them strongly express what is neither in heart nor mind produces the painful effect which we witness when we see a paralyzed man submitted to the action of a galvanic battery. The Swedish ladies were technically in low-bodied dresses, but made so high that mere necklaces were visible. Madame Nilsson, though not very decolletee, shocked, by the display she made of a fine broad bust, some of her country women, accustomed to Paris, London and Vienna fashions. * * * Patti will not except invitations to any but family dinner-parties, and then only when Nicolini and his sons are invited. She is very fond of the juvenile Nicolinis, who call her petit mere. The cantarice was touched almost to tears by the kind attentions of the Princess de Sagen the evening on which she sung at the house of this lady, who putting her arm round Patti's waist, brought her to where the Swedish prince was standing, and introduced her to him. It is not Patti's attention ever again to go into society. She is tired of fashion and high life, and, she tells her friends, only desires a tranquil fireside."

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, May 26.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 496; sheep and lambs 3600; swine 12,500; sumter western cattle 3886; eastern cattle 91; milch cows and northern cattle 125.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $5 12½ and $5 37½; first quality $4 75 and $5 00; second quality $4 37½ and $4 62½; third quality $3 87½ and $4 25; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 and $3 75.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb; Brighton Tallow $5 00 per 100 lbs; country hides 7½ and 8c per lb; country tallow 4 and 4½c per lb. Calf skins 12½c and 15c per lb. Sheep and lamb skins $2 and $3 each. Sheared sheep skins 25 and 35c each. Lamb skins 50c each.

Western cattle continue to come in quite freely, and the quality of those brought in this week was better than those of one week ago. Prices have declined 15c per 100 lbs from those obtained last week. There were but a few lots of cattle sold for over 8½c per lb even for shipment to England, quite a large number of cattle being bought for that trade at prices ranging from 5 a 8½c per lb live weight. The trade opened active, and the largest portion of western beef cattle were sold out early in the day yesterday. From Maine there was a fair supply of ordinary cows, for which there has been a limited demand of late.

Working Oxen.—A few pairs each week at present is all the market requires, as there is not much call for them. Only but a few buyers in market. We quote sales of 1 pair, girth 7 ft, live weight 3260 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2800 lbs, at $115.

Store Cattle—The trade for store cattle will be light for several weeks to come, or until cattle come in more freely from the north and Maine. There were none in market except milch cows this week.

Milch Cows—The trade for cows has been very moderate, ordinary cows selling dull at low prices. We note sales of 4 milch cows at $35 each; 2 springers for $70; 1 cow and calf at $32; 2 milch cows at $39 each; 3 milch cows for $125 the lot.

Veal Calves—We quote sales of 70 calves, average weight 150 lbs, at 4c per lb live weight; 15, average weight 149 lbs, at 4½ per head; 34, average weight 125 lbs, at $4 50 per head.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were owned by butchers and cost from 5½ and 5½c per lb for sheep; lambs 8½ and 9c per lb. There are seldom any western sheep offered on the market for sale.

Swine—Fat Hogs—Prices are lower; we quote them at 5 and 5½c per lb. Sucking pigs $2 and $4 per head.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound revives the drooping spirits; invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions; gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of beauty the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

—Young men who never did a day's work in their lives now affect woollen shirts, bask in the sun to get on a healthy brown, and wear the general appearance of stevedores.—New Haven Register.

Many retailers are unwilling to pay the prices which first-class cigars must inevitably cost. The parties who are selling the old-fashioned Noriegas, however, are honorable exceptions to this rule. Their profits are much smaller, but their sales are proportionately larger. Consumers should take due notice hereof, and govern themselves accordingly.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

—Prof. Sumner says that "women, children, and idiots are entitled to good government;" and what does the Albany Argus mean by asserting that "the trouble is that the idiots think they are entitled to govern."

What it Does.

Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, bilious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

—Two lovers in Cairo agreed to commit suicide on a certain night. The next day she walked down street to hear news from him, and met him walking up street to hear news from her. Both got mad, and went home to love some one else.

The purest invigorant and stimulant (not an intoxicant) is Malt Bitters.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It is well it is its best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system from alterative weakness and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or blue vitriol. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Daily Chronicle.

Memorial Address,

Delivered before Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., of Portsmouth, N. H., May 31st, 1880, by Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster, N. H., Post 16.

Mr. Commander, Comrades and Friends.

To stand to-day in the beautiful and historic city by the sea, uniting with her sons, esteemed for their patriotism and worth, and her daughters who embellish the virtues and graces of womanhood, in honoring the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the Republic, and in re-affirming our devotion to the Union, is to me a service of unwonted pleasure.

There is no spot within our state, from the forests whence the Connecticut comes glancing from the Canadian border, down its fruitful valley to the Ashuelot, or along the Merrimack, musical with the sounds of prosperous industry, that can evoke so significant associations, on this anniversary as does this ancient colonial capital, this germ of Empire in New Hampshire, for with your town are the memories of the Founders, as well as the Defenders of the state.

What a muster roll of worthies emerge from the portals of the past, as we summon their stately shades to pass in review before us!

The vice regal Wentworths; Sir William Pepperell, knighted for the gallant conquest of Louisburg; the early explorers; that "soldier for discovery," Darby Field; "traveled Joycelin, Factor Vines and stately Champernowe" jostle the heroes of the revolution, the veterans of the war with Great Britan, the soldiers of the Mexican campaign and the martyrs of the war for the Union, as they come from their rest in your hallowed cemeteries where they repose, lulled by the murmurs of the sea and held in tender remembrance by an intelligent and prosperous posterity.

Behold them as they answer to the muster roll!

John Langdon, delegate to the Continental congress, signer of the Declaration, general of brigade, member of congress and judge of the highest state court.

John Samuel Sherburne, mayor of this patriotic town, soldier in the armies of the colonies, member of congress and judge of the United States district court.

Moses Woodward, colonel, Joseph Bass, major, in the Continental forces, and the phalanx of enlisted men, whose unassuming sacrifice and personal heroism is of as bright a lustre as the halo of fame that lingers around the most illustrious names, and whose devotion, supplemented by the patriotism of the people secured for us the liberties that the country has since enjoyed; these justly hold the place of honor on the right of the line.

Lieutenant Colonel Timothy Upham, 11th U. S. Infantry, soldier of the war of 1812, with an honorable array of comrades and sailors.

General Justin Dimmick, U. S. Army, major of artillery in Mexico, with true men of the rank and file who fell in that brilliant campaign.

Admiral George W. Storer, a veteran of a service the history of which is replete with incidents of daring and honor, and whose distinguished name is borne by your Post.

General Amiel W. Whipple, killed at Chancellorville, in the war for the Union.

Captain George A. Gerrish of the 1st New Hampshire Battery, died of wounds received in the same contest.

Lieutenant Justin E. Dimmick, from his slumber by the side of his father; killed at Chancellorville.

Lieutenant Charles Patch, killed at Gettysburg.

Henry Richards, faithful gentleman private in the sharpshooters, died on the field of Gettysburg, his memory perpetuated in the noble avenue that by the graceful act of your city fathers bears his name.

And the grand army of over one hundred heroes from the ranks, and from before the mast, who gave their lives for their country, and when rest from their labors, in your grassy burial places, these fill up the column and connect the quiet and prosperous present with the turbulent and glorious past.

Shall these and such as these have lived and died in vain; shall these ceremonies invoking their memories be meaningless and formal, or shall the principles upheld by them take stronger hold and flourish in increasing vigor?

It is fitting in this connection to make further reference to that arm of the service with which the honor and prosperity of your city has been so intimately associated.

Since 1690 the naval station at this point has been of great importance to the existing government. Remarkable for security, its facilities have increased until it is competent in times of emergence to respond to the severest demands.

I learn from the careful work of Mr. Fentress published by Comrade Knight, that there have been built three frigates for the Royal navy, three frigates, one seventy-four, one schooner and two sloops for the Colonial navy, and thirty-nine ships of all classes for the navy of the United States, many of these vessels having attained celebrity in engagements of historic interest—notably the "Congress" of the Continental, and the "Kearsarge" of the Union navy.

The illustrious career of John Paul Jones commenced in this harbor, June 18, 1777, when that great captain assumed command of the ship of war "Ranger," built on Badger's island, the first vessel to bear the flag of the thirteen united colonies, adopted June 14, 1777, (four days before,) "thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Resting here upon the border of the unknown land, with the great mystery of ocean before and the savage wilderness behind, "daunting terrible" in its desolate loneliness, the founders of the state sent up along the water courses the pioneers, who "subdued the forest and let in the sun"—steadily overcoming the grim forces of nature, and the wiles of the savage—the defiles of the Crystal Hills were passed and the Great Spirit looked down from his cloudy throne, Waumbek Methna, upon Pale Faces who had struggled from the sea, to plant their corn and rear their factories upon the smiling intervales of the Upper Cohos.

To-day mechanical skill surmounts all obstacles, and railway trains reverberate high up along the pass through which these pioneers hesitatingly advanced over a century ago; and the dwellers in that then dreaded interior retrace the trail to pay fitting homage to the sterling virtues and kindly ways of Strawberry Bank, in its hale and gracious prosperity.

There are other memories that attach to this remembered town. I hear the roll of the drum, as it thrilled the crisp air of that memorable April—telling a startled people that the national honor was assailed and the national integrity threatened, awakening the patriotic echoes that had slumbered among our mountains since the time when New Hampshire men went down to Massachusetts bay to win that actual victory on Bunker hill, which gave the world a government of the people.

I see the rope-walk by the arsenal, wherein in those days was twisted one of the strongest cables that held the ship of state to her moorings, during the four years storm that followed. I recall that bright morning in June, when the city, early astir, was brilliant with waving standards and joyous with music, and the flash of steel, as with swinging stride a column of devoted men swept through the streets amid the cheers and tears of your people to take their way into that Gehenna of war—then vaguely known as "the front." Citizens of Portsmouth,

"In the cold and dusty annals
Of your old and quiet town"

there is no passage glowing with richer coloring of loyalty and chivalry, than that recording the organization in your midst of that military unit, the Second New Hampshire Infantry—nursery of heroes, and representative of the Vikings and pioneers who planted the town and state.

It would be impossible for me to compile a roster of the brave men and fair women of this later day, who have maintained the gracious repute of this goodly municipility—but the spirit of the past lives in the present, and while it would be invidious to attempt the full roll of those who are now its fitting representatives among you, eminent public services at a critical period, and a long life marked by the display of private virtues and kindly deeds, warrants the assertion that the Portsmouth merchant John Langdon, who pledged his "family plate and forty hogsheads of Tobago rum" in the cause of the struggling colonies, had fitting successor in the Portsmouth ship owner, staunch and kindly Ichabod Goodwin, who, as governor of the state, fitted the gallant Second for the front, in the early days of the war for the union.

And so glancing through the honorable record of your ancient town, I obey your summons, and come before you to gather inspiration from the past and inculcate devotion to a united and common country.

In the centuries that have gone, the integrity, thrift and culture marking your city has affected the state and directed its destiny, that in our earlier history shaped the plastic material from which has developed the existing status. In the long future, crowned with trophies of a useful past, this city sitting by the tides of the sounding sea shall hear in the murmur of prosperous industry that the winds bring down from the mountain and valley, the story of the work she has helped to do—and the good will the people bear to this ancient capital.

The attitude of New Hampshire, during the struggle for independence, both in the senate and in the field, is a matter for just pride to her citizens, and may properly be adverted to on this occasion; while her devotion in succeeding military conflicts furnishes ample evidence that the descendants and successors of the statesmen and patriots who aided largely in establishing the Federal Union, have been and are fitted to assert its integrity and perpetuate its blessings—while a long line of illustrious names has illumined every page of its military and naval history.

The delegates of our state appeared in the first continental congress, convened at Carpenter's hall, Philadelphia, September 7, 1774.

Josiah Bartlett, William Whipple and Matthew Thornton in her behalf signed the immortal Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776.

Josiah Bartlett, and John Wentworth, Jr., her accredited representatives, signed the first Articles of Confederation, the first, July 9, and the latter, August 8, 1778.

John Langdon and Nicholas Gilman were members of the convention that formed the present Constitution in 1787, and the state, by its delegates in convention, ratified and adopted that instrument on the 21st of June, 1788: her assent completing the requisite approval to make that instrument operative and binding.

It is also a significant fact that the first written constitution adopted by any state or government upon the American continent, was originated, framed and promulgated by a convention of her delegates assembled in May, 1775.

Her early and continued participation in military affairs is no less pronounced and emphatic.

The first overt act against the power of the British empire was upon her soil, months before the appeal to arms in Massachusetts;—occurring December 14, 1774, when a band of patriots from this city under the leadership of Thomas Pickering, John Sullivan and John Langdon attacked and captured Fort William and Mary at Newcastle, taking from its magazine one hundred barrels of powder, sixty stand of arms and sixteen cannons.

Paul Revere, who was afterward to ride "into the midnight" to apprise the Middlesex farmers of the march of the British from Boston upon Lexington and Concord, had ridden express from the metropolis of New England to inform the patriots that royal troops had been ordered to Piscataqua to secure the fort.

The good town was equal to the emergency, and before the ships of war arrived the work had been done and the precious powder distributed in the interior for safety. John Demeritt, of Durham, afterwards hauled an ox-cart load of this powder to Cambridge, where it was dealt out to our troops, prior to the battle of Bunker hill.

The important and celebrated engagement on Bunker hill, June 17, 1775, was fought largely by New Hampshire troops,—of the 2500 men, who according to the most reliable authorities were actually engaged, 1137 being from this state, in the regiments of Stark and Reed and in detached companies, and of whom 107 were reported killed.

The significant conflict at Bennington, in 1777, where the brigade of Stark, comprising Hobart's, Stickney's and Nichols' regiments, defeated the Hessian contingent of the British army under General Baum, arousing the desponding colonists and contributing largely to the subsequent defeat and surrender of Burgoyne at Saratoga, was essentially a New Hampshire battle.

In 1776 the state had three regiments in the continental army and six regiments of militia in active service, aside from several detached companies, the entire force aggregating over 5000 men. These three line regiments were kept recruited during the protracted struggle, and were intact at its close. Aside from this onerous contribution, the sea-coast and harbor of Portsmouth was defended, the frontier watched with scrupulous fidelity, and the ranger service maintained with alacrity and precision.

The limits of this address forbid ought save the barest epitome of engagements and consecutive mention of the more conspicuous soldiers of the state, during the struggle for independence.

New Hampshire men were at Bemis Heights, at the storming of Stony Point with "mad Anthony Wayne," at Monmouth, Trenton, Princeton, Germantown and Yorktown. They were at Bunker hill, Bennington, Stillwater and Saratoga; they marched with Dearborn in '75 and with Sullivan in '76, in expeditions into Canada; they were with Sullivan again in '79 in his march upon the Indian tribes in New York; were on Long island in '76, and again, in the brigade of Whipple, in 1778, participating in almost every notable engagement of the war.

Her soldiers were such men as Andrew McClary, killed at Bunker hill; Major General Nathaniel Folsom, commanding her militia and organizing her forces for active service at the front; Major General John Sullivan; Major General Henry Dearborn, afterward ranking general of the United States army; Major General John Stark, the hero of Bunker hill and Bennington; General Enoch Poor, General Alexander Scammel, adjutant general of the continental army; General William Whipple, commander of brigade; Colonel Joseph Cilley—and such privates as Benjamin Pierce of Hillsborough, afterward governor of the state, and father of a President of the Federal Union.

The war with Great Britian in 1812, was cordially supported by the state. April 10th, Governor John Langdon detached and organized 3500 militia; and the northern frontier, as well as the seacoast and harbor, was, during the entire conflict, protected without the aid of the general government

The Fourth United States infantry, Lt. Col. James Miller, contained New Hampshire men, as did the 21st when the same officer was at its head as colonel. In the Tippecanoe campaign under Harrison, in 1811, and at Brownstown, Chippewa, the "Sortie on the Erie," and Niagara, they honored the state by their soldierly devotion; the words of Miller, when ordered to capture an opposing battery, "I'll try, sir!" taking place with the utterances of the world's heroes.

The 11th United States infantry was largely recruited by Col. Moody Bedel, within the state, in the autumn of 1812, and the 45th infantry was composed of volunteers from New Hampshire and Maine.

In the war with Mexico a part of the Ninth (or New England) regiment was recruited within our borders. Franklin Pierce, brigadier general; Thomas P. Pierce, George Bowers, John H. Jackson, Thomas J. Whipple, Joseph H. Potter, Jesse George and John Bedel, were among the officers—men who, without exception, distinguished themselves and honored the state; some of whom yet live, bearing the cordial esteem of their fellow citizens.

In the war for the perservation of the Union New Hampshire furnished

Eighteen regiments of infantry,
One regiment of cavalry,
One regiment of heavy artillery,
One light battery, and
Two companies of sharpshooters, keeping these organizations filled, as they were depleted by the exigences of the service,—aside from sending her full quota into the navy, in all supplying 35,000 men.

These figures, exhibiting in recurring wars the integrity, zeal and military ardor of the state, are more emphatic than declamation in supporting her honorable renown and the memory of those fallen in her cause.

It is this record that we present to-day, conscious that no service can be performed of deeper import to the state than the fitting observance of these ceremonies, commemorating her illustrious past, and the worth of her sons, fallen in the cause of the country.

Twelve years ago on this anniversary it was first my privilege, in obedience with the request of my own post of the Grand Army of the Republic, to address such another assemblage as is here gathered; to revert to that terrific ordeal endured by the Nation as preliminary to the touching and beautiful ceremony, now become a custom, which, in common with the patriotic people of the whole land, we observe to-day, of decorating with the fragrant blossoms of spring the resting places of the brave men who, at a period of doubt and danger, gave their lives to support the supremacy of law—and the integrity of the Union.

In the span of life, this period is not inconsiderable. During its passage, our beloved country, vital with recuperative forces, has measurably recovered from the devastation of war. Although the era of perfect prosperity may not yet enrich us, we are still progressing toward that day of fruition, when bright skies and singing waters shall welcome every citizen who is willing by honest, practical labor, to earn the comforts he would enjoy.

But, alas! my comrades, how many of the good and true, who were valiant in the fight, and deserving in community and household, have wearied during the twelve years of marching and have lain down to a slumber which no reveille shall awaken, until the long roll is beaten and the colors are advanced on the day of our final muster, when with the myriads of earth, they shall pass in review before the Supreme Commander.

And so it will be ever. The old gives place to the new; the generations crowd each other in their march to eternity; and as the years melt in the crucible of time the Grand Army, baptised in patriotism, and confirmed in peril and danger, will on this recurring anniversary march with wider gaps in its ranks, with less martial tread, and with banners less brilliant than of old, until the last comrade shall have put off the insignia of warfare and lain down in death, and the organization shall live only in the memory of the citizens of this Nation, let us reverently hope prosperous, contented and honored.

In the glowing story of the great Emperor of the French occurs the incident of La Tour d'Auvergne, "First Grenadier of France," a soldier of the guard, distinguished even among its heroes, who refused decoration and promotion, clinging with proud humility to his more honorable distinction. When death claimed him, his body left the line, but his name remained upon the rolls, as his fame endured, a noble heritage. Dead, he was still present at muster and review, and when the roll was called, his name came first. In response, the senior comrade advanced one pace, saluted the commander, and made answer: "Died on the field of honor!"

Comrades and friends, not only may like response be fittingly made when the Orderly calls the names of the brave ones who have given their lives for their convictions of duty, but may we so discharge all duties laid before us, that when our names shall be called by those who come after us, the response may be fittingly made, "His was a life of honor!"

To inculcate and emphasize this idea of an honorable life, serving the State with purity of purpose, preserving inviolate the fundamental traditions of liberty, equality, and constitutional duty; keeping alive the lesson of the Great Conflict; not to prevent the wound from uniting under the application of the sweet balm of peace; but to guard against the recurrence of disaster, and cherishing as a sacred legacy the deeds and sacrifices of the Republic; this organization has been founded, growing in health and vigor under the warm rays of returning national prosperity, and the genial breath of popular love. At the close of each memorable war in our history an association of the survivors has arisen. The most notable of these are The Society of the Cincinnati, The Associates of 1812, The Survivors of the war with Mexico and the, Grand Army of the Republic. The three first named of these associations are more in the nature of social unions — for agreeable meeting and occasional formal parade, than otherwise—not embracing in their scope the general duties that characterize the later organization. The Grand Army of the Republic although composed especially of the veterans of the War for the Union, comprehends all soldiers and sailors who have honorably served. It is without political bias or sectarian creed, resting upon the sure foundation of Fraternity among men who shared common dangers, and the widows and orphans of those fallen at the post of duty, or from effects of lingering disease, and loyalty toward the government and country which its members have aided to preserve. No organization was ever reared on a worthier foundation, and its influence can only be for good, continually. It is fitting, as Nature puts off the garb of winter, to crown her brow with flowers, that a people assemble to decorate with floral offerings, the quiet resting places of the men who gave their lives for their country, in the day of her extremity, beautifully typifying the undying love that keeps their memory in perpetual verdure and transmitting along the river of time the ennobling recollection, that loyalty and devotion to country are virtues that never die, and are never forgotten; but that from the graves of the martyrs spring influences potential to strengthen the bonds of union and promote the prosperity and happiness of our common heritage. We should not do well, to assemble for our present purpose, without recalling those days now fading into the mist of history and tinged with the glamour of romance, when events thronged each other with tumultuous haste; when the air was oppressive with danger, and the minds of men surcharged with the intensest emotions could hardly analyze the situation, further than to feel that the Union was in peril and claimed the best service of its sons. The terrible drama of war was in progress: battle-field, siege, march, passed in panorama across our vision; each breeze sweeping from the Southland bore the sound of the onslaught or the sighs of the dying; while under all throbbed the stern determination of the people to perpetuate at any cost, the grand theories on which the Union was founded. Faith and endurance were severely taxed—not alone the soldiers in the field, but as well the toiling people and patient women at home, bore alike the burden unfalteringly and uncomplainingly to the end.

We can never forget the outburst of the storm; how to busy cities and pleasant homes came, on that bright spring morning, intelligence of conflict and blood-shed. As the stars and stripes fell from the staff of Sumter, they were caught up and elevated by millions who, until that moment, had never comprehended their significance, and as the blood of New Hampshire sprinkled the streets of Baltimore, it gave the land a baptism that consecrated it for the dreary and fearful struggle that was mercifully hidden from finite vision. How the rattle of the recruiting drum sounded on the village common and in the city streets; and how the old flag became the embodiment of patriotism—the symbol of loyalty. How the nearest and dearest, because the bravest and best, went out with firm step to the encounter, cheered by the hopes, and almost sanctified by the prayers of those who remained. Then the conflict with its wavering fortunes, doubt, uncertainty, and triumph; then the news; filtered through different and differing channels of information; then the ghastly lists of wounded and killed, the funeral trains to quiet cemeteries far from the roar of battle; the hushed multitudes, the solemn invocations, and the ever-mounting patriotism of the people; then the calls for more men; the hasty levies; the crowding tread of siege, march, conflict, and victory! until over all, from the sulphurous smoke of cannon, waved the folds of the old flag, without one star erased—the symbol of a restored nationality, the reward of the toil, suffering, and devotion that had steadily supported it amid all danger.

While the valor of the nation's defenders and the sacrifices of the loyal people, will ever remain our most precious heritage, it becomes us to display in civil life that same love of country that called our forces into organized existence, and gave them victory. Jealous to maintain every principle reaffirmed at such fearful cost, it is not for us to keep alive the rancor of a strife fought out and ended. There can never be too great reverence or affection exhibited in honor of the men and deeds that preserved the Union; there need be no apprehension that it is possible to give too kindly nurture to the hardy plant of loyalty, or that it will attain too vigorous growth; and the men and deeds of the days of the great rebellion should be remembered not as conquering a people, but as preserving a nation; which, when the war was at an end, by the common efforts of all its children, guaranteed equal rights and equal duties to all races, kindreds, and tongues, under the broad ægis of the Federal constitution. So shall dissolve, like mist before the sunbeams, all passion and prejudice, while a united nation—a great family of brethren—realizes the full fruition of the sublime idea of the fathers and framers of our system—a free Republic based upon equal rights and equal duties, the perfection of constitutional self-government. Love of country next to reverence for Deity, is the noblest known attribute, and it was perhaps necessary that this elementary instinct should be called into more active operation, even through the rude experience of war, lest abstractions and creeds should supplant the thunderous periods of the Declaration. The assertion is not perhaps too sweeping, that the soldiers of the late war are in an eminent degree the conservators of the country's future. Engaging in the crucial struggle for national life and realizing fully the results, they have no desire to prolong a strife over questions themselves determined. We have departed too far from the simple and healthful ideas upon the recognition of which the social and political fabric can alone be securely reared. Too many new and strange theories are evolved from the sentiment of weariness, and discontent, and patent processes find ready advocates and followers to secure any desired result, in the realms of politics, morality, and religion. The danger is, that amid this confusion the voice of experience be drowned, and we unconsciously repeat the history of others who have failed to accomplish and perpetuate successful self-government.

Patriotism is wider and deeper in its flow than the turbid stream of politics. Love of country is a grander and more elevating sentiment than zeal for party. Thrift, comfort, peace, are nobler results than the acceptance of an idea that may insure the temporary success of a faction. Surely the soldier, who has read on the broad pages of stricken fields illuminated by the flash of conflict, the march of events; learning with trained acumen to weigh justly real merits and garish pretense, is peculiarly fitted, not only to comprehend the grave but simple duties that fill out a well-rounded life; but by example to teach them to others. Be it ours then, comrades and friends, reverently to consider the lessons which the memories of this day present in vivid colors; to recognize the grandeur of patriotism; to strive for the incoming of an era of peaceful accord, on enduring foundations of liberty and justice; to assert in actions to those who are following on our line of march, that the first duty of the citizen is to the State, in its time of peril, and to inculcate the simple virtues of frugality, industry, charity, and fraternity. As the Union is but the aggregate of its citizens, each action by those who have proved their devotion can but be potential for good, and, by its influence, properly direct the mighty engine of public opinion. It is well to give significance to days and events standing as mile-stones on the path of a people's progress. We have arrived at our present estate through a series of epochs. A homogeneous race, combining the endurance of the Puritan, the fervor of the Cavalier, the zeal of the Catholic, and the devotion of the Hugenot, we have further tempered the strain of blood with the phlegmatic persistency of the Teuton, and the mercurial humor of the Celt. Thus, it is well for us, on Forefather's Day, to recall the perils of the shivering Colony on Massachusetts Bay; on Thanksgiving Day, to revive the stern virtues of the State builders, whose idea has found fulfillment in our present development; on the Fourth of July, to ponder anew the grand harmonies of the immortal Declaration; on Christmas, to reverentially and joyfully acknowledge the sweet lesson of the New Dispensation; and on this day, the Day of Decoration, to summon from the past, tender and graceful memories of the brave men who lay down in death, that the country may have a new birth of liberty, equality, and happiness. There are gathered here old men and maidens, children and youths, representatives also of the civic and military governments of the city, State, and Nation, signifying by their presence the approval of the beautiful custom which we celebrate. As the peaceful skies of spring look down upon us, and nature wears her choicest garb, it is difficult to realize the terrible earnestness of the period through which we have passed, and to which the monuments of our dead, marked by the kind trophies of enduring love, bear silent witness. Beneath them sleep your kindred and friends; there rest those who perhaps sought the same pleasant church-yards in the rambles of childhood or the communion of youth, before that fiery storm burst upon the land that baptised it in blood, and gave to them the martyr's aureole. There are those sleeping among you who emulated in fiery zeal the noble Paladins of Romance; others who unobtrusively but faithfully went to their death for their convictions of duty. Whether their gallant lives went out amid the crash of battle, or from the white-washed walls of the army hospital; whether their spirits went up to their reward with only the patient stars to note the accent, and only the cool wind of night to sigh their requiem; or whether, borne home pallid or torn, their farewell was amid the sympathies of kindred or friends; they alike made the same crowning sacrifice for the same great cause, and we should be destitute of the noblest attribute, alike of citizen, soldier, or friend, did we fail to do them lasting reverence and honor. For this we are assembled here. For this, and in devotion to the bounteous mother, our beloved country, we unite in these ceremonies, and time shall indeed be old before the American people forget the reverence and love due to the dead defenders of the Union. Engaged in these ceremonies, I recall a dreamy day in the Indian Summer of the battle year of the Rebellion, when it was my exceeding great privilege to stand within an historic cemetery, in and around which slept thousands of the bravest and best of the soldiers of the Republic. In the distance, through the hazy atmosphere, floated the blue peak of South Mountain; to the south lay the rolling fields and peach orchards, through which the wave of invasion swept, to be dashed to spray on the adamant of the Union lines; where the men of the Second, Fifth, and Seventeenth, went cheerily to the sacrifice and the victory; eastward swept the circling line of lesser hills, from which the screaming shells rushed over our ranks, and where Ewell's corps, expecting victory, experienced repulse; in front nestled the quiet Pennsylvania village; and in rear, along the slight elevation, stretched the remnants of the hasty breastworks, terminating where on our left, Round Top towered and thundered. Nature was at peace, her silent forces actively engaged to cover with a mantle of foliage and verdure the havoc of those July days; for it is Gettysburg that we recall, and although months had elapsed, the terrible work of battle still flecked and spattered the dreamy beauty of the picture. On the sunken road of Cemetery Hill, with the lovely historic landscape stretching around, a vast throng, with bared heads, crowding the space on either side; surrounded by soldiers, statesmen, and divines, of national and cosmopolitan repute; overtopping in stature, as he did in moral grandeur, all compeers, stood Abraham Lincoln, the leader of the nation through the wilderness of strife, the grandest martyr on the altar of freedom and unity. With a glance, comprehending the magnificent panorama of hillside, field, and forest, the great and sympathetic multitude around, and with a prescience born of the occasion, and his transcendent leadership, from that grandest forum ever occupied by a tribune of the people, Abraham Lincoln uttered that superb American epic, that shall go sounding down the ages as the epitome of loyalty and love. Listen to the rythm of its admonitory ending: "The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated to the unfinished work that they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause, for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion; that we highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain; that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth!" Comrades, citizens, friends! let us take to ourselves these pregnant words. Let us thoughtfully assume the duties transmitted to us by these and such as these, whose acts we this day commemorate, and in our persons aid the dawning of that millenium, when a loyal, prosperous, and contented people, filling this fair land to either border, shall realize the fruition of the hope, purified by sacrifice, not only that the country might live, but live in prosperity and unison—one people, one policy, one destiny! Green be your graves, O comrades; fresh and sweet be the memories that float from the past; and hallowed be the love that bears, and shall bear you ever in tender remembrance! Dire was the conflict, but your reveries are unbroken and ye rest well; the eternal mountains guard your slumbers and the surge of ocean chants your even song! Long and weary was the way, but ye lay down beside the path of duty, and generations yet unborn, following this beautiful custom that we observe to-day, shall, as the gloom of winter melts into the smile of spring, spread your graves with vernal tributes and perpetuate the grand idea that the highest conception of patriotism, the truest test of manhood, is that which impels the citizen in the hour of peril to offer his life for the State. To us keep the Union worthy these and kindred sacrifices, so that they may not have been made in vain, and that the country thus rescued may escape the dangers of faction, and remain, through the distant future, the refuge of the oppressed, the home of an enlightened and happy people.

CANDID TALK. We have something to say, and want to say it plainly and frankly. It is this; We know it to be a fact Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is the only real cure for Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Liver, and Urinary Organs. This is the plain, unvarnished truth. We do not believe as much can be said for any other medicine. You who suffer and doubt, have faith enough to try Hunt's Remedy. It will cure you. It cures everybody. Sold by all Druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—It was a young lady from boarding school, who, on her visit to her home at Cristmas, on being told that there were no gooseberries, asked what had happened to the goose!

The purest invigorant and stimulant (not an intoxicant) is Malt Bitters.

Double Sufferers.

If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of Liver and Kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort, a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered Kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.

What It Does.

Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, bilious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

Miss Melissa Gorton, whose dress was mysteriously set on fire in the street two weeks ago, died of her injuries on Sunday in Westerly, R. I.

"I don't want that Stuff,"

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of side headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.—Standard.

Revenue officers have broken up an illicit still at Montague, Mass., getting a small quantity of cider brandy. The proprietors escaped.

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness, it becomes thin and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat diseases and consumption, are among the common results. Therefore, if you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood, do not hesitate, but employ Golden Medical Discovery, which enriches the blood and radically cures those affections by striking at the root of the evil and removing the cause.

For all bronchial, throat, and lung affections, severe lingering coughs, weak lungs, consumption in its early stages, asthma and kindred affections, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the sovereign remedy, and has outrivaled all its competitors. It is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. Druggists sell it.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1880.

Don Came on Deposed.

At a meeting of the republican national committee at Chicago, on the morning of June 1st, Wm. E. Chandler moved a resolution declaring against the unit rule in the national convention. Chairman Don Cameron refused to entertain the motion. Mr. Chaffee appealed from the ruling of the chair, and Cameron ruled the appeal out of order. Later in the day Cameron was removed from the chairmanship, and William C. Cooper was elected.

The Whittaker Case.

The court of enquiry into the "Whittaker outrage" at West Point has concluded its labors, and found that Whittaker cut his own ears and tied himself.

Possibly he did; but we don't believe it, the "court" to the contrary notwithstanding. Judging from the newspaper reports of the examination, the court was determined from the first to find him guilty, and the verdict might as well have been rendered in the first place, without any fuss and without any examination of witnesses.

At the close of the "enquiry" Whittaker was ordered under arrest, and confined to his room.

Political Matters.

Dennis Kearney was released from the house of correction in San Francisco on Friday last.

Notice of appeal to the supreme court of California has been filed from the order of the superior court sustaining the demurrer to the complaint, and dismissing the proceedings instituted to remove Mayor Kalloch of San Francisco from office.

The democratic convention to choose delegates from the first congressional district of Maine to the Cincinnati convention, was held at Portland on Monday. William G. Davis of Portland and Ephraim C. Spinney of Kittery were chosen delegates, and instructed to vote in favor of retaining the two-thirds rule. Lewis Pierce of Portland and Edwin Stone of Kennebunk were elected alternates.

The Pistol.

Roland Gooch was shot in the thigh at Biddeford, Me., Saturday, by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of Carlos McKenney. The wound is serious.

At Bristol, N. H., on Friday, a six-years-old son of J. A. Beckford was fatally wounded by the discharge of a revolver he was playing with.

Joseph Silver, fourteen years old, shot himself in the head at Portland, Me., Saturday, it is supposed fatally. Accidental.

At Lowell, Mass., Sunday, Annie Fox, sixteen years old, was shot in the head and badly injured by a pistol in the hands of a little boy. Accidental.

Hon. Samuel C. Adams died in West Newfield, May 25th, at the age of seventy-two years. His ancestors were among the first settlers of that town. His grandfather was a clergyman, and a graduate of Harvard college. Mr. Adams spent the most of his days in Newfield, and was for many years one of the most prominent and influential men in it. He filled almost all the town offices, representing the district in the legislature and senate, and was register of deeds of York county for a number of years.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day,

WASHINGTON, June 2, 1:45 A. M.

Stationary or rising barometer north to east winds cloudy weather with rain followed by clearing stationary or higher temperature.

AROUND HOME.

The barque Furness Abbey arrived in New York on Tuesday.

The new carriage-way at the Eastern railroad depot is to be concreted.

The floating stage and brow for the steamboat landing at Appledore were towed out on Tuesday, by steamer Clara Batemen.

The steamer Appledore is again in the dock at Jones' wharf, after having been overhauled on the railway at Kittery. She has been nicely painted, and looks better than she ever did before.

The Eastern railroad company on Tuesday introduced at the station in this city an excellent custom, viz., that of placing on each car a placard giving its destination, as soon as a train arrives. They are conspicuous, and an excellent substitute for the old stands, which were cumbersome, and always in the way of everybody.

The schooner Velocipede arrived at Doane's wharf on Friday last, with fifty barrels of mackerel, and the Annie M. Nash with seventy-five barrels. They had been gone eight weeks, and report mackerel plenty, but owing to rough weather the catch has been light. Schooners Gov. Goodwin and Daniel Marcy sailed on Wednesday, the 26th ult., on their second trip for mackerel.

Quite a little scare was gotten up on Tuesday morning by the people living near the residence of Mr. Abel Jackson on Hanover street. It seems that a pile of rubbish had been collected in the cellar, and Mrs. Jackson, not realizing the possible consequences, set fire to it. The house soon became full of smoke, and attracted the attention of some men working on the street, who after some little effort put the fire out. No alarm was given.

The steam launch "La Chiquita," of South Newmarket, made a stop at this city on Monday, on her way down the river with a party from her hailing port, bound after a sniff of sea air and a dish of chowder. She looked neat as a new pin, and got along over the water very nicely. The steamer is quite a convenience for our inland friends, who now have facilities for an excursion to the seacoast regardless of the lack or wrong direction of the wind.

A party of Penobscot Indians from Oldtown, Me., have pitched their tents near the Universalist meeting house. They are the family of L. B. Newell, the chief of the tribe, whose first wife was Miss Harriet A. Parsons, formerly of this city, they having been married here. The Indians make and sell baskets, and "bowarrers," and give entertainments which have received the notice of some of the metropolitan papers. Mrs. Newell has won some reputation as a doctor, treating her patients in genuine Indian style. The band will no doubt be an attraction for some days.

Mr. Woodbury Locke on Monday morning let a team to a gentleman from Boston, furnishing a driver for the same. The Boston man called on one of his customers on High street, and the driver, in turning the team, got one of the fore wheels locked and threw the horse down, and hearing a crash, jumped out and ran into a yard near by. The horse got up and made a dash through Ladd, Market, and Congress streets, but was soon caught by Mr. Henry Webber, who got his foot entangled in the reins, which were dragging, and was thrown down, but receiving no injury quickly recovered himself and stopped the horse. The damage to the buggy was a few broken spokes, and a hub partly demolished.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Though Mr. James Janvrin did not give his expected address at the gospel temperance-meeting, Saturday evening, the service was of a very interesting character. Misses Carrie Pettigrew and Frances Deverson, and Master Joseph Pettigrew, gave recitations. Mr. Janvrin's address will be given before the reform club next Sunday evening.

The heavy rain of Sunday afternoon did not prevent a good attendance at the bethel service. At the close of the regular exercises a bible service for the children was held by Mrs. Hooper.

The reform club had a social meeting Sunday evening; a good attendance and interesting service.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

On Tuesday forenoon a horse attached to a heavy grain wagon belonging to Lewis & Brooks, of Kittery, took fright while hitched to a post in front of Prior & Matthews' store, broke away, and started on a run up Market street. In front of Ayers & Locke's store he struck a wagon belonging to a Mr. Remick of Rye, breaking one of its shafts and several spokes of a wheel, bending the rear axle, and hauling the wagon into the middle of the street. Right opposite, in front of L. V. Newell's store, was hitched the team of a Mr. Sewall, of York; this wagon too was struck, and damaged the same as the other, except that no shaft was broken. The flying team next struck C. L. Brown's horse, which was hitched in front of his store, knocking him upon the sidewalk and taking a piece of flesh from his hip. Keeping on up street, the runaway managed to steer clear of everything until he reached Junkins' store, where he took a wagon belonging to Alfred S. Trafton, pulled it away from the horse it was fastened to, and carried it across the street. Here he was stopped by Mr. Charles Ham, at much personal risk. The only damage to the runaway team was a broken spoke and step. The same horse ran away two or three weeks ago, that time also from in front of Prior & Matthews' store, and made things brisk for a few minutes on Ladd and Congress streets.

ROCKINGHAM CONFERENCE.

The Rockingham Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian churches will be held in Epping on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the exercises being as follows:

Tuesday forenoon, ten o'clock, prayer meeting; sermon by Rev. A. B. Peabody, of Stratham; choice of officers. Afternoon, two o'clock, reports of the state of religion in the churches. Each church is requested to give a written report not to exceed five minutes in the reading. Topic: "Personal devotion to Christ and loyalty to the church;" to be opened by Hon. Nathaniel Gordon, of Exeter. Evening, half past seven o'clock: Topic: "Duties of Christians to their country;" discussion to be opened by Rev. W. A. McGinley, of Portsmouth, and Geo. M. Shepherd, of Epping.

Wednesday, 8:30 o'clock A. M., experience meeting; 9:30, discussion on topic "How can we, as Christians, make it more manifest to the unbelieving that we are actuated by higher motives and living for a higher end?"—discussion to be opened by Rev. Swift Byington, of Exeter; 10:30, topic, "How can homes represented by these churches be made more truly Christian?"—opened by Rev. C. Tenney, of Chester, and Edward Robie, D. D., of Greenland; 11:30, business meeting. Afternoon, two o'clock, sermon by Rev. Charles Packard, of Windham, to be followed by the communion.

The Rockingham County Woman's Missionary society will hold a meeting on Wednesday, at eleven in the forenoon.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The weather was all that could be wished, the rain of the previous night having cooled the air and laid the dust.

In the forenoon a detachment from Storer Post decorated the soldiers' graves in the North and Catholic cemeteries, and fired volleys of musketry at each place.

The organization of the procession in the afternoon was as had been previously announced, except that the Heavy Artillery did not appear. The route, exercises at the cemetery, and battalion dress parade before dismissal, were according to the programme.

The marine corps, as usual, looked and marched finely, and made a prominent feature in the procession.

The City Guards, Capt. James E. Ford, are entitled to much credit for their neat and soldierly appearance, perfection in drill, and prompt attention to orders. Although their duties as escort during the day and evening were arduous, they promptly responded to every call made upon them. The captain and members of the company are to be congratulated upon the creditable standard to which the organization has attained.

The Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin, made a fine show, and performed their evolutions with a good degree of precision.

The Light Artillery do not appear on public parade quite as often as some other of our local companies, but when they do they always make a good appearance, and Memorial day was no exception to the rule. Their brilliant uniforms, and clean, bright equipments, attracted universal attention, and the soldierly bearing of the men was the theme of general remark along the route of the procession. During the countermarch on Congress street the pole to the limber of number two gun was snapped short off by the carelessness of the driver—who, by the way, was not a member of the company. The wreck was taken off in true military style after the close of the parade.

Col. Sise engine company paraded in a new and very handsome uniform, unlike anything previously seen in the way of firemen's dress, and a marked improvement.

Storer Post appeared with over fifty members, who in their new uniform looked finely, and in their different evolutions shew that they had not forgotten their drill.

The Dover and Kittery bands furnished good music, the latter showing great improvement since the previous Memorial day.

The supply of flowers was abundant, and the procession as a whole was fine; and though some of the organizations were late in appearing, Chief of Staff Preston was ready to move the procession at the appointed time.

The evening exercises drew a large audience, every seat in Music hall being filled, and a number of persons standing. Col. Sise introduced, as president of the evening, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, who was warmly greeted, and made a few brief and appropriate introductory remarks.

The music by Harlow's orchestra (of eleven pieces), and the singing of Miss Flanders, the double quartette and the Grand Army quartette, all received merited applause. The reading of Miss Johnson was especially pleasing, and fully deserved the cordial reception it received; she is a reader of decided ability. Mr. Stimpson also read finely, as he always does. Want of space prevents our giving a more extended notice of the exercises.

The address by Col. Henry O. Kent was worthy the occasion. It is printed in full in another part of this paper, and will be found very interesting. At the beginning of the war Col. Kent was made assistant adjutant general of the state by our venerable "war governor," Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, who paid Col. Kent a merited compliment for his efficiency in fitting out the first regiments that went to the front.

The exercises did not close until nearly half-past ten o'clock, but the entire audience remained until the end.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The 5th monthly meeting of the Rockingham County Temperance Association will be held in the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church in this city, on Thursday morning and afternoon, June 3d, at 10:30 and 1:30 o'clock. All friends of the cause are invited. Dinner will be served in the vestry of the church for the visitors at twelve o'clock, and contributions of food, fruit, flowers, etc., are solicited for the tables, and may be sent to the church on Thursday morning. Committee in charge, Bros. Taylor and Burnham, Sisters Spinney, Hooper, Deverson, Holmes and Thorndike.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The canal of the Mousam manufacturing company at Kennebunk, Me., burst Saturday. Damage not reported.

Arrangements have been effected for the holding of the following camp meetings at Old Orchard, during the summer: Faith, July 29th to August 7th; Portland District, August 9th to 14th; Ecumenical, August 17th to 24th; National Christian Temperance, August 24th to 31st.

The public debt was decreased $15,928,033.87 in May.

"Women Never Think."

If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, at a mere nominal expense, he would be forced to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

—The photographers have a new speech with which to gladden the hearts of their victims. They say, "Try and look as if you were sure that your candidate would be elected."

Richer in bone and fat producing materials than all others are Malt Bitters.

Our Red Brethren.

A Tucson, Arizona, despatch says that a special from Shakespeare, New Mexico, dated May 31st, says: "Two reports from Silver City state that a buckboard driver was killed by Indians yesterday, just west of Cummings. The mail was captured and destroyed. Sam Lyons, the station keeper, was killed, a number of cattle and stock taken, and several Mexicans were killed near Cummings and Hillsborough. Fifty head of stock were killed at the latter place, and a large number of horses stolen. Cook's canon is reported full of Indians, and massacres of almost hourly occurrence. There is an absolute reign of terror east of Silver City, and mail communication is suspended."

Specials from southern New Mexico say the Indians attacked a party of Mexicans at old Fort Cummings on Saturday, and one man was wounded. Major Bird, paymaster, who was passing, pursued the Indians with his escort, and fought them all the afternoon. They retreated into Cook's canyon at night. Since then five dead bodies have been found in Cook's canyon, among them that of Sam J. Lyons and a stage driver. All the bodies were terribly burned. A stage coach and three wagons were also burned. It is supposed that three or four persons besides those found, were massacred. The Indians left in the direction of the Florida mountains. Troops arrived at the scene on Saturday, and took up the trail of the Indians."

Four companies of the third cavalry left Laramie City, Wyoming, on Monday, for the North Park, to protect miners and propectors from the Utes. Maj. Carleton commands the expedition. Twenty-five wagons, each drawn by six mules, accompanied the column, and fifty-three pack mules left next day to overtake them. Dr. Cannon and an assistant, with two ambulances, also left with the troops.

News and Notes.

The Newport (R. I.) News says it is rumored that a compromise is being effected between the Old Colony and Stonington steamboat companies, by which each is to discontinue one of its two lines to New York. It is the intention of both companies to do away with the $1 fare, and establish their old rate of $3.

The Carolina Central railroad, extending from Wilmington to Shelby, N. C., with all property, rights and franchises, was sold on Monday by auction, under a decree of foreclosure, for $1,200,000. A committee on behalf of the first mortgage bondholders were the purchasers.

Jack Fleeat of England, and George Turnbull of McKeesport, Pa., fought a prize fight near McKeesport Monday for $250 a side. Sixty-six rounds were fought, resulting in a victory for Turnbull. The fight lasted an hour and a half, and was most brutal. Fleeat is fifty-four years of age, has fought twenty-five battles, and was never whipped before. Turnbull is thirty-eight. There were no arrests.

By the explosion of a barrel of kerosene on board the British ship Sophia, at Philadelphia, Saturday, three men lost their lives, two others were probably fatally burned, and the ship was set on fire though not greatly damaged. The explosion was caused by one of the men putting a red hot poker against the barrel to scare his companions, in which he succeeded.

A cyclone at Savoy, Texas, on Friday night last, almost destroyed the town, throwing down nineteen stores, the depot and over twenty dwellings. Nine persons were killed, and over sixty injured, some of whom will die. Only five houses in the place were left unharmed.

Four French Canadian boys got caught on the rocks in midstream of the Merrimac river at Lowell, Mass., Friday evening, by a sudden rise of the water caused by the shutting of the canal gates, and had to remain there all night, several efforts to rescue them having failed.

—A father told his charming daughter lately that she must not listen to flatterers. "But, papa," she replied, "how can I tell that they flatter me unless I do listen?" And he leaned over the end of the piano and commenced to think.

Cuticura

HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. In fact forty minutes after taking the first dose it may be detected in the blood, sweat, and urine, showing that it has entered the blood and been distributed throughout the entire system. In its passage through the circulating fluids it meets with the corrupt particles of matter which foster and maintain disease, with which it chemically unites, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.

Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous, and Cankerous Humors, which unchecked fill the body with foul corruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.

CUTICURA, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and Skin, Ulcers, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of outward applications. It speedily destroys fungus and parasitic growths, restores the oil glands and tubes to a healthy condition, and cures, when assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, diseases of the skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a life-time.

SKIN DISEASE.

Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gent emen,—CUTICURA REMEDIES have done me a power of good. I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years. Some days it troubles me more than others, but at night the itching nearly drove me wild.

I would scratch until the blood would run down my limbs.

I have had several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but others said not.

I will say that before I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES I was in a fearful state, and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.

But, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, about which I had read so much.

They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and of my own free will and accord I recommend them. Yours truly,

S. A. STEELE.
68 W. VAN BUREN ST., CHICAGO, ILL., March 7, 1876.

MORE GOOD THAN DOCTORS

In Three Years of Treatment.

Gentlemen,—I send 50 cents to pay for small box of CUTICURA and direct it to me. The dollar box you sent me has done me more good than all the doctors in three years. The doctors have done me no good. My feet and legs are healing fast. It is indeed CUTICURA.

Yours truly,
EVAN MORGAN, P. M.
MOSCOW, MICH., June 25, 1878.

CUTICURA SOAP.

Superior to Any.

CHAS. DENNIN, Druggist, First Place, cor. Court Street, Brooklyn, March 4, 1878.

I can cheerfully speak of the healing qualities of your CUTICURA SOAP, and its perfume is superior to any of the standard soaps now in use.

CHAS. DENNIN.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington St., Boston, and are for sale by all druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Commonwealth Distribution Co.,

AT MACAULEY'S THEATRE,

In the City of Louisville, on

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30th, 1880.

These Drawings, authorized by the Legislature of 1869, and sanctioned by all the courts of Kentucky, according to a contract made with the owners of the Frankfort grant, will occur regularly on the last day of every month, Sunday and Friday excepted, for the period of five years, terminating on June 30th, 1885.

The United States Circuit Court on March 31st rendered the following decisions:

1st. That the Commonwealth Distribution Company is legal.

2d. Its drawings are not fraudulent.

The management call attention to the liberal scheme which has met with such popular favor heretofore, and which will again be presented for June Drawing.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the Taste; Effective without Griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics and produce effects superior to Pills and Injection of the Liver. For adults, one MEDICATED PRUNE acts as a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of a cathartic medicine; no injury to the most delicate from griping. No bad effects follow repeated use. For children, one half a prune taken at bedtime gently regulates the system. The medication is entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley Malt and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Tissue Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anæmic the nervous, the osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and dyspeptical coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, alimentation of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.

Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the Delicious.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the chemists.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of all sarsaparillas or blood purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening of maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Hanging the Sparrow.

A curious spectacle was witnessed at Lansingburgh, N. Y. An English sparrow had roused the anger of a pair of robins, and a fight took place between them on the roof of the Rawson hall. The sparrow fought pluckily, and one of the robins flew off while the other continued the fight. The robin messenger returned with a piece of cord that was soon wound around the sparrow's neck, and the end held in the bill of one of the executioners. This done, the sparrow was forced off the edge of the roof and briskly attacked by the other robin. Thus situated the sparrow was comparatively helpless, and in a short time hung suspended by the neck, dead. After holding their victim and pecking him until assured he was beyond resurrection, the victorious robins flew to their nest in the tree, singing merrily.

—After many years' experience and intercourse with our fellow men, we have reached the conclusion that the only men who know how to conduct a newspaper successfully and to the public satisfaction, are those gifted beings who never do it. They always devote their talents and learning to making shoes, or selling beards or fish, or some other literary pursuit.

—Hannibal Roe had read that bears would not eat dead men. Therefore, when he found himself caught in a Montana canon by a big she bear, he lay still as death on his face. But she bit him horribly, and he had about made up his mind that she was not to be imposed upon, when she heard one of her cubs cry, at a little distance, and trotted off, doubtless intending to return at her leisure. Roe was so badly wounded that his recovery is doubtful, but he managed to escape by dragging himself through a creek and hiding on the other side.

—A smart young man asked a gentleman from Cape Cod, "What's the difference between you and a clam?" thinking the Cape Codger would say he didn't know, and then the young man would pity him for not being able to see any difference between himself and a clam, but the thing didn't work. The Codger took the young man and swept a path across the street with him, and then, after crowding him into an empty fish barrel and yanking him out again, said, "A clam wouldn't be playing with you this way. That's the difference 'twixt me and a clam." The young man had no more questions to ask.—Boston Post.

was for years offered in every paper of the land by the former proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for a case of catarrh it would not cure. It cures by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties. Snuff or dust of any kind merely dries up catarrh and drives it to the lungs. This remedy has stood the test of time, having been a popular remedy for a quarter of a century. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

THE FOLLY OF FOLLIES. Many persons are accustomed to disregard all slight symptoms of disease, saying, "Let it go as it came." But when one feels the symptoms of Kidney Disease—such as pain in the back and loins, palpitation, urinary derangement, etc.—to neglect them is the folly of follies. Kidney, bladder, liver and urinary complaints are always liable to end fatally if neglected. The true cure for them is Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine. There is no symtom or form of kidney disease that Hunt's Remedy is not master of. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

Speer's Medicinal Sambuci Wine for Females.

This wine is made from the juice of cultivated Sambucus fruit. The best judges pronounce it superb. It is being highly recommended as a family wine by some of the best families in the States; and has been adopted by the New York Hospital, and by physicians generally in this country and Europe, as a very superior wine for consumption, kidney difficulties, female weakness and general debility, and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. The virtues attributed to the wine are numerous and long standing; and it is pleasant to know that some person has succeeded in making and putting in market a pure article of wine for medicinal use.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

The River and Harbor Steal.

The department of the government having the matter in charge, this year submitted estimates calling for about $5,000,000 for the improvement of rivers and harbors. Almost any other call for appropriations—for the necessary expenses of the army, the navy, the judiciary, or the post-office—would be opposed by the "democratic reform" congress, which has repeatedly refused to appropriate sufficient money for the pressing needs of the government; but when it comes to the annual river and harbor steal, the "reform" democracy go far ahead of the worst "carpet-bag" government that ever flourished in a southern state, even allowing the worst told of those governments to be true. Of the great steal this year the Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says:

It is in many respects the worst bill that has ever been made by congress. It appropriated the largest sum ever before contained in a river or harbor bill as it left the house commerce committee, and it has been increased in the senate so that it now calls for $9,000,000. The important rivers and harbors have as usual been neglected for the creeks and brooks of the country. Late in the afternoon Senator Beck made a vigorous protest against the bill, which is almost four millions in excess of the estimates of the engineers. Of course it will pass, but many of those who will vote for it are saying that they wish they could see their way clear to vote against it.

Truck and Dicker.

The state conventions of the greenbackers and democrats of Maine were held at Bangor on the 1st inst., and the greenbackers swallowed the democratic party with the greatest of ease. There were over 1500 delegates in the greenback convention, and about 700 in the democratic one. Gen. Harris M. Plaisted was nominated by the greenbackers, on a repudiation-inflation platform; the democrats made no nomination, but "endorsed" Plaisted, and carefully passed no resolutions at all. Neither convention nominated presidential electors, the matter being left with the two state committees, the bargain being that the greenbackers shall name four candidates and the democrats three.

Republican National Convention.

The republican national convention met in Chicago on Wednesday, June 2d, and was called to order at one o'clock.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Cameron of the national committee, who was not deposed from the chairmanship on the previous day, as reported by the telegraph.

Hon. George F. Hoar of Massachusetts was unanimously chosen as temporary chairman, and committees on credentials, resolutions, etc., were appointed.

It is not probable a nomination will be effected before Thursday night or Friday forenoon.

A Thief Gone.

Information has been received in New York of the death at Marseilles, France, on the 30th of May, of Richard B. Connelly, "Slippery Dick," ex-comptroller of New York, democratic politician, and thief on general principles. He was the most astute of the Tammany ring thieves, and more lucky or more shrewd than Tweed and the rest of his pals, as he succeeded in getting out of the country—and keeping out of it—with a stolen fortune estimated all the way from three to five millions. But he was only a sneak thief after all, notwithstanding his vast wealth.

News and Notes.

Goss and Ryan had a fight near Collier's station, W. Va., on the 1st inst., for $2000 and the championship of America. Goss was beaten in eighty-seven rounds. Ryan was shockingly disfigured.

At Texarkana, Ark., on the 30th ult., a mob attempted to take from jail and lynch a negro arrested for an attempted rape. The friends of Cromwell, the prisoner, fired upon the mob. The fire was returned, and eight persons are reported wounded, some, it is supposed, fatally. The prisoner had been previously removed to jail at another place, the sheriff apprehending danger.

Cheney Brothers of South Manchester, Conn., will at once enlarge their silk mills by a building containing a 200-horse-power engine, to be used to make into fabric the waste material which cannot be made into sewing silk, and of which three hundred tons have accumulated.

Edward Garvey, fourteen years old, of New Milford, Conn., fatally shot himself by accident a few days ago, with a revolver.

A young married man named Charles F. Clark, of Lynn, Mass., tried to commit suicide by hanging himself from a tree on the evening of the 31st ult., but he was cut down before much injury had resulted. Clark was intoxicated at the time, and had been on a spree for several days. He has one child. His wife is well spoken of by all who know her, and is a hard working woman. Clark was seen by some friends as he was about to hang himself, and was immediately cut down.

Jacob Page of Newburyport, a barber, went to Ipswich, Mass., from Newburyport with a two-horse load of household goods, and in alighting from the team in the yard of the house he was about to occupy, by the sudden starting of the horses he was thrown under the wagon, the wheels passing over him, killing him almost instantly.

Freddie Leach, four years old, living near North square, Boston, was playing near the fence of the Hancock schoolhouse on Prince street, on Tuesday afternoon, the 1st inst., when he got his head caught between two of the iron slats of the gate. A large crowd gathered on the scene, but the boy's head could not be disengaged until one of the slats was cut off.

Joseph Gilbert, a young man living in the Bunker Hill district of Boston, was boating with a young lady on South Boston flats, on the 31st ult., when he lost one of his oars, and in attempting to catch it capsized the boat. Being unable to swim, he was drowned. The young lady clung to the boat, and was saved.

New Hampshire Items.

A child of Mr. Sargent of New Ipswich, two years and a half old, was killed by a ram on the 1st inst.

Elm cottage in Bethlehem was burned June 2d, through a defect in the chimney. Loss $3500. Caleb Knowles was dangerously injured, and Wm. McIntire had a leg broken, by falling timbers.

The assessors of Manchester have completed their work so far as to announce the valuation of the city for 1880. It aggregates $17,888,954, against $17,569,982 in 1879, an increase of $318,972. The rate of taxation is $14.80 per $1,000, and $1.48 poll tax. This rate is two cents lower than last year, and the amount raised by taxation more.

Naval Gazette.

Chief Engineer Wm. W. W. Wood has been placed on the retired list.

Chief Engineer Walter D. Smith has been ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea service.

Assistant Surgeon E. H. Marsteller has been ordered to the naval hospital at Philadelphia.

Passed Assistant Engineer William H. Harris has been ordered to special duty connected with the Galena, at Norfolk.

Passed Assistant Surgeon John M. Steele has been detached from the naval hospital at Philadelphia, and ordered to the receiving ship Passaic, at Washington.

The United States steamer Tennessee sailed from Fortress Monroe for New York May 31st.

Better Late than Never!

"Don't put off until to-morrow what can and should be done to-day," is wise. If you have never used SOZODONT for your teeth, make a bee-line to the druggist and get a bottle and begin to use it at once. "Verb. sap."

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 4th&f

How a French Cook Improved His Broth.

At the celebrated home of social, but aristocratic Democracy, the famous Manhattan Club, on Fifth Avenue, New York City, the theme of conversation recently has been not so much as to the coming nominee at Cincinnati as to the luck of one Monsieur Emil Sigrist, a veritable chef de cuisine, who bought of M. A. Dauphin, at No. 319 Broadway, New York City, for a dollar, a half ticket, No. 16,046, in the April drawing of the world renowned Louisiana State Lottery, at New Orleans, and drew half of the second capital of $10,000. He put it in U. S. Government 4 per cent. loan, and still presides over the pots and pans. Who is next?

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York C. D&W13m81

Challenge.

I ISSUE the following square and friendly challenge, with the hope that it may result in an interesting race, to our boating fraternity in and around Portsmouth.

I will sail my cat-boat "Little Fraud," built by me, against any sail-boat owned in the harbor of Portsmouth, and of from sixteen to twenty-two feet keel, for a race to be picked anywhere from the vicinity of Portsmouth Bridge to Kittery Rock Buoy and return; or to Boston, as may agreed on.

Stakes to be from $25 a side to $100 a side. Sloops to carry jib and mainsail only, and catboats to carry mainsail only. The race to be a F. F. race, and this challenge to stand open till the 15th inst., inclusive. Boston Club rules to govern in regard to length of water-line and time allowance.

This is a boat I have not yet taken any prizes in, but it is the boat I intend to win prizes with.

WILLIAM W. DIXON.

KITTERY, Me., June 2, 1880.

Political Matters.

The democrats of New Hampshire, in their state convention, passed a set of dish-water resolutions which said nothing at all, and called forth only derision and contempt. The democrats of Maine did better, at their state convention, for they meekly swallowed the flat broth held to their lips by the greenbackers, and did not pretend to "resolve" anything nor to nominate anybody.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

AROUND HOME.

Two yachts arrived in the lower harbor on Wednesday.

The fishing schooner Ev Nichols is having new hatch-coamings put in, and other slight repairs made, at Kittery.

Dr. Donaldson is absent from town, attending the American Medical convention in New York city; he will be home on Friday.

The work of regrading the sidewalk around the Franklin building has commenced; the raise will be from four inches to a foot.

William H. Bryant, of Salem, N. H., confined in Exeter jail on account of liquor selling, committed suicide on Wednesday.

At the annual meeting of the New England Ship Owners' Association, held in Boston on the 1st inst., Hon. Daniel Marcy of this city was re-elected as one of the five vice presidents.

The schooner Sunbeam, Teal master, from Roundout bound for this port, carried away the head of her mainmast in Vineyard sound, on the morning of the 29th ult., and put into New Bedford for repairs.

Leopold & Guppy's pavilion circus opened at Dover on the 1st inst. The Democrat says the afternoon show was tolerably well attended, and the performances excellent. In the evening there was a large audience.

A black sea-bass was taken in the weir at Gerrish's island, at the mouth of this harbor, on the 1st inst. The weir men say that Prof. Baird reports this fish as never appearing north of Cape Cod, so they turned this strange fellow adrift well up the river, hoping to naturalize him.

Owners of fast sail-boats can learn of a grand opportunity to show what their crafts can do, by consulting the challenge in another column, issued by Mr. Wm. W. Dixon of Kittery. Mr. Dixon thinks the "Little Fraud" can sail some, and is willing to race her with anything of nearly her size owned on the river.

The dead whale which some fishermen hauled ashore on Appledore island has been cut up, and yielded about four hundred and fifty gallons of oil, probably only about half of what might have been got had they had the proper implements to work with. The Laighton Brothers bought the bones, which are now wired together and hang back of the hotel. The whale was evidently killed by a bomb-lance, as he was badly torn to pieces inside.

The Portsmouth Baptist Sunday school convention held its 27th annual session in this city on the 2d inst., at the Middle street church, the attendance not being large, probably on account of the weather. Benj. B. Jewell of South Hampton was re-elected president, and Rev. C. A. Town of Dover secretary and treasurer. There are now fifteen Sunday schools connected with the convention, fourteen of them reporting at this meeting. A collation was served in the chapel at noon.

The steamer Empire State, the elegant and commodious excursion steamer which made so many trips last season from Boston to the Shoals, Provincetown, Gloucester, etc., will resume her excursions from Boston about June 15th. The music for the excursions will be furnished by Mr. Charles H. Tompson, formerly of this city, who provided the band on the boat last season, and who was for years the efficient leader of the Portsmouth cornet band, in the good old times when Portsmouth was able to boast a band of its own, and did not have to rely upon Dover, Kittery and Rye for martial music, as at present. He has this year a very superior band of eighteen or twenty pieces, which he calls "Tompson's Select Band and Orchestra," and will give daily concerts of a very high order on board the big steamer.

Mr. Alexander H. Ladd had in his garden this season, at one time, from six to eight thousand tulips in bloom.

The County Temperance meeting opens at the Pearl street church at half-past ten this (Thursday) morning. All are invited. Contributions of food, etc., for the tables, may be sent to the church. Mrs. Thorndike, treasurer of the ladies' committee, will receive money from those who prefer to contribute that. Singers are invited to meet at the church at nine o'clock for rehearsal for the day, and to bring Gospel Hymns, Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Jan 2; Batchelder, J.

John Hoyt, for an aggravated assault upon his wife, was bound over to the October term of the supreme court, sureties in $200 being demaded.

Robert Foster was up on a charge of drunkenness; he promised to skip the town if let go, and as he is good for nothing anyway he was allowed to leave.

Martin Cavanagh, a marine, paid $9.90 as the price of one drunk by him had and utilized.

GOOD THING.

"Can you oblige me with a postage stamp?" is a frequent query in the vestibule of the post-office between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock A. M., while the mails from the west and north are being assorted, and those for the west are being made up. There is a good deal of business concentrated between these hours at the post-office every forenoon, and frequently persons reach the office with the intention of posting a letter for which they may have no stamp. To remedy this inconvenience and to promote as far as possible the convenience of persons visiting the post-office, Postmaster Pierce has directed the sale of stamps at the general delivery during the time the office is usually "closed" while mails are being assorted. This is not to be understood as a change in the mode of delivery of letters; nor should box-holders who send or go to the office without keys, expect to be allowed to annoy the distributors by calling for their mail-matter. It is simply an additional accomodation established by our postmaster, at his own expense, as the government makes no provision for the cost of additional clerk-hire for this service. This additional accommodation will be appreciated by many; and with the increased number of mails which come to the office, and the prompt manner in which they are distributed, Portsmouth people ought to be abundantly satisfied with their postal facilities.

MODERN CHIVALRY.

The days of chivalry have passed; the heroes of the crusades lie mouldering in forgotten graves; the rust of ages dims the lustre of helmet and cuirass; broken are the trusty swords and trenchant lances of Hugh Capet, Cœur de Leon, and the Cid. The glittering array of steel-clad men and barbed steeds who fought for the possession of the Holy Sepulchre has vanished; gone are the days of the tournament, when brave men sought recreation in the jousting list, and manfully encountered danger in their trials of skill in the use of arms.

In contemplating the sublime examples of the heroes, martyrs, and saints of history, one is forced to the conclusion that manhood has woefully declined since the invention of gunpowder. The grand tournament which was held recently in Kittery, by a company of Boston "gentlemen," however, seems to demonstrate that the chivalric spirit of the old heroic days still lingers in the breast of the few noble fellows who fearlessly entered the arena with their trusty weapons, and performed prodigious deeds of valor. When the bloody strife was over, two hundred of their fierce adversaries had fallen in the fight,—two hundred pigeons lay weltering in their gore. Only one of the heroic band was wounded in the fray, and fears are entertained that he was not hurt very much.

The laws of Massachusetts and New Hampshire prohibit such manly exhibitions as cock-fights, dog-fights and pigeon-shooting; therefore the shores of Maine are made the theatre of the wild encounters of the Tremont champions—with a lot of tame pigeons. ARROW.

A CHAPTER OF ERRORS.

There live in this city two men, brothers, of whom we have a few words to say. For convenience sake we will assume that their name is Murphy—Felix and Ichabod—and that each one runs a blacksmith shop. We assume this because it is as far from the actual facts in the case as we can conveniently get.

There are several points of similarity between these two men. Both are men, each is the other's brother, they bear the same family name, and their occupation is the same. But there are also several points of difference.

Felix, energetic and intemperately industrious, recklessly outspoken, and ever ready to hit a head (figuratively) whenever he sees it, is known far and near as an extremist in his opposition to everything that can intoxicate and to many things that can't, and is thought to look upon tobacco as the real personal devil.

Ichabod, rather indolent and easy-going, circumspect in speech, mild and gentle in disposition, and retiring almost to the point of bashfulness, is hardly known outside of his own shop; but it is feared by the few who do know him that he is of the unregenerate so far as beverages are concerned, and there is no doubt at all as to his smoking "navy plug."

Thus much introductory.

A couple of weeks ago a customer went to Ichabod's shop to get a horse tired or a wheel tempered, or something of that kind, and was greeted in the most friendly manner by the boss, who handed him a dark-colored bottle supposed to hold a pint, but which doesn't—pint bottles never do—with the remark,

"Go over to Steward's grocery and get this filled, and we'll have something."

Entering the grocery the messenger sat the bottle on the counter, remarked "Pintterrum—old," and in a few minutes was back in the blacksmith shop. Pouring a wine-glassful of the contents from the bottle into another vessel, a goodly dose of Angostura bitters was poured in, and the twain then liberally sampled the purchase, the customer taking the first drink. When they got through the customer spoke up:

"I say, what do you call that? That aint rum? Tastes good, though."

"Rum? No; that's sherry; here, take it back, and get something fit for grown men to drink."

The customer departed, but returned in a moment with a full bottle and the following explanation:

"Met Steward just outside o' the shop, comin' over; he gave our bottle to a Rye man what wanted a pint o' sherry for his wife, who's sick, and gave us his sherry. He took the sherry, and handed me this."

The fresh bottle was treated with bitters, as the other had been, and on investigation was found to be what was wanted.

Pretty soon Ichabod spoke:

"Say, did you tell Steward there was a lot of bitters in that sherry?"

"No," was the answer; "I forgot it. I'll go right over now, and tell him."

Soon he returned, and made a report as follows:

"I told Steward about the bitters, and he says, 'There; that accounts for it. I filled that bottle up, and the man tasted it, and said 'twas far the best sherry he ever tasted.' No wonder 'twas good, with a lot of nice Angostura bitters in it."

"That's so," said Ichabod; "but I'm a little puzzled to know how it was that that chap who bought sherry 'for his sick wife' found out what was in his bottle so mighty quick—quicker than we found out what was in ours, when we bought our stuff to drink ourselves, and not for our sick wives at home!"

About ten days after the occurrences above related, the man who went to the grocery from Ichabod's shop happened to be in the establishment conducted by Felix, when there entered a stout, good-humored deacon from Rye, who addressed the proprietor thus:

"Felix, Mr. Love of our place has been telling a story all through Rye and North Hampton, about you, and I thought I'd come in and let you know about it. He says he went to a store here to get some sherry for his sick wife, and after he left the store he found he'd got rum; and when he went back, the storekeeper said, 'There; I must have sent your sherry down to Mr. Murphy, the blacksmith, and given you his rum; I'll send right down and get it.' And he says that when the bottle came back you'd drank about half of the sherry, and blowed the messenger up because it wasn't rum!"

"Well!" remarked the wondering Felix, "that's a pretty yarn for Mr. Love or anybody else to tell, about me. If he or anybody else says that, he lies like a door-mat thief. If any bummer was to bring either rum or sherry—and one is just as bad as the other—into my shop, I'd smash the bottle with this sledge-hammer, and kick out the fellow, if I could. You can tell him that, from me."

For a few moments there appeared a fair prospect of a duel or a law-suit, and then the third man made all clear to the blacksmith and the worthy deacon by relating the circumstances as we have given them; but probably the good people of Rye and North Hampton will always credit Felix Murphy with the sin of his unregenerate brother, and the latter will go down to the grave wondering how it was that the man who bought sherry "for a sick wife" ten miles away, found out so quickly that it was rum which was in his pocket-pistol.

THE REAL REASON.

A Kittery correspondent of the Times, writing under date of June 1st, undertook to get a rap at Mr. Edwin C. Neally, chief engineer of the navy yard fire department, as follows:

At the navy yard, where the rule of multiplication, division and silence has been so effectual for the last ten years, some little misunderstanding is in existence. Last Sunday, when notice was given that the centennial of the Methodist Sabbath school would be celebrated, Admiral Neally gave notice that he could not be present, as he felt his duty called him to Chicago in preference to the table where bread and wine are served, but Commodore Beaumont has taken a different view and directs the admiral to remain at his post.

That correspondent no doubt meant well, but he didn't know. It was not Commodore Beaumont's order that prevented Mr. Neally from going to Chicago, but the non-arrival of his relief—who got along on the evening of the 1st inst., in the shape of a sturdy first assistant engineer.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

There is living in Kittery a family of eight persons, the youngest of whom is fourteen years old, and not one of whom can either write or read.

E. M. Goodall and C. A. Bodwell of Sanford have built a house one thousand feet long for the propagation of trout. The building contains fifteen tanks, each capable of supporting about twenty thousand fish. They have about one hundred and fifty thousand at present, varying in size from minnows to well grown ones of two pounds in weight.

Rev. Mr. Beck, who presides over the Baptist church at Kittery, gave notice that on Sunday afternoon he should deliver a memorial address; and to his surprise on entering the church he found the desk handsomely decorated with the stars and stripes, graced with a profusion of flowers in fancy designs and bouquets. Mr. Beck was chaplain in a Massachusetts regiment during the war, and spoke with the fervor and experience of one who knows his subject. His gratification at the tribute paid him on the occasion, which was done by some of the ladies of the society, was reciprocated on his part by giving them a very eloquent discourse. Such little incidents are pleasant, and are a strong connecting link between the pastor and his parishioners. B.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

Hints to Stock Speculators.

Don't go into stock speculation unless you have at least one thousand dollars.

A smaller sum would hardly pay the "knowing ones" for the trouble they will be put to in aiding you to obtain an experience.

Verily, the laborer is worthy of his hire.

Having made up your mind to buy, the question is, What?

Ask one of the "knowing ones" aforesaid.

He will tell you without hesitation.

He will do better.

Not only will he tell you what to buy, but out of his own possessions will he sell to you.

The man who tells you how to invest money so that it shall double itself in a ridiculously short time is a friend worth having.

What shall be said of him who not only does this, but throws away his own opportunities for gain, that you may achieve affluence?

Could disinterestedness further go?

If the stock should fall, as it certainly will, you will naturally rejoice that you have, unwittingly to both, been the means of preventing misfortune falling on so self-sacrificing a person.

You will then buy yet more of his stock.

This for one of two reasons.

Either, you will say, "I have done this noble man a good turn. Therefore will I purchase yet again, for peradventure it may fall out in the selfsame way again."

Or you will, if of a sordid nature, be so ungrateful as to think that you will do better next time.

In the guilelessness of his heart he will tell you that you certainly will.

He is of a hopeful nature.

Upon your entrance into the stock market, you will without doubt be surprised at the interest operators take in your welfare.

If money is to be made in Pinchbeck, you will know it.

Every other man you meet will advise you to buy Pinchbeck.

Your first impulse will be to cry aloud, "Why did I ever say that this was a selfish world?"

Here are fifty men with money in their pockets.

They know that Pinchbeck is going to rise.

They don't rush in and buy all that can be got.

No, they want to give you a chance.

You get it.

Of course Pinchbeck will persist in falling right in the face of their asseverations to the contrary.

But that is in the nature of things.

It is no fault of theirs.

Nomore is it their fault that Brummagem, which they took off your hands as worthless, has jumped up a hundred per cent.

They are not infallible.

If stocks will indulge now and then in such unaccountable freaks, how can they hinder them?

They have one comforting thought in their disappointment.

Somebody has profited by their advice.

Probably if nobody had been made richer by their advice, they might never give any more!

That would be sad.

Many more hints might be given; but they are not necessary.

Be guided by what we have already written and it will suffice.

It always does.—Transcript.

A bright, good-looking girl, about fourteen years old, named Ella Keith, belonging in Westfield, Mass., who was engaged at Chicopee to work in a restaurant and newsroom at Springfield, where she proved to be very apt and efficient, was on the 30th ult. converted into Master Keith, by his mother, who had been searching for him, and put in an appearance. The boy's leaving home was due to a freak growing out of pique at a younger brother. He divested himself of man's raiment in the woods, and went in woman's guise to Chicopee, where he associated with young girls in the boarding-house, and neither there or in Springfield was his sex suspected by any one. Inquiries for the boy were made in all the vicinity, including Springfield, but all search for him failed until a couple of Westfield women recognized him at the newsroom.

—Small boy (rushing in front of young lady wearing large poke bonnet, and staring her full in the face)—"You've lost yer bet, Charlie; I told yer it warn't an old woman."

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

will change the beard to a BROWN or BLACK at discretion. Being in one preparation it is easily applied, and produces a permanent color that will not wash off.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE;

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, muscular (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, nervous stomach and liver, bronchitis and impaired coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, convalescence of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy or the blues, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.

Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the Delicious.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the general functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation is the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep a stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

The Hotel Beat.

Talk about your hotel beats, (said a clerk in a hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, the other evening,) I heard of one of the toughest cases which happened a short time ago. I got the first part of the story from the proprietor of a prominant restaurant, to whom the fellow told a history of the affair before he skipped out of town. He said that one evening this fellow came in and sat down to a table, giving his orders with the air of a millionaire. He was nicely dressed, and wore a long, handsome ulster. After he had finished his supper he started out, seeming to forget that he hadn't paid. The proprietor stopped him with the reminder of the fact, when it was found that the fellow was a beat, and hadn't a cent of money.

The restaurateur was angry, and about to administer a dose of leather, when the fellow begged off, and said he would leave his pantoloons with the proprietor as security till morning. The gentleman, in order to test him, consented, and the fellow went behind the screen and divested himself of the aforementioned garment, leaving only the light covering of his underclothing. With his ulster buttoned close around him, he still had the appearance of a finely dressed gentleman with his pataloons stuffed in his boot tops. He left his breeches and went out.

Entering a certain prominent hotel he walked to the register, entered his name, demanded to be shown to his room, and instructed the clerk to have him called at eight o'clock in the morning, all of which was complied with; but when the boy called him at eight o'clock the air about that room was blue with profanity, and the fellow ordered the boy to send the landlord up immediately. The landlord, thinking something terrible had happened, immediately repaired to the room and found his guest apparently in a terrible rage. He wanted to know what kind of a house they kept.

"Just look here," said he; "my pantaloons, containing my pocketbook and watch, are gone, and some one connected with the house took them, for they must have crawled in over the transom. I tell you I'll give this place away to every man on the road." The landlord was considerably chagrined about the matter, and sent out for a pair of pantaloons, and as the rest of the clothes were very elegant, an elegant pair was purchased. The fellow was then taken to breakfast, and shown the best attention the house could afford. After breakfast the landlord gave him twenty dollars, as he had to leave immediately, and promised to leave no stone unturned until the thief was discovered. The cute young gentleman went to the restaurant, redeemed his trowsers, told the story, and skipped the town about nineteen dollars and fifty cents ahead.

—A playwright in Boston has received twenty-two applications to write plays from people of whom he had never heard, and of these, eight confess they have not been on the stage, and nine are from performers who wish to quit the variety business for a more legitimate sphere. Two are prepared to pay money down for a piece, sixteen wish to make payment contingent upon success, and four propose a partnership. The burden of nearly all the applications is "a piece with lots of fun."

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1880.

Republican National Convention.

The committee on permanent organizations, by a vote of thirty-one to nine, decided to recommend George F. Hoar to the convention as permanent chairman, on Wednesday.

The committee on resolutions organized with Pierrepont Edwards of New York in the chair, and J. D. Edwards of Nevada as secretary.

The committee on rules and order of business chose James A. Garfield chairman, and Thomas W. Chase of Rhode Island secretary.

The committee on credentials met, and it was moved that B. F. Tracy of New York, a Grant man, be made chairman. William E. Chandler moved to substitute the name of H. D. Conger of Michigan, which was agreed to, twenty-nine to eleven. Mr. Fessenden of Rhode Island was chosen secretary. The New England members of the committee are as follows: Maine, Lewis Barker; New Hampshire, Wm. E. Chandler; Vermont, John W. Stewart; Massachusetts, C. R. Codman; Rhode Island, John B. Sanborn; Connecticut, Samuel Fessenden. The committee after organizing adjourned till evening, when contested cases from Alabama were taken up.

On Thursday, a few minutes before twelve o'clock at noon, Senator Hoar called the convention to order. The committee on credentials not being ready to report, Mr. Conkling moved to adjourn until four o'clock; Mr. Hale opposed, and the motion was debated; finally a recess was taken until five o'clock.

The Maine Disk of Crow.

The old Jacksonian "mint-drops democracy" of Maine will this year have to vote for a man, as their candidate for governor, whom we believe was never in his life a democrat, and who certainly is a soft-money inflation'st, who four years ago was a strong Blaine man, and who until within a year was accounted a third-termer. And yet this nomination may not be so weak as it appears at first sight. Gen. H. M. Plaisted is a quiet, hard-working politician, not brilliant, but not destitute of adroitness nor weighed down by convictions. He made speeches to both the greenback and the alleged democratic conventions, and contrived to please both of them.

News and Notes.

A new magazine gun has been tested at the Washington navy yard. It consists of two steel barrels of the calibre of the regulation rifle. It is fed at the breech from a hopper, operated by a crank. Five thousand balls were fired in thirteen minutes, three men dividing that time in giving the crank the required rapid motion.

The whistling buoys now in common use weigh about fifteen tons each, and in their plunging, even in calm weather, a force of nearly three-horse-horse is evolved. To utilize this waste energy Mr. Edison has devised a small dynamo-electric machine to be carried by the buoy, the current from which will sustain an electric light equal to one gas jet. If successful, the self-illuminating buoys must be of great use to mariners.

James E. Williams has been sentenced to prison for four years in New York for swearing that his aunt, Mrs. Delia Little of San Francisco, was an habitual drunkard, by which means he had her incarcerated for six months in the workhouse on Blackwell's island, while he appropriated her property.

The trial of Frank Lawrence, formerly of Brattleboro, Vt., at Grand Rapids, Mich., on the charge of having administered a fatal dose of prussic acid to his father, has resulted in a verdict of not guilty.

On the 30th inst., at Frenier, La., a negro laborer named George Wilson entered the house of a Mr. Netz, who was absent from home, knocked Mrs. Netz and her mother-in-law senseless with a hatchet, stole $150, and made his escape. The women were found in a dying condition next day, by Mr. Netz.

The great 15-14-13 puzzle has reached England, and the newspapers are full of it. Englishmen are worse troubled than they were about the Eastern question. Scientific men there agree that 15-14-13 can not be done, the same conclusion which was reached in this country by mathematicians at least, if not by the public.

Selby, who however managed to escape and conceal himself in the cabin. The murderer escaped.

The Yarmouth, Mass., Register says that parties have been in Provincetown collecting evidence to show that for many years previous to the patent of Elisha Crowell, of New York, fish were prepared in the same way as his patent provides by numerous persons in Provincetown, and also says that "it is understood that Crowell's patent is to be contested by Gloucester parties."

A case of great interest to trawl-stealers as well as honest fishermen was heard in the superior court of Essex county, Mass., at its late session. Sanford G. Parker, of Gloucester, charged with the larceny of trawls, was found guilty, and the case was carried to the supreme court of the state on a question of jurisdiction, the offence having been committed more than three miles from shore. It is quite possible that the case of this petty trawl-thief may yet reach the supreme court of the United States.

The senate on the 2d inst. confirmed Horace Maynard of Tennessee to be postmaster-general of the United States. On the same day Senator Joe Brown of Georgia made his first speech in the senate, making an earnest plea for an appropriation for the improvement of a Georgia harbor.

New Publications.

We have received from John H. Tomlinson, of No. 62 31st street, Chicago, "Tomlinson's Handy Book for the Office and Home." It contains a very large amount of tabulated information, on many subjects concerning which a book of reference is constantly needed, and will be found a really "handy book" in both office and home. It is one of the best things of the kind we have ever seen.

"The pedigree and adventures of Tartarin of Tarascon." This is a translation by Robt. S. Minot from the French of Alphonse Daudet; the translation and publication in this country has been authorized by M. Daudet. It has in it much to admire, and its humorous description, keed satire and ludicrous incidents keep the reader in a constant state of good humored interest throughout the perusal of the book. Published by Lee and Shepard of Boston. In paper covers, fifty cents; in cloth, $1.00,—for sale at the book-stores.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,thkf

AROUND HOME.

The rate of taxation in Portsmouth this year is one and three-quarters per cent. Poll tax, $1.75. Amount to be raised, $115,000.

All persons having claims against the Memorial day committee, are requested to submit the same to Dr. Jas. R. May, treasurer, by the afternoon of the 7th inst.

A table in the basement of Mrs. B. B. Swasey's house on Hanover street took fire at a late hour on Thursday evening, making a great smoke and causing an alarm to be given. The table was the only thing burned.

Mr. Henry F. Gerrish has stretched along the Market square front of his store a fine new awning forty-seven feet long, nine feet wide at one end and about fifteen feet at the other, to suit the irregular width of the sidewalk. A strong, neat frame has been set up to fasten the lower edge of the awning to.

The band of Penobscot Indians camped near the south pond have got a fine canoe for navigating the pond, and it attracts considerable attention. It is a good many years since the waters of that pond were cut by an Indian canoe, though doubtless they were common enough there during the fishing seasons of long ago, before the pale face came to crowd the red man out of his ancient heritage.

The handsome uniform worn by the Col. Sise engine company, Memorial day, were made by Mr. Haley of Newmarket, and consists of sack coat, vest and trowsers of blue Middlesex flannel, with silver-plated puttons having on them the letters "F D," and caps of the same color, the whole making the neatest and most gentlemanly-looking parade uniform we ever saw worn by a fire company.

Mr. Fred G. Moses, successor to N. K. Walker & Son, has in stock a large variety of straw hats, from the finest Manila and Mackinaw down to the low-priced affair that can't be injured by being lost overboard or run over by the cars. Another seasonable article which he offers for sale is the Manila grass hammock—a most serviceable thing of the kind. Trunks, travelling bags, stiff and soft felt hats, etc., can also be found in quantity at this establishment.

The case of Rice vs. Rollins was argued in the law term of the supreme court at Concord on the 2d inst. This was a question of distribution of assets among the legatees of the will of the late Arabella Rice of Portsmouth, who died and left a large property, and the dispute arises as to how the property shall be divided. There are ten legatees. S. S. Goodall of Boston appeared for A. B. Upham, and F. W. Proctor for the defendants. The estate was inventoried at about $400,000

Henry H. Ham Jr., has received from the manufacturers a lot of his patent ship's-bell clocks, striking the marine "bells" instead of the hours. By an improvement in the gong arrangement the sound has been increased so that the clock now gives quite as loud a tone as the ordinary after bell of a ship, and we should think every master of a vessel would want one for these clocks in his cabin. We have no doubt that once they become known they will be very popular with the maritime fraternity.

The steam launch Gypsy, recently purchased to be used as a tender to the Wentworth house at Newcastle during the season, was built for Mr. J. W. Starr of Camden, N. J., who used her for shooting excursions along the southern coast during the winter, she being housed in almost her entire length, to furnish living accommodations. The house, which is put together in sections so as to be easily removed, will be replaced by an awning-deck; and the little boat, which is said to be very fast for a craft of her size, will no doubt be a favorite with the summer visitors at the hotel.

Rev. Alexander C. Child, recently of South Newmarket, having accepted a call from the Congregational church of West Gloucester, Mass., entered upon his duties as pastor on Sunday, the 30th ult.

The Knights of the Maccabees, which re-organized about two weeks ago under the new dispensation from the grand lodge at Buffalo, will hold their first meeting at the old Odd Fellows' hall on Daniel street, on Monday next. Their regular meetings will be held on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Exeter academy has, as appears by the catalogue for the 97th year, just issued, two hundred and four students. Thomas Harris Bartlett of Portsmouth is a member of the middle class. A descriptive list of the portraits and busts collected, largely through the instrumentality of Ex-Gov. Prescott, accompanies the catalogue.

The schooner yacht William H. Russell made her first trip for this season on Thursday last, taking down a large party, who report having had a first-rate time. The schooner has been thoroughly repaired and her accommodations much improved since last season; and her owner and skipper, Capt. Charles W. Drown, is a good seamen and has the disposition to make his patrons comfortable and happy.

The steamer Mystic commenced running regular trips between Kittery and this city on the 1st inst. She has been nicely fitted up, has forward and after cabins for passengers, with good deck-room, over which an awning will be spread; the engine and boiler have been thoroughly over-hauled, and everything done that could be to put the boat in first-class condition. She will make evening excursions down the river, and with Capt. "Rashe" Trefethen, her owner, as skipper and pilot, her passengers can entertain no apprehension. The Mystic's time-table can be found in another column.

The chains that held the large blocks of marble which were being hauled from the Concord railroad station to Mr. B. F. Webster's new house on Rundlett's mountain, on Wednesday of this week, broke two or three times en route, and well they might. The blocks which are designed for buttresses, weigh between seven and eight tons each, and were moved by means of a pair of high wheels borrowed at the navy yard, and five yoke of oxen. The marble comes over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad from Vermont, and when dressed and in place will be one of the finest pieces of work of the kind in the city.

A fine entertainment was given at the Sea View hall, Rye Beach, on Wednesday evening of this week, and was attended by a number of persons from this city, from Exeter and other neighboring towns. The programme was as follows:

Overture, Harlow's Orchestra.
Reading, "A Royal Princess," W. Russell Foster.
Song, "The Kerry Dance," Mrs. G. K. Hooper.
Reading, "The Bugle," Miss Stratton.
Violin solo, Master Hooper (aged twelve years,)
Reading, "The Maniac," Miss Stratton.
Ballad, Mrs. Hooper.
Reading, "At the Photographer's," W. R. Foster.

All the selections were highly appreciated by the audience, and both the lady performers received handsome floral tributes. Dancing followed, with music by Harlow's orchestra, and was continued till a late hour.

ROCKINGHAM CO. TEMP. ASS'N.

The Rockingham County Temperance association held its monthly meeting in the Pearl street church in this city on Thursday of this week, there being a very good attendance of citizens and visitors. President F. W. Miller presided, and C. T. Wiggin was at his post as secretary. Rev. Mr. Noyes of Raymond offered prayer, and Rev. E. Owen of this city made an address of welcome.

The committee appointed to consider the advisability of holding a mass meeting at the Hedding camp-ground on the 5th of July, reported in favor, and that the ground could be secured; it was voted to hold the next meeting of the association at that time and place, and Revs. Cilley of Newmarket, Noyes of Raymond, and Owen and Fitblado of this city, with Messrs. B. F. Thorndike and C. T. Wiggin, were appointed a committee to arrange for the same.

A series of resolutions in opposition to the liquor traffic was passed, and speeches were made by J. T. French, B. F. Thorndike, Rev. Wm. A. Rand of South Seabrook, Revs. Cilley and Noyes, J. B. Gough, 2d, and others.

A nice collation was served in the vestry at noon.

A WHOLESALE DEALER.

James M. Young, alias James Wright, recently keeper of the Queen's county, N. Y., almshouse on Barnum's island, has worked himself our of a job there by engaging in some remarkable business transactions, which look very like wholesale stealing of goods belonging to Queen's county, a large part of the stealings having come to New Hampshire.

Wright, it appears, owns two farms in Epping; his legal wife lives in Pittsfield, N. H.; the husband of one of her daughters, and Wright's "brother-in-law," live on one of the farms in Epping, the whole family having been for some time supported by Wright on goods shipped from Barnum's island. Another "Mrs." Wright, who was matron of the almhouse until the pair were kicked out a week or two ago by the supervisors, is a woman named Twombly, belonging in Durham.

The goods shipped by Wright to his Epping pensioners from September, 1879, to March, 1880, included seventy-four barrels of flour, three barrels of sugar, two barrels each of oatmeal, fish and pork, three kegs of butter, three chests of tea, barrel of syrup, side of sole leather, soap, poultry, feathers and other articles; and as he was a liberal shipper as long ago as early in 1878, his entire stealings must have amounted to something very handsome.

The goods were shipped from New York to Epping, at first to one Stephen McGovern, a man whom Wright sent to Epping from Barnum's island, and afterward to J. Twombly, a brother of "Mrs." Wright No. 2, (No. 4, according to some accounts, Wright having served a term in state prison for bigamy,) who was employed for a time at Barnum's island, and subsequently sent to Epping. McGovern testified before the supervisors at the examination in Jamaico, Queen's county, that goods came to Epping in great quantities, and were sold among the neighbors. Wright was before the supervisors on the first day of the examination, and swore to a lot of statements that were flatly contradicted by other persons, and many of them shown to be false; the next day he failed to appear. Where he and his woman now are we are not informed.

Sheriff J. Horace Kent has been at work upon this case since the 12th of March last, and was possessed of much of this information long ago; but as Wright was known to be a slippery customes when he was appointed, and the board of supervisors who appointed him was still in office, there was no use in trying to do anything in the matter. Recently a new board was chosen, and then the whole affair came out, and Wright cleared out.

A LIVELY SPOT.

Spring hill was the scene of at least a couple of brisk skirmishes, Memorial day. The first was in the morning, between Mr. Horace Tetherly of Eliot and a lot of the Church hill gamins. Mr. Tetherly, when visiting this city, leaves his boat near the market, and on this occasion when he returned he found that pirates had been into the boat, and disarranged things very greatly. He accused the boys of the mischief, on which they attacked him in force, and after a short conflict he was obliged to retreat, which he did rapidly but in good order, leaving the gamins venting their anger in loud threats as to what they would do in the future.

The other conflict reported to us was between a young fellow from Eliot and "Modoc"—which the same is a young lady of ten or twelve years, a denizen of that classic neighborhood. The young man is a big, fine-looking youth of nineteen years, weighing about one hundred and sixty pounds, and was pointed out to our informant that morning as being "able to whip anybody of his years in Eliot." Later in the day, after he had struggled with a considerable quantity of Portsmouth beverages, he found himself on Spring hill, and having said something to Modoc which displeased her, that lively damsel sailed in and gave him a decided thrashing.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The proprietor of the York County Independent, of Saco, announces that the publication of that paper will be discontinued July 1st.

A young colored man, named Manuel Morton, who says he is nineteen years old, is exciting the admiration of the Biddeford people. He belongs in Baltimore, is well proportioned, well dressed and of pleasing address, and is very nearly seven feet high.

The schooner Mary E. Caswell came off the marine railway at Kittery on the night of the 2d inst., and the schooner Ev Nichols went on. As soon as the latter is again floated the Star island landing-stage will be taken up, to have new ends put in and be otherwise repaired.

Tuesday, June 1st, was general opening day with the hotels at Old Orchard beach. Thomas G. Bradford of Boston arrived at the Old Old Orchard house on the previous Saturday, to spend his 31st season,—during all which time he has generally been the first to arrive at and last to leave the hotel. The Sea-Side Reporter, published at the beach during the season, has made its appearance, and the publisher announces that he shall commence a daily issue on the 6th of July.

In answer to Mr. Wm. W. Dixon's challenge of June 2d, for a race between the cat-boat "Little Fraud" and any other boat of specified length owned on the river, Mr. Samuel H. Pillsbury of Kittery calls attention to an offer made by him some weeks ago (to stand open indefinitely) to race his sloop "No Name" over a ten-mile course, either for pleasure or any sum up to ten dollars, with any boat owned here of a length between sixteen and twenty-two feet. If a race is really desired, there would seem to be no insurmountable obstacle in the way of getting one up.

THE OLD TOWN INDIANS.

The following account of the Penobscot Indians, which we take from the Newmarket Advertiser, was written for that paper by Joseph Newell, one of the tribe, and published verbatim by the editor, who says he wishes he could write half as good a hand as the Indian does. The sketch was written when the party now camped near the Universalist church in this city had their tents pitched in Newmarket.

I propose to give, in few words, some account of the tribe to which I belong and for whom I speak.

The Penobscot Indians still dwell in the land once owned by their fathers before the white men came to this country. By a treaty made between the state of Massachusetts and the Penobscot tribe, before Maine became a separate state, it is solemnly agreed that the Islands of the Penobscot river above the falls of Old Town shall belong to the tribe forever, so long as the tribe shall exist. These islands we occupy and cultivate; but our principal village is on an island known as Indian Old Town, where our ancestors lived for centuries, and where traces of them are still found in the arrow-heads, axes, pipes and other implements of stone which the farmer's plough still turns up from the soil. This island contains 300 acres, and lies just above Old Town falls; the town of Old Town is on the west bank of the river, and the town of Milton on the east,—both of them being villages of white men. On this island much the larger part of the tribe live; here is our church, one of our schools, our burying-grounds, our hall, and here we meet to hold our elections; here too are many houses; many of them large and handsome, and all of them comfortable and substantial. On this island, and on Orson island, next above it, are the most of our cultivated farms. Many of the tribe are skillful farmers, raising large quantities of vegetables, and cutting a great deal of hay. Most of us intend to keep a good number of cattle and horses, and different members of the tribe own already many horses, cows and other stock. Our schools are well-taught and well-attended, and almost all of the younger members of the tribe, and a great many of the older ones, are well-educated.

We have our own government, which is called the "Indian Organization;" we elect our governor and lieutenant-governor, and we also choose every year in October a representative to the state legislature of Maine, to look out for our interests. There is a general fund of seventy-three thousand dollars deposited in the state treasury belonging to our tribe; and the interest of this is paid to us yearly for the relief of the poor. We also receive a large sum of money for the use of the shores of our islands, which are rented to lumbermen to use in driving logs; this called "shorage-money," and is divided among the tribe once a year. The state of Maine appropriates something for us each winter in addition to the sums already mentioned; the whole amount of appropriations which we have received from the state is $11,746.70.

Thus it will be seen that with the produce of our farms, with the interest of our fund, with our shorage-money, and with the appropriations from the state, we need not be afraid of suffering. Our children are interested in their school-studies and learn quickly. Most of our young men have no trouble in finding work in woods in the winter and on the river in summer at good wages. The soil of our islands is good, and pays us for our labor. Our tribe is increasing in numbers, which shews that we have both health and strength. We are on good terms with our white neighbors in Old Town and Milford, and among ourselves we live together peaceably, as brothers ought.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th &eotnov80

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,

FOUR YEARS OLD.

This Celebrated Native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this Country. Its Invaluable are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

Speer's P. J. Sherry,

A delicate, fine flavored Sherry, from the Spanish grape, equal to the finest brands imported from Lisbon.

SPEER'S P. J. OR PEDRO J. BRANDY.

This noted Brandy is a pure distillation from the grape and is equal to the finest Hennessy or Otard Brandies; for medicinal purposes it can be relied upon as strictly pure.

Speer's Sambuci Wine!

celebrated for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm; improving the appetite and benefitting ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC,

It imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and in just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE & CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the Taste; Effective without Griping

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to cure these troubles. Regulate the Liver. Possess the BEST CATHARTIC PROPERTIES of any known medicine; have the effect of cathartic medicine, but not the griping effect of other cathartics. Only one half of a prune taken at bed-time. Pleasant to the taste, like candy, and the medication is entirely vegetable and harmless. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Especially Those Suffering Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canada Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and therefore more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vivifying and Invigorating to the Weak than other Bitters in Base and Fermenting Liquors, and all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, such as "Gripe," "Bloat" and "Intoxicate."

MALT BITTERS will cure all diseases of the nervous, osseous (bones) and muscular system. For feeble children, pale cheeks, bad breath, constipation, wakefulness, nervous debility, bronchitis and hoarseness, coughs, consumption, weakness of the stomach and urinary organs, emaciation, dyspepsia, and all physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly medicinal.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irregular in habit, and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Gurgut, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first and is well so far as the best part of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of alcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and is important to keep in stock as a purgative or blive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

New Publications.

"Mrs. Beauchamp Brown." One of the books of the celebrated "No-Name series" which has attracted much attention is the work with the above title. The author at the outset takes his reader to a charming house at Beacon hill in Boston, where he is hospitably entertained in aesthetic style. Mrs. Brown, the tone of whose Christian name abundantly compensates for any lack of style in the surname, is a stately lady with white hair artistically dressed, a complacent expression, her person surrounded with a quantum suff. of velvet, lace and diamonds, while she patronizes the best church at the West End, sits in the more prominent pew, and listens to the sermon as if it was constructed on a great degree upon her own ideas. The book has had a great run, and as it portrays the peculiarites of Boston West-end Society life, affords an ample occasion to become familiar with that prevailing element of respectability of which we are so constantly reminded. It is published by Messrs. Roberts Brothers, uniform with the books of the first and second "No-name" series, at the price of $1.00. All the booksellers have it.

"A Hopeless Case," by Edgar Fawcett; Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; pp. 275. Boston has recently had a novel delineating its "best society;" why should not New York also have a corresponding tale? Of course, the atmosphere in which the Atlantic Monthly generates is not the only space upon the western hemisphere which can produce a society story. Here comes a "Hopeless Case," a story written by Edgar Fawcett, in which we are shown within the walls of the elite of Gotham. What in the good old days served to build up the aristocracy of Boston and Portsmouth, what in later periods developed the tone of these New England cities, does not pass current in New York. The aristocracy there seems not to be composed of elements derived either from breeding for wealth, but from money. If the author truthfully paints his picture of society life in New York, the first families must have died out and have been succeeded by the more rapid and senseless generation, which boasts only in the successful speculation or favored contracts of its immediate ancestor, without any inheritance of traits which are a necessary composite to true men and women. The heroine brings from Brooklyn to the Empire city her well conceived ideas and well grounded tastes, and her brief career in her new surroundings is told with a piquancy which maintains the interest in the story, throughout its pages. The work is issued in an attractive form, with flexible covers, and is for sale at all the leading bookstores.

was for years offered in every paper of the land by the former proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for a case of catarrh it would not cure. It cures by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties. Snuff or dust of any kind merely dries up catarrh and drives it to the lungs. This remedy has stood the test of time, having been a popular remedy for a quarter of a century. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

—A young American lady who has taken the stage name of Mlle. Nevada, has made her debut at Her Majesty's theatre, in London. The lady's real name, not describing, we hope, her nature, is Miss Wixen, and she is the daughter of a doctor of medicine practising in the state of Nevada.

THE FOLLY OF FOLLIES. Many persons are accustomed to disregard all slight symptoms of disease, saying, "Let it go as it came." But when one feels the symptoms of Kidney Disease—such as pain in the back and loins, palpitation, urinary derangement, etc.—to neglect them is the folly of follies. Kidney, bladder, liver and urinary complaints are always liable to end fatally if neglected. The true cure for them is Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine. There is no symtom or form of kidney disease that Hunt's Remedy is not master of. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

No Principle Sacrificed.

The Boston Post is always joking, and for good-humored satire and dry humor is ahead of almost any other paper in New England. In a recent issue, adverting to the absolute surrender of the Maine democrats to the greenbackers, it said:

The alliance consummated at Bangor was honorable to all concerned, and is auspicious of the best possible results. It involved no sacrifice of principle.

Possibly the Post means to convey the idea that a political party which could plan or endorse such a piece of scoundrelism as the attempted Garcelon steal has no principle, which nobody will dispute. But the "endorsement" of Gen. Plaisted as a candidate for governor certainly seems to have been a very absolute abandonment of the principles which the democratic party did once possess, for he never was and never has pretended to be a democrat, and the nearest he is to being one now is that he advocates inflation and soft money. He served through the war of the rebellion on the anti-democratic side, as colonel of the 11th Maine volunteers, as brigadier general and brevet major general; was a member of the Maine legislature in 1867 and 1868, as a republican; was a delegate at large from Maine to the republican national convention in 1868, and was the republican attorney general of Maine in 1873, '74 and '75. He was elected to the 44th congress as a republican, to fill a vacancy, and on the question of remonetizing silver, in 1877, voted steadily in opposition—which shows how much of a greenbacker he was; and how much of a democrat he was is shown by his votes to sustain the decision of the "eight to seven commission."

And this is the candidate whom the democrats of Maine can accept as their candidate for governor without any sacrifice of principle being involved!

Republican National Convention.

The committee on credentials not being ready to report when the convention reassembled Thursday evening, after some talk an adjournment was taken to Friday morning at ten o'clock.

Friday morning at 11:45 o'clock the convention was called to order. Mr. Conkling offered the following:

Resolved, As the sense of this convention, that every member of it is bound in honor to support its nominee, whoever the nominee may be, and that no man should hold his seat here who is not ready so to agree.

A vote was taken by a call of states, and the resolution was adopted by 716 ayes to three nays.

Conkling moved a resolution that the delegates who voted no had forfeited their votes in the convention, but after some sharp talk withdrew the motion.

The committee on credentials reported soon after one o'clock, recommending the admission of the contestants from the 7th Alabama and 2d and 3d Kansas districts, of the delegation from Louisiana headed by Warmoth, and of the contestants from the 1st, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 9th, 10th, 13th and 17th districts of Illinois. The committee also reported in favor of district representation instead of by state, as a whole; also against the contestants in New York, and in the 9th and 19th Pennsylvania districts; and recommended that the delegates from Utah retain their seats.

The platform denounces polygamy, opposes Chinese immigration, and suggests congressional modification of the existing treaties to remedy the evil. It commends President Hayes' administration, and holds it as the duty of the republican party to harmonize the whole country.

News and Notes.

Admiral Ammen has received a cablegram from Engineer Menocal, stating that the Nicaraguan congress has confirmed the concession recently made by the president of that republic to the American company for the construction of an inter-oceanic ship canal.

In the superior court at Danbury, Conn., on the 1st inst., William Bucholz, recently convicted at Bridgeport of the murder of John H. Schulte of South Norwalk, was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Late mail advices from Panama state that the Chilian blockading squadron opened fire on the forts at Callao, May 19th, and the bombardment was maintained for nearly four hours. The Chilian vessels fired 270 shots, which were answered by 160 shots from the Peruvian batteries and ships. No public buildings were injured, but a number of shops and private residences were completely destroyed. Two women who carelessly exposed themselves were killed, and about a dozen persons were injured. The Peruvian batteries were not injured. The Chilian fleet finally retired to their anchorage. The Chilian land forces, at latest advices, were within six leagues of Monteroso's position at Tacha. The contending armies number fully 30,000 soldiers, and the battle will, it is expected, decide the issues of the war.

Hidden Treasures.

An examination of old packages in one of the vaults of the Merchants' national bank of Baltimore, where they had been locked up years ago, has brought to light property which had been long lost sight of by the original owners. In one of the boxes, the key to which was in the bank, were discovered $10,000 in first mortgage bonds of the Pennsylvania railroad, with the interest coupons for the past fifteen years attached, making the aggregate value of the property about $20,000. These bonds, it has been ascertained, belong to the Hagerstown (Md.) bank, of which Governor Hamilton is now the president. In dealings between the two banks these bonds were deposited with the Merchants' bank fifteen years ago as collateral. The then President of the Hagerstown bank, James Dixon Roman, died; the cashier was superseded, and that bank lost trak of the transaction. The disappearance of the bonds, however, always remained an unpleasant mystery, which is now happily cleared up, and the bank adds $20,000 more to its surplus. Another valuable package found in the vault of the Merchants' bank was a small trunk, containing papers and some diamond jewelry valued at $1,000, which were deposited with the bank by a Spaniard for safe-keeping more than a quarter of a century ago.

An Anxious Mother.

A very fashionable lady who fairly dotes on her children, and is very particular about their toilets, had a narrow escape last Sunday from losing one of her darlings. It was leaning out of a third-story window when it lost its balance, and in a moment more it would have been dashed to pieces on the crowded pavement below. Fortunately the mother seized it just as it was disappearing over the window-sill. Clasping the saved cherub to her breathless breast, the fond mother exclaimed, as tears of gratitude flowed from her uplifted eyes, "If this child had fallen into the street with that dirty dress on, I would never, never have forgiven myself." And she proceeded to dress it up, so that, come what might, the family would not be disgraced.

Married, Not Mated.

It is, without doubt, a terrible thing to be an old maid; but so long as men drink rum, chew tobacco, smoke cigars, and act like beasts and fools, it is not the worst thing that can happen to a decent woman. Indeed, we should not have to hunt very far to find plenty of women who are not old maids, but who would give all their boots and shoes if they were; and who in bitterness and sorrow lament the day they suffered the yoke to be placed on their necks, which is grievous and hard to be borne. Marriage is honorable in all, but if it is honorable, it should be honored, and those who make it a burden and curse and calamity, need not wonder that intelligent and considerate women fear to take the risks it involves.—Ex.

Speer's Medicinal Sambucl Wine for Females.

This wine is made from the juice of cultivated Sambucus fruit. The best judges pronounce it superb. It is being highly recommended as a family wine by some of the best families in the States; and has been adopted by the New York Hospital, and by physicians generally in this country and Europe, as a very superior wine for consumption, kidney difficulties, female weakness and general debility, and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. The virtues attributed to the wine are numerous and long standing; and it is pleasant to know that some person has succeeded in making and putting in market a pure article of wine for medicinal use.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

— This story of a windy day is, of course, from a Nevada paper, the Truckee Republican: "A hand-car, with four men, started for the snow-sheds to repair an old snow-plough which was damaged by the storm. On returning, the wind was so strong that they had to get off the hand-car and push it down the hill!"

Better Late than Never!

"Don't put off until tomorrow what can and should be done today," is wise. If you have not used SOZODONT for your teeth, make a beeline to the druggist and get a bottle and begin to use it at once. "Verb. sap."

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As the question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has a fondly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is become world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children crying in pain do rise up and bless her, especially is this the case in infancy. That quantities of the Soothing Syrup are sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and thousands yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering child, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Leader Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SUKES'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

AROUND HOME.

Gilson's new grocery team is a fine one.

A sale at auction of bank shares at twelve o'clock at noon to-day, will afford some one a chance for a safe investment in local stocks.

The bill removing the terms of the United States court from Exeter to Concord was passed by the United States senate on the 3d inst.

Samuel Adams, Esq., and wife, arrived at Minneapolis, Minn., on the 28th ult. Edward P. Kimball, Esq., arrived at the same place on the 29th.

Judge Fowler and family of Concord have taken possession of their cottage at Little Boar's head for the season, and Mr. Cummings in that locality has also come to stay.

Edward Drake, of Holliston, Mass., twenty years old, was drowned in the Cocheco river at Dover on Thursday afternoon last, while engaged in washing a carriage.

The residence of Mrs. John E. Salter, on Court street, is being greatly beautified by the removal of the white slat fence from in front, and the substitution of a granite curb along the edge of the lawn.

The united ages of the inmates of the Faith home amounts to 1166 years, the eldest person being eighty-five years of age, and the youngest fifty-four. The average age is a little over seventy years.

The republicans at Chicago are not the only conventional persons at this time. The brewers are in session at Buffalo, and the doctors at New York city. In the last two conventions Portsmouth has delegates.

The panes of glass put into the front store windows of the Pierce block, in the improvements now going on, are in size about six and a half by seven and a half feet, and weigh about three hundred pounds each. It is no joke to break one of them.

Mr. Walter E. H. Fentress, formerly clerk to the commandant of this navy yard, is now engaged as canvasser for Johnson's cyclopædia in Salem, Mass., and its vicinity. Mr. Fentress very successfully canvassed this city as agent for a large illustrated bible, before securing a clerkship on the yard.

A Boston drummer has been in town recently, endeavoring to hunt up men who are entitled to wear the prefix of "Hon." or "Col." to their names, and who are willing to have themselves advertised as directors of down east mining companies. The state of Maine having been scoured for the purpose, as well as some of the eastern counties of New Hampshire, the supply is getting short.

The United States senate on the 3d inst. took up and passed the immediate transportation bill, which permits the immediate transportation of dutiable goods from certain specified ports of entry on the coast to designated points of delivery in the interior. A good deal of difficulty was caused by the attempts of senators to include every little town in their respective states in the list of places to which these goods might be shipped. Mr. Bayard said the bill was in danger of becoming a mere list of geographical names. The point was raised, too, that it was unconstitutional to make regulations which would favor one place at the expense of another. The bill allows goods imported at the ports named in the bill to be shipped immediately after entry, and the duties to be collected at the point of destination instead of at the port of entry. Portsmouth is one of the ports named in the bill.

Jay Wilmot Upham, a native of Rye, died of pneumonia at Salmon Falls on Friday, May 14th, where he had been a resident for thirty years. He had been an extensive traveller and close observer of different men and countries in his younger days, and gifted with a remarkable memory, possessed a fund of information that ever instructed those with whom he conversed. He served his country long and faithfully upon sea and land, and fought all through the Indian wars in Florida, and his reminiscences of distinguished men and marked events were very interesting. His remains were conveyed to Eliot, where, as in Salmon Falls, the services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Vail of South Berwick.—Journal.

All persons having claims against the Memorial day committee, are requested to submit the same to Dr. Jas. R. May, treasurer, by the afternoon of the 7th inst.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, June 3d:

Bond of collector of taxes for 1880 was accepted.

George A. Jackson was granted permission to encumber High street, and Aaron Ackerman was granted a rely of sidewalk on Islington street.

Petition of James Junkins and others for new sidewalk on Market street was referred to committee, to report.

A recommendation of the committee on school houses, that a furnace be put in the Cabot street schoolhouse, was laid on the table.

It was voted that the chief engineer be empowered to make some provision to enable the fire companies to respond more promptly to fire-alarms, at times when the city horses are engaged in work outside the central part of the city.

The committee on schoolhouses were empowered to purchase seats and desks for the Franklin schoolhouse.

In convention with Common Council, William E. Hadley was elected treasurer; Benjamin F. Webster was elected assessor of ward two; Nicholas G. Mason was elected surveyor of highways in district two.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, June 4: Batchelder, J.

Nathaniel Danielson, for drunkenness, was sent to Brentwood for sixty days; costs $6.90.

Eben Littlefield and Robert Carr, two more drunks, were fined $3 each, costs in each case taxed at $6.90. County farm in default of payment.

Joseph Fabyan, another drunk, was allowed to go on his promise to leave the city at once.

THE DEVALL MURDER.

David Moody of Newmarket, with whom Peter Devall, the victim of the Durham tragedy, boarded up to the time of his death, was arrested on the evening of the 3d inst. on suspicion of complicity in the murder. Moody has been suspected for some time, and closely watched, and it being discovered that he was about to start with his wife for Canada, he was taken into custody and lodged in jail. It is said that much damaging evidence against him has been accumulated, and that there is strong ground to believe that one Smith, alias McCrillis, who occupied a hut in the woods not far from where Devall's remains were found, is at least an accessory to the murder after the fact.

ANOTHER SWINDLE.

The latest swindle for use in the rural districts is the "butter contract" game. A couple of nicely dressed, gentlemanly appearing fellows, of good address, drive up to a farmer's house with a fine turnout, and engage all his butter for the season at a big price. The farmer signs a contract to let the merchants have all his butter for the year, and in due course the "contract" comes back in the shape of a note held by a third party, which the farmer has to pay. An enchange, in noticing this latest-invented swindle, advises farmers as follows: "Sign nothing you do not fully understand." Better advice still is, "Sign nothing at all presented by any stranger;" for once the swindler has secured the farmer's signature his end is accomplished—and the men who signed "contracts" accepting distributing agencies for "lightning saws" last year, or who were made victims of the "Granite Agricultural Works" game the year before, supposed they "fully understood" what they were signing, which however did not prevent their "contracts" coming back as notes of hand.

THE AQUARIUM.

One of the most interesting and entertaining places in this vicinity to visit during the summer months, is the aquarium of Major David Urch at the first Newcastle bridge. This place, which was inspected by many hundreds last season, all of whom spoke in its praise, has had many additions and improvements made since, which will afford much more comfort and pleasure to the visitors. Major Urch has had erected a large water tank, which supplies water for the aquaria in the building and for the fountain also, the water running all the time, affording fresh water for the fish when the big tide-wheel is not turning.

He has secured several new specimens of fish, one of the new arrivals being unknown to any fisherman in this locality, but on reference to works on natural history it is found to correspond with what is termed a "flying sea robin." It appears to combine features of the lobster, bird, and sculpin, having legs like a lobster, which can be used separately or together, wings which are very large and when opened resemble a good-sized fan, and a tail similar to that of a sculpin. The head, which is formed of a shelly substance, is very peculiar in shape, the eye having the brilliancy and look of a cut diamond. A look at this fish alone is well worth a visit to this aquarium.

There are also a sea raven and a wolverine, both rare specimens, and a large sturgeon, which is of a beautiful color, entirely different from any other specimen he has had in the aquarium; besides these he has many others,—cod, haddock, tautog, pollock, skates, flounders, sculpins, silver and gold fish, crabs, lobsters, star fish and many more.

The aquarium building has had curtains fitted, which in the day time can be used as awnings, and in the evening are closed; and the building will be brilliantly lighted, so those who visit it in the evening can see the fish and other specimens as well as by day. The floral decorations are elaborate and handsome. The proprietor is daily adding new and rare fish, and has engaged parties in Portland to procure for him a number of seals, which he is in hopes to receive at an early date. He has arranged for a landing for boats at the aquarium, and the many who ride in boats will be pleased with this accommodation; the charge for admission will be the same as for crossing the bridge. The distance from Market square to the bridge is short of a mile, which is but a comfortable walk.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Sea Cottage, York beach, opens on the 10th inst.

The directors of the Eliot bridge company have adopted as rates of toll over their new bridge between Eliot and Dover, two cents for each foot passenger, twelve cents for each chaise or pleasure carriage, twenty cents for a two-horse coach or stage, ten cents for a sleigh, grocer's wagon or market wagon drawn by one horse, and twelve cents for a cart, wagon or sled drawn by two horses or one yoke of oxen. These tolls have been approved by the county commissioners of York county, and if confirmed by the supreme court of New Hampshire will then be duly established by law.

The improvements at the Burnham farm, Gerrish's island, Kittery, still continue; and when they are completed no farm in York county will be able to boast of more extensive or better-arranged buildings than are clustered among the trees at this lovely retreat. Several miles of barbed-wire fencing have been erected around the farm, involving a large outlay of money but insuring against the incursions of cattle, which heretofore have roamed at will over the island. Three thousand dollars have been laid out in mason and stone work, this branch of the improvements being under the supervision of William N. Grace and J. Almond McClough, two experienced stone masons of Kittery. The heneries erected this spring are well supplied with fowl, and are now turning out sixty dozen eggs a week, most of which find their way to the Boston markets. Mr. Burnham, though engaged in mercantile pursuits in Boston, will no doubt make his island home and summer retreat a profitable investment.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

A REMINISCENCE OF BISHOP HAVEN.

[RON. THOMAS L. TULLOCK, IN ZION'S HERALD.]

About the middle of March, 1878, Mrs. Chisholm sent for Ass. P. Knight, Esq., of this city, and informed him that it had been her desire, ever since the massacre of her husband, son and daughter, to commemorate by appropriate religious services the martydom of the Chisholm family, when the surviving children could be together, especially as no religious services were allowed at the burial in Mississippi. Her eldest son, Henry Clay Chisholm, having arrived at Washington, she desired the services on the ensuing anniversary, April 29, and requested an invitation to be sent to Rev. Dr. John P. Newman, then in New York city, to conduct the exercises, and her late husband and only daughter attended his church, the Metropolitan, when in Washington. Dr. Newman replied, regretting that he could not be present at the time named.

When the letter was handed to Mr. Knight in the General Post-office by a letter-carrier, he was conversing with Bishop Haven, who had just called on me at my office, and on his warm personal friend, Judge Robert F. Crowell (chief of the pay division of the Auditor's office, P. O. Department, and brother of Rev. L. Crowell of the New England Conference), as was his invariable custom when he stopped over in this city.

After reading Dr. Newman's letter, Mr. Knight asked the Bishop how long he would remain in Washington. He replied, "I leave by the first train." When informed concerning Mrs. Chisholm's purpose, and questioned whether he would deliver an address if invited, he said that he could not on the 29th of April; but he would be at Wilmington, Delaware, attending a meeting of the board of Bishops in May, and would be in Washington on Sunday, the 19th of that month, and the occasion would afford him the opportunity of saying some things that should be said in the nation's capital.

When Dr. Newman's letter was handed to Mrs. Chisholm, the interview with the Bishop was named. She immediately wrote to him to conduct the exercises. The Bishop replied that his physician had prohibited him from preaching, but if she would arrange with some one for a short sermon, he would attempt a brief address, and thus occupy the time.

On the 19th of May, 1878, at the Metropolitan M. E. Church, Washington, D. C., to a very large congregation, Rev. Dr. Henry R. Naylor officiated and delivered an appropriate sermon of great beauty and merit, and was followed by Bishop Haven in that admirable memorial address which is conceded by all a masterly effort.

The Bishop came to my house Saturday evening from the Wilmington meetings, wearied and indisposed, and remarked that he had been closely occupied with official duties, but had hastily sketched a few thoughts while on the wing, which he would then revise, and asked me to assist him by referring to books in my library, giving the time when the heroic act of Hannah Dustin occurred (1698), and verifying a few other references, as he must be accurate in all his statements, for his remarks would be scrutinized. He was a rapid writer, and finished his address before retiring, remarking, "This work is not of my seeking. I sometimes wish it had not been suggested; but I could not decline the invitation. It would have been cowardly, although this address may be at the risk of my life." He subsequently said to Mr. Knight, "If any disaster befalls me, you are responsible, and the authorities of the church will so hold you." He also remarked that a high official in the church had said to him, "I notice you are to deliver an address on the Chisholm massacre, in the Metropolitan; it will be the funeral of that church." The address was delivered and the church lives.

I have a letter from Bishop Haven, written at Atlanta, Ga., June 7, 1878, from which I extract the following: "If it does not hurt you, I can stand it. I knew they would attack me ferociously. I knew it might go so far as to threaten my life. I therefore put a word or two in the address that implied it. The Courier-Journal demands that I be led to the block. The Mississippi papers are out full-mouthed. Nevertheless, I could not have done otherwise. It is to be published in our papers here—in the Georgia Republican, in the Western Advocate, in the Southern Advocate, New Orleans and elsewhere. So the good offsets the bad."

The Bishop always received a warm welcome at my house when in Washington, and kind attention as an invalid. He was always busy, very industrious, and conducted an extensive correspondence with wonderful rapidity, and when really unable to journey, would start on his mission with surprising courage considering his great bodily indisposition. He was truly a servant of the church, and displayed great endurance and activity. He possessed a very fertile mind, an excellent spirit and a brave heart—genial, sincere, prompt, reliable and intrepid. True in his friendships, he will be affectionately remembered for his fidelity to his convictions and as an eminent exemplar of a divinely religious faith.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1, 1880.

—During the fourteenth century, when the Hebrew race was undergoing one of those periodical persecutions which it has been subjected to during the reign of events as recorded by history, since the birth of Moses, there lived in Ispahan an opulent Jewish merchant. Persecution, which always seeks a vulnerable point, and never dares assail strength, fixed upon the rich Jew as a victim. The cadi of Ispahan, from motives of jealousy and class prejudice, made matters so unpleasant for the Jew that, in despair, he went to him and said: "You will not allow me to live here; where shall I go?" "Go to Bagdad," replied the mufti. "But," responded the Hebrew, "your brother rules there." "Go to Ispan, then." "But your uncle is chief magistrate there." "Go to Damascus, then." "But your nephew rules there." "Then, if my family will not allow you to live in this world, go to h—l." "Ah, me," replied the Jew: "you forget that your respected father is dead."

Cuticura

HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. In fact forty minutes after taking the first dose it may be detected in the blood, great and sure, showing that it has entered the blood and been distributed throughout the entire system. It is thus enabled through the circulating fluids it meets with the corrupt particles of matter which nester and maintain disease, with which it chemically unites, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.

Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous, and Canker Humors, which unchecked dig the body with foul corruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.

CUTICURA, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and Skin, Ulcers, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of outward applications. It speedily destroys fungus and parasitic growths, restores the tissues and begets a healthy condition, and cures, when assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, diseases of the Skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a lifetime.

SKIN DISEASE.

Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—CUTICURA REMEDIES have done me a power of good. I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years. Some days I could be more than others, but at times the itching nearly drove me wild.

I would scratch until the blood would run down my limbs.

I have had several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but all failed to do so.

I will say that before I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES I was in a fearful state, and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.

I, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, about which I had read so much.

They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and I can now feel well and second I recommend them. Yours truly, S. A. STEELE,

68 W. VAN BUREN ST., CHICAGO, ILL., March 7, 1878.

MORE GOOD THAN DOCTORS

In Three Years of Treatment.

Gentlemen.—For nine and 50 cents to pay for small box of CUTICURA and direct it to me. The dollar box you sent me has done me more good than all the doctors in three years. The doctors have done me no good. My feet and legs are healing fast. It is indeed CUTICURA.

Yours truly, EVAN MORGAN, P. M.

MOSCOW, MISS., June 25, 1878.

Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

By instantly affecting the Nervous System, their influence is at once felt at the Seat of Pain or Extremities. Hence Pain, which arises from a disturbance of the Nerve Forces, is cured in every instance as if by magic. Also, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Liver, and Kidneys, Irritation of the Stomach and Bowels, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Bilious Colic.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON T. HIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOCKSTON, of Berkshire, says, "One package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION! Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to permicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

will change the beard to a BROWN or BLACK at discretion. Being in one preparation it is easily applied, and produces a permanent color that will not wash off.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, and combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the purest and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, invigorates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 26, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or olive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Cooking on a Large Scale.

Harvard college owns a building fitted with all the conveniences to cook for several hundred hungry young men, and there are now boarding in it a number which must keep the cooks busy. Here is a short account of the establishment, from the Golden Rule:

The Harvard dining association has ninety employees besides its steward. A ten-horse power engine, burning two tons of coal per day, heats the building, and supplies steam for the cooking and baking; but when Sanders' theatre is heated, a third ton of coal is required. The cooking apparatus is on a vast scale. The great soup-kettle holds 226 gallons, and it is said to be the largest kettle ever cast in this country. Only 110 gallons of soup, however, are required for the daily dinner. The oat-meal kettle holds fifty-five gallons, and that for cracked wheat twenty gallons; but not quite, though very nearly, this amount is consumed daily.

The great range, twenty-five feet long, contains four ovens, and does all the drying and heating plates, etc. There are seven kettles for boiling meats and five for vegetables, and none of them of very small size, while the great charcoal grate will easily broil steak for 650 men. But the most astounding parts of the culinary arrangements are the two great ovens, one for baking meats, and one for bread and pies. The first will cook 2,000 pounds of meat, the other 250 pies. They are not by any means too large, however, since from 800 to 1,000 pounds of meat are consumed daily, and some ninety loaves of graham and seventy-five of white bread. The heat never leaves the pastry oven from one month to another.

"How much flour do you use per day?" I asked.

"We average at least a barrel and a half," was the reply.

"And how many pies at one lunch?"

"A hundred and twenty-five, for which three barrels of apples are needed."

Some delicious-looking butter was unpacking from a huge box, and I learned that seventy-five pounds are here daily used for the tables, and about the same amount for cooking. That the students had not gone hungry on that day, was conclusively shown from the fact that at breakfast 450 pounds of rump steak and sixty-five pounds of fish had been consumed; that the larder contained for the dinner 300 pounds of turkey and 500 pounds of beef; that 160 gallons of milk (the daily allowance), and forty puddings of large size, were in store, while twelve immense pans of gingerbread were being prepared for the oven.

—A new brand of cigars is called the "New York Girl." They have imported wrappers.

—A man passing along a Virginia road saw a countryman standing beneath a persimmon tree, holding in his hands a pole raised aloft with a little pig attached to the end, which was feasting upon the persimmons in the tree. He asked: "What are you doing there?" "Sister Sal is goin' ter get married, an' I'm fattenin' this pig for the weddin'."

From the Hub.

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

—It's no fun for a hungry person to dine with Queen Victoria. It is not etiquette to eat of anything after she has finished with it, and, as Her Majesty eats very little, the courses are hurried over. After dinner there is hardly time to take even one glass of wine before coffee is brought in. The Queen does not put her cup on the table but sips a little as the servant holds it on the salver. Then her Majesty rises, and of course her guests all rise and stand back from the table. The Queen then makes the round of the room, stopping to talk for a few minutes to any of the guests whom she may delight to honor.

Have you these dangerous symptoms? Cough, pain in the side or breast, fever, short breath, night sweats, tickling, rising or soreness in the throat, diarrhœa, nervous debility, asthmatic or bronchial affections; if so, use at once Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Trial bottles, 10 cents; larger bottles, 35 and 75 cts.

—As an innocent-looking old man was going up Washington street, a drayman nodded at him and asked, "Wanta dray, Mister?" "No-o, I guess not," replied the old man, "I'm too fur from home, and can't pay freight on it. Much obliged, though. Vicksburg is a powerful nice town. A fellow back there asked me if I didn't want a coat; another inquired if I wanted a hack, and now you offer me a dray. I wish I lived here."—Vicksburg Herald.

Thousands of ladies have found sudden relief from all their woes by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the great remedy for diseases peculiar to females. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

—A Montana butcher recently killed an ox whose stomach contained five or six dollars worth of fine gold mixed with sand. The ox was evidently a good prospector, and found pay in the grass roots. The singular event created a stir at Fort Macloed, and a number of parties have stampeded in the hope that they may be able to find and jump the dead bovine's claim before his heirs intermeddle.

Equally adapted to the feeble or robust, male or female, are Malt Bitters.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1880.

Republican National Convention.

The principal business done at the session Friday night was a grand hullaballo of shouting and cheering and waving of hands and handerchiefs for Grant, which lasted half an hour or more, and was followed by a still louder and longer hullaballoo for Blaine. This performance commenced about eleven o'clock, and lasted until about one in the morning, Saturday, when a motion to adjourn was negatived by a decisive vote.

A vote was taken on a motion to admit the Grant delegates from Illinois, instead of the contestants as recommended by the committee on credentials, and the motion did not prevail, though the Grant men gained heavily from the previous test vote. A vote was then taken on the motion to admit the contestant from the 1st district of Illinois, which was adopted. At half-past two the Illinois cases were finished, and the convention adjourned until eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

At the appointed hour the delegates commenced to dribble into the hall, but it was not until nearly twelve o'clock that the convention was called to order. The cases of contesting delegations were continued, and occupied a considerable part of the day. At the evening session, a roll of the states was called for the names of members of the national committee, after which came nomination of candidates, ten minutes being allowed to present each name. Blaine was nominated by James Joy of Michigan; Col. Drake of Minnesota nominated Mr. Windom; Roscoe Conkling nominated Gen. Grant; Senator Garfield nominated John Sherman; Mr. Cassidy of Wisconsin nominated Washburner At 11:45 P. M., the convention adjourned without taking a ballot.

The State Treasurer's Report.

The state treasurer reports that the receipts last year were $1,202,838.17; disbursements, $1,150,324.57; reduction of debt during the year, $61,084.75; revenue, $547,345.36; expenditures, $486,260.61; excess of revenue over expenses, $6,084.75.

Heavy Failures.

Herman Lissberger, a metal merchant and importer at 237 Pearl street, New York, has suspended payment, with liabilities of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. His creditors are few, and are the principal banks of the city, one of which has a claim for over $500,000. The suspension was owing to a heavy loss in iron. Since last November Lissberger has handled 140,000 tons of iron, most of which was purchased in England when prices were high. When iron began to go down many persons who had entered into contracts with him broke them, and the material was thrown on his hands. Acting on the advice of his friends and creditors he suspended, and appointed his son-in-law, Bernard Schultz, president of the New York Smelting & Refining company, assignee.

Charles W. Scofield, of 115 Broadway, New York, a merchant who deals heavily in iron, has also suspended. His liabilities are placed at about $2,000,000, half of which is secured by merchandise. Schofield claims that if he is allowed sufficient time by his creditors he will be able to pay them in full, and states that he has two millions of dollars in western railroad investments. His failure was caused by a heavy decline in the prices of iron.

New Hampshire Items.

Michael Connor, the young Irishman who cut his throat in Manchester about two weeks ago, died on the 2d inst. He severed the esophagus and no food could be got into his stomach.

The examining committee for the annual examinations at Dartmouth college, beginning June 15th, has been appointed, and is as follows: Hon. J. E. Sargent, Concord, N. H.; Prof. C. O. Thompson, Horatio N. Twombly, Esq., New York city; Hon. W. G. Veazey, Rutland, Vt.; Caleb Blodgett, Rev. A. Little, D. D., Chicago, Ill.; Hon. Amos Hadley, Concord, N. H.; Rev. A. B. Bascomb, Bellows Falls, Vt. The first five are appointed by the alumni, and the others by the faculty.

News and Notes.

The missing brig Josie C. Hazeltine, Nickerson master, of Belfast, Me., has been out about 120 days from Cardiff for Havana, with no tidings. Fifty days is an average passage. The owners have no expectation of ever hearing from her. Captain Nickerson's family, consisting of his wife, two little girls of ten and eight years, and a boy of four, have probably gone down with the vessel.

The Bangor Whig says that Superintendent Tucker of the Maine Central railroad has instituted a rule on his road which will be appreciated by the traveling public. When the train leaves any station the brakeman advances to the centre of each car, and distinctly calls the name of the next station. If the place is known by more than one name, that fact is also stated, and passengers have abundant time to arrange for leaving the train when they reach their destination.

In the Bowdoin college boat race at Brunswick, Me., Friday morning, the first prize was won by the class of '82; time, nineteen minutes, forty-six and a quarter seconds; distance three miles. During the race thieves stole two gold watches valued at $350, and about $4,150 in money, from clothing left at the boat house.

The seventeen-year locust has begun its pilgrimage, and is already making its appearance in considerable numbers in some of the southern counties of Ohio. Its first recorded appearance there was in 1795. It appeared again in 1812, and this time the great "W" on its wings was said to stand for war. The next visitation occurred in 1829; the next 1846, and the last in 1863.

A new company has been incorporated and organized in New York city under the name of the Metropolitan Telephone & Telegraph company, with a capital of $1,000,000. The new company succeeds the New York Bell Telephone company, and has by contract exclusive control of telephone exchanges, telephone and private lines heretofore operated by the Gold & Stock Telegraph company within a radius of thirty-three miles from New York city hall.

A curious contest as to the legal status of Roman Catholic archbishops in this country is likely to grow out of the case of Archbishop Purcell of Cincinnati. He holds that the churches, seminaries and charity edifices in his diocese, the titles of which were in his name, were in a legal sense his private property, to do with as he thought best. Acting upon this theory, he has transferred a large share of the property to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors. This action is opposed by the pastors and other officers of the churches, who assert that the archbishop has no right to dispossess them—that he simply holds the property in trust. They do not accuse him of profiting personally in the matter.

Mrs. J. R. Vincent, the charming old actress of the Boston museum, has been divorced from her husband, John Wilson, of the California theatre, San Francisco, who eloped from Boston many years ago.

On Friday forenoon, Loring Shute, son of James Shute, Jr., of Somerville, Mass., while playing with a loaded pistol, received the contents in the palm of his left hand, severing an artery.

A Scotch firm which began the repairing of iron ships at Shanghai some years ago, now employs 1,100 Chinamen. The cautious and economically minded members of the firm assert that the Chinamen are exceedingly expert in either wood or iron work, and perform excellent labor at one-fourth the pay of ordinary European hands.

Mr. Henry Norwood of Gloucester has devised a plan by which the sails of yachts can be reefed while in the act of tacking or coming in stays. It has been tried on several occasions, and in every instance the sail was reefed and hoisted in six seconds. Competent judges pronounce it the quickest, neatest and best plan for reefing ever invented. A patent has been applied for.

The schooner Ellen M. Adams, Malonson master, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Monday of last week, from a southern mackerel trip, bringing in thirty barrels of salt mackerel. Her total stock in eleven weeks was $4400, and she claims to be "high line" of the mackerel fleet this season. The best bank fare of cod fish this season was landed at Gloucester on Wednesday of last week, by the schooner Herbert M. Rogers, which hailed for 130,000 lbs.

Ship Atalaya, from Montreal, proceeding down the river to sea, was stopped by the collector of customs, conjointly with the Spanish consul-general and Judge Chauveau, at Quebec, on the night of the 3d inst. Two guardians from the custom house were placed on board. The cause of the detention is understood to be a suspicion that beneath her cargo of grain is a quantity of arms and ammunition, shipped at Montreal for the Cuban insurgents. Fillibusters from Cuba have already been detected at Quebec. The Atalaya almost succeeded in passing without notice, about dusk. She arrived at Montreal recently with a cargo of sugar from Havana.

John G. Thompson, Jr., of Ohio, son of the sergeant-at-arms of the national house of representatives, was shot in the abdomen by Beaumont Buck, of Texas, at Newberg, N. Y., on the 4th inst., and dangerously wounded. Both parties are about twenty years old, and candidates for admission to West Point; they (with others) have been attending a preparatory school kept by a Col. Huse, and Buck has been unmercifully "hazed" by the others. As a result, Thompson has got a bullet hole in his body.

The general commanding the province of Santiago de Cuba has telegraphed the following from Guantanam to the governor general: "Surrendered on the first ihstant, the so-called Gen. Guillermon, and Brigadier Jose Masceo with their bands, composed of one lieutenant-colonel, two commanders, six captains, five lieutenants, eight ensigns and two hundred troops. Among the principal chiefs and officers surrendered are two brothers of Guillermon, Filipe Maceo and Quintin Banderas." These surrenders give a mortal blow to the present insurrection in Cuba.

Charles F. Williams, the boy suspected of murdering Walter Smith at Somerville, Mass., May 22d, was examined in the police court at Somerville on Friday last, and held for the grand jury without bail.

The Anglo-American telegraph company has reduced its tariff for cable messages to any part of England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland and France, to twelve and a half cents per word.

The board of managers of the American Bible society on Friday elected President Hayes as vice-president of the society.

The American Medical association, in session at New York last week, adjourned on Friday to meet the first Tuesday in May next at Richmond, Va.

A wind storm struck St. Louis, Mo., on the 4th inst., and did considerable damage in various sections. The shipping bins of the central elevator, on the river front, used to facilitate the loading of barges, of about 40,000 bushels capacity, was prostrated and reduced to kindling wood, and one of the employes killed. The roof of the insane asylum, five miles from the centre of the city, was blown off.

Panama advices state that one of the Chilian war vessels has destroyed the guano deposits at Ballestos. The Peruvians are reported to have thirty-five batallons of six hundred men each, at Lima, and the enthusiasm of the people is immense. The resignation of the Chilian general, Escala, has been accepted.

—It all guns of great calibre you find a great bore. In a man of small calibre you find a great bore. Conclusion—A man of small calibre may easily pass for a great gun.

— Capt. George M. Cooley, of Troy, N. Y., is forty-one years old, and in his life-time has saved forty-six persons from drowning. Last month he rescued seven young students of the Polytechnic institute, whose small boat had been capsized in the river. When a youth, he rescued from the river the young girl who is now his wife.

AROUND HOME.

See notice in another column, of a pet cat lost.

The steamers Appledore, Clara Bateman and Gypsy were inspected on Saturday by the government board of inspectors.

At auction on Saturday, Rockingham national bank stock sold at $122, and National Mechanics & Traders' bank at $112.

The firm of Leopold & Guppy, proprietors of the pavilion show which opened in Dover last week, has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. Guppy.

On Saturday afternoon the town of Seabrook refused, by a vote of one hundred and thirty-two against seventy-five, to rescind the action of May 17th, when by a vote of eighty-two to fifty-eight the town decided to enforce the anti-cider and beer laws.

Owing to some mishap on the Boston & Maine railroad, Sunday, the Boston Sunday Herald did not reach this city. It was no fault of the agent, Mr. M. J. Leary, that subscribers did not get their papers. The Globe, which came over the Eastern road, had a large sale.

Mr. Gardner J. Greenleaf of this city, representing the Portsmouth greenback club, and Mr. Earnest Holmes of Greenland, representing the greenback club in that town, left this city for Chicago on Saturday, to attend the national convention of greenback clubs in that city this week.

At the brokers' board in Boston, Friday, twenty-five shares in the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad sold at $22 each; fifty shares of Eastern railroad stock went at $29.75, and one hundred shares at $30. On Saturday Eastern sold at $30.50 a share; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway bonds went at $78.75.

The interest of the clergy generally in the temperance cause was well manifested at the county temperance meeting in this city last week, by the appearance and participation in the exercises of Rev. Messrs. Pitblado, Goss, DeNormandie, McGinley and Loyne of Portsmouth, Cilley and Adams of Newmarket, Rand of South Seabrook, Noyes of Raymond, and perhaps others.

Three Gloucester fishing schooners, the Howard, Joseph O. and Carthage, baited at the weirs at the mouth of this harbor, Saturday morning. They reported immense schools of fish of various kinds—more than any of the fishermen ever saw before—all along the coast, about twenty miles off shore, from Cape May to Mount Desert, and predict that they will strike in shore about the middle of this month.

On Monday night of last week the residence of the Misses Watson on South street, Newmarket, was entered by burglars. The ladies heard a noise in one of the lower rooms during the night, and descending to ascertain the cause, found one of the windows open and burnt matches scattered around the room. The thieves, however, effected their escape, being fortunately frightened away before anything had been stolen.

One evening last week, as Mrs. Seth Haley was looking over the fence in front of her residence on Vaughan street, a very large dog of the Newfoundland or St. Bernard breed, which was passing along the street, sprang at her and sank his teeth deeply into the top of her head. In getting away from the dog Mrs. Haley struck her face upon the fence, bruising her considerably. A physician was sent for, who cauterized and dressed the wounds made by the dog's teeth. Who the dog belongs to is not positively known.

The interest taken at the north end in the Chicago convention faded into insignificance, Saturday afternoon, in view of a grand wherry-race from the "cowpens" to Stillman's rock buoy, below Fort Point, and return, the contestants being Alexander G. Cobb, a stone-mason, and Daniel Trefethen. The latter reached the winning point half a mile ahead of his competitor, and though there were no stakes up, the race being merely a "friendly" one, the old gentleman was as much pleased with his victory as though he had won a big prize.

All persons having claims against the Memorial day committee, are requested to submit the same to Dr. Jas. R. May, treasurer, by the afternoon of the 7th inst.

The members of the general committee on Memorial day observances are requested to meet in the common council room this evening at eight o'clock to hear the report of the treasurer.

THE COAL POCKET.

The coal pocket on the Concord railroad wharf is approaching completion, and it is intended by those in charge to have it ready to receive coal by the 20th inst. It is estimated to hold 4200 to 4500 tons, and is divided into thirteen compartments, for the different varieties of coal. Each compartment has eight outlets, each outlet being provided with a gate, shute and screen, so that teams can drive under and load with quick despatch. This enterprise was started and is conducted by J. Albert Walker, who has leased the wharf for twenty years, and built the pocket at his own expense. There have already been many improvements made, and others are in progress; the south side of the wharf has been recoped with granite, and the buildings moved to the front, giving plenty of working room; the wharf under the pocket has been laid with heavy plank, and the work of grading the ground back of it two or three feet higher was commenced last week. The old ferry-way, which was used as a landing place years before the Portsmouth bridge was built, is to be filled up; and preparations are in course for the erection of a sand-pen which will hold about one hundred and thirty tons, for the storage of Plum island sand. The office accommodations have been much increased, and Mr. Walker intends to start off with every attainable improvement for labor saving and convenience.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Kennebunk Star reports the epizootic as quite prevalent among the horses in the vicinity of that town.

On the Foye farm in Berwick there is growing an elm tree which, four feet from the ground, measures twenty-one and a half feet in circumference, while at the base it measures forty-two and a half feet.

The damage done by the bursting of the canal of the Mousam Manufacturing company of Kennebunk, a few days ago, amounted to about $400, besides necessitating the shutting down of the mill for several days.

The Peakes' Island Shooting club paid a visit to the Kennebunk Gun club on Monday of last week, and one hundred and seventy-one pigeons were slaughtered through the united efforts of the two bands of armed heroes, in addition to which quite a number of the ferocious birds were wounded, but managed to carry their share of the lead outside the boundary. Unfortunately no serious accident took place during the butchery.

The last of the hard-money democrats in York county to be driven into the fold of the greenback good shepherd, was our neighbor Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, noted for his uncompromising adherence to his principles, and his belief in sound currency. To the average democrat, in a state where his party is in a hopeless minority, there comes an adaptability to new ideas even if they are a little antagonistic to the faith of former campaigns and the resolutions of earlier contests; but not so with Ephraim. He was regarded, as was Ephraim of old, as "a cake not turned." The leaders feared that our Kittery friend would break out in convention with a denunciatory tirade, and utter before the state the sentiments he had taken no pains to conceal in York county; and the terrified unterrified just spread their net for Ephraim. He sat in the convention, glum and low-spirited, with ominous silence, when the managers hit upon the expedient of electing him as a delegate to the national democratic convention at Cincinnati with the understanding that upon the currency question he shall be discreetly silent until after the election. Mr. Spinney goes with Frank Jones next week to the convention, and the greenback men smile at the result of their manipulations.

Ketten and His Host.

Henry Ketten, the pianist, not only left behind him the good will and hearty favor due this accomplished artist and courteous gentleman, but as well the memory of so thorough and matchless a snub to one of those intolerable vulgarians who form at least the super-structure of Frisco society, that we could afford to ever hold him in grateful remembrance for the latter reason alone.

It appears that Mr. Ketten was invited to a party at the house of one of our local Pultocrats, a large importing merchant, and attended the same with his wife, precisely as would any other expected guest.

To his surprise, however, he found the company sitting solemnly around as though in a concert hall, and himself at once pressed to "play something" by his host. The courteous Frenchman complied, and, in response to repeated requests, continued to entertain the company for nearly two hours. When, at last, he was thoroughly fatigued, supper was announced, whereupon the host arose and said:

"You've got piano punching down fine, Ketten, old fellow. Now if you'll play these young folks a few quadrilles and polkas while the balance of us go down to hash, I'll send up Martha Louise to relieve you, presently, or, if you like, you can have something sent up and eat it right here on the piano. I first kinder calculated to have engaged a couple of fiddlers, but the old lady said she thought you wouldn't mind. I'll make it all right when you go."

The astounded artist gazed at the speaker (who was well known to have been a bar-keeper in the "good old days") for a few moments, utterly dumbfounded, then, controlling himself, he gravely turned his back and began playing dance music as requested. When the company had all assembled in the parlors he raised his voice and said:

"Pray, let some whisky, lemons and sugar be brought in." It was done.

"Now then," said Mr. Ketten, fixing his eye on the host; "now, then, mix us some cocktails, my good fellow; every man to his trade."

There was an awful silence, and then the shoddycrat, with a ghastly attempt to carry off the joke, prepared the drink and handed it to the musician.

The latter drank the beverage very critically.

"You're losing practice, my good man; the fellow at the hotel bar does much better. There, you may keep the change," and tossing the almost asphyxiated millionaire a half dollar, he put his wife under his arm and walked out.—San Francisco Post.

Hard Work in the London "Times" Office.

What impressed me strongly, says a correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, was the large amount of hard work and unremitting attention bestowed unceasingly on the Times by its proprietors and editors.

It is an old paper, the best established in the world. Every man on it holding any responsible place is an expert in the business. The experience of some of them is hereditary. Every employee on the paper is of the highest grade of scholarship and business training, but the managers and editors are working as hard and closely as if they were starting a new enterprise. Let me give some facts:

All the editorial work is done at night, the editors not coming down at all in the day time.

Mr. Chenery, the editor, sees the first paper off the press every night.

Mr. McDonald, the managing publisher, sees the whole edition off the press every night.

The paper goes to press at 3:30 A. M. but then the men know that from midnight to 3 A. M., is the quarter-deck in action of a morning paper, and they are on it. Mr. Walter's (the main proprietor) own house is adjoining, and runs into the Times building; is substantially a part of it. The dwelling of Mr. Delane, the late editor, stood quite near the office, between Printing House square and the Temple. He, too, always was on deck at night until the paper went down. Both of their dwellings are far down town, infinitely farther from the social life and rest of London than would be Third and Chestnut streets from that of Philadelphia. But the night is the life of a morning paper.

The Times having no long railway routes to travel, as all England is covered in a few hours, and running off its edition, 72,000 an hour, can afford to wait until a later moment before going to press than a paper of Philadelphia or New York. I may say here the editors of all kinds each have a room to themselves, and work under all the advantages of seclusion and silence. These rooms, nearly every one of which I visited, are spacious, often sixteen by sixteen or twenty feet, and substantially furnished; have high ceilings, are well ventilated and comfortably lighted. They have, in fact, something of the comfortable air of a university chamber.

—Anobody can play the violin, but it takes years of practice to so play that your neighbors can live the life of Christians.

—Fashionable pickpockets in London tickle the noses of ladies who happen to be looking into shop windows. The fair hand involuntarily applies the white handkerchief to the itching nose, and the naughty thief steals the purse from the exposed pocket.

Better Late than Never!

"Don't put off until to-morrow what can and should be done to-day," is wise. If you have never used SOZODONT for your teeth, make a bee-line to the druggist and get a bottle and begin to use it at once. "Verb. sap."

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

How Eagles are Caught.

Director Conklin of the Central park menagerie, in New York, as he stood by the cage of the eagles in the park, and watched the movements of a dozen captive birds, thus told about it: "All that we get here—and we get a great many for foreign parks and gardens besides those we keep—are adult birds that have been shot on the wing. Some of them are badly hurt when we get them, but I never knew one of them to die. We patch up wounds, and set broken wings with splints and bandages, and in a marvellously short time the birds are all sound again. They are remarkably hardy and live to a very old age. You see that pair there? They were presented to the park when it was first opened, more than twenty years ago, by Manager Stuart of Niblo's garden. They were adults then, for they had white heads, which they don't get until they are three years old. We have never lost an eagle by natural death."

"How do they die, then?"

"They kill each other. They have terrible battles among themselves occasionally, and unless somebody goes to the cage in time one bird or t'other is killed. They scream and make such a commotion that we generally know what they are at, and stop them. Their favorite mode of warfare is to drown one another in their drinking-fountain. This has happened two or three times. On one occasion I was summoned from the office by an employe with the cry that the eagles were at it. When I reached the cage the victorious bird was holding his antagonist's head under water. I separated them, but too late; the beaten bird was drowned."

"Then it is to be inferred that the eagles never become very tame in captivity."

"No; those that came here twenty years ago are as fierce as the day they came. We never try any familiarity with them. One of the keepers went inside of the cage once with the fresh meat to feed them. They pounced upon him, tore his face and clothing, and half killed the poor fellow. He never ventured inside again. Rats and mice, too, instinctively give that cage a wide berth. Occasionally a rat, attracted by the refuse food, incautiously crawls through the bars, and in a twinkling an eagle gobbles him up. We feed them rats, good deal in place of meat."

"But Mr. Bergh——?"

"Oh, no! We kill the rats for them," explained Mr. Conklin. "See those sparrows?"—pointing to a colony of the birds that have built their nests on the top of the cage—"singularly enough, the eagles live on the best terms with them, and are never tempted to eat them up. The little fellows make themselves perfectly at home. The eagles never breed in captivity. The old female bird makes a coarse nest every year from a sense of duty, lays two or three eggs, a little larger then a duck's, and sits on them patiently, but never hatches them. Except those two big fellows there, European sea eagles, our birds are all of the American, or bald headed, variety. For some unexplained reason they go blind in captivity, and we have to kill them or they would starve to death. We get birds from hunters in all part of the country. One of them is from Florida, one of them from Pennsylvania, others from the Adirondacks, the Catskills and Canada. The smaller birds come from the south. They attain their biggest size and finest plumage in the north. Speaking of the feathers, there is quite a demand on us for the large quills. Lots of Scotchmen from the Caledonian and other societies always want them for their fancy dress occasions."

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. BOGARDUS, of Berkshire, says, "One package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to venereal excesses or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. F. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th &sowo10

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the most agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, as your advice and advice others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, bony, muscular (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, costipation, inactivestomach and liver, bronchitis and incipient lung consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weakness of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet discovered, and commend themselves to the weak, nervous, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and throws out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, invigorates the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purified the female system of alcoholic excess and vitiating humors. It expels the first symptoms of incipient lung disease in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves nations. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. It remains at the head of all compound Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 15th, asking my opinion of Corbett's sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago it has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or blue syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, the inventor.

Girls as Housekeepers.

Begin with your own things and your own place. That is what your mother will tell you if you rush to her, enthusiastic with great intentions, and offer to relieve her of half her housekeeping. Don't draw that little bucket of cold water to have it poured back upon your early zeal. Reform your upper bureau-drawer; relieve your closet-pegs of their accumulation of garments out of use a month or two ago. Institute a clear and cheerful order, in the midst of which you can daily move; and learn to keep it. Use yourself to the beautiful, which is the right, disposing of things as you handle them, so that it will be a part of your toilet to dress your room and its arrangements while you dress yourself, leaving the draperies you take off as lightly and artistically hung, or as delicately folded and placed, as the skirts you loop carefully to wear, or the ribbon and lace you put with a soft neatness about your throat. Cherish instincts of taste and fitness in every little thing you have about you. Let it grow impossible to you to put down so much as a pin-box where it will disturb the orderly and pleasant grouping upon your dressing-table, or to stick your pins in your cushion even at all sorts of tipsy and uncomfortable inclinations. This will not make you "fussy"—it is the other thing that does that—the not knowing, except by fidgety experiment, what is harmony and the intangible grace of relation. Once get your knowledge beyond study, and turn it into tact—which is literally having it at your fingers' ends—and order will breathe about you, and grace evolve from commonest things, and uses, and belongings, wherever you may be; and "putting things to rights" will not be a separate task-work and trouble, any more than it is in the working of the solar system. It will go on all the time, and with a continual pleasure.

Take upon yourself gradually—for the sake of getting them in hand in like manner, if for no other need—all the cares that belong to your own small territory of home. Get together things for use in these cares. Have your little wash-cloths and your sponges for bits of cleaning; your furniture-brush and your feather-dusters, and your light little broom, and your whisk and pan; your bottle of sweet-oil and spirits of turpentine, and piece of flannel, to preserve the polish, or restore the gloss where dark wood grows dim or gets spotted. Find out, by following your surely growing sense of thoroughness and niceness, the best and readiest ways of keeping all fresh about you. Invent your own processes; they will come to you. When you have made yourself wholly mistress of what you can learn and do in your own apartment, so that it is easier and more natural for you to do it than to let it alone—so that you don't count the time it takes any more than that which you have to give to your own bathing and hair-dressing—then you have learned enough to keep a whole house, so far as its cleanly ordering is concerned.—Ladies Floral Cabinet.

Sick Folks Can Save Money

by buying the medicine known as Kidney-Wort. It is a dry, vegetable compound of wonderful efficacy in all diseases of the liver and kidneys. One package makes six quarts of medicine which contains no poisonous liquors, being prepared in pure water. See large advertisement.

— A lady lawyer out west always addresses her husband at breakfast as "My learned brother;" at lunch she calls him "the counsel for the defence;" at dinner time she calls him "a brass-mounted pettifogger with cheek like an armed mule."

$500 Reward

was for years offered in every paper of the land by the former proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for a case of catarrh it would not cure. It cures by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties. Snuff or dust of any kind merely dries up catarrh and drives it to the lungs. This remedy has stood the test of time, having been a popular remedy for a quarter of a century. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

—A medical student says that he has never been able to discover the bone of contention, and desires to know if it is not the jaw-bone.

Kidney-Wort radically cures billousness, piles and nervous diseases.

—"All things come to him who will but wait." Not much. The fellow who borrowed $20 of you last summer will not come to you if you wait five hundred years.

Rich in fat-producing material beyond all other foods and medicines are Malt Bitters.

—The chap who grumbles so loudly when his wife asks him to put up the clothes-line is generally the first to rush upon the stage and be half an hour tying a female medium in the cabinet.

Speer's Medicinal Sambucl Wine for Females.

This wine is made from the juice of cultivated Sambucus fruit. The best judges pronounce it superb. It is being highly recommended as a family wine by some of the best families in the States; and has been adopted by the New York Hospital, and by physicians generally in this country and Europe, as a very superior wine for consumption, kidney difficulties, female weakness and general debility, and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. The virtues attributed to the wine are numerous and long standing; and it is pleasant to know that some person has succeeded in making and putting in market a pure article of wine for medicinal use.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. H. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

New Hampshire Items.

An entire family by the name of Prescott, in Pepperell, narrowly escaped death by poisoning, Friday. A woman servant who had been reproved for misconduct by Mrs. Prescott is believed to have attempted to poison them. Arsenic was found in food in the house.

C. W. Vance, a brakeman on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, was probably fatally injured at Concord, on Saturday.

Naval Gazette.

The senate has passed a bill authorizing the President to appoint Thomas Owen and William Martin assistant surgeons in the navy.

Lieut. E. W. Watson, attached to the Norfolk navy yard, Asst. Surgeon N. H. Drake, attached to the naval hospital at New York, and Passed Asst. Paymaster Louis A. York, attached to the Pensacola navy yard, are each granted leave of absence for one month.

Assistant Surgeons W. G. G. Wilson and F. C. Dade, and Passed Assistant Engineer Edmund Wells, have been ordered to examination for promotion.

The orders relieving Comdr. J. D. Graham from the Passaic have been revoked.

Passed Assistant Paymaster G. H. Reed has been detached from duty, and placed on waiting orders.

Rear Admiral R. H. Wyman has joined the Tennessee at New York, which ship is to cruise off the coast of Maine, with Portland as her rendezvous. On her way northward she will stop at Newport, Boston, Portsmouth, and other points.

The Trenton arrived at Piræus, Greece, May 14th. Rear Admiral Howell when in Athens called upon the king, and was pleasantly received.

The Kearsarge sailed from Hampton roads for Boston on the 7th inst.

News and Notes.

Anthony Flaherty, sixty years of age, was instantly killed while walking on the railroad track near the West Quincy, Mass., depot Saturday morning. It is said that he walked deliberately upon the track when the train was approaching.

At Brownsville, Tenn., Thursday night, Frank King killed his wife in a fit of jealousy by knocking her down with an axe and beating her over the head with a heavy club. He was arrested.

Lieut. W. F. Zellin of the United States marine corps, and son of Gen. Zeilin of Washington, was thrown from his carriage at Norfolk, Va., Friday night, the horse having become frightened, and was killed.

On Sunday, at Mount Carey, Hancock county, Ohio, a church was blown down, the roof falling on the congregation and injuring twenty persons, three fatally.

It is said that more than two hundred men, women and children were killed by Victoria's band of Indians in their recent raid in New Mexico.

The steamer Old Colony of the Fall River line, en route from Newport to New York, was run into Saturday night, off Race Rock light, just before eleven o'clock, by a schooner, whose bowsprit and jibboom were carried away. The steamer's bulwarks, guard rail and about forty feet of joiner work on the port side were carried away, literally wrecking the kitchen. The schooner was able to proceed to New London, while the steamer returned to Newport for repairs.

About 250 feet of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad bed over the peat bog near Meriden, Conn., where there have been two recent accidents through the sinking of the track, suddenly slumped about forty feet under water early Friday morning. One of the tracks of the road has been moved to a solid foundation for passing trains, and the filling will be continued.

Friday morning the widow of Dea. William Goodwin, aged about seventy-five years, living near Deering, Me., made a desperate attempt to hang herself with a handkerchief. She was found before life was extinct, but her recovery is doubtful. She is supposed to be insane.

In a drunken fracas at Newburyport, Saturday night, David McGowan lost five fingers, and George Pemberton had his face badly damaged by brass knuckles.

A duel was fought near Richmond, Va., on Sunday, with revolvers, between Wm. C. Elam, editor of the Richmond Whig, and Thomas Smith, a son of Wm. Smith, ex-governor of the state. Elam was wounded, it is supposed fatally, and Smith has disappeared.

An Italian engineer has invented a steam bicycle; the boiler and machinery are directly under the seat of the rider.

The island of Elba, Napoleon's first exile home, has been devastated this spring by an army of locusts from Africa.

A leading hotel in Dundee, Scotland, is furnished throughout with furniture made in Grand Rapids, Mich.

"The diary and letters of Frances Burney, (Madam D'Arblay,) revised and edited by Sarah Chauncey Woolsey." In two volumes; Boston; Roberts Brothers. Madam D'Arblay was the second daughter of Charles Burney, Musical Doctor, who as a composer and writer upon music was a celebrity, a hundred years ago. His daughter was born in Norfolk, Eng., and at the age of twenty-six gave to the world the anonymous but justly appreciated publication of Evelina, a work for which she received at first but twenty pounds, but afterwards had large returns. Miss Burney held at one time the post of second keeper of the robes of Queen Charlotte, and died at the age of eighty-eight, at Bath, Eng., in 1840; she married the Count D'Arblay, a French refugee officer in 1793. The diary and letters of Madam D'Arblay were first given to the world, in 1842. They were republished in this country by Carny & Hart of Philadelphia, soon after their appearance in England, and have ever been regarded as of a high order of reading. The writings have lost none of their zest during the past forty years. Indeed, while thousands of books have come and gone and become forgotten, the reproduction of a revision of this book of diary and letters is but an evidence that there is a demand for a higher order of literature still to be supplied. We are brought into confidential relations with many celebrated personages of Madam D'Arblay's day and generation, such as Boswell, Dr. Johnson, Mrs. Thrale, Queen Charlotte, George the Third, Sir Joshua Reynolds, and other cotemporaries. It is a book to be read, not described. Upon its appearance it was favorably reviewed (by T. B. Macauley) in the Edinburgh Review in 1843, and also in the London Quarterly, and Blackwood's Magazine, while the London Naval Gazette spoke of it as "unequalled in literary and social value by any thing else of a similar kind in the language." As a means of enjoying reminiscences of personal events of an era full of literary interest, the work is of inestimable value, and will maintain in the future, as it has in the past, a high place in the sphere of letters. For sale at the bookstores; price two dollars per volume.

The New England members of the republican national committee, chosen at the national convention on the 5th inst., are as follows: Maine, William T. Frye; New Hampshire, William E. Chandler; Vermont, George W. Hooker; Massachusetts, John M. Forbes; Rhode Island, W. A. Peirce; Connecticut, Marshall Jewell.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." A good cigar is a great luxury to the smoker. There is no particular beauty about the Noriega. It is old-fashioned handmade, and thoroughly good, commending itself to any gentleman of cultivated taste. Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

Bernard Goodman married the widow Powers, at Chicago, but soon transferred his love to her daughter Nelly, aged fourteen years. He asked the girl to elope with and marry him. She refused, and immediately told her mother of the affair. Mrs. Goodman was ill, and the shock of the news killed her instantly.

THE FOLLY OF FOLLIES. Many persons are accustomed to disregard all slight symptoms of disease, saying, "Let it go as it came." But when one feels the symptoms of Kidney Disease—such as pain in the back and loins, palpitation, urinary derangement, etc.—to neglect them is the folly of follies. Kidney, bladder, liver and urinary complaints are always liable to end fatally if neglected. The true cure for them is Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine. There is no symptom or form of kidney disease that Hunt's Remedy is not master of. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

Agie Takato, secretary to the Japanese legation at Washington, committed suicide Sunday morning. He left a letter saying he was concerned in the insurrection of 1877 in Japan, and had forfeited his honor.

Malt Bitters build up the nervous and muscular system as so overcome disease.

Rev. Webster Hazlewood of Roxbury, Mass., told his wife that he was tired of her, and wished she would get a divorce, so that he could marry a more congenial woman. She did as he requested, he providing the evidence of his own criminality. He is now free, but was compelled to retire from the ministry.

AROUND HOME.

Surgeon C. J. Cleborne, U. S. N., is at home on a brief furlough.

Capt. Jonathan Young is in Illinois upon leave of absence, and the duties of executive officer at the navy yard are being discharged by Comdr. R. F. Bradford.

The schooner Heather arrived at the Shoals on Monday morning with 222 tons of coal for Laighton Bros. & Co. She made the passage from New York in thirty-five hours.

At the First Universalist church of Lowell, Mass., of which Rev. George A. Bicknell, formerly of this city, is pastor, an effort was made last Sunday to raise the church debt, and $10,150 were pledged, which is half the amount of the indebtedness.

The schooner Fairfield, which arrived on Monday with coal to C. E. Walker & Co., was successfully berthed at the Concord railroad wharf by steamer Mystic, Capt. Rashe Trefethen. The Mystic has been pretty busy since she commenced running across the river on regular trips.

The general committee on Memorial day observauces held a meeting at the city rooms on Monday evening, at which final reports were submitted. The evening exercises in Music hall netted $95, which goes to the charity fund of Storer Post, G. A. R. Votes of thanks were passed to Dr. James R. May, treasurer and chief marshal, C. M. Gignoux, chairman of the committee on finance, and Andrew P. Preston, chief of staff; and the committee then adjourned without day.

A rumor was crrrent on the street, Saturday, that Mr. Henry P. Colson, formerly of this city, had been gored to death by a ferocious cow at his residence in Newington. Some friends who hurried up to investigate the matter found the deceased quietly oiling a harness, and in answer to their eager enquiries he informed them that if he had been gored by a cow it must have been when he was asleep, as he didn't remember having seen a cow that day.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. was held on Monday evening, Dr. Potter, the president, in the chair. Some slight modifications were made to the by-laws. The treasurer reported that the company had orders for all they could produce in the present building. The new building is expected to be in redness for occupation about the middle of August. The brick walls are now going up, the timber having arrived on Monday.

The May number of the Granite Monthly contains a well written summary of the life of our well beloved citizen Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, from the pen of his son, Frank Goodwin, Esq. It is embellished with a fine, spirited portrait of Mr. Goodwin when he was governor of New Hampshire, in 1859 and '60. In the history of our town and state no name stands out embodying energy, ability, high-mindedness, generosity and geniality more prominently than that of Ichabod Goodwin. His presence among us to-day, evincing still those qualities that have placed him so truly in the hearts of his fellow citizens, is a source of gratification to all.

On Saturday last a couple of York county deputy sheriffs searched the place of Frank Osborne at Kittery, under the search and seizure provision of the Maine anti-liquor law, as he was suspected of selling prohibited beverages. After the search the officers came to this city, and were followed over by several persons from Kittery, who were joined here by a number of Portsmouth men, reported to be saloon keepers, the combined forces then proceeding to annoy the officers and insult them grossly, in the Eastern depot; the disturbance became so great that a Portsmouth officer was sent for, and his arrival at once put a stop to the performance. The names of several of the persons making the disturbance are known, and it is probable that the affair will come before the police court.

It is announced that Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman has accepted a call from the Pearl street Freewill Baptist society, and will commence his pastoral labors June 20th.

Rev. John A. Goss, pastor of the Christian church, on Sunday last baptized twelve persons at Noble's island, and a clergyman of the Advent church baptized eight. A large throng witnessed the ceremony, and the singing of Moody and Sankey hymns by the multitude sounded finely at a little distance.

An old lady who came from Beverly, Mass., by the morning train on Monday, to have a free ride as a stockholder, in stepping from the car—the lower step of which was far above the floor—sprained her ankle so that all the pleasure of the free ride was lost. The height of the steps above the floors at the Eastern station has long been a subject of complaint, and the evil has been sought to be remedied by the use of stools, which occasionally are to be found, but not on days when heavy trains like that of Monday arrive.

Last Saturday afternoon a young man was practising with a pistol near Miller avenue, and carelessly pointed the weapon in the direction of the residence of Mr. J. Horace Jenness. Mr. Jenness, who was at work near the stable in the rear of the house, was surprised to hear a bullet whiz past him and go thud against the side of the barn, which it penetrated, falling on the inside and being picked up by Mr. Jenness. Two other bullets struck the house. There is no suspicion of any ill intent on the part of the youth who fired the shots, as it was simply a piece of careless thoughtlessness; but if the bullet which went through Mr. Jenness' barn had hit his head instead, the result would have been just as serious for that gentleman as though it had been fired in malice. The city marshal gives notice that he will strictly enforce the law against discharging fire arms in the compact part of the city, as is proper should be done.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Pettigrew, the devotional services consisting of a scripture lesson by the leader, and prayer by Mrs. Hooper. A large number took part in the exercises, a colored brother from Dover making remarks expressly appropriate and replete with good sense. One speaker expressed the sentiments of a large part of the audience when he said that "party politics ought to be kept out of these meetings." A sister thought "the city authorities ought to see that the saloons are closed on the Sabbath and public holidays, especially Memorial day." Miss Emma Lolley gave an appropriate recitation. These services constantly increase in interest, and every week sees new names added to the roll.

Mr. Daniel Randall conducted the bethel service Sunday afternoon; the 37th Psalm was the theme. Rev. E. Owen led in prayer, and Mr. Randall gave a very good exposition of part of the psalm, and was followed by Mr. Owen and several others. There was a children's bible service at the close of the regular meeting.

The reform club held a social meeting Sunday evening; the services were of a character to interest all present, and many good things were said by the members. At the close a young seaman came forward and signed the pledge. L.

PORTLAND, SACO AND PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation was held at their hall in Kittery on Monday. E. B. Phillips, Esq., president, called the meeting to order. Mr. Chas. E. Barrett, the veteran clerk, for the first time since his election more than thirty years ago was unable to be present, by reason of illness. His son appeared with the records, and was chosen clerk pro tem. The report of the president shew the affairs of the road to be in excellent condition; that the road has not only been well kept up, but its value materially increased. There is now but seventeen miles of steel needed to make the main track entirely steel, and of this a very large part will be finished during the coming year; 16,579 new ties have been laid during the past year, and 2328 rods of new fence built. The last note of $62,500 has been paid by the Eastern railroad company, anticipating payment two years. No indebtedness of the P. S. & P. R. R., Co. now exists, either funded or floating, except of course uncalled-for dividends. The report was accepted.

The meeting then voted to proceed to choice of directors, Messrs. William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, F. E. Amory of Boston and E. J. Burnham of Saco being appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the votes. The committee reported that the whole number votes cast was 4298, all of which were for Elijah B. Phillips, Alfred P. Rockwell, George P. King and William B. Bacon of Boston, Mass., Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Mass. and George E. B. Jackson and John B. Brown of Portland, Me., and these gentlemen were declared elected directors.

On motion of Mr. Hackett, the thanks of the stockholders were tendered to Mr. S. Lothrop Thorndike, who in a note addressed the president had declined a reelection, for his faithful services as a director, and the meeting was dissolved.

The attendance of the stockholders was large. Many returned by a special train at half-past one o'clock. The directors will meet for organization at Portland at a future day. This property, with no debt, and with a lease at a fair rate of interest, seems to be in an excellent financial condition, and to have attained a settled value after its disturbing fluctuation, of a few years since. The stock is rarely to be found in market, as holders seem satisfied to retain it as an investment.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The pay roll of the York corporation at Saco was larger for the month of May than for any one month for the past twelve years. It amounted to a little over $32,000.

The rise in real estate at Old Orchard beach within the last fifteen years has been something remarkable, and the tendency is still upward. Fifteen to twenty years ago Mr. E. C. Staples, the pioneer hotel man at this now famous resort, purchased forty acres of land at the beach for something less than $40 per acre. That portion of this purchase which fronts on the sea wall has now been cut up into lots one hundred feet square, which readily sell at $1,000 each; the remainder has been divided into lots fifty feet square, which bring from $300 to $500 per lot.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although efficacious in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR is a Standard Family Remedy for diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.—It is Purely Vegetable.—It never Debilitates—It is Cathartic and Tonic. TRY IT.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order; its healthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, and other Disorders, Seasickness, and Complaints.

The Liver is the seat of malarial diseases. The Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic Influences. It Purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.

The Liver Invigorator has been used in my practice and by the public, for more than 35 years, with unprecedented results.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6th, 1880.

Little doubt is now felt of adjournment on or about the 15th. There is nothing in the way. This congress has not made a record worthy of special notice, but I know of no great frauds (except the river and harbor bill) which have been favorably considered, and that is much to the credit of both houses, especially as these are "flush" times, and the government is receiving such enormous sums of money that a reduction of over forty millions is made in the public debt in three months.

Increased interest is of course felt here in the coming democratic convention, now the republican convention has been held. It is known everywhere that there is a large majority of democratic congressmen who are opposed to the nomination of Mr. Tilden; and perhaps this point, for that reason, is not one where a correct judgment of the future can be easily formed. If we take the opinion of the Hon. So-and so, based, as he says it is, on information "received from his state" constantly, we shall have to believe that Mr. Tilden cannot be nominated. Perhaps the never-ending repetition of this statement affects us all here, for very few Washingtonians now look upon Mr. Tilden as the coming man. Four years ago, the old democrats of the city had their houses newly furnished to receive him, and all went over to New York to make his acquaintance. I find many democrats who look upon Hancock's chances as decidedly good, and many who would be glad to see Seymour nominated. There has of late been little talk, outside of congressional circles, of any western candidate.

There will probably be a contest in congress over the general deficiency bill. It makes appropriations for the courts, marshals' fees, convicts' support, and pay of marshals for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1880. The contest will be over "riders," objectionable to the republicans and insisted upon by the democrats. KNOX.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says: "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After fifteen years of great suffering from Liver and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Yorkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book: Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

Popular Monthly Drawing of the Commonwealth Distribution Co.,

AT MACAULEY'S THEATRE, In the City of Louisville, on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30th, 1880.

These Drawings, authorized by the Legislature of 1869, and sustained by all the courts of Kentucky, according to a contract made with the owners of the Frankfort grant, will occur regularly on the last day of every month, Sunday and Friday excepted, for the period of five years, terminating on June 30th, 1885.

The United States Circuit Court on March 31st rendered the following decisions:

1st. That the Commonwealth Distribution Company is legal.

2d. Its drawings are not fraudulent.

The management call attention to the liberal scheme which has met with such popular favor heretofore, and which will again be presented for

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Comfrey, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with bottle of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the purest and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of all accumulations and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the acrid humors in and gout, and invariably relieves rheumatism. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business, thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or olive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

The Knights of Malt-a.

The twentieth annual congress of the "National Association of Brewers" has been in session at Buffalo, N. Y., considering the state of the beer-producing industry. Upon its list of officers every state, excepting Maine, and every territory, were represented. Even Vermont sent a delegate, although it produced last year only fifty-five barrels of malt liquor. Of course the largest number of the delegates to the brewers' congress came from New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, these three states together furnishing about one-third of the 2,719 breweries which, according to the statistics of 1879, were operating throughout the United States. They produced more than one-half of the eleven millions of barrels brewed, which paid more than one-half of the ten millions of revenue tax collected, during that year.

An interesting statement was presented to the brewers' congress by Delegate Lauer, of Reading, Pa., who showed that in ten years our export of domestic beer and ale had increased from 1,500 to 125,000 dozens of bottles and from 66,000 to 120,000 gallons in casks, while during the past six years the importation of foreign ale and beer has decreased by about a million of gallons. Mexico, Brazil and the rest of Spanish America furnish the customers for more than one-half of the malt liquor of American production thus exported.

As there is a very large importation into those countries of British, German and Scandinavian malt liquors, there is room there for a still greater development of the American trade. The brewers in convention have grappled resolutely with the restrictive legislation of several states upon the subject of hop producing, malting, and the use of ale and beer as beverages. Mr. Rueter, of Boston, the president of the congress, was not in favor of prohibitory law. He demonstrated from the official statistics of Maine that insanity, pauperism and crime have increased there and not diminished since the hop has been placed on one prohibitory plane with the poppy, and beer has been ranked with prussic acid. President Rueter sarcastically contrasted the statistics of lunacy and crimeness in Maine with the sanitary statistics of Germany, where malt liquor flows as freely almost as water. After two days passed in interchanging opinions, and after appointing yearly committees of conference and a committee of agitation as to legislation, the convention adjourned. It is stated that the aggregated wealth of its members was far in excess of that of any body ever before assembled in the United States; the association is a body wielding a large influence in the politics of the country, and is annually growing in power and strength.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

—There is probably nothing so exhilarating in the experiences of the amateur gardener as when he steps upon the hoe and the responsive handle immediately arises to plant a fervent kiss between his eye.

PROMPT.—The editor of a Chicago newspaper, wanting the details of an inundation in Connecticut, telegraphed to a correspondent at Hartford, "Send full particulars of the flood." The reply came quickly, "You will find them in Genesis." The answer was prompt but erroneous. It was an inundation of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger which the editor referred to.

—A Washington correspondent writes that both Rhode Island senators "are single men and childless." In view of the fact that they are single, their being childless is a grand idea.

— "Circumstances alter cases," said an unsuccessful lawyer, "but my cases don't alter my circumstances."

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets.

— The New York free baths have been opened for the season, and 9000 men and boys availed themselves thereof the first day.

From Lieut. Jno. Osborn, of the firm of Evans, Webster & Co., Boston.

"Two bottles of Adamson's Botanic Balsam effected a cure in my family that four skilful physicians failed to do."

Sold by druggists and dealers at 35 cts.

— Fred Archer is coming to America, and the announcement is called over as if it were a matter of importance. Mr. Archer is a London horse-jockey.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H., as second-class matter.]

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Republican National Convention.

The convention assembled on Tuesday as per adjournment, and balloting was resumed, as follows:

Ballots	29	30	31	32	33	34	35
Grant	305	306	307	309	309	312	313
Blaine	278	279	277	270	276	275	257
Sherman	118	120	119	119	115	107	104
Edmunds	10	11	11	11	11	11	11
Washburne	23	23	23	23	23	23	23
Windom	7	4	3	3	4	4	3
Garfield	2	2	1	1	1	17	50

On the 36th ballot New Hampshire, New Jersey and North Carolina broke for Garfield; New York gave him twenty votes, Ohio forty-three, and Pennsylvania eleven. The 36th and final ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	755
Necessary for a choice	378
John Sherman had	3
Elihu B. Washburne	5
James G. Blaine	42
Ulysses S. Grant	306
James A. Garfield	399

And in all human probability JAMES A. GARFIELD of Ohio will be the next President of the United States.

On motion of Roscoe Conkling the nomination was made unanimous.

Gen. Chester A. Arthur of New York was nominated for vice president, and the convention adjourned.

The Candidate.

James A. Garfield was born in Orange, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, November 19, 1831, and is therefore in the forty-ninth year of his age. He was graduated from Williams college in the class of 1856, having distinguished himself during his course by great ability as a scholar and unusual interest in the literary societies. Immediately after leaving college he began the study of law, and in 1859 was elected to the state senate of Ohio, where he served for one session. In 1861 he entered the Union army as colonel of the Forty-second Ohio volunteers. Throughout the war he displayed many soldierly qualities, and was promoted to the rank of a brigadier general in 1862; one year later he became chief of staff of the army of the Cumberland, with the rank of major-general. Mr. Garfield was elected as representative from Ohio to the Thirty-eighth congress, by a large majority over the democratic candidate; and since that time he has been re-elected to each successive congress by largely increased majorities. His nomination as candidate for president has come to him without his seeking it, and will unite all sections of the republican party.

Naval Gazette.

The Vandalia arrived at Newport on the 5th inst., from New York.

The Trenton arrived at Palermo, Sicily, May 20th, from Greece.

The United States senate has passed a bill to promote the efficiency of the navy. It provides that naval officers found unfit to perform their duties, by reason of drunkenness or other incapacity not caused by the performance of duty, shall not be placed on the retired list, but shall be discharged, with one year's pay. The senate has also passed a bill to provide a commission for the adjudication of damages to the Norwegian bark Atlantic by collision with the United States sloop-of-war Vandalia, and for the payment of any award made by said commission.

News and Notes.

James Goodhire, engine tender in the Chester company's paper mill at Huntington, Mass., was found dead in the wheel-pit of the mill late Saturday night. His head was crushed in a bucket, which had torn off the scalp; both arms were broken, one foot was torn off, and he was otherwise mangled. It is supposed he fell into the flume, and was drawn into the wheel.

A shocking murder was committed on Monday afternoon in Johnston, three miles from Providence, R. I., at a house where two maiden sisters lived together. One of them, Amelia Potter, aged sixty years, was attacked in the yard, her head beaten into a shapeless mass by a hoe, pickaxe or some such implement, and the body dragged a few rods and thrown into an old cellar. Her sister, of unsound mind, probably saw the assault, but the shock has so affected her that she can give no coherent information, and she has been sent to the insane asylum. Strong suspicions attach to a youth named Walter Winsor, aged sixteen years, out on probation from the reform school, whose father lives on the next farm. Winsor is known to have been on the premises, gave the first information of the murder, and his clothes were spotted with blood. He has been arrested, but stoutly denies the crime. The motive cannot be conjectured, but the bad character of the boy would imply mere wantonness. The inquest was begun on Tuesday.

Frank D. Sylvester, son of Ignatius B. Sylvester of Gloucester, Mass., aged fifteen years, got caught in the machinery of the Riverdale grist mill, Monday. One leg was broken in four places, one of his arms was broken, and he was injured about the head and face. Physicians say he cannot live.

Eph. Holland, the notorious prize fighter and gambler who engineered the repeating and ballot-box-stuffing by which the democrats carried Cincinnati and elected two congressmen in 1876, was shot on the street Monday night. Holland met Marshall Wooding, a gambler, who asked him if he had obeyed the mayor's order to close his gambling house. Holland said he had, and a sharp dispute then occurred. Wooding says Holland drew a weapon, and he had to shoot in self-defence. The ball struck Holland in the upper part of the right leg, near the groin. The physicians have not been able to extract the ball, and cannot tell whether the wound is dangerous or not. Wooding, who says he is from Danville, Pa., was arrested.

A queer mystery puzzles the people of Chester, Mass. According to his own story, Edwin Eastman of Chester was shot in the head about nine o'clock Friday evening while sitting near an open window, but was not seriously injured. Mr. Eastman and his brother rushed out of doors hoping to find the would-be assassin, when there was another shot fired without effect, and the would-be assassin disappeared in the darkness. Another theory, confirmed by circumstances, is that the brother, Benjamin Eastman, wanted to get rid of Edwin, and so assaulted him with a sharp weapon. Benjamin has been arrested. The general opinion is that he was in some way connected with the Perley B. Hutchins murder, which has never been satisfactorily accounted for, and the district attorney took up the case on that supposition.

A gold badge, set with diamonds, is now on exhibition at Tiffany's, New York, which has been presented to Henry Bergh as "a mark of the personal esteem and friendship" of the following gentlemen, comprising the executive committee of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals: N. M. Beckwith, James M. Brown, Nathan C. Ely, Frederick Gallatin, Elbridge T. Gerry, John P. Haines, Benjamin D. Hicks, John Taylor Johnston, Charles Lanier, Royal Phelps, Frederick W. Stevens, James Stokes, Sinclair Tousey and Charles L. Tiffany.

Jennie Allen died on Friday at Auburn, Me., from the effects of criminal malpractice.

Saul Langley, sixteen years old, was killed by lightning at Athens, Me., a few days ago.

A body has been recovered off Newport, Va., supposed to be that of Capt. Frank of the schooner Mignonette, who was recently murdered by the negro Thompson.

Mrs. W. B. S. Higgins, formerly Lucina Worden of Brattleboro' and Bernardston, Vt., has been murdered by Indians at Etchetah, Montana, near the scene of the Custer disaster. The motive for the crime was a chief's wish to marry Mrs. Higgins' fifteen-years-old daughter.

The first summer cottage built at Newport, R. I., was in 1838, and is the house now standing opposite the Ocean house. It was built by George Jones of Savannah, who paid $6,700 for the lot. As for the increase of the value of real estate: A plot of ground sold in 1848 for $2,000, and its last sale was for $60,000. The first hotel there was built in 1848, at a a cost of $20,000.

The engagement of Miss Otis, niece of Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis, of Boston, to M. Fournier, a French gentleman of wealth and high social position, is announced.

The Continental Guards of New Orleans, La., under Captain William Pierce, will leave that city on Saturday, June 12th, via Cairo and Chicago, going direct to Boston to participate in the anniversary celebration of the battle of Bunker hill.

The money spent for tobacco in this country, according to The Retailer, exceeds in amount the expenditure for bread.

Mr. Waterman of Duluth was so exasperated by a corn that he took careful aim with a pistol and shot a bullet through it. The corn is gone, and so is most of the toe.

Pulling matches by steamboats are still a popular diversion in the west. At Chicago a few days ago, the Gardner, for years regarded as the most powerful vessel on the lakes, was beaten by the Johnson. In these contests the boats are fastened together by a rope running from stern to stern, and then both are started at the same instant in opposite directions.

On the first of May a new telegraphic rule went into force in Switzerland. At the request of the sender, the message must be delivered open at the designated domicile, so that, in the absence of the person for whom it is intended, immediate attention may be given to the matter.

Horatio G. Cloutman of Farmington has been arrested for wrongfully refusing to pay to Miss Ella T. Sherburne one thousand dollars, won by her in a lottery, and collected by Cloutman. The lottery ticket was purchased last fall, and on learning that it had drawn a prize Miss Sherburne consulted Cloutman as to the proper course to be pursued, and he informed her that he was going to New York and that he would take her ticket and get it cashed. She gave him the ticket with an order for the money, and he started for New York, where he obtained the amount of the prize in full. After two or three weeks absence he returned with his face badly bruised, but minus the money; he said he had been beaten and robbed of everything, and therefore could not pay her. Thus the matter rested for awhile until facts reached the ears of Miss Sherburne contradicting his stories, and showing conclusively that the robbery was only a hoax. Accordingly he was arrested, and is held in $3000 bail.

Gen. Burnside was on Tuesday elected United States senator from Rhode Island, for the term commencing March 4th, 1881.

A Curious Number.

Here is something to scratch your head over. A very curious number is 142,857, which, multiplied by 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6 gives the same figures in the same order, beginning at a different point; but it multiplied by 7 gives all nines.

142,857x1 142,857
142,857x2 285,714
142,857x3 428,571
142,857x4 571,428
142,857x5 714,285
142,857x6 857,142
142,857x7 999,999

Multiply 142,857 by 8, and you have 1,142,856. Then add the first figure to the last and you have 142,857, the original number, with the figures exactly the same as at the start.

When gazing in your lover's eyes,
How soon his sense of rapture dies
If there's no sweetness in your breath;
If by your failing teeth be shown
That SOZODONT to you's unknown,
And that your mouth is suffering death.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

Yesterday, to-day and To-morrow.

The war is over—the battle-fields of the recent unpleasantness are overgrown with flour or any cultivated farms—the old names once so familiar to every reader of a newspaper are daily disappearing among the latest majority, and yet the sun rises and sets—new issues present themselves and the mottled web of life is spun on—but one thing seems fixed and certain that in each June and December in the city of New Orleans Generals G. T. Beauregard, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., conduct with exact fairness and justice the semi-annual drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and over half a million of dollars are given away. For particulars write to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York City.

The main entrance to Franklin block is being laid with handsome black and white marble blocks.

County Solicitor Walter C. Harriman and wife left this city on Tuesday for Warner, N. H., intending to be absent about a month.

Five thousand dollars of Eastern railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds were sold at the brokers' board in Boston on Tuesday at 93, and $500 at 94.

The regular monthly rehearsal of the Portsmouth Musical association takes place this evening at the Middle street Baptist vestry, at eight o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Harry Goodwin, ten years of age, son of Ezra C. Goodwin of Dover, was probably fatally injured on Saturday last by a fall. He was trying to rob a crow's nest in a lofty pine tree, and while about fifty feet up, the limb on which he was sitting broke, and he fell to the ground.

The town of Newmarket, on Saturday last, voted to exempt from taxation for ten years the new mill proposed to be erected by the Newmarket Manufacturing company. At a meeting of the company, Mr. S. A. Haley of Newmarket was chosen director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. George W. Kittredge.

At the Seabrook town meeting, Saturday, it was decided to locate the new lockup, to take the place of the one burned by tramps several years ago, on the corner of Walton road and the new road leading from Walton road to the depot. The town has been without a lockup since the old one was burned. The new one is to be fire-proof.

When "Shadow," of Stratham, returned from one of his grafting expeditions some time ago, he found that his family had been increased by four. Being a man of classic tastes he has decided to name them after four of the old heathen deities, viz.: Samuel J. Tilden, John Smith, Victoria Woodhull and Cunderango. The mother is doing as well as could be expected.

The body of Willie Goodwin, son of Mr. Alfred R. Goodwin of this city, the lad who was drowned on the 9th of May by being knocked out of a boat near Badger's island through the jibing of the boom, was found on Tuesday at Rye beach, near the south end of the bathing houses. The remains were brought to this city, and placed in the receiving tomb.

Probably the first campaign flags raised in the state were those run out on Congress and Islington streets by republicans, Tuesday afternoon, between three and four o'clock. The first flung to the breeze was by Col. Kent at 3:30 o'clock, with the name of "Garfield" pinned on under the blue field; a few minutes later a magnificent flag, twelve feet by twenty-four, with the legend "For President, James A. Garfield" nicely stitched on, was hung between Franklin building and the Kearsarge house by the republican club. A hundred guns were fired at Langdon park in honor of the nomination.

The Dover Democrat says: "Messrs. Leoplod & Guppy's circus, instead of following on their appointed circuit, after playing in Rochester on Thursday evening determined to go no further, but to return to Col. Cushing's farm for the present. The reason for this action is that several of the artistes engaged to travel with the company failed to put in an appearance at the time appointed, and the proprietors did not wish to travel without being able to produce what was advertised. The band they had engaged, the 'Fire King' and others, were of those who failed to appear. All the employes were promptly paid more than their demands, and they will all stop at Col. Cushing's until the company is ready after reorganizing to resume the road. The company will take a trip through the provinces, and will probably leave here about the 25th inst."

Judson B. Ham, a student of Bates college, has charge of the upper room of the graded school in district five, South Seabrook, and Miss Tillie Pond of Franklin, Mass., of the lower room. Mrs. Almena Mahar is supplying the school in district four, a Miss Giles, who was employed in conducting it, having gone to her home in New York on account of sickness in her family.

On Tuesday morning at about seven o'clock, a big limb fell from an elm tree in the yard of Capt. J. Gilman Moses' residence on Elm street; there was no wind at the time, and the limb broke off through it own weight merely, after standing the storms of the winter and spring. It was about fifty feet in extreme length, and fifteen inches through at its junction with the main trunk, where it was all gone with rot, though it had shown no outward sign of decay or weakness.

THE PIGEON SHOOT.

Mr. Editor: The sarcastic allusion by "Arrow," in a recent issue of your paper, to the pigeon shooting affair which lately took place at Kittery under the management of the Tremont club of Boston, was well pointed, and hit the mark. The comparison between the manly pastimes of the middle ages, and the low amusements and cruel sports of which pigeon matches and dog-fights are prominent features, is open, however, to the objection that no comparison can exist between the behavior of gentlemen who charged at each other with levelled lances, and exposed their lives to the hazards of the jousting lists, to win the smiles of high-bred ladies, and the motley crew of groundlings who enter the modern arena to slay harmless birds and gratify a cruel lust for blood, without incurring any personal risk. It seems like comparing the cavaliers of the olden time with the rustic clowns of to-day. The knights of the fourteenth century have their counterparts in the Farraguts, the Custers and the Cushings of the present age. The pigeon shooters of this generation are unique; the history of the past bears no record of such puerile sports.

Many persons are unacquainted with the manner in which the miserable exhibition is conducted; allow me therefore to describe the scene lately enacted in this vicinity. Fifty or more of the "sporting fraternity" assembled to test their skill as marksmen, or to witness the exploits of others. Several hundred pigeons were brought into the enclosure, crowded into the champagne hampers in which they had been confined during their transportation from Boston. A trap, located in the centre of the field, was so contrived that by pulling a string the birds which were placed inside of it were liberated, one at a time. The gunner of the club whose turn it was to shoot, took his station, gun in hand, within twenty-five yards of the trap; when the string was pulled the frightened bird flew from the ground in a bewildered way, and was mercilessly shot at by the fellow lying in wait to take its innocent life. The poor creature escaped death at the hands of the "sport," and was instantly made the target of a score of "outfielders" who surrounded the ring to shoot every escaping bird. One poor frightened thing, confused by the constant firing of guns, seemed incapable of flight, but fluttered around the field just above the heads of its tormentors as if appealing to them for mercy. Sixteen shots were fired in rapid succession by the brilliant marksmen before the gentle creature fell quivering to the ground. The carnival of death continued until a hundred and more birds had been slaughtered in this miserable manner, to gratify the cruel instincts of a few idlers, who, evading the laws of their own state, travelled fifty miles and disgraced a respectable community in Maine by their disreputable pastime. Should not our boys have the influence of more refined and elevating amusements? MERCY.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Theodore Wells of Wells has erected a monster barn. It is eighty feet square.

Edward D. Coffin of this city is engaged with a large gang of men in repainting the Old Orchard house at Old Orchard beach, one of the largest jobs of the kind ever done in Maine.

By the report of the doings of the national republican convention, in another column, it will be seen that when a "dark horse" was required the convention passed right by Postmaster Joseph Weare, of Cape Neddick, and picked up a Mr. Garfield, of Ohio; and this too, in face of the fact that had Mr. Weare been nominated he would have had the vote of every man, woman and child in Cape Neddick, which Mr. Garfield won't get.

A Half-fare Husband.

An elopement of the most extraordinary description occurred in Ottawa, Ontario, on Tuesday of last week, the parties being two young girls of about fourteen years old, and two boys of sixteen, all of respectable parentage. The girls obtained permission to attend a picnic, and their departure was first discovered by the mother of one of them finding a note in her bedroom which stated that the writer had gone away, and that her parents need fear nothing, as she would never do anything to disgrace them. On subsequent inquiry it was ascertained that the quartette had left by a train the previous morning, and crossed to Ogdensburg, N. Y., in the afternoon. One of the boys, although older, is younger in appearance than the girls, and he was able to pass at half-fare on the cars. The others paid full fares. The girls had not much money or clothes with them, but one of the boys, who has of late been employed on the Canada Central railway, is said to have had about $80.

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

The demand for holy images having lately decreased in Russia, some of the manufacturers changed their business, and resorted to forging Russian bank notes, which gave them a handsome profit. But this occupation having been broken up by the police, the forgers have taken up another business, that of digging in the Siberian mines.

ELEGANT HAIR is woman's crowning beauty. When it fades she fades as well. While it is kept bright, her personal attractions are still maintained. By preserving the hair fresh and vigorous a youthful appearance is continued through many years. Those who grieve over their fading hair turning gray too early, should know that Ayer's Hair Vigor prevents it, and restores gray or faded hair to its natural color. It is a clear and healthful preparation, containing neither oil, dye, nor anything deleterious, and imparts to the scalp what is most needed—a sense of pleasant and delightful freedom from scurf or dandruff. — New Berne (N. C.) Times.

On a recent official inspection of the St. Petersburg printing offices, it was discovered that an amazing quantity of type was wanting. One of the printing offices could not account for the disappearance of eight hundred pounds of type, and the other for one hundred and thirty-four pounds. It is believed that the type had been carried off by nihilist printers.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY? BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

New Publications.

"Ballads and Lyrics, selected and arranged by Henry Cabot Lodge;" Boston; Houghton, Osgood and Company. This is a collection of poetry designed for the use of young persons between the ages of twelve and eighteen years, in our public schools. It by no means need be confined in its use or appreciation to those of that age, as there is much to be learned and enjoyed in its perusal by persons of all ages, lettered or unlettered. From English poets are selections from the writings of Addison, Browning, Byron, Campbell and Gray, with liberal extracts from Shakespeare and also from Scott and Burns, and many others known to fame. Contributions from the poetic writings of Holmes, Longfellow, Whittier and Lowell are also selected. Indeed, it is a carefully compiled book, designed for the education of the young people of to-day up to a taste for good poetry, and to incite a more extended reading of the works of the best authors. Containing many of the finest poems in our language, it must tend to develope a correct taste in the rising generation, while it will also promote and prolong in those of a more mature age, a relish for the best productions in poetic literature as its pages are perused. Every teacher should possess a copy. Published at $1.25, and for sale at W. G. Myers' book-store.

"Curious Myths of the Middle Ages," by S. Barings Gould, M. A.; Boston; Roberts Brothers; price $1.50. This is a work which treats of certain events which many if not most persons have regarded as having occurred, as simply mediæval myths; such characters as the Wandering Jew, William Tell, the seven sleepers of Ephesus, the man in the moon, St. George the martyr, and other supposed and commonly believed creations of the past, are here in turn brought before us and summarily disposed of as mere myths. The author portrays a legend in all its quaint beauty, tells us the story with all its hereditary embellishments, and then proceeds to demolish the established and credited story, so long transmitted from generation to generation, by asserting the impossibility of the occurrence. He does not give us the benefit even of a doubt, but brushes away the legends of persons, places and events, with a logical deduction from which there is no escape. It is too bad after the pains taken by tourists and others to visit the scenes made memorable by the brave exploits of William Tell, the hero of Switzerland, to be told that this impressive narrative of heroism was a myth common to many older countries before it came down to our Swiss neighbors. But the world moves, and if we are to draw the line between fact and fable we must inform ourselves of these myths—one means to which end can be found in the above publication, which is full of interest, and will well repay perusal.

"Eastward, Ho! or Adventures at Rangeley Lakes;" by Capt. Charles A. J. Farrar; Boston; Lee & Shepard. This work, the title of which is so much at variance with the immortal advice of Horace Greeley, is the first volume of the "Lake and Forest" series, which are to be completed in six volumes and are founded upon incident and adventure occurring in the wilds of Maine. Judging from the work before us, the series will be of wide popularity and of deep interest both to old and young. The reader is at once introduced to a party of Boston boys, from fifteen to eighteen years of age, who are about to start upon their long summer vacation. They conclude to go to Rangely lakes in the state of Maine, and enjoy the pleasures and excitement of camp life. Minute description is given of their outfit and general preparations for executing their plans. After the occurrence of several amusing incidents en passant the boys arrive at their destination and begin camp life in earnest. The story is then continued with the description of many interesting adventures which befel the young Bohemians, including a fight with a bear—concerning which we desire to inform our sensitive readers that the bear was subdued. One of the especial merits of the book lies in its description of the country in the midst of which the story is located. It is finely illustrated, and includes an excellent map of the Rangely lakes and the whole region there about. This region of country growing more popular every year as its beauties become known to visitors, and the book will serve to still further familiarize its attractions, while the easy manner in which the captain spins his yarn will delight the boys who can visit the spot only by means of the perusal of this volume—which may be found at the book stores and upon the railway trains.

—A standing joke—inviting a hundred people to a party in a house where there are only fifty chairs.

—We have heard of people going to a drug store after nails, but the latest oddity in that line is an old lady who went into a butcher shop and inquired if they had any liver pads for sale.

—This is an easy way of detecting the purity or adulteration of a sample of wine: dip a small sponge into the wine to be tested. Place the sponge then in a saucer, the bottom of which is covered with a small quantity of water. If the wine is pure, it will take from a quarter to half an hour before the water in the saucer becomes colored, but if the wine is adulterated the coloring of the water takes place immediately.

Cuticura

HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. In fact forty minutes after taking the first dose it may be detected in the blood, and, when taking that it has covered the blood and seed distributed throughout the entire system. In its passage through the circulating fluids it meets with the corrupt particles of matter which foster and maintain disease, with which it chemically unites, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.

Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous, and Canker Humors, which unchecked fill the body with foul corruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.

CUTICURA, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and Skin, Ulcers, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of cutaneous applications. It speedily destroys Dandruff and parasitic growths, restores the oil glands and tubes to a healthy condition, and cures, when assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, diseases of the Skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a lifetime.

SKIN DISEASE.

Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—CUTICURA REMEDIES have done me a power of good. I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years. Some days it troubled me more than others, but at night the itching nearly drove me wild.

I would scratch until the blood would run down my limbs.

I have had several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but all are said not.

I will say that before I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES I was in a fearful state, and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.

But, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, about which I had read so much.

They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and of my own free will and accord I recommend them. Yours truly, S. A. STEELE.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION! Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. HEAL THYSELF

SPEER'S

PORT GRAPE WINE!

Useful in principal Disorders for Consumption nursing, Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,

FOUR YEARS OLD.

This Celebrated Native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this and other country. Its Invaluable are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

Speer's P. J. Sherry,

A delicate, fine flavored Sherry, from the Spanish grape, equal to the finest brands imported from Lisbon.

SPEER'S P. J. OR PEDRO J. BRANDY.

This noted Brandy is a pure distillation from the grape and is equal to the finest Hennessy or Otard Brandies; for medicinal purposes it can be relied upon as strictly pure.

Speer's Sambuci Wine!

celebrated for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for nursing and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm; improving the appetite and benefiting ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC,

it imparts a healthy action to the kidneys and Urinary organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a concentrated summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and in fact the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Ginger, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degenerations of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of uncomfortable weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the best popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

The Republican Platform.

The following is the platform adopted by the national republican convention of 1880:

First—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the nation, and that the fruits of the costly victories which we have achieved through immense difficulties should be preserved; that the peace regained should be cherished; that the disservered Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted, undiminished, to future generations; that the order established and the credit acquired should never be impaired; that the pensions promised should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof; that the reviving industries should be further promoted and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

Second—The constitution of the United States is a supreme law, and not a mere contract. Out of confederate states it made a sovereign nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are denied to the states, but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by the national and not by the state tribunals.

Third—The work of popular education is one left to the care of the several states, but it is the duty of the national government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional duty. The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several states, and the destiny of the nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one state, but by the average genius of all.

Fourth—The constitution wisely forbids congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism while each state is exposed to its domination. We therefore recommend that the constitution be so amended as to lay the same prohibition upon the legislature of each state, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth—We affirm the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenues should so discriminate as to favor American labor; that no further grant of the public domain should be made to any railway or other corporation; that slavery having perished in the states, its twin barbarity—polygamy—must die in the territories; that everywhere the protection accorded to citizens of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption; that we esteem it the duty of congress to develope and improve our water courses and harbors, but insist that further subscription to private persons or corporations must cease; that the obligations of the republic to the men who preserved its integrity in the hour of battle are undiminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their victory. To do them perpetual honor is, and shall forever be, the grateful privilege and sacred duty of the American people.

Sixth—The authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the congress or with the United States and its treaty-making powers. The republican party, regarding the unrestricted immigration of Chinese as an evil of great magnitude, invoke the exercise of those powers to restrain and limit that immigration, by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce that result.

Seventh—That the purity and patriotism which characterizes the earlier career of Rutherford B. Hayes, in peace and war, and which guided the thoughts of our immediate predecessors to him for a presidential candidate, have continued to inspire him in his current chief executive, and that history will accord to his administration the honors which are due to an efficient, just and courteous discharge of the public business, and will honor his interposition between the people and proposed partisan laws.

Eighth—We charge upon the democratic party the habitual sacrifice of patriotism and justice to a supreme and insatiable lust of office and patronage; that to obtain possession of the national and state governments and the control of place and position they have obstructed all effort to promote the purity and to conserve the freedom of suffrage, and have devised fraudulent certifications and returns; have labored to unseat lawfully elected members of congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of a majority of the states in the house of representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud the places of trust given to others by the people of Maine, and rescued by the courage in action of Maine's patriotic sons; have, by methods vicious in principle and tyrannical in practice, attached partisan legislation to appropriation bills upon whose passage the very movements of the government depend; have crushed the rights of individuals; have advocated the principles and sought the favor of rebellion against the nation, and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war and to overcome its inestimable and valuable results of nationality, personal freedom and individual equality. The equal, steady and complete enforcement of the laws and the protection of all our citizens in the enjoyment of all the privileges and immunities guaranteed by the constitution—are the first duties of the nation. The danger of a solid south can only be averted by a faithful performance of every promise which the nation has made to the citizens. The execution of the laws and the punishment of all those who violate them are the only safe methods by which an enduring peace can be secured and a genuine prosperity established throughout the south. Whatever promise the nation makes the nation must perform, and the nation cannot with safety relegate this duty to the states. The solid south must be divided by the peaceful agencies of the ballot, and all opinions must there find free expression, and to this end the honest voters must be protected against terrorism, violence or fraud; and we affirm it to be the duty and the purpose of the republican party to use every legitimate means to restore all the states of this Union to the most perfect harmony that may be practicable; and we submit to the practical, sensible people of the United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the dearest interests of our country at this time to surrender the administration of the national government to a party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring distrust and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.

The republican party, adhering to the principles affirmed by its last national convention, of repect for constitutional rules governing appointment to office, adopts the declaration of President Hayes that reform in civil service shall be thorough, radical and complete. To that end it demands the co-operation of the legislative with the executive departments of government, and that congress shall so legislate that fitness ascertained by proper practical tests shall admit to the public service; and that the power of removal for cause, with due responsibility for the good conduct of subordinates, shall accompany the power of appointment.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

An Important Office.

We regret to learn that J. G. Kimball, Esq., of Nashua, has resigned his office of Bank Commissioner, to accept the treasurership of the New Hampshire Banking Company, a newly organized banking institution at Nashua.

In the resignation of Mr. Kimball, the state suffers a positive loss. He is a practical business man, acquainted with values, familiar with the inside management of the savings banks of the state, and has shown himself abundantly qualified for the discharge of his duties in this important place.

The office of bank commissioner is one requiring ability on the part of the incumbent, far above the value set upon the service by the legislature. It is a place which can not easily be filled.

There will be plenty of men who will seek it as an office; but there are few men, who are qualified for the place, who can be found willing to devote their time and energies to the work of protecting the large number of bank depositors from the mistakes or misfortunes of the trustees of these institutions.

Besides, Mr. Kimball has the benefit of an experience going through the times when values underwent severe changes, when savings bank investments were to some extent of questionable worth, and he is intimate with the men who manage these banks, as well as familiar with all their assets.

The governor and council have a very important duty to perform in selecting a proper successor for Mr. Kimball. There can be found plenty of men who will seek this place as a political office. It is in no sense such a place as that. It is an incumbency requiring a goodly amount of integrity, sagacity, clear headedness, and gumption. The men whom the bank commissioner is to overlook, whose transactions he is to examine, and whose investments he is to inquire into, are to a great extent the ablest men in their special calling in the state. The office is no sinecure. An able incumbent never receives half pay enough, nor does he often have evidence of that appreciative gratitude to which he is entitled. He must to a great extent be, as in other positions of trust, content with the conscious satisfaction of having performed his duty. The interest of every depositor, the standing of every savings bank, and the reputation of our state demand that in the new appointment the executive will be called upon to make, a man of ability shall be selected,—not any man who seeks the office for the meagre compensation attached to it, but a man whom the office seeks, because of his abundant fitness for the discharge of its delicate, and at times difficult, duties. If such a man is called to the position it will be fortunate for the state, and we trust that in the responsible duty of making this appointment the executive will conside only the fitness of the appointee, let him come from whichever party, or section of the state, can show the most competent man for the position.

News and Notes.

Francis Pennington died at Newark, N. J., on the 6th inst., from malarial fever contracted at Princeton college. This is the fourth death from the same cause recently, and two other students are very sick.

At Charleston, West Virginia, on the 4th inst., William A. Capen, aged eighteen years, who murdered Leo Matthews on the 1st of May in a quarrel about a young lady, was admitted to bail in $1500. Early next morning a mob, 100 strong, took him from his house on Big Sandy creek, and hanged him.

The body of Mrs. Nancy Duncan, late of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was discovered buried near Pacific City on Sunday, the 6th inst. The body had evidently been transported some distance. On the left temple was a contused spot, and the jugular vein cut. Later developments show that her son, William Duncan, murdered her. The officers are tracking him.

Walter Winsor, the boy arrested on suspicion of having committed the brutal murder of Miss Amelia Potter, at Johnstown, R. I., on the 7th inst., has confessed the crime. The murder was committed with a heavy iron bolt, and was unprovoked.

Charles S. Johnson shot himself on his mother's grave, in the Cross street burying ground, at Medford, Mass., about noon on the 8th inst. His body was discovered by school children about two o'clock. He was thirty years old.

In a fracas at Woodstock, Vt., the other morning, A. D. Washburn fired two charges from a revolver at Charles Colby, his son-in-law. No damage except a hole through one trousers' leg.

A mob took John Sampson out of his house at Saranac, Ark., to hang him for horse stealing, but released him upon his opening a barrel of beer.

The bark Glenmonarch arrived at Gross island, below Quebec, on the 6th inst., from Rio Janeiro, with sixteen cases of yellow fever on board. There were three deaths from fever on the passage.

The steamship Illyrian, Capt. Edwards, arrived at Boston on the 8th inst. in eight days, twenty-three hours and fifty minutes from Liverpool,—the quickest passage ever made between the two ports.

It was a lean little spring chicken, worth about thirty cents, that strayed from the Hammersmiths' yard at Madison, Ind., into the Smiths' yard. Mrs. Hammersmith went to get the fowl, and Smith would not let her have it. Hammersmith attempted to whip Smith, who retreated into the house. Hammersmith and his wife threw stones at the house, and Smith fired out with a gun, killing the husband.

At Marion, Ohio, recently, Rev. W. A. Gsoss went into a circus ring at the conclusion of the performance, while the audience was still present, and performed a marriage ceremony for a couple who were connected with the show. The clown gave away the bride, and kissed her in his most elaborately comical manner.

Calls for clergymen are very frequently heard from the frontier, but not often for the kind described in the following passage from the Aurora (Nev.) Herald: "We are sorely in need of a preacher, but we don't want any cheap trash. We want a good muscular Christian, who can snatch sinners by the scruff of the neck and drag them howling up the plane of righteousness, and who will not drink more than he can hold. Such a man will get a right smart lay out here."

Rafferty and Eagan, New Orleans pugilists, were rivals for the hand of the same girl, and they agreed to settle the question by a ring fight. There were ropes and stakes, a referee and seconds, a police raid after the encounter, and other characteristics of such occasions. But the victor did not get the prize after all, for she said she never intended to marry either.

James May of London, Eng., a sailor on the schooner Maria Adelaide of Bangor, Me., discharging cargo at the Tremont Nail Co.'s wharf at Wareham, Mass., fell from the mast-head to the deck on the 8th inst., and was killed.

Frank D. Sylvester, who was crushed in the gearing of the Riverdale grist mill at Gloucester, Mass., on the 7th inst., died of his injuries next day.

James Bowers of Zaliske, Ohio, was known for a wonderfully good-natured man. That was why William Green, a loafer, on getting married, coolly went with his bride to Bowers' house and told him they would spend their honeymoon there. Bowers made no objection for several days, but the audacity of the visit gradually dawned upon him, and he finally told the couple to get out. Green's resentment took the form of shooting the amiable man in the head.

The Charleston News mentions the death lately of William Jones, who is believed to have been the original inventor of the lucifer matche. He pasted a composition of chlorate of potash and sulphate of antimony on the ends of split blocks by means of starch. Phosphorus was added a few years later. His ingenuity brought him in a small competence, on which he retired to Chillicothe, Ohio, where he died at the age of eighty-three.

Political Ballers.

The nomination of Garfield and Arthur for president and vice president is everywhere received by the republicans as an omen of certain victory next November. There was quite a jollification in the national house of representatives when Garfields' nomination was announced, and as no business could be done the house adjourned, immediately after which a lively meeting was held with Gen. Hawley in the chair, and a congratulatory message was sent to the nominee by his congressional associates of both parties. The democratic leaders acknowledge the ticket to be a very strong one.

A Schoolgirl's Folly.

It is the old story. But the alarm-bell repeats again and again its note of warning, therefore we retell it.

She was the daughter of a well-to-do farmer, and a school girl of fourteen. He was a youth of twenty-two, dissipated, but fascinating. They met, and though he was almost a stranger, she invited him to her "old Kentucky home." He called once, and was told by the father, who understood him, not to call again. But she, though warned, would meet him clandestinely, again and again.

She was full of romance, and he of subtlety. Deaf to her father's warning and blind to the young man's dissipation, she consented to elope with him. They ran away and were married.

In a few months Fleming, for that was the husband's name, grew tired of his girl-wife. She knew it not, for her eyes were closed by her love. But one night she awoke to the fact that she had married a brute, who hated her. He came home maddened with drink, and struck her with a hatchet. Even then she refused to listen to her father's urgent request for her to return to the old home.

Neglected, insulted, beaten, she lived with the brutish man till he abandoned her. One day she read his name among the list of the killed on board of a steamboat, whose boiler had exploded. Several years passed, and a few months since she was married again—this time to a worthy man.

One night, two or three weeks ago, a policeman called at the house to arrest her on the charge of bigamy. She then learned that Fleming was alive, and true to his brutish instincts, had sworn out the warrant. When she was arraigned in the police court the next morning, Fleming failed to appear, and she was discharged.

May not she who runs read the moral of this sad story? The school girl's folly, the wife's shame and grief, they are seen. But more distinct than these may be read the terrible penalty which follows the infatuation that despises the counsel of a father and surrenders to the fascination of a dissipated youth.

Why They Blushed.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican tells this story:—A rather amusing incident occurred at a church prayer meeting at Westfield a few evenings since. Near the front sat a young couple who are quite devoted to each other, and soon to be married. The good deacon leading the meeting took for his topic "Love," and, growing warm with the subject, said: "Brothers and sisters, all around we see the fruit of love; aye, right before us 'tis seen in all its godlike beauty and tenderness." Unconsciously the speaker was pointing directly to the before mentioned couple, and while the young lady tried to hide her blushes and her companion to look unconcerned, the audience smiled and the deacon grew embarrassed and it was some time before people's thoughts were toned down to their usual placidity.

—It was the man arrested for -stealing a mirror who discovered that he had taken a glass too much.

—Texas papers say that last September the wife of Mr. B. H. Davis was supposed to have been drowned while bathing with a party of friends at Galveston. Her death was announced in the obituary columns of the papers, and her funeral sermon was preached at the Baptist church in Bryan. It has just been ascertained, however, that the lady was not drowned, and that she has since been living in New Haven, having eloped with a pretended friend of her husband.

When gazing in your lover's eyes,
How soon his sense of rapture dies
If there's no sweetness in your breath;
If by your falling teeth be shown
That SOZODONT to you's unknown,
And that your mouth is suffering death.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 1,1,1,

AROUND HOME.

Three handsome seals arrived at the aquarium on Wednesday of this week. They were caught on the eastern coast of Maine by Cape Elizabeth fishermen, especially for Major Urch, who is to be congratulated on this great addition to his fine collection of curiosities from the ocean.

Mrs. Mary Hilton, for several years an inmate of the almshouse, on Wednesday, June 9th, celebrated her ninety-fourth cirthday. For many years she acted in the capacity of nurse in a number of the best families in the city. At the present time she is quite well, and bids fair to celebrate her one hundredth anniversary. Several of her friends from the city visited her during the day, carrying substantial tokens of esteem.

The owners of gendolas plying on the river have for some time past missed ropes and other tackle from their craft, which they presumed to have been stolen. Recently a gondola at Dover point was robbed of part of her tackle, and it was discovered that the plunder had been brought to Portsmouth and sold. On Wednesday of this week the police brought in a man charged with this theft, and he was taken before the police court and held to answer further on Thursday morning.

Dr. Donaldson leaves this city on Saturday for an extended tour through the west and south. He will be in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy at Milwaukee, Wis., from the 15th to the 19th inst., and from thence with a party of friends will visit the Yellowstone National park, in Montana, Salt Lake City, Santa Fe, New Mexico, and other points of interest, returning east, through Texas and other southern states, arriving home about the first of August.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of this society was held on Tuesday evening of this week.

The number of complaints investigated during the past month was nine, of which four were for beating horses, two for driving lame horses, cruelly transporting calves one, working wornout horses one, robbing birds' nests one.

Miss Morrison tendered her resignation as a director, and the society voted not to accept the same.

Mrs. Pickering reported that she had had correspondence about founding a society at Hagerstown, Md., and that a society would soon be established there; and also the receipt of ten dollars from Mr. Pulsifer of New York, to be added the the permanent fund.

Mr. Upham reported that the committee appointed to visit the schools had visited all the schools in the city except the high school and the primary schools, and left copies of the bird laws and addressed the various schools on the subject of kindness to birds, and that the teachers had heartily co-operated in the work.

The thanks of the society were voted to Mrs. Tobie of Franklin, N. H., for her courtesy to the secretary on his recent visit to Franklin; and also to the senders of the various humane papers received by the secretary.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, June 9; Batchelder, J.

Osgood A. Clark was examined on a charge of the larceny of one hundred and fifty pounds of rope from Henry Paul. Case continued to Thursday, Clark being held in $400 for his appearance at that time; in default of sureties, the accused was locked up.

Destructive Diseases.

At the medical convention recently in session in New York, Dr. J. S. Lynch, of Baltimore, chairman of the section of the practice of medicine, materia medica and physiology, made an extended report on the latest researches and progress in these branches. In speaking of yellow fever he said it has been demonstrated that the germs of yellow fever may lie dormant throughout the winter and become active in the ensuing summer. The temperature in the southern states during the winter is not low enough to destroy the vitality of the germs. Yellow fever inspires great dread on account of its epidemic character and the great havoc that it makes in a short time, but there are three diseases common in the United States that kill more persons in a year than yellow fever has killed in twenty-five years. These are consumption, scarlet fever and diphtheria. These affections are largely due to the manner of living, especially among the lower classes. People occupy small and ill ventilated apartments in over-crowded houses, and many live in basements which are beneath the level of the street. Reform in this matter is greatly needed, and the subject should be agitated until the reform is accomplished. Dr. Lynch called attention to the value of salicylic acid and the sodium salt of the acid in the treatment of acute rheumatic fever. He said that although some medical men doubted the value of this remedy, wide experience showed that its administration was followed by the most happy results. It does not act by curing the rheumatism, but by allaying the fever, and it affords relief within twenty-four hours. Salicine, the alkaloid of the willow, is also valuable in this disease and acts in the same manner as salicylic acid.

New Hampshire Items.

Capt. J. P. Sanborn of Franklin died June 1st, and was buried with military honors on the 3d. Capt. Sanborn was commander of Co. G, 16th N. H. V. He was one of the few of that regiment who returned to New Hampshire at the close of the war, and he returned with a broken constitution. He was deputy sheriff many years before and after the war.

At the recent law term of the supreme court, in Concord, Henry H. Hayes of Sunapee, who was serving a twenty-years' sentence in the state prison for the murder of Angell at Sunapee, was brought into court, retracted his former plea of not guilty, pleaded guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, and was sentenced to nine years hard labor in the state prison. Hayes was tried at Newport, and sentenced, in September, 1879. At the last term of the supreme court a new trial was granted, but by agreement of the parties he appeared and pleaded as above.

The national house of representatives has passed the bill allowing the City national bank of Manchester to change its name to Merchants' bank.

President Hayes on the 8th inst. sent to the senate the nomination of Edward L. Whitford to be pension agent at Concord.

The mother of James A. Garfield, who is to be the next President, was a New Hampshire woman of Quaker descent, having been born in Richmond, Cheshire county.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Tilden ladies' seminary at West Lebanon takes place June 17th. This school for young ladies, under the management of Prof. Hiram Orcutt, assisted by his wife, has been remarkably successful.

Mrs. Timothy Colby of Concord was badly injured by falling down stairs on the 6th inst. Her nose was broken, and she was much bruised and cut.

Two thousand young salmon were taken from the Plymouth hatching house to Boscawen, by Fish Commissioner Hayes, on the 7th inst.

Keep cool, don't get in a flurry. The thermometer has climbed away up in the nineties. Purchase some of the old fashioned hand-made "Noriega" cigars. Go to the Shoals or some other retired spot and enjoy a quiet smoke. If you can't go yourself give the cigars to some friend and let him go for you; at all events, keep cool.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals,

—A minister was questioning his Sunday school concerning the story of Eutychus—the young man who, listening to the preaching of the apostle Paul, fell asleep, and falling down, was taken up dead. "What, he said, "do we learn from this solemn event?" when the reply from a little girl came pat and prompt, "Please, sir, ministers should learn not to preach too long sermons."

Malt Bitters regulate, purify, strengthen and nourish the maternal functions.

— There is a burden of care in getting riches—fear in keeping them, temptation in using them, guilt in abusing them, sorrow in losing them, and a burden of account at last to be given up concerning them. And yet we never saw the man who was not willing to bear all these burdens and take all the risks for the sake of riches.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE FOR WEAKLY PERSONS.—This excellent product of the grape is prescribed and used by the leading physicians in the country, when a generous and nourishing wine is desirable; especially for females, aged persons and consumptives; and by churches for communion. Hundreds of New York physicians have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars, but twelve miles distant from New York.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and E. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

S. T. W. SANFORD, M.D., 194 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

—A stitch in time saves nine—boys out of ten.

—A New York thief under arrest in Montreal, shammed sick, was taken to the small pox hospital, died and was given over as a corpse to his friends, and was taken back to New York well and happy.

—The crudities and absurdities of some prayers have been subjects of amusement and ridicule again and again; and probably will be to the end of time. And yet they continue. A good brother recently prayed in public: "Oh, Lord, if Thou rememberest what we sold Thee last week, and another, by way of forgiving himself and apologizing for troubling the Lord in his great extremity, prayed, "O Lord, I haven't asked anything of Thee for fifteen years, and if you'll get me ashore this time, I won't trouble you again for fifteen more."

—The many recent accessions of Mont Blanc and other Alpine adventurers have been cut in the shade by Edward Whymper, the distinguished traveler, who has climbed the lofty peaks of the Andes, scaling Chimborazo, whose summit Humboldt vainly tried to reach in 1802, and passing twenty-six hours upon Cotopaxi, a dazzling apex hitherto considered insurmountable by the most daring explorers. Whymper says that his party grew out of being affected by the lightness of the air of those great heights, and could be gay and lively at an elevation of 19,000 feet.

—A gentleman in a town near Boston invited boys to dinner one day one of the deacons of the church he attended. The guest offered a blessing at the table, which proceeding greatly excited the curiosity of the gentleman's five-years-old son, who sat beside the deacon and interviewed him on the subject. "What was that you said?" he began. "It was a blessing on the food we are about to eat," replied the deacon. "A what?" "Why, a blessing. Don't your father ask a blessing at the table?" "Oh, yes, but he don't say it in that way." "How does he say it?" "Why, he sits down and looks at the table and says, 'Oh, the devil! is this all you've got for dinner?'"

—A Norwich botanist was surprised the other morning by the appearance in his case of plants of a fungus or mushroom growth which reared its head above the soil and grew with such rapidity that in twenty-four hours it had reached its full development and wilted. It was five inches in height and one-fourth of an inch in diameter. This led him to a mathematical calculation of the rapidity of its growth, and he found that it had developed in one day 10,000,000 cells, growing at the rate of 116 cells per second. Professor Asa Gray, writing upon the rapidity of cell formation, cites an instance where a century plant increased six inches in diameter and one foot in height in twenty-four hours, to do which 2,900,000,000 cells had to be formed, which required their formation at the marvelous rate of 231,481 per second.

Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face and an indescribable yearning to live and take an honored place in the world beside the companions of his youth. And somebody's mother is thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—when her heart and home will be left desolate—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's take this comforting word to the mother's heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable, that men are living to-day, aged, robust men, whom the physicians pronounced incurable at the age of twenty-five, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient alterative for separating the scrofulous matter from the blood and lungs, and imparting strength to the system. It has cured hundreds of consumptives.

—One of the Philadelphia papers raises the question as to whether a saleswoman has a right to draw the patronage of customers from a shop that she leaves to another. It makes no difference whether she has a right to do it or not. Customers will follow an agreeable saleswoman even if the shop to which she goes has a smaller stock than that which she leaves. Young men have even been known to follow one to her home.

Malaria.

If you live in districts where you are subject to malaria, you should keep your liver and kidneys in perfect order that they may throw it off. The great preventive is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. Use it whenever you are constipated or bilious and you will never have a touch of the chills.

—A clergyman was recently prosecuted in England for stealing an umbrella, which he had taken from a shop in a shower. He was released, the judge doubtless charging the jury, "Let him who is without sin among you sling the first umbrella."

"The Doctor Told Me"

To take a blue pill, but I didn't for I had already been poisoned twice by mercury. The druggist told me to try Kidney-Wort and I did. It was just the thing for my biliousness and constipation, and now I am as well as ever."

—One day during an eclipse of the sun a boy sold smoked glass at six cents a piece. "You ought to make money," said a purchaser. "Yes," said the young merchant, "ours would be a good business if the dull season were not so long."

DIABETES. A Sure Cure. To this distressing complaint, thousands fall victims. It requires no description. Those who suffer from it know the symptoms perfectly. The unfailing cure for it is Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. This great medicine (which is the only known remedy for Bright's disease) has cured more diabetes than any and all other medicine put together. KNOW THYSELF.
The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION." Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings, three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.
The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."
The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with the diseases of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."
An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.
The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. Bissell, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.
Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea, it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canada Barley, Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, muscular (bone) and muscular system. For dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervous prostration, weak stomach and liver, bronchitis and lung troubles, coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys, urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sick, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful tonic known in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Iron, since made by Shakers.

It was the first as well as the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally free from all others in the street, quality and quantity of its medicinal properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities from derange and scrofulous humors. It expels the impurities from the system, prevents weakness and regeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is no beverage, remedy, regulating and invigorating the maternal functions. It purifies the female system at the critical period of life, promotes cheerfulness and good spirits, prevents emaciation and dropsy. It expels the first symptoms of scrofula and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, I take my opinion of Shakers' Sarsaparilla Syrup and, the number of years I have sold it, would say it is one of the first pay and reliable proprietary medicines I can call to mind. As I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug trade, thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard medicines and as important a stock in trade as gum or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Ar-kan-saw or Ar-kan-sas.

The pronunciation of the name of our state is receiving that attention which its importance requires. A joint committee from the eclectic and historical societies have had the matter under consideration, and will report at the May meeting of the latter. While the latter pronunciation, above indicated, accenting the middle syllable and sounding the final "s," has the sanction of some polite usage, it is understood that the committees are decidedly in favor of the original pronunciation given by the French, and will report the pronunciation as nearly correct, which is in use by the mass of old citizens, giving the Italian sound of "a" in each syllable, the final "s" silent with a slight accent on the first and last syllables. The only objection to the ordinary pronunciation is that the final "saw" is too broad. It should be "sa" with the sound of "a" in father. It is to be hoped that some settled pronunciation will be established, which lexicographers may intelligently adopt—a thing which has never yet been done.—Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette.

How He Won Her.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Times relates a romantic incident in the life of the late Colonel Tileston, one of the victims of the recent disaster at Gilmore's garden in New York. Colonel Tileston, says the correspondent, was known around the world, and being born to much wealth, he gratified in early life his fondness for travel, belting the globe time and time again, and making long stoppages in the social and commercial centers of Europe, China and Japan. On one of his periodical trips around the world, some years ago, he encountered in Mexico a very beautiful Spanish lady, the daughter of a high-born native, of immense possessions. Tileston, heretofore unsuscepible, fell desperately in love with the Mexican lady, and impetuously laid siege to her heart. On one occasion the club men of the place got up a steeple-chase with gentlemen riders, and Tileston, who was specially fond of that sort of thing, entered for the cup. He accompanied his lady-love to the grand stand, where he left her in the company of a Mexican friend. Mounting his horse the colonel started in the race. As he did so, casting his eye toward the stand, he saw his lady in close communication with her escort. This nettled him a trifle, but, determined to shine in her favor, he bent every energy to the task before him. Near the end of the course was a wide ditch, across which the horses were to leap. Some twenty feet this side of the ditch, while going at a trying pace, Tileston gave another look at the stand. To his indignant surprise it seemed to him as though the arm of his friend rested about the waist of the lady, while both were regarding him with unfeigned interest. Jealousy dominated him in a moment. Plunging his spurs into his horse's side he gathered him for the leap. The animal responded instantly. To the amazement of all the spectators, instead of waiting till he reached the verge of the ditch, horse and rider rose into the air six feet this side of the chasm and with a terrific bound cleared the vacancy, the fore feet of the horse just resting upon the opposite side. Both fell into the ditch, the horse on top, the rider crushed beneath. Tileston was picked up unconscious and carried to the hospital, where for several weeks he hovered between life and death, and on recovery found that the object of his love had sailed for China, leaving, however, a message for him, the purport of which was unmistakable sympathy and devotion. Briefly put, he followed her as soon as he was able, and having won her hand he brought her to New York, where the other day she followed him, mangled and dead, chief mourner to the grave.

From the Hub.

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

—Bisset, the animal trainer of Perth, taught an orang to wait on the table and perform other household duties belonging to servants. A chimpanzee has been trained to feed and attend a baker's oven fire on board ship. A female chimpanzee in the London zoological gardens could lock and unlock a door or drawer, and thread any needle. In taking her meals she used knife, fork, spoon, and drinking cup with the same ease as a human being. The chacma baboon has been taught to blow bellows, and to drive teams of wagon horses.

—A man was sawing wood in a back yard. He severed two sticks as thick as your wrist, and then went into the house, "Mary," said he to his wife, "my country needs me; there's no use of talking; we've just got to slaughter all these Injuns; no true patriot can be expected to hang around a woodpile these days." "John," said his wife, "if you fight Injuns as well as you saw wood and support your family, it would take one hundred and eighteen like you to capture one squaw, and you'd have to catch her when she had the ague, and throw pepper in her eyes." John went back to the woodpile wondering who told his wife all about him.—Salt Lake Tribune.

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Good Job.

Congress on the 9th inst. passed a resolution to adjourn on the 16th—the best thing this congress has done. The river and harbor steal passed the house the same day, substantially as it came from the senate.

The Next Vice President.

The New York Times, which is bitterly opposed to Conkling and what is termed "the machine" in republican politics in New York, says of Gen. Arthur: "The Times has had frequent occasion to sustain the integrity and ability of Gen. Arthur as a public servant, and to endorse the policy adopted by him as a political manager. It has recognized in him a man eminently worthy of a wider sphere for his abilities and a more elevated platform for his display of certain sterling qualities of head and of heart which have made him both respected and beloved." Such testimony from political opposition and intelligent knowledge is of the highest value.

Gen. Arthur is a lawyer by profession, a native of New York, and fifty years old. His first distinction was in defence of two slaves against the operation of the fugitive slave law; and by his legal exertions, without pay, he secured the right of negroes to ride in the street cars of New York, as early as 1856. During the war he was quartermaster-general of New York, and while enormous sums of money passed through his hands, and every bribe and temptation was open to him, he not only retired with the reputation of being a most skillful and efficient officer, but with hands entirely clean, and poorer than when he accepted the service. On the occasion of his removal from the office of collector of customs of New York, a hostile investigation failed to find the faintest trace of any improper administration of his office in its money affairs, and both President Hayes and Secretary Sherman gave public testimony to his probity, while a petition for his retention was signed by every judge in the city, by all the leading members of the bar, and by nearly every important merchant in the district. His reputation is unstained. He is a close friend of Conkling's, and a skillful organizer and acute manager in politics.

Rome.

Mr. S. Russell Forbes, who for ten years has made a specialty of studying the excavations of the ruins of ancient Rome during his residence in that city, and who is well known to tourists in Italy as one of the best informed men upon archæology, is to visit this country the coming fall, and deliver a course of lectures upon ancient Rome, accompanied by illustrated views. To those who have met Mr. Forbes it is needless to say that his lectures will be of peculiar interest. He is an enthusiast in his profession, and his tour in the United States will doubtless prove beneficial alike to the "noble Roman" and to his auditors.

The Greenback Convention.

The two wings of the greenback party met in their respective national conventions at Chicago on the 9th inst., the greenback-labor convention occupying the hall just previously vacated by the republican national convention. All the states but one were represented in this gathering, which was temporarily presided over by Rev. Congressman Gilbert de la Matyr; the hall was not packed, as it had been for a week before, there being from 500 to 1000 people present, delegates and all. Rev. Mr. Ingalls of Des Moines offered a prayed at the opening, in which he called attention to the fact that the ministers of the land had agreed to join on a certain day in prayer for the two great conventions at Chicago and Cincinnati, but refused to pray for this convention. "Wherefore, O Lord," said the preacher, "we ask thee to grant thy blessing to us greenbackers. Thou knowest, O Lord, that we come to thee on our own hook." This information to the Lord called forth vociferous cheers. In the evening the convention was addressed by two Canadians, and by Denis Kearney of the San Francisco sand-lots. After Kearney's speech the convention adjourned to next day without having effected a permanent organization.

The Brick Pomeroy (or greenback club) faction of the party held their convention in Farwell hall. The mission of this convention apparently is to watch the doings of the other one.

News and Notes.

A despatch from Montevideo, dated June 7th, says: "Serious revolution in Buenos Ayres. Port blockaded by national fleet. State of siege declared."

A new fire alarm telegraph of the New York pattern is being put up in Lewiston, Me., at a cost of $3,500.

Dora Allen, wife of John B. Allen of Pawtucket, R. I., and mother of several children, committed suicide Wednesday, June 9th, by hanging.

Mr. George A. Whitney, a leading furniture manufacturer and dealer of Portland, Me., has taken French leave, owing some $15,000, more than one-third of which is to his partner Mr. Rodman. Wine, women and dice tell the story.

A ten-year-old boy from Lynn, Mass., was in Portland, Me., on the 7th inst., looking for his mother, who had eloped with one of her boarders. Not finding her the little fellow became disgusted and discouraged, and slipped on a vessel that was about to sail.

Political Matters.

Perhaps the best evidence of the strength of the republican nominations at Chicago is seen in the fact that the democracy are bitterly dissatisfied with them, and had hoped for some other candidates to assail rather than Garfield and Arthur; while all over the country the republicans as with one voice are hearty in their endorsement of the nominations.

The Chicago convention of 1880 will be a landmark in the history of the republican party. It killed the boss system, killed the tyrannical and anti-republican "unit rule," and fixed forever the principle of district representation. When these facts are considered there should be no growling at the length of time the convention took to complete its work,—not to mention the excellent ticket finally nominated, with its consequent assurance of victory.

Naval Gazette.

Lieut. Comdr. Francis A. Cook is detached from the naval academy, and ordered to command the practise steamer Dispatch. Lieut. William H. Parker has been detached from the naval academy, and ordered to the Despatch as executive. Lieut. Richard Rush, Surgeon Melancthon Ruth, Passed Asst. Engineer John C. New Hampshire Items.

James Washburne of Concord has been elected one of the two vice presidents of the Railroad Yard-Masters' Mutual Benefit Association.

The Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. pays a dividend of four per cent on the 21st inst.

Col. E. L. Whitford has been re-appointed and affirmed as pension agent at Concord. Col. Whitford pays the pensions to those who reside in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, and his business like management of his office enables him to do the large business required in quarterly payments with satisfaction to the beneficiaries. The greater part of the payments are by means of checks sent through the mail.

A man calling himself Michael Bowen committed suicide by taking Paris green at Webster, Mass., on the 8th inst. He said detectives were after him, and he didn't want to be taken. It is said he has two married daughters at Keene.

Mrs. Susan D. Moore died at the residence of her son, William E. Moore, of Manchester, on Sunday, the 6th inst., in the 79th year of her age. She was the widow of Henry E. Moore of Concord, who, forty years ago, was prominent in the state as a musical composer and music teacher, and the author of the New Hampshire collection of sacred music.

There was a meeting of the citizens of Rochester on the 8th inst., for the purpose of seeing if the town would vote to exempt from taxation for the term of ten years any buildings which the Wallace brothers might erect on the ruins of those recently destroyed by fire. Previous to the fire 672 hands were employed by the Messrs. Wallace, and the monthly pay roll amounted to $20,000. There are only a few hands employed there now clearing away the debris and doing other work. It was thought at first that all the leather in the tan pits was destroyed, but an examination proved to the contrary. Besides acting upon the exemption of the Messrs. Wallace from taxation the town took a vote to see if they would expend a sum not to exceed $7,500 to supply the town with water from the Round pond in Barrington, both for domestic consumption and fire purposes. The vote was in the affirmative on both questions.

And that your mouth is suffering death.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and is is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,

OFFICE OF THE State Treasurer.

CONCORD, May 8, 1880.

IN ACCORDANCE with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature, approved August 9, 1878, the undersigned will receive sealed proposals until 12 o'clock, noon, June 17th, prox., for one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) New Hampshire Five per cent. Bonds, maturing July 1, 1892.

The above Bonds form part of a loan of $500,000, authorized for the purpose of refunding a portion of the State debt.

The Bonds will be issued in pieces of $1000, dated July 1, 1879, interest payable semi-annually (January and July) at the National Bank of the Commonwealth, of Boston, coupons to July 1, 1880 off. Bid may be received for the whole or any part of the above Bonds, the state reserving the right to reject any or all bids.

The Bonds will be ready for delivery and payment must be made June 30th.

Bids should be securely sealed and addressed to SOLON A. CARTER,

State Treasurer, Concord, N. H.,

(Plainly marked) "Proposal for State Loan, Issue of 1879."

Bonds registered if desired.

AROUND HOME.

Coal freights from Baltimore to this port are quoted at $1.45.

A referee court was held before Judge Page at the court house in this city on Thursday last.

Chief Engineer Thom Williamson, attached to the U. S. S. Tennessee, is in town on a brief furlough.

The waiters at the Sea View house, Rye beach, are all to be Dartmouth college students this season.

The ship William H. Marcy is to load at Hong Kong for New York, instead of for San Francisco as before reported.

Rev. James DeNormandie was on the 9th inst. elected a member of the literary committee of the New Hampshire Historical society.

James Cate has bought the job and express wagon of John H. Webber, the latter having succeeded to the business of his father, Sewell W. Webber, who has gone to Boston to reside.

The steamer Mystic towed the schooner Planter, and another schooner, from the upper harbor, and the Dolly Varden from the lower harbor, to sea, on Thursday last, between her regular trips across the river.

The sales rooms of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. are at No. 260 Devonshire street, Boston. The manufactures of the company have attracted no little attention in the market, and buyers are much pleased with the goods.

A Lowell farmer writes to a paper of that city that he recently tried anthracite coal ashes on his potato plants, as a remedy for the Colorado beetle, and next day found plenty of dead bugs but no living ones on that patch. This alleged remedy is easily tried, and there is no lack of bugs in this vicinity to try it on.

Col. Wm. H. Hackett will give a lecture on "European travel, or scenes abroad," at Academy hall, Greenland, Thursday evening, June 17th, at eight o'clock, for the benefit of Brackett academy. Tickets—fifteen cents for adults, ten cents for children. If the evening of the 17th is stormy, the lecture will be postponed to the following evening.

We have received a communication criticising the hanging out of a political banner from the county building on Islington street. Although from a source entitled to much consideration, we must decline its publication. The propriety of using public buildings for the display of flags in the interest of any set of candidates is a proper question for the county commissioners and not for the newspapers to dispose of.

The annual regatta of the students of Phillips academy at Exeter was rowed on the river at that town on Wednesday of this week, and was won by the class of '83, in six minutes and thirteen seconds. The time of the other boats was as follows: Class of '82, six minutes and thirty-three seconds; class of '81, six minutes and forty-three seconds; class of '80, six minutes and forty-two seconds. The prizes were silver cups, handsomely engraved.

The republicans of Dover had a torch-light procession on Tuesday evening of this week, and notwithstanding a steady downpour of rain paraded the streets for two hours, to the music of the Dover cornet band. Many residences were handsomely decorated with flags, and the enthusiasm of the processionists did not seem to be in the least dampened by the rain. After the march was over the procession organized itself as a meeting at the headquarters of the Young Republican club, for the purpose of forming a Garfield & Arthur club; and it was decided to form campaign clubs in each ward, the president of each ward club to be a vice president of the central club.

A session of the circuit court of the United States will be held in this city on Monday, by Judge Lowell.

It is reported that Norman W. Lord and John E. Trefethen will shortly open saloons in the Franklin buildings, on the Vaughan street side.

One hundred and five shares of Eastern railroad stock changed hands at the brokers' board in Boston, Thursday, at from $32.75 to $33.25 a share.

Mr. Benjamin F. Webster is moving into his new house on Rundlett's mountain. It is the handsomest in the city, and none too good for that hard working and excellent citizen, its owner.

Next Sunday is "Children's Day" with the Methodist denomination throughout the country, and the church in this city will hold special services appropriate to the day and occasion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edmonds, Mr. Walter F. Stearns and Miss Georgie H. Stearns were among the passengers of the White Star steamship Adriatic, which sailed from New York for Liverpool on Thursday.

The potato bugs are on the rampage in this vicinity, destroying tomato vines, cabbage plants and other garden green stuff with the greatest avidity; they seem to have become tired of potato tops altogether.

The New England Christian Convention was held in Newburyport on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, one hundred and eleven churches being represented. Rev. John A. Goss of this city presided. Rev. Ira S. Jones was elected secretary of the educational society for the ensuing year, and also corresponding secretary of the missionary society, Rev. John A. Goss being chosen treasurer of the latter.

Mr. William S. Baker, formerly of the Franklin house in this city, later of the Bangor house, and recently landlord of the Phenix hotel at Concord, has leased the Hotel North at Augusta, Me., for a term of five years, and will open the house in October. Mr. Baker has taken possession of Henry Knox's hotel, the Ocean Wave, near Foss' beach in Rye, a beautifully situated summer house which with Mr. Baker's management will prove one of the most attractive resorts on the coast. Mr. Baker is one of the most genial and pleasing men to his guests to be found in the hotel fraternity, and whether at Rye beach or at Augusta he will be deservedly popular, because he not only understands his business but has a special faculty of making his patrons feel perfectly at home in his establishment.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, June 10; Batchelder, J.

Fred Myer, drunk, $9.90 fine and costs. Paid.

Osgood A. Clark, for larceny of rope; case continued from previous day. The evidence for the prosecution was put in, and the case again continued, to Friday, to enable defendant to procure witnesses, bail in the same amount as before being required.

CANNON AND BIRDS.

We do not think that it is generally known that the violent concussion of the air consequent upon the firing of cannon is almost sure to be fatal to the eggs of birds in the immediate vicinity. Hens' eggs will be addled at once by such a cause, and the smaller and more delicate eggs of singing birds would be still more likely to suffer. Besides this, the birds themselves, and their young ones, if hatched, would be necessarily much frightened and distressed by such a noise and disturbance around their usually quiet homes.

For these reasons we were sorry to hear the long-continued salute from Langdon park the other day; and while we are very willing to "rejoice with those who do rejoice," as the Bible tells us to do, we wish that such noisy rejoicing might be located where it would not cause the suffering or destruction of our delicate little feathered friends. Of course, when the trustees of the park gave permission for it to be used in this way, they did not think about the birds, who must be nesting there now, probably in considerable numbers. But we hope that now it has been called to their notice, and what we have said will be confirmed by any one who has observed these things, such permission will not again be given, nor asked for. And if this were understood, there need be no suspicion of partiality, because it has been granted once. Other places might surely be found for placing the cannon, not open to this objection, and as harmless on other accounts.

We speak more earnestly upon the subject, because there will undoubtedly be considerable political cannonading this year, from both parties, besides our usual Fourth of July bombardment.

BIRDLOVER.

ROCKINGHAM CONFERENCE.

The Rockingham Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian churches met in Epping on Tuesday forenoon of this week, the exercises commencing with a prayer meeting of one hour's duration, led by Rev. T. V. Haines of North Hampton, followed by an excellent sermon by Rev. A. B. Peabody of Stratham, whose text was "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." Deacon H. R. Underhill was chosen moderator, and Rev. A. B. Peabody was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The roll of the conference shew nineteen clergymen and twenty-two delegates present.

At noon a plentiful repast was served for the conference, in the vestry.

Tuesday afternoon the reports of the churches were submitted, one noticeable feature of the reports being the numerous references to the subject of temperance.

Atkinson reported the remodelling of their church, at an expense of $2000.

Auburn, Candia and several others reported no liquors sold in town.

Exeter reported "liquor sold every day in the week."

Stratham, Deerfield, Kingston and Kensington reported that liquor selling in their towns interfered greatly with the gospel work; cider was spoken of as making ravages.

Greenland reported preparations to remodel church building.

Hampstead reported revival of interest, and several very interesting cases of conversion.

Kensington reported the re-shingling of meeting house, and that Rev. Mr. Chandler is to go to Alton.

Kingston reported the remodelling of the church, and furnishing of a new bell.

Newcastle reported a visit of Rev. E. H. Greeley, of the New Hampshire Home Missionary society, and that a preacher is to be sent there.

Plaistow reported receiving a legacy of $400 from the estate of Joseph Whitaker, for the support of the ministry; also, that a majority of the attendants at the Sabbath school are adults.

Portsmouth reported the purchase of a parsonage.

Rye reported interest in connection with the work of Messrs. Folger and Jackson, of the Y. M. C. A.

South Seabrook rejoiced in a vote of the town to enforce the cider and beer law.

Stratham — has repainted parsonage, through the liberality of one of the church members.

Windham—has reduced the church debt to one hundred dollars.

Following the reports, Hon. Nathaniel Gordon of Exeter opened the subject of "Personal devotion to Christ and loyalty to the church," which was discussed by Rev. Bros. Kyte, Rand, Reed, Chandler and Robie. "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," was sung at five o'clock, and supper was partaken of in the vestry.

At 7:30 P. M. the meeting was opened with the singing of "America," and prayer by Rev. Mr. Street of Exeter. "Duties of Christians to their country" was eloquently opened by Rev. W. A. McGinley of Portsmouth, — followed by Bro. Shepherd of Epping, and Revs. Peabody, Haines, Rand, Street and Chandler.

Wednesday morning there was an experience meeting full of interest and power, led by Rev. Mr. Watson of Hampstead.

Question "How can the homes represented by these churches be made more truly Christian?" was opened by Rev. Charles Tenney of Chester, followed by Rev. Dr. Edward Robie and Rev. Messrs. Street, Rand, Kyte, Packard and Watson, and Bro. Leavitt.

Question, "How can we, as Christians, make it more manifest to the unbelieving that we are actuated by higher motives and living for a higher end?" was opened by Rev. Jacob Chapman of Exeter, followed by Rev. Mr. Richards and Bros. Shepherd and Merrill.

The following was presented and passed:

Resolved, That we hail with joy the awakening in the cause of temperance in the county, as shown by the reports of the churches.

Dinner was served in the vestry, and at two o'clock P. M. a sermon was preached by Rev. Charles Packard of Windham; communion was administered, and the conference adjourned.

The next annual meeting will be held at Derry village.

The Rockingham County Woman's Missionary Society held a meeting at eleven o'clock Wednesday forenoon, in the parlors of Mrs. J. H. Pike; Mrs. H. C. Knight of Portsmouth presided, and there was a good attendance. Letters from missionaries were read, and various reports were made.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

A magnificent campaign flag is floating over the drive-way at the residence of Gen. M. F. Wentworth, Kittery, bearing the names of Garfield & Arthur.

The first native strawberries in this market were brought in on Monday of this week from the farm of Mr. Samuel Shapleigh, Jr., of Eliot, Me.

On Sunday, June 6th, Rev. Mr. Palmer, pastor of the Baptist church at North Berwick, baptised nineteen persons at the river side. Several families were represented by two members each, and in one family the father and four children were baptised.

The Biddeford Times of June 8th says: "Samuel H. Pillsbury of Kittery has his fine yacht 'No-name' now in this river. She is moored near the Cleaves wharf."

At the annual meeting of the Blue Hill Mining Co., held in Kittery on Wednesday, the 9th inst., Manning Emery, Esq., of Cambridge, Mass., and S. N. Stockwell of the Boston Journal, with others, were chosen directors. The company has a good balance in the treasury.

OLD AND RELIABLE,

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR is a Standard Remedy for diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.—It is Purely Vegetable.—It never Debilitates.—It is Cathartic and Tonic. TRY IT.

SANFORD'S

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order; its healthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, Bowel Complaints, Sleeplessness, and other Disorders.

LIVER

The Liver is the seat of material diseases. The Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic Influences. It Purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.

INVIGORATOR

The Liver Invigorator has been used in my practice and by the public, for more than 35 years, with unprecedented results.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

The "Solid South."

The Richmond States, in its comment on the republican nominations, while acknowledging the strength of Gen. Garfield in the north, says that there is no danger of a divided south, which will be united as one man in support of the nominee at Cinainnati. This means that the south no longer fears the courage and desperate effort that might have been inspired in the negroes by the name of Gen. Grant, and that it reckons, and we must suppose reckons safely, on carrying out the tactics of violence and fraud which have prevailed now for nearly four years in the south, and which only the special magic of Grant's name and the hope and courage which it would inspire, could have brought an effort to resist. This assurance of confidence in a solid south must inspire the republicans of the north to absolute unity and the most energetic efforts to ensure a victory that will make the solid south useless as a national political factor in all future contests so long as it retains the barbarism and tyranny to make free suffrage impossible, and bring about that state of things when a great name will not be needed to urge and encourage a special effort for the vindication of manhood and the maintenance of the rights of citizenship. The assertion that no division is now to be feared in the south, with what it implies, should unite the north in a determined expression that tyranny shall not win, and that the boast of safety against the least effort on the part of the blacks is premature so far as it ensures a democratic victory. If a national election should be decided by such a factor as that, it would do nothing less than threaten the perpetuity of the republic; and that it is admitted, as hoped and expected, should be a sufficient warning. The States has been more indiscreet than some of its fellows, but there is little doubt that it has expressed the confidence and purpose of the dominant party that makes the south solid.—Providence Journal.

The Richest Woman in America.

A New York letter says: The richest woman in America, and indeed, excepting royalty and Baroness Burdet-Coutts, the richest in the world, is Mrs. E. H. Green, the wife of the vice-president of the Louisville & Nashville road. She was a Miss Robinson, and her father was a whaling master at New Bedford. He owned a fleet of ships known as the blue line of whalers, and from his profession was known as "Rubber Robinson." He died when his daughter was a mere girl, and left her a fortune of about eight millions. She lived slenderly and prudently, and gave the management of her affairs to Mr. John J. Cisco. As her tastes were simple and her wants few, she was able to transfer her enormous income to the body of the fortune itself, and it has now accumulated to more than $27,000,000. Her husband, Mr. Green, was a very rich man when she married him, and has been successful since. It is said by one who should know that the income of this couple is $2,500,000 a year. Mr. Green is rather large in stature, quiet, reserved, sagacious, and of modest habits. He is forty-seven years of age, and she is about forty-three.

The richest young ladies in New York are the Misses Gardner, the daughters of Commodore Gardner, who was drowned under a yacht that overturned a few years ago. He made his fortune in Wall street, and upon his death was able to leave his daughters four or five millions each. Added to this they are charming and beautiful young ladies.

Flowery.

Mr. Tennyson once found himself surrounded by a throng of ladies who were more than usually gushing. He availed himself of an opportune pause to remark that he looked upon women as the flowers of the human race. "What a sweetly pretty idea! How poetical," exclaimed a chorus of silvery voices. "Yes, ladies," continued the Laureate, "and the reason I think so is because they never shut up except when they sleep." Poets are now at a discount in that circle of culture.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

—A new and fascinating amusement has been introduced in Chicago by small children whose parents live at hotels. It consists in scattering the blocks used in building play-houses along the stairs leading from the upper floors of the hotel. The game is for the boarders to get down stairs alive.

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets.

—There is at the Sydney, Australia, exhibition a house built of paper. The entire furniture, including chandeliers and a stove, is of paper. So, too, are the carpets and curtains; and there is a bedroom in which there is not only a large paper bed, but also paper blankets, sheets, quilts and female underclothing, dresses and bonnets in the latest style. It is proposed to give a series of tableaux in this building, at which the plates, dishes, knives, forks and drinking utensils shall also be of paper—everything, in fine, except the eatables.

Moth's never fail to recommend Malt Bitters as nourishing and strengthening.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE FOR WEAKLY PERSONS.—The excellent product of the grape is prescribed and used by the leading physicians in the country, when a generous and nourishing wine is desirable: especially for females, aged persons and consumptives; and by churches for communion. Hundreds of New York physicians have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars, but twelve miles distant from New York. This wine is for sale by F. A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. L. Gerrish, grocer.

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. BOGARDUS, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nestor specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th & 6tno80

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

The Electoral Vote and the Majority Vote.

A glance at the Electoral and the Popular votes for President of the United States would silence a good deal of the ignorant or designedly vicious talk which fills the partisan papers, and which is likely to be used with every possible effect during the campaign just opening.

Ever since President Hayes took his seat, and during an administration which has been exceptionally pure and creditable to this country, he has been spoken of as elected by fraud. It is not worth while to refer to the well-known agreement which resulted in his choice. It would be just as reasonable to speak of the seven as all acting dishonorably or partisanly, as of the eight. But the cry is "Tilden was elected by the people; he had a majority of the popular vote, and the choice of the people was defeated." Now every person and every paper which brings forward this cry of fraud is either entirely ignorant of the method of choosing a President, or else is conscious of reiterated and base falsehood. The popular vote has nothing to do with electing the President.

In 1824 the popular vote was largely against John Quincy Adams, but the House of Representatives elected him President.

In 1844 the popular vote was largely in favor of Henry Clay, but the electoral vote was for James K. Polk, and made him chief magistrate.

In 1848 the popular vote was against Zachary Taylor, and yet the electoral vote was in his favor.

In 1856 John C. Fremont had a much larger popular majority for President than Tilden had, and yet James Buchanan was elected.

In 1860 the popular vote was nearly a million against Abraham Lincoln, and yet he became President.

Lastly, in 1876, Samuel J. Tilden had about 250,000 majority on the popular vote, but Rutherford B. Hayes became the legal President.

Thus six of the chief magistrates of the Nation have entered upon their office against the popular majority, but all strictly in accordance with the provision for electoral votes. And it is one of the peculiarities of this method that the popular vote may be very large, and the electoral vote very small. Scott had less than 80,000 below a popular majority in over 3,000,000 votes, and yet had but forty-two electors! McClellan had but twenty-one electors, and Greeley but sixty-six, and neither of them was very low down on the popular vote.

We may object to the method, but so long as the method is the constitutional provision there is no occasion for the cry of "fraud" simply because the popular and electoral votes may be contrary.

After the Battle.

The man who comes out of the Chicago contest with the least satisfaction is Mr. John Sherman, secretary of the treasury of the United States. He not only discovers that the votes promised to him in exchange for the patronage at his disposal did not come to time, but that he has been badly cheated. Mr. Sherman had about as much right to expect the votes of a portion of the Pennsylvania delegation when they were satisfied that their first choice would not be selected, as he had to hope for the New Hampshire delegation's support after Mr. Blaine's friends had given up the contest, in consideration of his removing a lighthouse keeper in this state. Mr. Sherman, the Washington despatches say, is taking his revenge by appointing a new collector of customs at Philadelphia in place of the present incumbent, who expected a re-appointment; and whether he will in like manner seek to punish all who overreached him pending the nomination at Chicago is an interesting subject of contemplation. It is a source of congratulation that such a man came no nearer receiving the nomination for president. If a man in his position will trade, he should possess sufficient sagacity not to be duped into doing improper things when he is not likely to be compensated in any degree for the odium that follows the transaction. Mr. Sherman's great chagrin must be in seeing the second verdict against him for his bungling management of the controversy relative to the New York custom house.

The First Gun.

Oregon held an election on the 7th inst., and it was one of more than ordinary interest. Besides three judges of the state supreme court, a state printer, members of the legislature and other state officers, the first member of the 47th congress was elected.

The democratic candidate was the present member, John Whiteaker, who became somewhat famous through his rapid trip across the continent in order to be present at the organization of the present congress.

Two years ago Whiteaker was elected by a plurality of 1170, and a majority of 240, his vote having been 16,744, to 15,574 for the republican candidate, and 930 for the greenback nominee. At the late election Col. M. C. George, the republican candidate, was elected by a majority of 800, and the three republican candidates for supreme judges had majorities of over 1000. The legislature is in doubt, with the chances in favor of the republicans.

The Greenback Convention.

The convention on Thursday succeeded in amalgamating with the Pomeroy convention and the socialists, admitting 187 of the Brick Pomeroy men and forty-four of the communists as delegates. After hours of confusion and disorder compared with which Babel was quite orderly and coherent, Richard Trevelick of Michigan was chosen permanent president, and Charles R. Litchman of Massachusetts secretary.

Late at night Gen. G. B. Weaver of Iowa was nominated for president, and Gen. B. J. Chambers of Texas for vice president, and the convention adjourned at six o'clock Friday morning, having "made a night of it." Gen. Butler was very unpopular with the convention.

Interesting to Maine Democrats.

One of the speakers at the greenback national convention closed his speech with the following statement, which will be of pleasing interest to the alleged democracy of Maine:

The Pine Tree state is the nucleus of the greenback movement. Why, I saw a gentleman from Maine to-day who was around asking money and speakers to add them in the fall campaign, and he told me how the "rag-baby" had risen up and throttled the democratic party. He told me that party didn't even dare to nominate a candidate for governor this year.

News and Notes.

The Kearsarge arrived at Boston on the 11th inst., from Hampton roads.

The authorities have at last commenced a legal war upon the Philadelphian institutions that have for years been selling bogus medical diplomas to quacks and bummers, and it is to be hoped that the infamous traffic will be broken up. "Dr. John Buchanan, arrested for using the mails in connection with the sale of fraudulent diplomas, has been held in $10,000 bail, and jailed in default.

A statement comes from Union Springs, N. Y., to the effect Courtney has been confined to his bed since his last race. Fears are entertained that insanity will follow the sunstroke that seems to have paralyzed the muscles at the base of the brain, and which was received during his pull over the course on the burning hot day preceding the race.

The St. Albans (Vt.) Messenger says the farmers in Fairfax and Georgia have become much alarmed at a disease that has broken out among the cattle of several herds in North Fairfax. The symptoms are first, signs of weakness, drooping; then violent trembling and difficulty of breathing, swelling of the throat, followed by a whitish mucous discharge from the mouth and nose—and death.

In these days of excessive competition, when the working expenses of vessels have to be kept at the lowest figure, a "ship-owner" of Liverpool explains why Americans have the better chances and can successfully compete with the British without overworking their sailors or feeding them badly. American ships sail much faster than the British, as shown, for instance, by the recent arrival in British ports of the grain fleet from San Francisco. While ships of English build occupied 150, 165 and 171 days from California to Queenstown or Liverpool, the American vessels which started at the same time only took 100, 115 and 116 days. This is a clear gain to the American ship-owner in the saving of two months' wages and provisions, independent of other considerations. This greater rapidity of American vessels is due, of course, to a superiority in the building of the ships, in the quality of their crews and masters, and also, according to the Liverpool "ship-owner," to the fact that the sails of American ships are made from cotton canvas, while English owners give the perference to flax canvas. It is maintained that cotton canvas gives an increased speed of thirty to forty miles per day.—Washington Republican.

Political Matters.

The Boston Post is dreadfully worried lest the Grant and Sherman and Blaine men may not properly resent the carrying off of the nomination by Garfield, and that they may all unite in the support of the party ticket. The Post's terror is not without reason.

The republican national ticket has united all the factions in New York, the "young scratchers" being delighted with the head and not displeased with the tail, and the "stalwarts" and "machine men" being delighted with the tail and not displeased with the head,—and all are ready to work like beavers for the success of the whole ticket.

Senator Voorhees of Indiana is on the "ragged edge." He has discovered what he mistakes for a republican scheme to carry Indiana, and is wild with terror. Hear him shout from the senate chamber: "The hidden conspiracy to flood Indiana with a worthless black population!" Some months ago Mr. Voorhees and other terrified democrats suspected a conspiracy of this sort, and had a special congressional investigating committee appointed to unearth it. This committee summoned over one hundred and fifty witnesses, and expended $35,000 of the people's money in an attempt to manufacture political capital for the democratic party, without finding out anything in particular. It is probable, however, that Indiana will be redeemed from democracy in November next.

The "scratchers" will now lay aside their pencils, and "independent republican" headquarters are "to rent." The nervous fear of "imperialism"—growing often out of a sincere and thoughtful reluctance to depart from the two-term restriction, although its expression sometimes has seemed the raving of drunkenness or the mouthing of idiocy—is now allayed. The "regulars" of all factions find it easy, in their satisfaction at the defeat of rivals, to pledge Mr. Garfield a hearty support; and with the great body of silent voters who appear in politics only at the polls, he will grow in favor until the 2d of November.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Mr. Garfield will, of course, from this time until November, be a target at which will be aimed innumerable shafts. He will be assailed for offences of which he is innocent; he will be accused of crimes of which he knows nothing; he will be denounced as one not only not fit to govern, but not fit to live. But this torrent of vilification, which has already begun to flow, will be of no avail. Mr. Garfield is a pure man; an excellent patriot; a sagacious statesman; a practical man of affairs, and one who, like Abraham Lincoln, owes his present commanding position to his own unaided efforts. The canal boy of Ohio will be as popular as the rail-splitter of Illinois, and will probably make as good a President.—N. Y. Graphic.

When gazing in your lover's eyes,
How soon his sense of rapture dies
If there's not sweetness in your breath;
If by your railing teeth he shows
That SOZODONT to you's unknown,
And that your mouth is suffering death.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all causes of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in Children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

AROUND HOME.

The Journal says the Eastern railroad is to be petitioned to stop running its Sunday trains.

Mr. John S. Sides of this city has disposed of one of his "Elcho" Ruby puppies to Mr. D. W. Williams of Clarksville, Tenn.

Mr. Albert R. Junkins has commenced work toward the erection of a house on the Bowles lot on Middle street, for a residence for himself.

The contract for putting steam heating apparatus into the new building of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. has been awarded to the Exeter Machine Works.

Mr. Fred P Wilson, at his hardware and paint store on Congress street, has a large stock of London purple and Paris green—sure death to potato bugs. See advt.

The steamer Clara Batemen has laid up for several days this week on account of damage to her shaft, but a repair piece is expected to arrive to-day, and she will soon be on the river again all right.

The proscenium front in the new Franklin theatre is a very elaborate and beautiful piece of workmanship, done in stucco by Messrs. Fraser and Trefethen. The interior of this cosy theatre will be the handsomest in the state.

Sbhooner Oak Grove, of Scarsport, Me., was run into on Friday ten miles southeast of the Isles of Shoals by the schooner Evangeline, and her port bow stove and her port quarter damaged. The Evangeline was bound east.

Two ladies were taking sketches of the city as it appears embowered among the trees, from a point in Richards avenue, Thursday afternoon. The recent rains have beautified the trees and the landscape views in the suburbs, exceedingly.

On Thursday last the schooner Monmouth, of Gloucester, baited from the Harding weir at the mouth of this harbor, taking fifty barrels of porgies. On Friday the Star of the East, of Gloucester, took twenty-five barrels, and another Gloucesterman whose name we did not learn took a similar quantity, from the same weir.

The first strawberry supper of the season, with literary exercises, is to be given on Tuesday evening, the 22d, by Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, in their hall on Daniel street, at which the admission is to be free, with refreshments served on the European plan and at moderate rates. A tempting programme, like the bill of fare, is in preparation.

One of the two gentlemen who carried off fair brides from this city, on Thursday, missed his pocket book soon after his arrival in Boston the same evening; whether it was lost in the cars or in this city he could not tell, but telegraphed to friends here to make proper search for the missing lucre, which was done, but without success until late at night, when the missing pocket book was found beneath the mat of the back that conveyed the happy couple to the depot. It was forwarded to the waiting owner early Friday morning.

Cooper, Bailey & Co.'s Great London circus and menagerie will exhibit in Dover on Tuesday, June 22d. Its herd of fifteen elephants, with the nursing baby-elephant and its parents, fifty cages of rare wild animals, and a long list of circus celebrities, make up a programme of surpassing excellence. Among the novelties announced is a team of ordinary working cattle, or oxen, which perform astonishing feats of military drill, marching by right and left flank, building up pyramids on high pedestals, "teetering" on boards, and leaping over one another with the agility of the stag, the great brutes obeying the voice of their teacher with a degree of intelligence equal to that of the horse.

See notice by Moris C. Foye in another column, of "crepe lisse ruchings" (which is all high Dutch to us) for sale cheap.

Prof. Ames of the Cambridge law school is to occupy Prof. Bartlett's cottage near Mr. John Albee's at Newcastle, this season.

It was Mr. Valentine A. Hett who purchased the job team of John H. Webber, and not James Cate as first stated. Mr. Hett will keep two teams in the job and express business hereafter.

It is reported that Elder Frank Nute, of Union village, Wakefield, is to labor at Newcastle the coming year. Mr. Nute has been preaching only about a year, but is said to be an earnest young man of much promise.

Mr. J. E. Bennett, the first occupant of quarters in the new Franklin buildings, in another place notifies the public that he has on hand a choice assortment of confectionery, fruit, cake and pastry, and is ready to fill all orders with promptness. Ice cream and oysters served at all hours.

On Friday Mayor Sise succeeded in securing the services of the Dover cornet band for concerts on Market square on the afternoon and evening of July 5th, "the day we celebrate." These two musical entertainments, with the usual ringing of bells at sunrise, noon and sunset, will be the only observance in which the city will be directly interested. Now why can't the boys start out on fantastics for the morning, and get up a series of races for the forenoon on Market square?

Mr. Jeremiah F. Grindle of this city, who owns a choice farm at Brooksville, Me., is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the rich prospects revealed unto him in the recent finding of a productive mining lode on said farm, and from which he has just returned with choice specimens. We are assured that the material taken therefrom, samples of which we have received, assays, according to best experts, $11 in gold and $38 in silver per ton, while the product in copper and lead is even more flattering. Mr. Grindle has been offered large sums to bond his land, but wisely declines all such, preferring to have the "developements" redound to his own benefit. Brooksville is the place where the remarkably rich copper mine was brought to light some time since on land owned by Captain Tapley of that town, and which mines are now being worked, and bringing forth ore assaying $134.89 per ton. Possibly Mr. Grindle's lode may be a continuation of this vein.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, June 10th:

Requests of Jeremiah Sanborn and Robert King, for relay of sidewalks; of Anderson & Junkins for permission to encumber Miller avenue for building purposes; and of John Kelley for permission to encumber Court and Liberty streets, were granted.

Petitions for repairing of South Mill and Chestnut streets were referred to committee on streets, with power.

Mayor Sise reported that the gas company had at once, on request, stopped the discharge into the river of coal-tar from the gas works.

Subject of lighting city stables with gas; petition of citizens for the establishment of more drinking fountains; matter of purchasing new hose; and question of putting in a furnace at the Cabot street school, with estimated cost of same, and estimated cost of heating the building by steam, were all referred to committees, to report.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, June 11; Batchelder, J.

John Ellis, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

Osgood A. Clark, larceny of rigging, adjudged probably guilty and held for the grand jury in $400.

COAL TAR IN THE RIVER.

There has been considerable complaint of late by newspaper correspondents, concerning the "coal-tar nuisance" occasioned by the discharge into the river of the refuse from the gas-works, which fouls the shores of the river, the wharves and landing-places, the outside of boats and not rarely the inside, and is supposed to tend to the destruction or driving away of fish in the river. A Kittery correspondent of the Times complains of a similar annoyance from the gas-works at the navy yard; and an Exeter man writes to the Gazette of that town as follows:

Considerable complaint is made by those interested, about the coal tar that escapes from the gas-works to the river, covering it with a thin scum that adheres to everything it comes in contact with. It has proved very injurious to the fishing interests, causing the fish to almost entirely forsake the river, and its effect on the boats is damaging and disagreeable. Sticking to the oars the tar is smooched about the sides of the boats, damaging clothing, to the discomfort of those who go out boat-riding, besides depriving many from enjoying the luxury of bathing. It has driven the ducks and geese, which were so plenty in a few years ago, entirely away; and the margin of the shores are lined all the way to the Great bay with a thick, filthy coating. This nuisance ought to be attended to at once. We believe there is a law in force that has a bearing upon this matter.

So far as the nuisance from the Portsmouth gas-works is concerned, we are informed that it has been stopped.

The subject of Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture on Sunday evening, will be "Progress." The "Sunday school centennial" occurs June 27th.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Decatur Bros., of Great Falls, have purchased the large boarding stable at York beach formerly owned by Dover parties.

Mr. Frank E. Kennard of Eliot, an employe of the Eastern railroad, has received a douceur of $25 from the directors of the road, in acknowledgement of his praiseworthy conduct on the occasion of the accident at Somerville, Mass., on the 21st of May last.

The foundation of the new town hall in Eliot is finished. The site selected is just north of Leibman's store; the building is to be 38x50 feet on the ground, and will contain offices for the town clerk and selectmen. The contract price for its erection is $925.

The Star island landing stage was on Friday floated off the marine railway at Kittery, where it has been thoroughly repaired, and was towed to this side of the river by the Mystic. The schooner W. B. Keen, of Salem, Becker master, was taken on the railway as soon as the stage came off.

Rev. Mr. Newcombe, pastor of the Baptist church in South Berwick, baptised seventeen persons in the river at "the landing" on Sunday, the 6th inst. These converts, and the nineteen baptised on the same day at North Berwick by Rev. Mr. Palmer, were fruits of the recent revival meetings in those towns. Revival meetings have been held in Salmon Falls for several weeks past, under conduct of the same revivalists that awakened the Berwicks.

—Speaking of the census enumerators' troubles the Providence Journal says: One of the wealthiest of the Newport "cottagers," upon being asked by the enumerator the ages of the members of his family, inquired if that information was required by law. Being assured that it was, he replied, "Then I will not give you any information." Inquiring what penalty he thus incurred, and learning that it was one hundred dollars fine, this affluent citizen, so tenderly sensitive on the matter of age, exclaimed, "Report me as refusing to answer." The gentleman has been so reported.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9th.

It must be that the American people are becoming more and more excitable. The wild confusion at Chicago was almost parallelled in the house of representatives yesterday when General Garfield's nomination was announced. Members threw up their hats and canes, and cheered until business had to be suspended. Democrats exhibited almost as lively an interest in the result as did republicans.

Of the strength of the ticket—Garfield and Arthur—there is a great difference of opinion among both democrats and republicans, but the general impression is, I think, that it will run better than would a ticket headed by either Grant or Blaine. It is plain from general conversation here among politicians, that the democracy will do their best to select men at Cincinnati, (without regard to individual "claims") of such a character as to give Garfield's friends abundant chance for exertion. It is a matter of regret to all republicans that the prominent men of the party, such men as Grant, Blaine, Conkling and Logan, become so bitter as to play the part of dog in the manger. Grant was determined if he didn't get it Blaine shouldn't, and the field combined in a determination that Grant should not have it anyhow. The republican party seems afflicted with "dark horses." Its first President was a dark horse, Hayes was a dark horse, and now Garfield, its last nominee, is a dark horse. But as I have said before, Garfield has elements of strength that will combine his party, and all republicans will work desperately to elect him.

Congress is a lazy body lately. It is not attempting to push business, but will probably be ready for adjournment by the 16th. In fact, everything is in order so that a little effort would dispose of all unfinished business which any one anticipates will be disposed of. Yesterday the senate chaplain's prayer was addressed to only a few persons.

Those representatives who believe in action at this session on some parts of the tariff scored a nominal victory yesterday. No changes were made except as to a small class of articles to be imported prior to January, 1881, under contracts entered into before March 1st last, but the action was gratifying to many members.

KNOX.

New Hampshire Items.

E. E. Swasey, a dentist of Northwood, was recently severely injured by the explosion of a steam apparatus, used in the manufacture of artificial teeth.

Charles Vasse, freight conductor on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, who was injured in Concord on Saturday night, June 5th, died from his injuries at his home in Lake Village. He leaves a wife and one child.

The Congregational churches of Cheshire county closed a two days' session at Troy on Thursday, the 10th inst. Rev. E. B. Richardson acted as moderator, and Rev. E. H. Harmon as scribe. It was a very full and earnest session. Mrs. S. D. Osborne of Keene was chosen president of the Woman's Board of Missions.

Richard Pine, convicted in March, 1879, to five years in the state prison for stealing from the Milton freight depot, has been pardoned out, and immediately started for New York, where his relatives now reside. Pine denies the stories of cruelty to the prisoners, and says that uniform kindness is extended to those who deserve it.

Mr. Edwin Fernald, founder and until recently proprietor of the Great Falls Journal, is now on the editorial staff of the daily Tribune of Minneapolis, Minn., where he has taken up his residence.

The Amoskeag company of Manchester have recently put into their mills another Brush electric light, making three in all, which they now have in operation. The cost of the two just purchased was $1000. The combined power of these electric lights is equal to about 400 gas lights.

Capt. Chandler of Gilsum, seventy years old, went over a ten-foot embankment in his buggy, picked himself up unjured, and rode home horseback.

A medical writer asks, "Does position affect sleep?" It does, particularly if the man is holding the position of night watchman.

A down-town man went fishing the other day and returned with three small trout. He carried them through the street boldly, and when asked if those were all he caught, frankly admitted that they were. The neighbors gave him a surprise party next night, and presented him with the beautiful carved motto, "An honest fisherman is the noblest work of God."

Malaria.

If you live in districts where you are subject to malaria, you should keep your liver and kidneys in perfect order that they may throw it off. The great preventive is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. Use it whenever you are constipated or bilious and you will never have a touch of the chills.

Scientists claim that smoking injures the eyesight. But this is not true. The boy with a stump in his mouth can see his father ten squares away.

The friends of temperance will find Malt Bitters invigorating and strengthening.

Cuticura

HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.

CUTICURA REMEDIES is the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. In fact forty minutes after taking the first dose it may be detected in the blood, sweat, and urine, showing that it has entered the blood and has permeated throughout the entire system. In its passage through the circulation it meets with the corrupt particles of matter which foster and maintain disease, with which it chemically unites, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.

Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous, and Cancer Humors, which unchecked fill the body with foul corruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.

CUTICURA, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and skin, Ulcers, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of outward applications. It speedily destroys fungus and parasitic growths, restores the oil glands and pores to a healthy condition, and cures, when assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, diseases of the skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a lifetime.

SKIN DISEASE.

Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER:—Good cures.—CUTICURA REMEDIES have done me a power of good. I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years, some days it troubled me more than others, but at night the itching nearly drove me wild.

I would scratch until the blood would run down my limbs.

I have had several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but all erred in that.

I will say that before I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES I was in a fearful state, and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.

You, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, about which I had read so much.

They have effected a wonderful cure for me, and on my own free will and accord I recommend them. Yours truly, S. A. STEELE,

68 W. VAN BUREN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.,
March 7, 1876.

MORE GOOD THAN DOCTORS

In Three Years of Treatment.

Gentlemen,—I paid $50 cents to pay for small box of CUTICURA and effect is to me. The dollar box yet will go far, has done more good than all the doctors in three years. The doctors have done me no good. My feet and legs are healing fast. It is indeed CUTICURA.

Yours truly,
EVAN MORGAN, P. M.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, for which he was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive steel engravings, Three hundred pages, more than 30 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success, doing well and permanently all kinds and to be done, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore should be consulted by males with such powers as possible."

An illustrated sample sent free on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.

It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.

The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

will change the beard to a BROWN or BLACK at discretion. Being in one preparation it is easily applied, and produces a permanent color that will not wash off.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, restores weakness and prostration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weakness and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, DeLi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Compound Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary medicines I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or blue syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

The Moderate Drinker.

A so-called moderate drinker was once very angry with a friend who claimed that safety is alone in totally abstaining from the use of intoxicating spirits, and who also allowed his fanatical notions to insinuate that the moderate drinker himself might then be beyond self-control.

"To make plain the question who is wrong," said the temperance man, "will you just quit one month, and not touch a drop during that time?"

The other said: "To satisfy your mind, sir, I will, with pleasure, though I know myself; I will show you ask to cure your over-wrought ideas."

He kept the promise, but at the end of the month he came to his friend with tears in his eyes, and thanked him for saving him from a drunkard's grave. He said:

"I never knew before that I was in any sense a slave to drink, but the past month has been the fiercest battle of my life. I see now that I was almost beyond hope; had the test come many months later it would have been too late for me; but I have kept the pledge, and by God's help I will keep it for life."

Moderate drinker, just try it for one year, and see how near you are to the rapids, beyond which there is no returning.—Morning.

—The man who "has the key to the situation" keeps an intelligence office.

—A lieutenant of the Russian Imperial guard while staying at his father's country house in Putikol, upon leave of absence from his regiment, was found to be criminally implicated in nihilist plots, and a detachment of troops was sent to arrest him. As soon as he became aware of the gendarmes' approach, he imparted to his father his complicity in the revolutionary plot. This terrible tidings so exasperated the old gentleman that he blew out his son's brains on the spot, and discharged a second barrel of his revolver into his own breast, inflicting upon himself a mortal wound. Upon entering the house the gendarmes found father and son lying side by side, the former dying and the latter dead.

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

R. Cox of Auburn, N. Y., for running railway carriages on skates instead of wheels. It is designed especially for elevated railways, and obviates the noise that has hitherto been so troublesome. In the ordinary wheels a grooved skate and rail to correspond are substituted. The invention is said to have received the approval of practical men.

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 223 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets.

—A Chester county boy, aged twelve years, while returning from Sabbath school fell from the top of a fence and broke his arm. And this is the second time he had the same arm fractured, in falling from the same panel of the same fence, and in returning from Sunday school. There is a moral in this—but bad little boys mustn't think it teaches that it is wrong to go to Sunday school. The probabilities are that if this unfortunate boy had been returning from a game of baseball or from fishing, instead of breaking his arm at each fall he would have broken his neck each time. The moral is, that he should creep under the fence instead of climbing over it.—Norristown Herald.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, June 9.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2981; sheep and lambs 5450; swine 8680; number western cattle 2784; eastern cattle 58; milch cows and northern cattle —; Veals 230.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $5 12½ and $5 37½; first quality $4 87½ and $5 00; second quality $4 37½ and $4 75; third quality $4 87½ and $4 25; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 12½ and $3 75.

Brighton Hides 6½c per lb; Brighton Tallow $3 00 per 100 lbs; country hides 7½ and 7½c per lb; country tallow 3½ and 4c per lb. Calf skins 12½c and 15c per lb. Sheep skins 40c each; Lamb skins 75c each.

Trade for beef cattle has been active at an advance in prices over those obtained one week ago of ¼@½c per lb live weight. The quality of the offerings of the week was full as good as those in market one week ago. The larger portion of the western cattle were sold out early in the day on Tuesday. There was not much demand for shipping cattle this week as there has been of late, most of the beef cattle being bought up by butchers. There was not any beef cattle brought in from Maine this week, the supply from that state consisting of milch cows and veal calves.

Working Oxen—A few pairs each week is all the markets require at this season of the year. As soon as cattle commence coming more from Maine the working oxen trade will revive.

Store Cattle—With the exception of milch cows there has been not been any store cattle in market of late. Most of the small cattle that are in this condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—The trade of late has been very quiet and common grades of cows are selling dull. Good cows have been selling at lower prices for the past two weeks than they did early in the spring. We quote sales of 1 very extra milch cow at $110; 1 springer $68; 1 new milch cow $50; 1 do $80; 1 do $62; 1 cow and calf $60; 2 do at $50 each; 1 cow and calf $40; 1 do at $35; 1 do $36.

Veal Calves—Those from Maine sold dull. One lot of 100 calves, average weight 120 lb, sold for 4½c per lb, live weight.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep cost landed at the Abattoir from 5 @ 6c per lb, live weight; spring lambs from 7½ @ 8½c per lb, live weight, nearly all owned by butchers. None offered on the market for sale.

Swine—Prices for fat hogs continued unchanged, coming landed at the slaughter houses 5 @ 5½c per lb, live weight. No store pigs in the market.

MONDAY, JUNE 14, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Terrible Disaster.

The steamer Narragansett, of the Stonington line of sound steamers, left New York on Friday evening at the usual hour, every stateroom and berth being occupied, and a number of passengers sleeping on benches and the cabin floors. About about half-past eleven o'clock, when off Cornfield point, near New Saybrook, Conn., where the sound is about ten miles wide, she was run into by the Stonington, of the same line, and sunk. There was a dense fog at the time, and both boats were moving slowly, but the blow was heavy enough to smash the Stonington's bow in for a distance of three or four feet from the stem and down to the water line, causing her to leak badly; and the Narragansett, which was struck on the starboard side just forward of the paddle box, went down immediately, taking the bottom in about four fathoms of water.

A scene of the wildest horror ensued. The shock of the collision burst the gas tank of the Narragansett and extinguished all the lights, and the terror-stricken passengers, frantic and screaming, struggled madly in the darkness to find their way to the upper deck. But the darkness was only for a few moments, the wreck almost immediately taking fire, and the flames spreading so rapidly that men, women and children were forced into the water, where many of them were drowned.

The Stonington, as soon as it was found that she would float, lowered her boats and lent all possible aid to the people who were struggling in the water, supported by life buoys, rafts and wreckage; and the steamer City of New York and a schooner whose name is not given, also rendered efficient assistance.

After the Narragansett had burned to the water's edge and there was no further hope of picking upany more people, the Stonington steamed away for Stonington, arriving there at half-past six o'clock Saturday morning with fifty survivors from the Narragansett, the ,remainder having gone on to New York in the City

How many lives were lost is not yet known, and never will be with certainty. The purser of the boat thinks not over twenty persons perished, while some of the passengers estimate the total all the way from fifty to one hundred. The shattered vessel sank so quickly that some must have been drowned in their staterooms, unable to escape in the darkness, confusion and terror; others were burned to death, and many were seen to drown by the light of the blazing wreck; and one young man blew his brains out with a pistol as soon as he realized what had occurred. Two of the rescued passengers—Rev. Mr. Lockwood, pastor of the 64th street Methodist church in New York city, and a lady—died on board the Stonington after being taken from the water.

No such shocking disaster has occurred on Long Island sound before since the Lexington was burned, Jan. 13th, 1840; the loss of the Metis, a screw steamer which went to pieces four or five years ago, coming next to it in horror.

A Political Reminiscence.

In the United States senate recently, upon the debate concerning the bill relating to supervisors of elections, Mr. Rollins made a speech in which he referred to removals in Rhode Island alleged to have been in violation of section 1754 of the United States laws, as not coming within the provisions of that section. He said nothing of the removal of a light-house keeper in this state, made at his request, and in violation of law and of the settled convictions of the light-house board. But in regard to our local elections he remarked:

"In my own state this new austerity of virtue is not understood by the democratic party. From one congressional district in New Hampshire a democrat was elected for two successive terms, and it is a well-understood fact that in these two elections he expended many times more money than has been expended by all the republican candidates in the three districts since we wrested the State from the hands of our opponents some twenty-five years ago; and this same person is now being pushed forward as the democratic candidate for governor, simply and avowedly because he has money and is willing to spend it for the cause. A candidate with a barrel of money is just what suits a modern democrat."

Mr. Butler—"May I inquire what that gentleman's name is?"

Mr. Rollins—"To whom I have just alluded? He is a gentleman who represented the first congressional district of New Hampshire, Mr. Jones. I have no objection to giving the information."

This was "the most unkindest cut of all." We are not in Mr. Jones' secrets, but any one with half an eye saw, in the canvass to which the senator referred, that the henchmen of the most successful man in obtaining the spoils of office for his supporters which the state has ever seen,—the men who expect to be re-appointed under Garfield, and in turn to labor to accomplish the re-election of Mr. Rollins,—stood in line and threw cold water upon the republican nominee's efforts in this district. Thus it was that it did not require Mr. Jones to disburse any considerable sum to secure his election, which was brought about not by enormous outlay—a statement made often before, to draw attention from the real facts in the case—but by the intense apathy of the federal officials in the district, added to his own arduous efforts. Perhaps the senator is not informed upon this point. If he is not, he should leave the matter of these utterances upon the floor of the senate to his colleague, who if not so successful in obtaining favors for his friends at department offices, at least has the discretion not to put his foot into a subject in this way. A senator should be informed always in regard to facts like these existing in his own state, and to be thoroughly qualified for his position should possess a retentive memory.

New Hampshire Items.

William Gray of Keene, seventy-three years old and deaf and dumb, was hit by a passing train at Cole's crossing, and had his arm broken. His recovery is doubtful.

The oldest member of the Chicago convention was Joel Eastman, of New Hampshire. He is eighty-three years of age, but hale and hearty.

Charles H. Allen, a brakeman on the Great Falls and Boston freight train, had three of his toes cut off by an engine on Friday morning at Rollinsford.

Political Matters.

Senator Hill of Georgia on Friday assailed Massacre C. Butler and Wade Hampton of South Carolina for their votes and speeches on the Kellogg-Spofford matter, and the South Carolina men gave him some hard raps in return. It was a very edifying season to the republicans.

News and Notes.

The schooner Ella A. Merritt, of Philadelphia, reports that she was fired at, brought to and searched by the Spanish war steamer Nuncio. The schooner was on the way from San Antonio to Philadelphia with a cargo of fruit, and had her ensign flying when the shot was fired, the ball passing between her masts, she being then fifteen miles from land. The Nuncio sent a boat on board the schooner, and after her cargo had been turned [illegible] by the Spaniords they permited her to continue her voyage.

On the morning of the 11th inst. a 20,000 barrel iron tank of oil located on an eminence above Tideout, Penn., was struck by lightning and set on fire. The flames communicated to other large tanks, which burst, letting the flaming oil run down the hill into Oil creek, and across the creek into the town, where many houses were destroyed. The Octave refinery and Acme oil works—among the largest in the world—were burned, many small refineries also being destroyed. Over 300,000 barrels of oil were destroyed, the total loss being estimated as high as $1,000,000.

Titusville, Pa., was nearly destroyed by fire on the 11th inst., the loss being estimated at $750,000. Four hundred buildings were burned.

On Friday, at Marshall, Texas, Burt Jennings, editor of the Marshall Messenger, fatally shot Hon. W. S. Coleman, the difficulty having grown out of an abusive editorial written by Jennings. On the previous day, at Seymour, Texas, County Judge E. B. Morris was shot dead in the court house by a saloon keeper named W. A. Taylor, who escaped. Four suspected cattle thieves were hanged by a mob in Brown county, Texas, on the 10th inst.

By a fire-damp explosion in a coal mine at Dortmund, Germany, one day last week, many lives were lost. Twenty-two dead bodies had been recovered on Friday.

A tornado swept a path half a mile wide through a part of Pottawattomie county, Iowa, on Wednesday night of last week. Four men, three women and six children were killed, and eight or ten persons were carried away and have not yet been found. The blow lasted but a short time, and there was no rain.

Charles A. Hill, a lawyer of St. Louis, Mo., has been arrested for counterfeiting. He was changing one-dollar bills into tens when arrested.

A terrible thunder storm passed over Baltimore and southern Maryland on Friday morning. The rainfall was over two inches, and in Prince George county many trees were blown down, and two men killed by lightning.

At the hatching house in the rear of Mt. Kineo, Me., they have just taken out 80,000 trout and put them in Moosehead lake. They have also put in 10,000 landlocked salmon.

The supreme court of New York on Friday affirmed the proceedings of the court of general sessions, sentencing Rev. Edward Cowley to the penitentiary for one year, and a fine of $250, for ill-treating children in his institution, the Shepherd's Fold. A motion to admit him to bail on account of ill health was denied.

In New York, Friday, a negro sailor named Ford committed suicide on Broadway by lying down in front of a heavy-laden truck, his head being nearly severed from his body.

Widow Ibach, her four sons and her daughter Clara, are in Ludlow street jail, New York, held by the United States commissioner to answer to the charge of forgery to the amount of $12,000, in Germany.

The total number of emigrants from Liverpool for May is 29,992, of whom 7,926 are English, 6,830 Irish, 246 Scotch, and the rest foreigners. Compared with May of last year, there is the enormous increase of 12,934. A very large proportion of these emigrants were bound to "the states."

A public meeting was held at Camden, S. C., on the 9th inst., to inaugurate means for putting a stop to duels, which are becoming so frequent. An anti-duelling association was formed, with Judge Kershaw as president. The association proposes to prosecute all violators of the law regarding duelling. On the heel of this action a duel over a political disagreement is expected between Captain Depass and Colonel Cash. They were arrested for being about to engage in a duel, and gave bonds. Both left town, and it was ascertained that the field was changed to a point near Chesterfield Court-house in North Carolina, and that the meeting would take place Friday. The Chesterfield authorities arrested Captain Depass, but Colonel Cash eluded them.

Dr. Gatling, inventor of the famous gun, has just perfected another instrument of war that is said to be the most complete in its deadly properties. It is capable of firing 1000 shots in a minute; and by the use of the instrument three men can do the work of 300 riflemen. It is capable of killing a man or horse one mile away. It is somewhat in the form of the present Gatling gun, but more complete, and may be taken to pieces at will, and therefore easily be moved about. About $250,000 were spent in experimenting on it.

The Maine crows are pulling up the potatoes, and scarecrows are set up in potato patches as well as in corn fields.

It is said that "Mrs. Garfield is a woman of a sweet and winning spirit, and of bright and cultivated mind. As Miss Lucretia Rudolph she was a pretty and interesting girl, and her marriage with the general was on both sides one of ideal affinity. [illegible] with her husband's; she has studied the books he studied, taken up languages with him, and has so trained herself as to fit her boys for college in the most thorough manner. She is an excellent Latin scholar, and is also proficient in several modern languages. She is a little lady, graceful in carriage, and having most frank and charming manners."

AROUND HOME.

Rev. Elihu Scott and wife, of Hampton, celebrated their golden wedding on the 1st inst.

Wild fruits and berries of all kinds promise to be plentiful this year, in this vicinity, the bloom being very abundant.

The schooner Satellite, Adderton master, which arrived on Friday from Hingham, Mass., proceeded to Eliot to load bricks for Boston.

The steamer Appledore made her first trip to the Shoals for this season, on Saturday. She looks better than ever before, and we believe is in better condition than ever before.

There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Temperance League at Bow mission hall this (Monday) evening at seven o'clock, at which a full attendance is particularly requested.

Among the passengers of the ill-fated steamer Narrafinsett at the time she was destroyed were Mr. George A. Hammond of Eliot, Me., and Hon. Edwin A. Peterson of Greenland—both happily saved.

Rev. James H. Fitts, for the past nine years pastor of the Congregational church in Topsfield, Me , has received and accepted a call to become pastor of the Congregational church in South Newmarket. The South Newmarket society has recently put the parsonage in good repair.

Very few cod, and hardly any cunners at all, are taken in the weirs at the entrance to the harbor; and all that are trapped are turned loose. Bait is what is wanted, and neither cod nor cunner is good for anything for that purpose. A school of nice fat mackerel, would not be taken amiss in the traps, however.

The allowance of money for the department of construction and repair at this navy yard for the present month has been cut down so low that the workmen on the roll will get but eight days employment each, instead of half-time as for several months previous. The department of steam engineering is shut down entirely.

A part of the bridge between Newcastle and Rye, at the Wentworth hotel, has been replanked, so that over the whole travelled part the planking runs lengthwise, making it much easier to drive over. The hill at the Newcastle end has been greatly improved as to its grade. The new steamboat wharf in front of the Wentworth is being built by Daniel Littlefield; it is a pile wharf, extending out as far as the channel.

The Rhode Island Press association proposes to join with the New Hampshire association in the excursion to Portland and the White mountains, July 8th to the 15th. The committee of arrangements of the New Hampshire association consists of President Miller of Portsmouth, and Secretaries Coggswell of Concord and Wingate of Exeter; the executive committee is composed of Messrs. Clark of Manchester, Eastman of Concord and Chase of Nashua.

Before the referee court on Saturday, Hon. C. Page as referee, case Page vs. Brown was tried; action of trover concerning a lot of furniture. Defendent claimed that the furniture was delivered to him by pltf.'s wife, who had been deserted by her husband, and paid a rent bill by this process. The furniture had been returned before the action was entered in court. The referee reports the facts, submitting the law question to the court for decision. Lamprey for Page; Wallace Hackett for Brown.

The graduating class of the high school this year numbers fifteen,—nine girls and six boys, as follows: Girls—Edith Chesley, Grace Adelaide Conner, Alice Maria Craig, Laura Hall Haraden, Grace Marvin, Martha Ella Marvin, Carrie Estelle Plummer, Abbie Adonell Taylor, Annie Mowe Varrell; boys—George Washington Braxton, George McClellan Ayers, Clarence William Fraser, Morris Green, Emil Charles Pfeiffer, Herbert White. The graduation exercises will be held in the high school building on Thursday afternoon, July 1st, and the reception will be held in the same place in the evening.

It is said that Mr. George W. Guppy is going to Old Orchard, to engage in the amusement business there during the season of summer travel.

Dr. Donaldson, who left this city on Saturday for a tour of several months through the west, it is now announced will not return, having turned over his practice to Dr. Grant.

Mr. Thomas S. Nowell, formerly of this city, is president of the Prouty Press Co. of Boston. This company manufactures the improved Prouty printing press, having headquarters at No. 52 Federal street.

A Dover man caught in the Cocheco river one night last week an eel which measured thirty-seven inches in length and eight and one-half inches around the thickest part of the body, and weighed eight pounds and nine ounces.

Gen. Neal Dow, of Portland, has been engaged by the committee of arrangements as one of the speakers at the County Temperance Association meeting at Epping camp-ground on the 5th of July next—and not at Old Orchard, as stated elsewhere.

The little steamer Gypsy went on the marine railway at Kittery, Saturday, to be put in thorough good condition. As soon as she comes off the schooner Flying Eagle will take her place on the ways, to be calked and painted. Mr. Warren Keen superintends both jobs.

Many people who have favored a new telegraph fire alarm in this city, thinking that the old system was somewnat faulty, had their fears quieted by the prompt and efficient alarm given on the occasion of the fire on Sunday morning, which was generally spoken of as one of the best alarms ever sounded in this city.

The sad intelligence was brought to this city on Sunday evening through a despatch from Boston, that Mr. Charles G. Brewster of that city, brother of Lewis W. Brewster, proprietor of the Portsmouth Journal, and son of the late Charles W. Brewster, was a victim of the awful steamboat disaster on Long Island sound on Friday night. Mr. Brewster was proprietor of the well known natural history store on Arch street, Boston, and was widely known and esteemed. His remains are to be brought to this city today.

The ship Abner I. Benyon, of Thomaston, Me., of which vessel Mr. William J. L. Dodge of this city is chief officer, arrived at San Francisco June 3d from New York, and reports that on Feb. 17th, ten days after passing Cape Horn, in a heavy gale carried away the stock of the rudder, and had to bear up for the Falkland islands, steering with tackles, and arriving at Port Stanley Feb. 23d, where she repaired damages, and sailed again March 13th. After getting clear of the Horn, had moderate winds and fine weather to port.

Shortly before one o'clock on Sunday morning, officers Moore and Abbott discovered a fire in the building on Ladd street used as a bleachery for the millinery establishment of J. M. Tebbetts. An alarm was quickly sounded, and the fire department were promptly on the ground, and in less than eight minutes from the first stroke of the bell the Kearsarge was playing two streams on the fire, which was speedily extinguished although it had gained considerable headway. All the goods in the bleachery were ruined either by fire, or water and the building was badly damaged, mainly by water.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, June 12; Batchelder, J.

John Sullivan, a "simple drunk," was fined $3, costs $5.76; sent to the county farm for not having any money.

John Ellis, convicted on Friday of drunkenness, was sent to Brentwood with Sullivan, having failed to find any person who cared to keep him out $9.90 worth.

CRICKET.

A game of cricket will be played on the grounds of the Portsmouth club near Frenchman's lane, on Tuesday forenoon, 15th inst., commencing between ten and eleven o'clock, the contestants being the home club and the Boston cricket club. The famous base-ball players, George Wright and Schaefer, formerly of the Boston nine, will play with the visiting club, and no doubt there will be a large number of spectators to witness the "tallest" game of cricket ever played here.

COUNTY EXPENSES.

The expenses of Rockingham county for the year ending May 30th, as far as can be ascertained, was $76,842.71; notes paid, $25,000; the taxes were $81,500; money hired, $20,000. The county debt, May 1st, less cash on hand, was $80,126.-29; decrease for the year, $20,221.25.

The different judges managed to receive in the way of referee fees about three hundred dollars from the county; as they were paid their yearly salary in addition, this was only an indirect way of increasing their compensation, which the legislature would not accede to. The most expenses referee cases seem to have been libels for divorces, which cost largely for referees' fees. The total cost to the county of referee cases was about $1200.

Portsmouth jail cost $3633 to carry on for the year; the county farm cost $22,-564.72.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

William P. Taylor, of Wells, aged thirty-five years, hung himself on Saturday; cause not known. He leaves a family.

A handsome campaign flag, bearing the names of Garfield and Arthur, was raised at the post-office in South Eliot on Friday last by Postmaster F. A. Staples.

While Mr. Henry T. French, of Providence, R. I., was gunning on Saturday, one of his legs was shattered by the premature discharge of his gun, and in falling his right arm was broken.

The Gun club of Kennebunk has been invited to shoot in Lewiston, Me., and Lynn, Mass., this week. The shooters will not be allowed to practise on tame pigeons, if the invitation to shoot in Lynn is accepted.

The Kennebunk Star of last week says: "The schoolhouse in district five, Ogunquit, took fire on Monday, but was saved from ashes with little damage to the building. This is sincerely to be regretted, as the old building is a disgrace inside and out to every citizen in Ogunquit."

Saturday forenoon, in the interval between two of her regular trips across the river, the steamer James Sampson treated the children and teachers of the Methodist Sunday school of Kittery to a free excursion down the river and a short distance outside of Whalesback. At noon she towed the little steamer Gypsy across the river to Kittery, to be calked; and in the afternoon the pupils of the Austin school, of Kittery, were given a free ride down the harbor. Her regular trips were made on time throughout the day.

When gazing in your lover's eyes,
How soon his sense of rapture dies
If there's no sweetness in your breath;
If by your falling teeth he shown
That SOZODONT you don't unknown,
And that your mouth is suffering death.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all causes of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in Children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3
